FRANCE NOW PILOTLESS

Gets Resignation of Millerand

Presidential Flag is Hauled Down at Elysee as Reds Win Fight

Election of New Executive at Versailles Meeting Next Friday

BY HENRY WALES
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, June 11.—Promptly at [illegible] o'clock this afternoon, as President Millerand's letter of resignation was being read to the Senate and Chamber of Deputies, the Presidential flag floating over the Elysee Palace was hauled down and the republic became without a chief magistrate.

Both Houses have decided to proceed to Versailles on Friday afternoon to elect a President and tomorrow caucus will be held by the Left bloc to agree on a candidate.

The Left members of the Chamber want M. Painleve, but the Senate favors M. Doumergue and there are possibilities of a dark horse capturing the nomination.

Despite the dire warnings of what would happen if the National bloc were defeated and M. Poincare and M. Millerand overthrown, the financial situation strengthened perceptibly today, the franc gaining a point and a half. Opening at twenty to the dollar this morning, it strengthened constantly throughout the day, closing at just above 18.50.

The sessions in the Senate and Chamber each lasted ten minutes while M. Millerand's terse letter of resignation, numbering only sev[illegible] words apart from the flowery ending, was read to silent audiences.

The Senate adjourned without a word and in the Chamber the only interruption was from a Communist, who cried "bad luck to those who betray the poor," when M. Millerand was mentioned.

M. Millerand and his family are planning to move from the Presidential mansion tomorrow morning and already are preparing for their departure.

M. Millerand intends to spend the summer at his villa at [illegible] and he expects to be elected Deputy from Meurthe et Moselle, replacing a Deputy who died since the election.

Flyers Combat Strong Wind to Reach Haiphong

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

HONGKONG, June 11.—The American Army around-the-world flyers, who left here at 10:17 Tuesday morning, arrived at Haiphong, French Indo-China, at 4:45 o'clock that afternoon. They covered the [illegible] miles in six hours and twenty-eight minutes. They encountered strong southwesterly winds.

BOYS PLEAD NOT GUILTY

Calmest in All Excited Court

Scene of Pandemonium When Crowd Breaks Doors at Franks Case Hearing

Arraigned on Both Charges; Date of Trial is Set for August 4

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, June 11.—Before the greatest crowd that ever jammed the Criminal Court Building, Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb today pleaded not guilty to the murder of Robert Franks, heir to millions. In a scene of pandemonium, the only calm spot being that immediately surrounding Chief Justice Caverly's bench, where the nattily attired youths appeared nonchalant and composed.

The crowd, good-natured but impetuous, began gathering at the building at 7 a.m. And just before 10 o'clock, the time set for the arraignment, they broke the door of Judge Caverly's courtroom off its hinges. By this time the throng was crowding the stairs and corridors from the first to the sixth floors.

The date for the trial of the two was set for August 4. Preliminary motions, Judge Caverly said, could be argued on July 21.

The youths pleaded not guilty together and separately to each of the two charges—kidnaping for ransom and murder.

Dressed in natty blue suits and their hair slicked back in the best "patent leather" style, the youths strolled nonchalantly into the room, accompanied by deputy sheriffs.

Leopold, Jr., looked casually around the room. Loeb, too, seemed to take interest in the crowd. It was his nineteenth birthday, the day he had planned to celebrate by sailing for Europe.

The crowd was composed of about one-third women. The first ones to appear were refused admission to the building at 7 o'clock because the corridor floors had just been mopped. They waited patiently outside.

WILD SCRAMBLE

When the door of the court was opened at 9 o'clock there was a wild scramble for seats. When they were filled, fifteen extra deputies tried to hold the remaining persons out. They jammed against the doors, however, and one of the big oaken panels gave way with a crash.

Promptly at 10 o'clock Judge Caverly ascended the bench. A minute later guards pushed their way through the throng and placed the prisoners before his desk.

Nathan Leopold, Sr., and Nathan Jr's younger brother were present. There was none to represent the Loeb family except lawyers.

The youths were represented by Attorneys Clarence Darrow and Benjamin Bachrach. Here and there through the crowd was a sprinkling of relatives and former associates of the youthful heirs to millions. State's Attorney Crowe, flanked by assistants John S. Barbaro, Milton D. Smith and Thomas Marshall, appeared for the State.

When the prisoners had been arraigned before the bar, Clerk Ferdinand Scherer called for order. Then, turning to Leopold, Jr., and young Loeb, he said.

"On June 6th the grand jury returned indictments charging both

Liquor Convict Asks County to Feed His Family

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) June 11.—H. P. Blevins, now in the Yavapai County Jail, sentenced to four months' imprisonment for violating the National Prohibition Act, evidently believes that the community should take care of his family during his enforced absence.

He has addressed the Yavapai Board of Supervisors, stating that he has a large family in Mohave county, one for which the Mohave Supervisors will not provide. So he asks that his wife's board, room, general expenses and food be paid for by the county and adds a long list of supplies considered needful, such as 300 pounds of flour, 100 pounds of beans, 100 pounds of sugar, 100 pounds of "spuds" and numerous other items, with inclusion of a few bottles of patent medicine.

STORE AND OFFICE BURNS
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MESA (Ariz.) June 11.—The office and electrical store of the Southside Gas and Electric Company has suffered damage estimated at from $10,000 to $12,000 by a fire of unknown origin. The fire started while Manager E. C. Cordell and other employees were witnessing a fire in a near-by office building, in which damage to an upper story will approximate $2000. The owner of the office building, George Johnson, and the electric company are fully insured.

COAST-TO-COAST RAIL LINE FOR PHOENIX IS ASSURED

Espee to Link Arizona's Capital Following Coup by Which El Paso Road Is Obtained

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Phoenix, Ariz., will be on a new transcontinental main line link of the Southern Pacific Railroad within two years from the date on which the Interstate Commerce Commission approves an agreement announced today between that road and the El Paso and Southwestern system.

This was revealed when William Sproule, Southern Pacific president, returned today from New York with the details of the proposed association of the two rail systems.

The agreement contemplates application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for approval of an interchange of securities between the two lines, pursuant to a plan for the extension of all Arizona rail facilities.

MERGER PLAN

In announcing the project, Sproule said:

"It may be recalled that the Transportation Act of 1920 provides for the eventual amalgamation of the railroads of the United States into a limited number of systems under a plan to be formulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission. In compliance with that act a tentative plan was promulgated and that includes the El Paso and Southwestern and the Southern Pacific system.

"As the El Paso and Southwestern operates the 331 miles of railroad west of El Paso (that is, between El Paso, Tex., and Tucumcari, N. M.) which provides the only connecting link between Southern Pacific and the Rock Island lines, it will be seen that it is an indispensable part of the existing through route and channel of trade and commerce between Southern California, Arizona and Chicago, such as the law has commanded to be preserved, and thus the steps that are being taken are in harmony with and in furtherance of the tentative plan of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

LONG PLANNED

Phoenix, Arizona's capital, long has contended for a place on the main line railroad systems of the West. In addition to her place as capital of the State, Phoenix also is the financial and commercial center of that wide area of highly cultivated territory called the Salt River Valley, at the westerly end of the famous Apache trail.

The text of the memorandum of agreement between the Southern Pacific and the El Paso and Southwestern is, in part, as follows:

"Whereas, the said companies have made or are about to make joint application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to transfer and exchange their securities, under certain contract between the parties hereto,

COUNT SALM AT IT AGAIN

"Best Lover" and Berlin Film Star Have Reached "Understanding;" Former Quite the Rage

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BERLIN, June 11.—Count Ludwig Salm von Hoogstraeten is living up to his reputation of being the "best lover in Europe." Count Salm's newest flame is Lya de Putti, a pretty bobbed-hair motion-picture actress, engaged in making pictures in Berlin. Lya today said that she and Count Salm had reached "an understanding" which would lead to their engagement as soon as Count Salm and Millicent Rogers were divorced.

Don Juan Salm has been in great demand among the blase actresses and movie stars in Germany since his American triumphs. Already noted as the best lover in Europe, Count Salm is sought eagerly by his former loves, who hope to rekindle his passion. Count Salm and Lya were friends for many years, but since his return they are going to champagne parties together.

SMALL AND DARK

Lya de Putti is small with dark olive skin. Her mother was the Countess Hoyos and ranks in the highest of Hungarian families. Lya also is a niece of Prince Bismarck, son of the Chancellor. When Lya comes to the Hotel Adlon, she is the cynosure of all eyes. Today when she was asked whether it is true that she intends to marry Count Salm, she replied:

"We have reached an understanding, but I cannot speak of marriage because Count Salm, as you know, is still married. However, Count Salm is a free husband—you know what I mean—he does what he likes and is not bound by conventionalities. The future can bring many changes. It is too early to speak of an engagement or marriage but you can say we are good friends, and we have reached an agreement."

Count Salm's friends say he is still a real husband and Millicent is still much in love with him as the weekly boat brings its usual seven letters from her.

However, Count Salm has lately returned to his old haunts among the fast set in Berlin, where he lived before he met Millicent. From the first day of his arrival it is apparent that he admired the Hungarian actress.

Lya is 24 years of age, but has

REPUBLICANS ADOPT PLATFORM SHOUT LOYALTY TO COOLIDGE

Delegates Turn National Convention Into Roaring Bedlam in Prolonged Demonstration for President as Party's Principles Are Reaffirmed

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CLEVELAND, June 12.—In a session marked with a prolonged demonstration for President Coolidge, the Republican National Convention tonight adopted its platform as reported by the resolutions committee and rejected the La Follette planks presented from the Wisconsin delegation. The small chorus of "noes" from the Wisconsin section when the question was put on the adoption were almost lost in the great convention hall, which had not finished reverberating from a tornado of "ayes."

Though brief and orderly, the session was noisy and colorful. It brought out the first real old-time demonstration and show of convention enthusiasm. Chairman Warren, reading the report of the resolutions committee, mentioned the name of President Coolidge and the enthusiasm cut loose.

The President himself, in his study in Washington, following the convention proceedings by radio, must have heard the shouts and calls of "Coolidge," the tramp of the marchers and the predictions of party victory.

The cheering, roaring multitude that pranced and surged about convention hall tonight, shouting for Coolidge, staged a scene the like of which has not been seen in a Republican convention since 1896.

The La Follette delegates from Wisconsin, refusing to join in the demonstration, remained silently seated while the milling, howling throng reeled and surged about them, calling upon them to join. Finally, surrounded by groups of delegates singing "The Star-Spangled Banner," the La Follette delegates were forced to their feet, but they only stood silently at attention and then sat down again.

RECALL OLD TIMES

Old-timers, veterans of many a fight and demonstration in the heat and furore of a convention fight, compared the scene to that in the convention of 1896, when Senator Teller and his fellows of the Colorado delegation sat silently under the jeers and jibes of delegates who urged the venerable Senator to join with the majority in upholding the gold standard.

It was a half hour before Chairman Mondell restored order and the delegates got back to their places to hear Chairman Warren present the platform.

Mr. Warren, after reading the platform, moved its adoption. Representative Cooper of Wisconsin presented the La Follette platform and spoke in its support.

Mr. Warren made no extended arguments against the La Follette planks, merely reminding the convention that the platform as brought in from the committee had been approved by every member except the member from Wisconsin, andthat the committee's action might be considered a fair cross-section of the sentiment of the convention. The platform out of the way in record time, the convention adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock to take up nominations for President and Vice-President.

BOOMS STILL DRIFTING

While the convention was in its night session, the Vice-Presidential booms which have been drifting about getting nowhere still were drifting. Conferences continued throughout the session, but nothing was accomplished.

Now, having gone through a simmering process of several days, it was obvious that sentiment was going to be forced to crystallize on some candidate by tomorrow,

ASKS PARTY LOYALTY

Platform Aimed at Congress

Plank Demands Election of Lawmakers Who Will Back President

Economy and Tax Reduction Get Prominent Place in Document

CLEVELAND, June 11.—Election of Senators and Representatives who believe in Republican principles and acknowledge party responsibility is urged in the Republican party platform adopted tonight by the convention.

This appeal constitutes the concluding plank which declares that the government functions best when the President is supported "by a majority in Congress of the same political faith, united by party principles and able by concerted action to carry out in an orderly way, a definite, consistent and well balanced program." Other high spots in the platform are:

American adherence to the World Court as recommended by President Coolidge and condemnation of those who "strive indiscriminately to besmirch the names of the innocent and undermine the confidence of the people in the government."

A declaration for rigid enforcement of the law, but without specific mention of prohibition.

Scientific readjustment of railroad rate schedules with a view to encouragement of agriculture and basic industries without impairment of railroad traffic.

Enactment of measures to place agriculture on a basis of economic equality with other industries and government assistance in the reorganization of the marketing system and in diversification of crops.

RIGID ECONOMY

Progressive reduction of the taxes of all the people as rapidly as may be and the placing of the Federal tax system on a sound, peace-time basis.

Commendation of the "firm insistence" of President Coolidge upon rigid government economy.

Settlement of foreign debts growing out of the war on the basis of the agreement concluded with Great Britain.

Reaffirmation of the belief in the protective tariff policy with a safeguard authorizing the President to adjust duties to prevent excessive taxes and too high customs charges.

Renewal of a pledge to give the wounded and disabled war veterans "that full measure of care guaranteed by an effective administration to which his patriotic services and sacrifices entitle him."

Application of the civil service law to the prohibition enforcement field force and to postmasters in first, second and third class post-offices.

Improvement of the management of the government-owned merchant marine with a view to its ultimate sale to American citizens.

Continuation of the policy of Federal co-operation in highway construction.

COLORADO SURVEY

Effective and efficient development of oil, timber, coal or water power resources only as needed, and only after the public need has become a matter of public record assuring "control with a scrupulous regard and ever vigilant safeguards against waste, speculation and monopoly."

Opposition to nationalization or government ownership of public utilities.

A declaration of faith in the eight-hour day for labor and a pledge to continue efforts to eliminate the seven-day, twelve-hour week.

Reaffirmation by the party of its "unyielding devotion to the Constitution and to the guarantees of civil, political and religious liberty therein contained.

Comprehensive survey of power and flood control projects for the Colorado River.

Enactment of a Federal anti-lynching law and the creation of a commission to promote mutual understanding and care between the races.

Increased participation of women in party councils.

Authority for the President, where the supply of coal is threatened by industrial conflict, to appoint a commission to act as mediator and to control distribution to prevent profiteering.

PICK BORAH FOR TICKET

Leaders Agree on Idaho Senator

Problem of Vice-Presidential Nominee Settled After Long Conference

Swing Toward Western Man Said to Make Certain His Selection

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, June 12.—"I am not going to accept the nomination for Vice-President," Senator Borah declared here early today after being informed that Republican leaders at Cleveland had agreed on him for the nomination.

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND, June 12.—Pennsylvania and New York leaders at 1:45 o'clock this morning decided to support Senator Borah for the Vice-Presidency as the best possible solution of the problem.

It is believed that he will accept under these conditions. The administration will support the movement for Borah which now amounts to a complete swing to the Idaho Senator and will enable the convention to dispose of the whole ticket in the shortest possible time.

President Coolidge will be nominated in the morning and immediately thereafter efforts will be made to make the nomination of Borah unanimous.

It is expected that the final session will end before 5 or 6 o'clock and most of the delegations will be on the way to their homes before midnight.

At midnight there had been no definite selection for anyone to be the running-mate for President Coolidge. Four States from the Middle West were holding caucuses or conferences to name favorite sons for the second place on the ticket. Secretaries of the Cabinet, Senators and personal advisers to the President, all are conferring suggesting, withdrawing and jockeying for place.

Secretary Hoover, who had led the rest of the candidates since the refusal of former Gov. Frank Lowden to permit his name to be used, late last night notified the California delegation to desist from pressing his nomination. This left the field with no favorites.

All or most of the committees and conferences are working far into the morning hours in an ef-

HOOVER REFUSES TO RUN

Note to Californians Says Decision is Definite and Final; Vice-Presidency Rush on Again

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLEVELAND, June 11.—The Vice-Presidential contest in the Republican National Convention which began as a sort of two-step several days ago, swept into a hesitation waltz late tonight when Secretary of Commerce Hoover, considered a "sure shot" in the event of the submission of his name, sent a message to the California delegation virtually forbidding his friends to advance him as a candidate.

Mr. Hoover's message reached the Californians almost coincidentally with a vote by the delegation expressing the unanimous desire of all the delegates present to support his candidacy. His message read:

"I am in receipt of the request of your committee to be advised if there is any objection on my part to the California delegation's putting my name forward for nomination for the Vice-Presidency. I wish to thank you sincerely for the honor of this suggestion, but as I have said before, I do not wish them to do so.

DEFINITE AND FINAL

"I am engaged in many problems of national interest, and I believe that such activities give large opportunities for public service.

"This is definite and final and I hope my friends will respect it."

A brief silence followed the reading of this communication. Charles C. Teague of Santa Paula, Cal., delegate-at-large, who had been named chairman of a committee of three to communicate California delegation's plans to Mr. Hoover and learn from him what he would prefer to have done, suggested that further action be dropped and then proposed a motion, which was adopted, pledging the Californians to submit on the first roll call for Vice-President the name of Charles C. Chapman of Fullerton.

Mr. Chapman was not present, having departed a few moments earlier after accepting the delegation's request that he vote California's desire that Herbert Hoover be the Vice-Presidential nominee.

At the time Mr. Hoover definitely refused to be considered as a candidate on the ticket with President Coolidge he undoubtedly was far in the lead for the second place nomination. A canvass of other delegations by various California delegates showed that sentiment favorable to his nomination was widespread and enthusiastic.

BANNERS REAPPEAR

His retirement, or, rather his positive refusal to enter the contest, caused a marked bull movement in the Vice-Presidential stock market, many badges, ban-

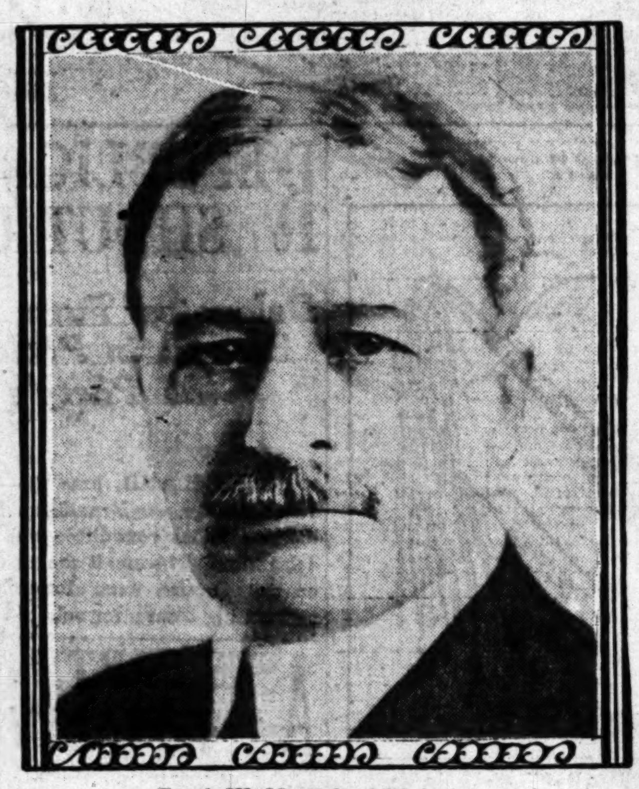
Republican Platform Backs Coolidge in Economy and Tax Stand

FULL TEXT OF DOCUMENT ADOPTED BY CONVENTION

Complete Indorsement of Coolidge on Every Issue in Campaign Is Accorded at Cleveland

Pilot of G.O.P. Convention



Frank W. Mondell of Wyoming

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CLEVELAND, June 11.—The following is the text of the Republican platform as adopted tonight by the Republican National Committee:

We, the delegates to the Republican party, in national convention assembled, bow our heads in reverent memory of Warren G. Harding.

We nominated him four years ago to be our candidate; the people of the nation elected him their President. His human qualities gripped the effections of the American people. He was a public servant unswerving in his devotion to duty.

A stanch Republican, he was first of all a true patriot, who gave unstintingly of himself during a trying and difficult period of our national life.

His conception and successful direction of the Limitation of Armaments Conference in Washington was an achievement which advanced the world along the path toward peace.

As delegates of the Republican party, we share in the national thanksgiving that in the great emergency created by the death of our great leader, there stood forth fully equipped to be his successor one whom we had nominated as Vice-President—Calvin Coolidge—who, as Vice-President and President, by his every act, has justified the faith and confidence which he has won from the nation.

He has put the public welfare above personal consideration. He has given to the people practical idealism in office. In his every act he has won without seeking the applause of the people of the country. The constantly accumulating evidence of his integrity, vision and single-minded devotion to the needs of the people of this nation strengthens and inspires our confident faith in his continued leadership.

SITUATION IN 1921

When the Republican administration took control of the government in 1921 there were 4,500,000 unemployed; industry and commerce were stagnant; agriculture was prostrate; business was depressed; government bonds were selling below their value.

Peace was delayed; misunderstanding and friction characterized our relations abroad. There was a lack of faith in the administration of government resulting in a growing feeling of distrust in the very principles upon which our institutions are founded.

Today industry and commerce are active; public and private credits are sound, we have made peace; we have taken the first step toward disarmament and strengthened our friendship with the world powers; our relations with the rest of the world are on a firmer basis; our position was never better understood, our foreign policy never more definite and consistent. The tasks to which we have put our hands are completed. Time has been too short for the correction of all the ills we received as a heritage from the last Democratic administration and the notable accomplishments under Republican rule warrant us in appealing to the country with entire confidence.

PUBLIC ECONOMY

We demand and the people of the United States have a right to demand rigid economy in government. A policy of strict economy enforced by the Republican administration since 1921 has made possible a reduction in taxation and has enabled the government to reduce the public debt by $2,000,000,000. This policy vigorously enforced has resulted in a progressive reduction of public expenditures until they are now $2,000,000,000 per annum less than in 1921. The tax burdens of the people have been relieved to the extent of $1,250,000,000 per annum. Government securities have been increased in value more than $3,000,000,000. Deficits have been converted into surpluses. The budget system has been firmly established and the number of Federal employees has been reduced more than 100,000. We commend the firm insistence of President Coolidge upon rigid government economy and pledge him our earnest support to this end.

FINANCE AND TAXES

We believe that the achievement of the Republican administration in reducing taxation $1,250,000,000 per annum; reducing of the public debt by $2,432,000,000; installing a budget system; reducing the public expenditures from $5,500,000,000 per annum to approximately $3,400,000,000 per annum, thus reducing the ordinary expenditures of the government to substantially a pre-war basis; and the complete restoration of public credit; the payment or refunding of $7,500,000 of public obligations without a disturbance of credit or industry—all during the short period of three years—presents a record unsurpassed in the history of public finance.

The assessment of taxes wisely and scientifically collected and the efficient and economical expenditure of the money received by the government are essential to the prosperity of our nation. Carelessness in levying taxes inevitably breeds extravagance in expenditures. The wisest of taxation rests most rightly on the individual and economic life of the country. The public demand for a sound tax policy is insistent.

Progressive tax reduction should be accomplished through tax reform. It should not be confined to less than 4,000,000 of our citizens who pay direct taxes, but it is the right of the more than 100,000,000 who are daily paying their taxes through their living expenses. Congress has in the main confined its work to tax reduction. The matter of tax reform is still unsettled and is equally essential.

We pledge ourselves to the progressive reduction of taxes of all the people as rapidly as may be done with due regard for the essential expenditures of the government administered with rigid economy and to place our tax system on a sound peace-time basis.

We indorse the plan of President Coolidge to call in November a national conference of Federal and State officials for the development of the effective methods of lightening the tax burden of our citizens and adjusting questions of taxation as between national and State governments.

We favor the creation by appropriate legislation of a nonpartisan Federal commission to make a comprehensive study and report upon the tax systems of the States and Federal government with a view to an intelligent reformation of our systems of taxation to a more equitable basis and a proper adjustment of the subjects of taxation as between the national and State governments, with justice to the taxpayer and in conformity with the sound economic principles.

REORGANIZATION

We favor a comprehensive reorganization of the executive departments and bureaus along the line of the plan recently submitted by a joint committee of the Congress, which has the unqualified support of President Coolidge.

CIVIL SERVICE

The improvement in the enforcement of the merit system, both by the legislative enactment and executive action, since March 4, 1921, has been marked and effective. By executive order the appointment of Presidential postmasters has been placed on the merit basis similar to that applying to the classified service.

We favor the classification of postmasters in first, second and third-class postoffices and the placing of the prohibition enforcement forces within the classified civil service without necessarily incorporating the present personnel.

FOREIGN DEBTS

In fulfillment of our solemn pledge in the national platform of 1920, we have steadfastly refused to consider the cancellation of foreign debts. Our attitude has not been that of an oppressive creditor, or seeking immediate return and ignoring existing financial conditions, but has been based on the conviction that a moral obligation such as was incurred should not be disregarded.

We stand for settlements with all debtor countries, similar in character to our debt agreement with Great Britain. That settlement, achieved under a Republican administration, was the greatest international financial transaction in the history of the world. Under the terms of the agreement the United States now receives an annual return upon $4,600,000,000 owing to us by Great Britain with a definite obligation of ultimate payment in full.

The justness of the basis employed has been formally recognized by other debtor nations.

"Great nations cannot recognize or admit the principle of repudiation. To do so would undermine the integrity essential for international trade, commerce and credit. Thirty-five per cent of the total foreign debt is now in process of liquidation.

TARIFF STAND

We reaffirm our belief in the protective tariff to extend needed protection to our productive industries. We believe in protection as a national policy, with due and equal regard to all sections, and to agriculture, industries and occupations. It is only by adherence to such a policy that the well being of the consumers can be safeguard, that there can be assured to American agriculture, to American labor and to American manufacturers, a return to perpetuate American standards of life. A protective tariff is designed to support the high American economic level of life for the average family and to prevent a lowering to the levels of economic life prevailing in other lands.

It is the history of the nation that the protective tariff system has ever justified itself by restoring confidence, promoting industrial activity and employment, enormously increasing our purchasing power and bringing increased prosperity to all our people.

The tariff protection to our industry works for increased consumption of domestic agricultural products by an employed population instead of one unable to purchase the necessaries of life. Without the strict maintenance of the tariff principle our farmers will need always to compete with cheap islands and cheap labor abroad and with lower standards of living.

The enormous value of the protective principle has once more been demonstrated by the Emergency Tariff Act of 1921 and the Tariff Act of 1922.

We assert our belief in the elastic provision adopted by Congress in the Tariff Act of 1922 providing for a method of readjusting the tariff rates and the classifications in order to meet changing economic conditions when such changed conditions are brought to the attention of the President by complaint or application.

We believe that the power to increase or decrease any rate of duty provided in the tariff furnishes a safeguard on the one hand against excessive taxes and on the other hand against too high customs charges.

The wise provisions of this section of the Tariff Act afford ample opportunity for tariff duties to be adjusted after hearing, in order that they may cover the actual differences in the cost of production in the United States and in the principal competing countries of the world.

We also believe that the application of this provision of the Tariff Act will contribute to business stability by making unnecessary general disturbances which are usually incident to general tariff revision.

AGRICULTURE

In dealing with agriculture the Republican party recognizes that we are faced with a fundamental national problem, and that the prosperity and welfare of the nation as a whole are dependent upon the prosperity and welfare of our agricultural population.

We recognize that our agricultural activities are still struggling with adverse conditions that have brought about distress. We pledge the party to take whatever steps are necessary to bring back a balanced condition between agriculture, industry and labor, which was destroyed by the Democratic party through an unfortunate administration of legislation passed as wartime measures.

We affirm that under the Republican administration the problems of the farmer have received more serious consideration than ever before, both by definite executive action and by Congressional action, not only in the field of general legislation, but also in the enactment of laws to meet emergency situations.

The restoration of general prosperity and the purchasing power of our people through tariff protection has resulted in an increased domestic consumption of food products while the price of many agricultural commodities are above the war price level by reason of direct tariff protection.

Under the leadership of the Presidents at the most critical time, a corporation was organized by private capital making available $100,000,000 to assist the farmers of the Northwest.

In realization of the disturbance in the agricultral export market, the result of the financial depression in Europe and appreciating that the export field would be enormously improved by economic rehabilitation and the resulting increased consuming power, a sympathetic support and direction was given to the work of the American representatives on the European Reparations Commission.

The revival in 1921 of the War Finance Corporation, with loans of over $300,000,000, averted in 1921 a complete collapse in the agricultural industry.

We have established new intermediate credit banks for agriculture and increased the capital of the Federal Farm Loan system. Emergency loans have been granted to drought-stricken areas. We have enacted into law the Co-operative Marketing Act, the Grain Futures and Packer Control Acts, given to agriculture direct representation on the Federal Reserve Board and on the Federal Aid Commission. We have greatly strengthened our foreign marketing service for the disposal of our agricultural products. The crux of the problem from the standpoint of the farmer is the net profit he receives after his outlay. The process of bringing the average prices of what he buys and what he sells closer together can be promptly expedited by reduction in taxes, steady employment in industry and stability in business.

This process can be expedited directly by lower freight rates, by better marketing through co-operative efforts and a more scientific organization of the physical human machinery of distribution and by a greater diversification of farm products.

We promise every assistance in the reorganization of the market system on sounder and more economical lines and, where diversification is needed, government assistance during the period of transition. Vigorous efforts of this administration toward broadening our exports market will be continued. The Republican party pledges itself to the development and enactment of measures which will place the agricultural interests of America on a basis of economic equality with other industry to assure its prosperity and success. We favor adequate tariff protection to such of our agricultural products as are threatened by competition. We favor, without putting the government into business, the establishment of a Federal system of organization for co-operation marketing of foreign products.

MINING

The mining industry has experienced a period of depression as the result of the abnormal economic conditions growing out of the war. This administration has accomplished much in improving the conditions affecting this great fundamental industry, and pledges itself to continue its efforts in this direction.

HIGHWAYS

The Federal Aid Road Act, adopted by the Republican Congress in 1921, has been of inestimable value to the development of the highway system of the several States and of the nation. We pledge a continuation of this policy of Federal co-operation with the States in highway building.

We favor the construction of roads and trails in our national forests necessary to the protection and utilization. In appropriations, therefore, the taxes which these lands would pay if taxable, should be considered as a controlling factor.

The increasing stress of industrial life, the constant and necessary efforts because of world competition to increase production and decrease costs have made it specially incumbent on those in authority to protect labor from undue exactions.

We commend Congress for having recognized this possibility in its prompt adoption of the recommendation of President Coolidge for a constitutional amendment authorizing Congress to legislate on the subject of child labor and we urge the prompt consideration of that amendment by the legislatures of the various States.

There is no success great enough to justify the employment of women in labor under conditions which will impair their natural functions.

LABOR

We favor high standards for wage, working and living conditions among the women employed in industry.

We pledge a continuance of the successful efforts of the Republican administration to eliminate the seven-day, twelve-hour work week in industry. We regard with satisfaction the elimination of the twelve-hour day in the steel industry and the agreement eliminating the seven-day work week of alternate thirteen and eleven hours accomplished through the efforts of Presidents Harding and Coolidge. We declare our faith in the principle of the eight-hour day.

We pledge a continuation of the work of rehabilitating workers in industry as conducted by the Federal Board for Vocational Education and favor adequate appropriations for this purpose.

We favor a broader and better system of vocational education, a more adequate system of Federal free employment agencies with facilities for assisting the movements of seasonal and migratory labor, including farm labor with ample organization for bringing the man and his job together.

WORLD COURT

The Republican party reaffirms its stand for agreement among the nations to prevent war and preserve peace. As an immediate step in this direction we indorse the Permanent Court of International Justice and favor the adherence of the United States to this tribunal as recommended by President Coolidge. This government has definitely refused membership in the League of Nations and to assume any obligations under the covenant of the league. On this we stand.

While we are unwilling to enter into political commitments which would involve us in the conflict of European politics, it should be the purpose and high privilege of the United States to continue to co-operate with other nations in humanitarian efforts in accordance with our cherished traditions. The basic principles of our foreign policy must be independence without indifference to the rights and necessities of others and co-operation without entangling alliances. This policy, overwhelmingly approved by the people, has been vindicated since the end of the great war. America's participation in world affairs under the administration of President Harding and President Coolidge has demonstrated the wisdom and prudence of the national judgment. A most impressive example of the capacity of the United States to serve the cause of world peace without political affiliations was shown in the effective and beneficent work of the Dawes Commission toward the solution of the perplexing question of German reparations. The first conference of the great powers in Washington, called by President Harding, accomplished the limitation of armaments and the readjustment of relations between the powers interested in the Far East. The conference resulted in an agreement to reduce armaments, relieved the competitive nations involved from the great burden of taxation arising from the construction and maintenance of capital battleships; assured a new, broader and better understanding in the Far East; brought the assurance of peace in the region of the Pacific and formally adopted the policy of the open door for trade and commerce in the great markets of the Far East.

This historic conference paved the way to avert the danger of renewed hostilities in Europe, and to restore the necessary economic stability. While the military forces of America have been reduced to a peace footing, there has been an increase in the land and air froces abroad, which constitutes a continual menace to the peace of the world and a bar to the return of prosperity.

We firmly advocate the calling of a conference on the limitation of land forces, the use of submarines and poison gas, as proposed by President Coolidge, when, through the adoption of a permanent reparations plan the conditions in Europe will make negotiations and co-operation opportune and possible.

By treaties of peace, safeguarding our rights and without derogating those of our former associates in arms, the Republican administration ended the war between this country and Germany and Austria. We have concluded and signed with other nations during the past three years more than fifty treaties and international agreements in the furtherance of peace and good will.

New sanctions and new proofs of permanent accord have marked our relations with all Latin America. The long-standing controversy between Chile and Peru has been advanced toward settlement by its submission to the President of the United States as arbiter, and with the helpful co-operation of this country a treaty has been signed by the representatives of sixteen American republics which will stabilize conditions of the American continent and minimize the opportunities for war.

Our difficulties with Mexico have happily yielded to a most friendly adjustment. Mutual confidence has been restored and a pathway for that friendliness and helpfulness which should exist between this government and the government of our neighboring republic has been marked. Agreements have been entered into for the determination by judicial commissions of the claims of the citizens of each country against the respective government. We can confidently look forward to more permanent and more stable relations with this republic that joins for so many miles our southern border.

Our policy, now well defined, of giving practical aid to other peoples without assuming political obligations has been conspicuously demonstrated. The ready and generous response of America to the needs of the starving in Russia and the suddenly stricken people of Japan gave evidence of our helpful interest in the welfare of the distressed in other lands.

The work of our representatives in dealing with subjects of such universal concern as the traffic in women and children, the production and distribution of narcotic drugs, the sale of arms, and in matters affecting public health and morals demonstrates that we can effectively do our part for humanity and civilization without forfeiting, limiting or restricting our national freedom of action.

The American people do cherish their independence, but their sense of duty to all mankind will ever prompt them to give their support, service and leadership to every cause which makes for peace and amity among the nations of the world.

RAILROADS

The people demand and are entitled to have prompt and efficient transportation at the lowest rates consistent with good service and a reasonable return upon the value of the property devoted to public service.

We believe that the American people demand, and we favor, a careful and scientific readjustment of railroad rate schedules with a view to the encouragement of agriculture and basic industries, without impairment of railroad service.

The present laws regulating railroads, which were enacted to meet post-war conditions, should be modified from time to time as experience shows the necessity therefor.

The consolidation of railroads into fewer competitive systems subject to the approval of the I.C.C. should be provided for.

The Labor Board provisions of the present law should be amended whenever it appears from experience that such action is necessary. Collective bargaining, mediation and voluntary arbitration are the most important steps in maintaining peaceful labor relations and should be encouraged. We do not believe in compulsory action at any time in the settlement of labor disputes.

Public opinion must be the final arbiter in any crisis which so vitally affects public welfare as the suspension of transportation.

Therefore the interests of the public require the maintenance of an impartial tribunal which can in any emergency make an investigation of the facts and publish its conclusions. This is essential as a basis for popular judgment.

We favor a stable, consistent and constructive policy toward our railroads.

OWNERSHIP

The prosperity of the American nation rests on the vigor of private initiative which has bred a spirit of independence and self-reliance. The Republican party stands now as always against all attempts to put the government into business.

American industry should not be compelled to struggle against government competition. The right of the government to regulate, supervise and control public utilities and public interests, we believe, should be strengthened, but we are firmly opposed to the nationalization or government ownership of public utilities.

COAL

The price and a constant supply of this essential commodity are of vital interest to the public. The government has no constitutional power to regulate prices but can bring its influence to bear by the powerful instrument afforded by full publicity. When through industrial conflict its supply is threatened the President should have authority to appoint a commission to act as mediators and as a medium for voluntary arbitration. In the event of a strike the control of distribution must be invoked to prevent profiteering.

MERCHANT MARINE

The Republican party stands for a strong and permanent merchant marine built by Americans, owned by Americans and manned by Americans to secure the necessary contact with world markets for our surplus agricultural products and manufactures; to protect our shippers and importers from exorbitant ocean freight rates and to become a powerful arm of our national defense.

That part of the merchant marine now owned by the government should continue to be improved in its economic and efficient management, with regulation of the losses now paid by the government through taxation until it is finally placed on so sound a basis that, with ocean freight rates becoming normal, due to improvement in international affairs, it can be sold to American citizens.

WATER POWER

Fully realizing the vital importance of transportation in both cost and service to all our people we favor the construction of the most feasible waterways from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic seaboard and the Gulf of Mexico and the improvement and development of rivers, harbors and waterways, inland and coastwise, to the fullest extent justified by the presence and potential tonnage available.

We favor a comprehensive survey of the conditions under which the flood waters of the Colorado River may be controlled and utilized for the benefit of the people of the States which border thereon.

The Federal Water Power Act establishes a national water-power policy and the way has thereby been opened for the greatest water-power development in history under conditions which preserve initiative of our people, yet protect the public interest.

WAR VETERANS

We affirm the admiration and gratitude which we feel for soldiers and sailors.

The Republican party pledges a continual and increasing solicitude for all those suffering any disability as a result of service to the United States in time of war. No country and no administration has ever shown a more generous disposition in the care of its disabled or more thoughtful consideration in providing a sound administration for the solution of the many problems involved in making intended benefits fully, directly and promptly available to the veterans.

The confusion, inefficiency and maladministration existing heretofore since the establishment of this government agency has been cured and plans are being actively made looking to a further improvement in the operation of the bureau by the passage of new legislation. The basic statute has been so liberalized as to bring within its terms 100,000 additional beneficiaries. The privilege of hospitalization in government hospitals, as recommended by President Coolidge, has been granted to all veterans irrespective of the origin of disability and over $50,000,000 has been appropriated for hospitals which will provide sufficient beds to care for all. Appropriations totalling $1,100,000,000 made by the Republican Congress for the care of the disabled evidences the unmistakable purpose of the government not to consider costs when the welfare of these men is at stake. No legislation for the benefit of the disabled soldiers proposed during the last four years by veterans' organizations has failed to receive consideration.

We pledge ourselves to meet the problems of the future affecting the care of our wounded and disabled in a spirit of liberality and with that thoughtful consideration which will enable the government to give to the individual veteran that full measure of care guaranteed by an effective administration machinery to which his patriotic services and sacrifices entitle him.

CONSERVATION

We believe in the development, effective and efficient, whether of oil, timber, coal or water-power resources of this government, only as needed and only after the public needs has become a matter of public record, controlled with a scrupulous regard and ever vigilant safeguards against waste, speculation and monopoly.

The natural resources of the country belong to all the people, and are a part of an estate belonging to generations yet unborn. The government policy should be to safeguard, develop and utilize these possessions. The conservation policy of the nation originated with the Republican party under the inspiration of Theodore Roosevelt. We hold it a privilege of the Republican party to build as a memorial to him on the foundation which he laid.

Children's shoes were made and sold with very little intelligence or care for the well-being of the child.

A New England shoemaker noticed this, came to Los Angeles, and started the first exclusive children's shoe store in the United States with the purpose of fitting the children's feet right.

For 30 years the Children's Shoe Store, Inc., 712 S. Hill, has specialized in the proper fitting of the growing foot of the child—a very important service.

The store exists and its personnel is trained to accomplish this service.

MONDELL LAUDS COOLIDGE FAITH

Confidence of Nation Cited by Chairman

Says It Reflects Credit on People and Chief

Pleads for Majorities in Coming Congress

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CLEVELAND, June 11.—President Coolidge has justified the confidence that "inspired" his nomination for Vice-President at Chicago, and the greater confidence reposed in him since taking up the duties of Chief Executive "is the outstanding fact" in the political situation, Frank W. Mondell of Wyoming declared today in his address as permanent chairman of the Republican National Convention.

Mr. Mondell added an appeal for Republican majorities in Congress "in name and in principle" saying that every serious fault of recent legislation would have been avoided had the President had that strength in House and Senate.

The chairman assailed the Democrats for their "utter lack of fixed and definite principle or policy, save that of muck-raking and obstruction."

CITES LAST CONGRESS

Referring to the situation in the last Congress when insurgents joined with Democrats to control legislation, Mr. Mondell said that never before had the necessity for dependable party majority and definite party responsibility been so clearly demonstrated.

The text of Mr. Mondell's address follows:

Ladies and gentlemen of the convention:

We are met as the representatives of a great political party that has never failed, nor faltered in its service or loyalty to the republic; that has never proposed nor advocated an unwise or unsound national policy, and it is our privilege on behalf of this party to place in nomination for the highest offices in the gift of the American people candidates who shall measure up to the finest standards of party leadership and who shall be entitled to and, we confidently believe, will receive the support of a large majority of the American voters at the polls in November.

LAUDS COOLIDGE

We meet profoundly appreciative of wise, patriotic and inspiring party leadership in the past and earnestly thankful that the kindly Providence and the great good fortune which gave our party and the nation Lincoln, McKinley, Roosevelt and Harding has vouchsafed us as the worthy successor of these distinguished patriots the confidence-inspiring character of Calvin Coolidge.

The American people placed the stamp of their approval upon the candidates of the last Republican National Convention by a majority of more than 5,500,000. Time and events have abundantly justified that unparalleled indorsement. He who was chosen as the party standard bearer proved his statesmanship in the skillful handling and wise adjustment of important and weighty domestic and international questions and problems. Diligent in the nation's business, wise in public counsel, honest and courageous in action, he gave himself unreservedly, mind and body, heart and soul, to the nation and became as truly a martyr to patriotic service as any soldier stricken on the field of battle.

How well he fitted and became the great office to which he was chosen! History will write his name high on the roll of able and efficient executives, but we who knew and loved him best will cherish most the recollection of his great and kindly heart, his tender and sympathetic soul. The nation mourned him as one mourns a brother beloved, and enshrined him in the only enduring hall of fame—the loyal hearts of a grateful people.

CONFIDENCE IN COOLIDGE

Confidence was the keynote of the sentiment which inspired the nomination of Calvin Coolidge at Chicago four years ago. That confidence grew as he modestly performed the duties of the position to which he was elected, and strengthened prodigiously as he met and handled in thoughtful, sympathetic and courageous fashion the many difficult and trying problems presented to him in the Presidential office.

Confidence in President Coolidge is the most important and outstanding factor in the political situation today and, in the presence of inevitable differences of opinions on questions of moment, this confidence is as fine a compliment to the American people as it is to the President, a spontaneous tribute to sincere faith, high courage and honest and unselfish purpose.

Never was an administration confronted with more difficult and perplexing problems than those presented to the Republican administration and Congress elected four years ago, and the marvelous record of legislative and administrative accomplishment which followed, is without parallel in the annals of government.

The orgy of reckless and extravagant expenditure which had been checked by the preceding Republican Congress, was succeeded by an economical and business-like conduct of public affairs under a budget system wisely drawn and faithfully adhered to. The burden of taxation was greatly reduced. The public debt was steadily diminished. The armies of the unemployed, more numerous than the hosts that the nation marshalled in the World War, were soon absorbed in the ranks of industry, as wise legislation and sound administration relieved the nation and its people from the handicap of Democratic policies.

NEED OF MAJORITIES

Never before in our history has the need and the necessity of dependable party majorities and of definite party responsibility been so clearly demonstrated as in the very recent past. Legislative control by shifting and changing combinations, resulting in majorities having no common faith and recognizing no united responsibility, cannot, in the nature of things, produce legislative results beneficial or satisfactory to the people of the country. The inevitable effect of such legislative control is confusion and paralysis, and a legislative product satisfactory to no one.

Every serious fault of recent legislation and every failure to complete and round out a satisfactory legislative program, could and would have been avoided had there been dependable Republican majorities in the Congress. The one certain and assured remedy for such a condition is the election of a Congress, Republican, by a goodly majority, both in name and in principle.

This is the open season for weird claim and wild assertion on the part of our friends, the political enemy. Only recently emerged from beneath the political landslide of four years ago, they attempt to appear as confident as they were just before being engulfed in that overwhelming catastrophe.

In the moments they can spare from their fierce family feuds and rivalries they make a pretense of assuming to believe that they have successfully laid down a smoke screen through which the transparent partisan purposes shall not be discovered, and in the contemplation of which all of their sins of omission and commission, of discredited policies and of discreditable administration shall be overlooked and forgotten.

FLAYS DEMOCRATS

If the American people were prepared to forget—as the Democrats themselves endeavor to do—the wholly indefensible record of the Democratic party in the earlier days, they certainly could not overlook the fact that the most recent record of the party is one devoid of a single redeeming feature; of scandalous mismanagement; of unwise and indefensible policy when in control and utter lack of fixed and definite principle or policy save that of muckraking and obstruction when in minority.

As we proceed to the nomination of our candidates and the drafting of our platform we may find inspiration in the fact that ours is the only national party in America that can and does point with pride to each and every candidate nominated at its conventions and to every declaration made in any of its national platforms. All human experience justifies faith and confidence in an organization with such a history. The record of wise leadership, sound policy and faithful public service in the past affords the best possible guaranty of the future.

A tree is known by its fruits—not by the showy flowers of promise or the occasional defect in bud or branch; but by the normal harvest through the running of the years—and the harvest of the Republican party and leadership is faithfully reflected in the matchless growth and fadeless glory of the republic.

HEALTH VICTORY FOR MINNESOTA

More than 7000 school children in 166 public schools in Minnesota were inspected by Red Cross public health nurses during April. Of this number 3606 were found to have physical defects. Many of these defects were minor in nature, including abnormal conditions of the eyes, ears, nose, throat, teeth and heart.

Through the co-operations of teachers, parents and doctors, all equally interested in giving the children the best possible chance in life, 1828 of these defects were corrected in a month. According to Walter Davidson, manager of central division, this is a record for the Public Health Nursing Service.

Red Cross nurses in this State have placed great emphasis on nutrition. More than 1200 children of those examined last month were 7 per cent or more below normal weight. Hot lunch projects, health clubs, consultations with parents as to proper diets, fresh air, and rest have had restorative results. The children realize the importance of keeping well and are eager to follow the advice of the nurse.

There are twenty-eight Red Cross public health nurses in Minnesota. During the last five years the Red Cross has conducted Public Health Nursing Service in seventy-six of the eighty-six counties.—[Red Cross Courier.

Barnacles Prefer Red Ships

Recent tests have shown that fewer barnacles attach themselves to ships with white-painted hulls, more barnacles having been found on red-bottomed ships than on those of other colors. The tests were made with glass plates of various colors lowered into the water and allowed to remain for three months.—[Exchange.

American consideration of the many problems which must inevitably grow out of our relationship to the people.

If the time comes when it is evident to Congress that independence would be better for the people of the Philippines with respect to both their domestic concerns and their status in the world, and the Filipino people then desire complete independence, the American government will gladly accord it. A careful study of the conditions in the Philippine Islands has convinced us that the time for such action has not yet arrived.

RECLAMATION

Federal reclamation of the arid and semiarid lands in the West has been the subject of intense study in the Department of the Interior during the past fiscal year. New policies and methods of operation have been adopted which promise to insure the successful accomplishment of the objects sought. The completion of this reorganization plan is regarded as one of the achievements of the present administration in the interests of farmers immediately and of all the people ultimately.

AVIATION

We advocate the early enactment of such legislation and the taking of such steps by the government as will tend to promote commercial aviation.

ARMY AND NAVY

There must be no further weakening of our Regular Army and we advocate appropriations sufficient to provide for the training of all members of the National Guard, the Citizens Military Training Camps; the Reserve Officers Training Camps, and the reserves who may offer themselves for service. We pledge ourselves to round out and maintain the Navy to the full strength provided the United States by the letter and spirit of the Limitation of Armament Conference.

THE NEGRO

We urge the Congress to enact at the earliest possible date a Federal antilynching law so that the full influence of the Federal government may be wielded to exterminate this hideous crime. We believe that much of the misunderstanding which now exists can be eliminated by humane and sympathetic study of its causes. The President has recommended the creation of a commission for the investigation of social and economic conditions and the promotion of mutual understanding and confidence.

GOVERNMENT

The Republican party reaffirms its devotion to orderly government under the guarantees embodied in the Constitution of the United States. We recognize the duty of constant vigilance to preserve at all times a clean and honest government and to bring to the bar of justice every defiler of the public service in or out of office.

Dishonesty and corruption are not political attributes. The recent Congressional investigations have exposed instances in both parties of men in public office, who are willing to sell official favors and men out of office, who are willing to buy them, in some cases with money and in others with influence.

The sale of influence resulting from the holding of public position or from association while in public office or the use of such influence for private gain or advantage is a perversion of public trust and prejudicial to good government. It should be conducted by public opinion and forbidden by law.

We demand the speedy, fearless and impartial prosecution of all wrongdoers without regard for political affiliation or position; but we declared no greater wrong can be committed against the people than the attempt to destroy their trust in the great body of their public servants. Admitting the deep humiliation, which all good citizens share, that our public life should have harbored some dishonest men, we assert that these undesirables do not represent the standard of our national integrity.

The government at Washington is served today by thousands of earnest, conscientious and faithful officials and employees in every department.

It is a grave wrong against these patriotic men and women to strive indiscriminately to besmirch the names of the innocent and undermine the confidence of the people in the government under which they live. It is even a graver wrong when this is done for partisan purposes or for selfish exploitation.

The Republican administration has already taken charge of the prosecution of official dereliction and it will continue the work of discovering and punishing; but it will not confuse the innocent with the guilty, or prostitute for party advantage the enforcement of the law.

LAW AND ORDER

We must have respect for law. We must have observance of law. We must have enforcement of law. The very existence of the government depends upon this. The substitution of private will for public law is only another name for oppression, disorder, anarchy and the mob rule.

Every government depends upon the loyalty and respect of its citizens. Violations of the law weaken and threaten government itself. No honest government can condone such actions on the part of its citizens. The Republican party pledges the full strength of the government for the maintenance of these principles by the enforcement of the Constitution and of all laws.

WOMEN DELEGATES

We extend our greetings to the women delegates, who for the first time, under Federal authorization, sit with us in full equality. The Republican party from the beginning has espoused the cause of woman suffrage and the presence of these women delegates signifies to many here the completion of a task undertaken years ago. We welcome them not as assistants or auxiliary representatives, but as co-partners in the great political work in which we are engaged and we believe that the actual partnership in party councils should be made more complete.

The Republican party reaffirms its unyielding devotion to the Constitution and to the guarantees of civil, political and religious liberty therein contained.

CONSTITUTION

The Republican party reaffirms its unyielding devotion to the Constitution and to the guarantees of civil, political and religious liberty therein contained.

RESPONSIBILITY

With us, parties are essential instrumentalities of government. Our government functions best when the Chief Executive is supported by a majority in the Congress of the same political faith, united by party principles and able by concerted action, to carry out in an orderly way a definite, consistent and well balanced program. In urging the people to elect a Republican President and Vice-President, we urge them to elect to the Senate and House of Representatives men and women who believe in the Republican principles, acknowledge party responsibility and who can be relied on to keep faith with the people by carrying out the program which the Republican party presents and pledges itself to fulfill.

"Nein."

"Never had an argument?"

"Nein."

"Then why are you asking a divorce?"

"Ask her if she ever had a fuss," whispered the other attorney.

"Did you ever have a fuss with your husband?"

"Oh, plenty of dem."

SHOUT LOYALTY TO PRESIDENT

Republican Delegates in Wild Demonstration

Enthusiasm Breaks Loose as Platform is Read

when the convention gets to the point of balloting.

The convention met twice today to get the platform issues settled, planning to leave tomorrow free for the nominations. At the morning session the convention roll and rules were adopted and Frank W. Mondell of Wyoming, as permanent chairman, delivered an address that was interrupted by cheering whenever he advised the convention to stand by the President and give him a Congress free of Republican insurgents.

At 8 o'clock the convention went into its first evening session to receive and approve the report of the platform committee, which had been in session almost continuously since it was appointed yesterday.

The platform follows in all respects the predictions that had been made for it by the party regulars. It reaffirms the traditional party policies, condemns misconduct in office, regardless of party, declares for membership in the world court as recommended by President Coolidge, suggests that farm prices should be brought to a parity with those of the products farmers buy and does not mention the bonus or Japanese exclusion.

On several questions there was bitter dissension in the committee. The world court plank was approved after the committee members had been told it was written personally by the President. An unsuccessful effort was made to incorporate a plank condemning the Ku Klux Klan by name and there were many vain thrusts at the agricultural and law-eforcement provisions.

LATE IN STARTING

Using the gavel made from one of the Michigan oaks beneath which the Republican party was born, temporary Chairman Burton finally called for order at the morning session a half hour late.

The band played "The Star Spangled Banner" and Rabbi Schulman of Temple Beth-El, New York City, pronounced the invocation.

The plan had been for Bishop Joseph Schrembs of the Catholic diocese of Cleveland to make the opening prayer. He will perform that function at some later session.

Chairman Burton recognized Representative Graham of Pennsylvania, who offered a resolution to send the greeting of the convention to Uncle Joe Cannon on the occasion of his eighty-seventh birthday anniversary. It felicitated the veteran Republicanon "the splendid record of service rendered by him during his many years of unyielding devotion to the sturdy, fundamental principles upon which the party was founded."

At the first mention of the name of Uncle Joe, absent from a Republican National Convention for the first time in many years, there was a great outburst of cheering over the convention hall. The resolution was adopted in a vast avalanche of "ayes" and then the band broke into the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" with delegates and spectators standing and singing under the direction of an active little song master out at the front of the platform.

Dr. Marion LeRoy Burton of Michigan, who will make the nominating speech, joined in the singing from a seat in the gallery.

REPORT DELAYED

The convention then was ready to receive the report of its credentials committee but Chairman McKinley advised officials that there would be a delay of a few minutes while final touches were put on the report.

The findings of the committee, all made public previously, were read by the convention secretary. Chairman Burton asked if there was a minority report and a delegate from Oklahoma moved that the credentials committee be reversed in its decision to unseat E. Mont Reily and R. H. Todd, the oldest member of the national committee, as delegates from Porto Rico.

The Oklahoma delegate proposed that Mr. Todd, Mr. Reily and the contesting delegate from Porto Rico all be seated and the two votes divided among them. Chairman McKinley seconded the motion and the convention adopted it. Then the balance of the report was formally approved.

WOMAN IS HEARD

Then for the first time in the history of a national convention a woman took the platform as chairman of a major committee to present a report. She was Mrs. Elizabeth Price Martin of Philadelphia, head of the committee on permanent organization. The convention received her with cheers and the report of the committee, naming Frank W. Mondell of Wyoming as permanent convention chairman was approved unanimously. Chairman Burton appointed Senator Wadsworth of New York, Mrs. Effie Eastman of California and Archie Love of Kansas, a committee to escort the permanent chairman to the platform. There was more cheering as Mr. Mondell, a former Republican leader of the House, stepped to the front of the stage in the glare of a concentrated fire from a dozen spotlights.

The incoming chairman began his speech, which was a short one—with great deliberation.

His voice, multiplied many times by the amplifying device installed at the front of the platform, filled the hall.

The crowd applauded when the speaker predicted Republican victory in November and again when he eulogized Lincoln, McKinley, Roosevelt and Harding. There was a sharp burst of cheering when he praised the "confidence-inspiring character of Calvin Coolidge."

UNITY PLEA CHEERED

There were more patterings of handclapping here and there as the chairman, speaking very slowly and with only an occasional reference to his manuscript, proceeded with his speech. When he declared for a Republican Congress both "in name and principle" the delegates came to their feet and there was a full minute of cheering. As on yesterday, when the same plea was made by Chairman Burton, the La Follette delegation from Wisconsin kept its seat.

Ending his address by turning to the flag-draped portraits of the past party leaders displayed in the rear of the stage, the permanent chairman announced that it was time for the convention to get down to business. The report of the committee on rules was called for and Paul Howland of Cleveland came forward amid hand clapping to submit it.

Mr. Howland made quite a speech and he started a crescendo of cheering when he announced that the committee had given "to the ladies" equal representation on the national committee. Many of the cheers shrilled from feminine throats, but many men were standing and cheering, too, before the short demonstration was over. Almost for the first time since the convention began Wisconsin stood up with the rest.

The new apportionment plan, as worked out at the December meeting of the national committee, also was explained at length by Mr. Howland, who then read the whole report of the committtee.

READS TO KILL TIME

The delegates listened patiently for a while, but they began to grow restless as the complicated legal phrases describing the ins and outs of the apportionment plan rolled out over the hall in monotonous succession. Many of those on the floor were in whispered conference.

After he had been going good for more than a quarter of an hour Mr. Howland got a laugh by reading a convention rule contained in the committee report providing that no one could speak for more than five minutes.

It is not customary to read in detail the reports of convention committees and it became apparent that the convention managers were killing time in the hope that the platform committee would bring in its report soon.

There was some cheering when Mr. Howland read a rule giving the national committee authority to unseat any committeeman who refused to support the party nominees. The speaker interrupted the reading to assure the convention that such a provision had been in the rules for years and then he read it again to an accompaniment of a new burst of cheering.

The report concluded, it was adopted without debate. When it became certain that the resolutions committee would not be ready to report for some time, the convention was adjourned, assembling again at 8 p.m.

SET FOR FIGHT

La Follette's followers were in their places long before the convention was called to order for the night session, all set for a fight.

Because he had not talked directly into the microphone this morning when he delivered his formal address, the radio announcer gave Permanent Chairman Mondell a lesson in the proper way to address the disks passing on to the country the vocal record of the proceedings. President Coolidge was listening at the White House, and everybody wanted the show to go off perfectly.

Chairman Mondell brought the gavel down at 8:21 o'clock, just as a storm rolled in from the lake and a heavy clap of thunder crashed above the big auditorium. The chairman had to rap several times before he got order. Then he threw the convention into cheering by announcing that the convention proceedings "were being listened to by the President of the United States in the White House, and by millions who will contribute to the Republican victory in November."

The chairman then turned the convention over to the official song leader, and the delegates and spectators rose and sang "A Long, Long Trail."

"At the end of the 'Long, Long Trail' is Republican victory in November," said the chairman, and the convention cheered again.

COOLIDGE TUNES IN ON SESSION

President Takes His First Opportunity to Listen to Convention

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, June 11. President Coolidge had his first real opportunity to listen in on the Cleveland convention which will nominate him, and he tuned his radio receiving set for the night session.

Heretofore Mr. Coolidge has confined his radio activities to what could be picked up during his luncheon period. Tonight, however, with his day's executive work done, he sat down to get first-hand information of the proceedings at the Republican national convention.

Then the convention got down to business. Charles B. Warren of Michigan and Ambassador to Mexico and chairman of the platform committee, took his place at the chairman's desk and began the reading of the platform amid renewed cheering and to the accompaniment of more crashes of thunder outside.

ONE DISSENTING VOTE

Mr. Warren prefaced his presentation of the platform by saying that it was the unanimous report of the committee, "with the exception of the member from one State."

Attention was again turned to the Wisconsin delegation, where was sitting Representative Cooper, waiting to offer the La Follette planks. There were scattered cries of "throw him out." The hall quieted down, however, and Chairman Warren went ahead reading the platform. When he first mentioned President Coolidge's name the convention began a rising demonstration during which the Wisconsin delegation remained seated, while the remainder of the hall was in cheers and applause.

The first parade around the hall began during the demonstration for the President. The heavy iron standards bearing the names of the States were fastened to the floor, but the delegates snatched tops which bore the names and began forming a procession. North Carolina was first, followed by New Jersey, and soon the aisles were crowded with pushing, struggling, whistling, cheering delegates and alternates, all bent on whooping it up and each one seeking to outdo the other. Senator Lodge and Speaker Gillett joined the procession with the Massachusetts delegation.

It was the first real touch of old-time convention and everybody was out to make the most of it. Frank W. Stearns of Boston, President Coolidge's friend and Warwick, came to the front of the speaker's stand and took a place between Mr. Warren and Mr. Mondell to watch the procession of men and women cheering for the President. Secretary Slemp also came to the front of the platform to look over the throng. William M. Butler, the President's campaign manager, soon joined the party and the collection of Republican managers stood there as if reviewing a procession. Meanwhile, Chairman Warren was being swamped with congratulations and handshakes on his resolutions committee work. The organ and the band tried to break in, but the din on the floor drowned them out.

WISCONSIN GLUM

While all the other delegations were milling and prancing around the hall the Wisconsin delegates were sticking to their seats. Neighboring delegations tried to snatch away the Wisconsin standard and take it into the parade, but the delegation chairman took down the standard instead for safe keeping.

After they had tired themselves out pushing and twisting about the tortuous aisles the bearers of the State standards massed them in front of the speaker's stand.

The direction of the demonstration increased rather than diminished when the paraders came to a halt and the outburst had been in progress nearly fifteen minutes before the standard bearers began to file back to their places. Chairman Mondell then rapped for order, but got none. Repeatedly he pounded the desk with his gavel, and Col. Thayer, the sergeant-at-arms, came down to the front of the platform to help restore order.

A dozen of the standards had been assembled by that time to form a circle around the Wisconsin delegation. As a last expedient to get the La Follette men on their feet, numbers of delegates surrounded them and sang "The Star Spangled Banner." The Wisconsin delegations solemnly arose and stood at attention during the singing and then with the aid of Col. Thayer and a dozen assistants, the others surrounding them were persuaded to return to the places.

"ALL BUT WISCONSIN"

Somebody in another part of the hall started up a song running "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here—All Except Wisconsin," and the cheering broke out afresh.

When quiet had been restored, Chairman Warren resumed his reading. There was frequent handclapping as he read the economy section of the platform and the convention did not let a single reference to President Coolidge go by without some applause.

The plank for placing the prohibition force under classified civil service got a cheer. The World Court, too, got a demonstration and there was another a moment later when the chairman read a declaration that the United States had declined to assume any obligation under the covenant of the League of Nations.

The tariff plank and that favoring the child labor amendment were applauded. For the most part, however, the crowd remained silent and listened intently as Mr. Warren proceeded with the long document.

Almost every sentence in the plank regarding law and order and corruption in public office was applauded separately. Reading rapidly but distinctly and correcting typographical mistakes with a lead pencil as he went along, the committee chairman came to the end of his task after he had been on his feet a little over an hour.

All eyes were turned on the Wisconsin delegates once again when Mr. Warren raised his voice in reading of the final paragraph of the platform calling on the country to elect not only a Republican President and Vice-President but Senators and Representatives who will remain faithful to the party cause.

The delegates stood and cheered and before the noise subsided Representative Cooper, who ranks next to Speaker Gillett in point of service among Republican members of the House, appeared on the platform to present his minority report.

INSURGENT BOOED

Chairman Warren then moved the adoption of the majority report and the motion was seconded by Representative Madden of Illinois, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee. Representative Cooper, to be certain not to miss his opportunity, went to the front of the platform and addressed the chair amid a chorus of "boos." Chairman Mondell recognized the Wisconsin leader and asked unanimous consent that he be given ten minutes in which to address the convention. There was no apparent objection and the delegates good-naturedly applauded as the chairman retired and left Mr. Cooper in charge of the speaker's table.

The Wisconsin Representative began by reading an extract that he said came from a speech by a great Republican of years ago, condemning the "tyranny of party" and declaring that "no person can do a greater service than to resist the majority when he believes it wrong."

Then he announced that the author of the quotation was Whitelaw Reid and there was a pattering of applause.

"That elicits applause from Wisconsin," he continued, "but I don't hear from New York, although some of his relatives are in the building."

Planks that were booed and hissed in the convention of 1908, Mr. Cooper declared, now are the law of the land and he recalled that he had helped to frame some of them.

ASKS FOR EXTENSION

Amidst the confusion aroused by the speech Gov. Blaine, from his place with the Wisconsin delegation, called out a request that the time of the speaker be extended beyond the ten-minute limit.

The crowd applauded and cried to them to go on.

But the venerable Wisconsin Representative decided instead to conclude his speech by reading the La Follette platform.

"And when I have read it," he added with a smile, "I shall move its adoption. I don't pose as being a prophet; I'm a better historian than prophet—but from the attitude of the convention I should say I will be in a substantial minority." He then went on to read the planks which were made public from Senator La Follette's headquarters several days ago.

He put a great deal of emphasis into the reading and both delegates and galleries listened attentively. The delegates were not only interested, but curoius, and they manifestly were willing to give the Wisconsin representative a hearing.

The plank declaring for public ownership of railroads as the final solution of the transportation problem was booed as Chairman Mondell admonished the galleries to remain quiet.

Secretary Mellon sat in the Pennsylvania delegation and laughed heartily when the plank was read denouncing the Mellon tax plan, while the galleries joined a chorus of booes and hisses.

CHEERS FOR MELLON

Some one called for three cheers for Mellon and a group in the galleries gave them.

When he read the plank calling for the re-enactment of laws by Congress after they have been declared unconstitutional by the courts, there were cries of "tommyrot" from the galleries.

All the interruptions to Mr. Cooper came from the galleries. The delegates continued to listen quietly.

The galleries gave Representative Cooper a sweep of handclapping when he concluded, but the delegates cheered when he moved it be adopted.

Chairman Mondell recognized Mr. Warren to oppose the motion. The platform committee chairman began by saying he intended to make no extended comment on the Wisconsin program.

Mr. Warren explained that every member of the platform committee except Representative Cooper had voted against the La Follette substitute when the subject was before the committee, but that, as a matter of courtesy he had been permitted to appeal to the convention, although he did not have the support he required by rules to enforce such a hearing.

With the assertion that the platform committee represented, in his opinion, the sentiment of the convention, the committee chairman concluded his short speech and Chairman Mondell put the question on the Cooper motion.

BOOM FOR GOOD QUICKLY SUBSIDES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CLEVELAND, June 11.—The search for a Vice-Presidential nominee to run with President Coolidge took another sudden turning today when James W. Good, a former member of Congress from Iowa, who managed Mr. Coolidge's western preconvention campaign was brought forward with a rush of support that for a time at least placed him in a dominating position in the wide field of aspirants, and then as suddenly as it appeared, hung in mid-air and began to descend.

Mr. Good's name came out of conferences which were participated in by Cabinet members and officials close to the administration. At one time one official very close to the President said Mr. Good's selection as the Vice-Presidential candidate "seemed about as good as settled." As others were brought into the conferences, however, the word came out that the Good boom was losing its momentum and a little later the word was passed out that it had stopped.

At one time during the day the party managers, despairing of their ability to get together, were turning to President Coolidge to lead them out of the wilderness of their own indecision. The sudden inflation of the Good boom changed the situation in many material aspects for a time.

The subsidence of the Good boom left the Vice-Presidential situation once more in almost complete uncertainty and in much the same form as when conferences began three days ago.

Some names had been almost entirely or wholly eliminated and among these were Frank O. Lowden, Senator Borah of Idaho, Charles G. Dawes and Senator Curtis of Kansas.

Herbert S. Hadley, former Governor of Missouri, was brought forward and added to the list of those still under consideration, including Secretary Hoover and Gen. James G. Harbord.

Theodore E. Burton, the convention's temporary chairman, also was being mentioned despite his age of 72 years.

FAIL TO AGREE

Informal efforts of delegates from western agricultural States to get their delegations together on a farmer-minded westerner for the Vice-Presidential nomination, ran in to the favorite son snag during the day. A committee headed by Hanford McNider of the Iowa group, which instigated the move, was appointed, however, to thrash out the question during the night with the delegations in the hope that some agreement on a candidate could be reached.

A roll call of the States represented gave the following first-choice line-up: Iowa, Representative L. J. Dickinson; Colorado, Senator Phipps; Oklahoma, no choice except a complimentary suggestion for McNider; Kansas, Senator Curtis; South Dakota, not caucused, but an unauthorized boost for Senator Peter Norbeck; North Dakota, against a candidate for any bloc of particular interest, but the majority of the delegation favoring John D. Coulter of North Dakota; Washington, "open-minded;" Nebraska, did not answer although previously represented in the caucus; Montana, "here to listen;" Idaho, no answer, although accepted invitation; Wyoming, a suggestion for Judge Kenyon of Iowa; Missouri for Gov. A. M. Hyde; Utah, for Gen. Frank T. Hines; Minnesota, no candidate named.

C. H. McKenzie of the Minnesota delegation remarked that "the trouble with the West is that we never get together on anything" while Gov. Groesbeck of Michigan warned the meeting it must face the difficulty, that many of the State delegations were pledged or instructed, and not free to act.

It is the kind of nourishment you get that determines the Way you Feel

It is the failure of your body to get the nourishment it needs that leads to malnutrition—to mental and physical breakdown.

At least one-third of your daily nourishment should come from the carbohydrates (a great part of which comes from the grains). They are your chief source of strength and vitality—your very power to do work.

And yet—in the form in which you ordinarily get carbohydrates, they may be your chief cause of trouble instead of your chief source of power; they may form the acids and poisons that are the fertile cause of so many ills.

In order that your body may gain the full benefit of their wonderful nourishment, the carbohydrates must be prepared so that your body can digest them without harsh effort.

This delicious food is three-fourths carbohydrates—dextrinized!

THREE-FOURTHS of the content of Grape-Nuts (made of wheat and malted barley) are the precious carbohydrates—in the form that your body quickly and smoothly digests and turns into vigorous strength and vitality.

In Grape-Nuts the carbohydrates have been dextrinized—scientifically broken down into the form that will yield the greatest amount of nourishment to your body.

Renews your strength and vitality

There is no other food like Grape-Nuts in form or in taste. It will be a revelation to you. It tones up your system—mentally and physically you will feel more alert and alive.

And Grape-Nuts has this added value to your health: it comes in crisp, golden kernels you must chew. This chewing keeps the whole mouth healthy. It starts the proper flow of the salivary and gastric juices—the first step to sound digestion.

Eat Grape-Nuts tomorrow for breakfast. Served with milk or cream it gives you just the nourishment you need. Eat Grape-Nuts every day and see what a difference it makes in the way you feel.

All grocers have Grape-Nuts. Hotels and restaurants serve it in individual packages of a single portion.

OSBORNE FIRST IN DECATHLON

Illinois Star Breaks Own World Mark in Event

Emerson Norton is Second With Frieda Third

Otto Anderson is Fourth and Lewis Sixth

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, June 11.—Harold M. Osborne of the Illinois Athletic Club, who makes a specialty of the running high jump when not competing in all-around contests, created a new world's record when he totaled 7,377.38 points in winning the final Olympic decathlon tryout at South Field today.

Fifteen of the twenty-two that began competing at 10 o'clock this morning, competed in the final event on the program and the last runner crossed the finish line at 5:17 p.m.

Osborne's total is 15.49 better than the world's record he established when he won the national championship at Chicago last September.

Second honors in today's grilling all-day struggle went to Emerson Norton, youthful Georgetown University star, with a total of 7,023.94 points.

Harry Frieda of the University of Chicago was third, with 6,842.58, and Otto Anderson of Southern California University was fourth with 6,636.02.

This quartet will be considered first when the selection of the Olympic contestants is made, but Herman Bagby of Arkansas University, was but three and one-half points behind the Coast star, while Lewis of the Los Angeles A. C. finished 17.27 points behind Bagby.

The work of the Illinois A.C. star was consistent throughout the entire day. He finished up with three wins, two thirds, two fourths, a sixth, a seventh and a tie for eleventh in the ten events, while the runner-up, Norton, registered three wins, a fourth, tie for a sixth, seventh and eighth place, finished ninth in the javelin and last in the 1500 meter run.

One of the big disappointments of the day was the failure of S. Harrison Thompson, former

OBSERVATIONS by the INNOCENT BYSTANDER

W.M.H.

Just when everybody was thinking that there was only one broad jumper of any consequence in the world, namely DeHart Hubbard, the colored gentleman from Michigan, all the broad jumpers go crazy and today we have half a dozen men who have leaped the almost unbelievable distance of 24 feet or more. Hubbard, however, is still in a class all by himself with two or three leaps beyond the 25-foot mark. Then, there is Comins of Yale with 24 ft. 8 in., Rose of Pennsylvania with 24 ft. 3 in., Jones of De Pauw University with 24 ft. 6 in., and Bro. Boren of the University of California with better than 24 feet.

In addition to these collegiate experts who are still competing for their alma maters, we have Ned Gourdin, Harvard's great negro leaper, who holds the present world's record of 25 ft. 3 in., and Legendre, the former Georgetown star who jumped over 24 feet several times. Both of these athletes are but recently graduated from colleges and are in good shape for the present Olympics. It looks as though we ought to have some good broad jumpers over at Paris.

Of all the star jumpers Hubbard, Jones and Comins seem the most consistent. Hubbard leaped over 24 feet in nearly every meet last year and has repeated this year with considerable regularity. Comins jumped 24 ft. 6 in. in Friday's trials in the I.C. A.A.A.A. and went three inches farther in the finals. Jones jumped past the 24-foot mark at the Kansas relays and the following week at the Drake relays.

One of the star "comebacks" of the season is Jackson Scholtz, former University of Missouri 100-meter sprint star. It was just four years ago that Scholtz was in his prime and he was one of the country's most consistent 10-second sprinters. He got under 10 seconds on numerous occasions and was ranked practi-

Santa Barbara Tournament Draws Luminaries

Drawings Favor Southern California Players

Australian Davis Cup Men on Hand for Play

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SANTA BARBARA, June 11. With most of the tennis players west of the Rocky Mountains, including a flock from far-off Australia, rushing here by special car, automobile and other means of conveyance, this community is palpitating with excitement on the eve of the greatest tennis tournament in its history. More than 100 players, several of them former winners of world honors, will take part in the four-day tourney which commences tomorrow morning.

The fortunes of the draw have been reasonably good to the Southern California contingent in the singles events and that means a good deal in a tournament where there is so much class. Gerald Patterson, former world's champion and captain of Australia's Davis Cup team is No. 1 seeded player and his half of the upper quarter is rather soft.

KINSEY IN LOWER HALF

But the lower half has Bob Kinsey, another seeded star; Harold Godshall, one of Southern California's best; Schlessinger of the Australian Davis Cup team; Bowie Detrick of the Hawaiian Davis Cup team and Ralph Sindorf, another of Southern California's leading quartette.

Harvey Snodgrass, Southern California's strongest player, tops the second quarter with Ted Mertz of Stanford and Gervais Hill, former State junior champion, in the top section of it. The lower half of this quarter contains Ray Casey, Kalms of Australia, Bill Parker, former Southern California holder, and Dick Hinkley of Stanford.

Howard Kinsey of San Francisco, one of the country's first ten, tops the lower half with Wallace Bates his most serious contender in the top section of it. Peck Griffin, former national doubles champion, and Tom Ferrandini, another Southern California favorite, feature the lower part of this quarter.

NEER VS. WOOD

The bottom quarter has Pat O'Hara Wood of Australia at the top. Phil Neer, former national intercollegiate champion, will argue with him to see who gets to play the winner, between Walter Wesbrook of Los Angeles and Homer Levinson of San Francisco.

The four seeded players in the women's singles are Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, last year's champion; Miss Winifred Suhr of San Francisco; Miss Charlotte Hosmer of San Francisco, ranked next to Helen Wills in the State, and Mrs. W. M. Henry of Santa Monica. Practically every Northern California woman star is entered. By a freak of the draw, Miss Marion Williams, one of the best California women players, meets Miss Hosmer in the first round.

JIMMY SACCO IN DREAMLAND VISIT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PHILADELPHIA, June 11.—Nate Goldman of Philadelphia tonight knocked out Jimmy Sacco, Pacific Coast lightweight, in the first round of their scheduled ten-round bout. The Philadelphian tore into Sacco at the sound of the bell and after two and a half minutes landed a right hook to the body and Sacco went down for the count. Goldman weighed 139½; Sacco, 136.

RITCHIE TO ALBANY

Pete Ritchie, catcher, is no longer a member of the San Francisco Seals. Ritchie left for the East last night to join Bill Rodger's Albany club in the Eastern League. The backstop position was opened recently when Eddy Kenna, from the Vernon Tigers, was injured. Ritchie will fill Kenna's place behind the bat.

Scorch Montecito Courts

The invitational tennis tournament of the Montecito Country Club opens today at Santa Barbara with some of the most famous players in the world competing. Harvey Snodgrass, ninth ranking player in the United States, is Los Angeles' chief representative, while bitter competition will be furnished by the Australian Davis Cup team, exhibited below.

AQUATIC MEET TONIGHT

Hollywood Athletic Club Swimmers Perform in Nine Events on Swendsen's Program

Swimmers and divers of note will appear in the Hollywood Athletic Club plunge tonight when Coach Clyde Swendsen stages a big water carnival. The meet is open to the general public and it is expected that plenty of thirsty souls will find their way to the Movie City pool this evening.

Phil Daubenspeck, star Venice High School swimmer, will be on hand and will take part in the 50-yard free style for men. Daubenspeck has been showing brilliant form of late and is a favorite to win tonight.

Dodie Blewett and Olive Hatch are expected to have quite a battle of it in the 50-yard free style race for women.

There will be exhibition diving by Viola Hartman and Dorothy McGowan, both of the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

Following is the complete program:

50-yard free style for boys under 16—Dielman Dodd, Bob Rodecker, Mauric Geraghty, Ronald Wallace of Hollywood, Donald Hill and Carl Miller of Holborrow Swimming Club, Hal Phillips, Fred Wadby of Venice and George Leach of L.A.A.C.

75-yard breast stroke for women—Loretta Rush and Elno Rush of Hollywood. Sarah Freeman of L.A.A.C. and Alice Howard of San Diego Y.M.C.A.

50-yard free style for men—Ted Baer and Ray Kenison of Hollywood, Phillip Daubenspeck of Venice High, John Kahaleanu of L.A.A.C. and Rusty Williams of L.A.A.C.

50-yard free style for women—Dodie Blewett and Cecil Cunha, unattached; Olive Hatch and Fannie Burt, L.A.A.C.

100-yard breast stroke for men—Tom Drummond and James Armstrong, Hollywood; Don Salvidor and James Egan, unattached; William Fair, Venice; Paul Nelson, L.A.A.C.

100-yard free style for C. A. Gray trophy—Ray Kenison and Ted Baer, Hollywood; George Wolf and Philip Daubenspeck, Venice High, Rusty Williams and Collin Smith, L.A.A.C.

50-yard back stroke for women—Marion Goldstone, Hollywood; Dodie Blewett, unattached; Olive Hatch, L.A.A.C., and Virial Barnard, Ambassador.

Exhibition diving by Viola Hartman and Dorothy Megowen, L.A.A.C.

Bert Colima Going Gunning for Stribling

Bert Colima, the Mexican leather-pusher from Whittier, will leave for the East next month, to bid for a mill with Young Stribling, the Georgia schoolboy, according to the plans of "Dutch" Meyers, Colima's manager. Colima is confident that he can make Stribling stay on the canvas for ten seconds in spite of the Georgian's rapid and brilliant rise.

The Quaker battler made a tour of the East two years ago, and was treated to a beating by Jimmy Delaney, the boy who stopped Paul Berlenbach several months ago.

According to Meyers, many of the mill-men who went the entire distance with Stribling would be set-ups for Colima, and he thinks his boy will have no trouble with Stribling. Bert will meet Jimmy Duffy at Vernon next week.

The Southern Yacht Club of New Orleans will hold its long-distance motor cruiser race to Pensacola, Fla., a distance of 230 miles, July 3. The event is to be conducted as a daylight test this year instead of the nerve-straining two day and a night grind that it has been for the last twelve years.

Gwynn Wilson Takes a Bride Unto Himself

BY BEN E. DICK

Gwynn Wilson, graduate manager at the University of Southern California, has taken on a real job of managing this time. Wilson was united in marriage to Miss Marian Bemis, a graduate of the local University of California, at 1703 West First street, last night. By way of representing the three big California universities the ceremony was performed at the home of W. H. (Jimmy) Davies, a graduate of Stanford University. Davies won the national intercollegiate tennis title for Stanford a few years ago. He is an uncle of the bride.

Bill Hunter, because of his experience as football coach at the local institution, was asked to fill the best man's shoes. Miss Ruth E. Bemis, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor.

Wilson has been graduate manager at U.S.C. for the past three years. His big success was the U.S.C.-California game, which was played in the Los Angeles Coliseum before the biggest crowd that ever witnessed a football game here.

JEFFERSONS NOW ARABIAN KNIGHTS

Jefferson High School's undefeated City League baseball team will henceforth be known as the Alladin Lamp Tea Room team. The team, led by Coach Lopez, will leave for Catalina Island during the week-end to meet a Catalina team.

Tiny Greenfield, who was the hero of the Polytechnic game, will be on the mound for the Lampers.

Great Mails Quells Vernon Rally in Ninth

Boehler and Sellers Stage Hurling Battle

Errors Help Oakland Annex 2-to-1 Victory

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—The Great Mails, himself in person, had to get into the game at Oakland today with the bases filled and two men down in the ninth inning. The score was 2 to 1 in favor of the Oaks and Manager Howard was fearful as big Blakesley strode to the bat with the runways clogged, for Blakesley had soaked a triple on his previous trip to the plate. Blakesley is a left-handed hitter and Mails is a southpaw chucker, so Manager Howard wanted that edge. Mails made Blakesley pop out to Adams and the Oaks walked off with a 2-to-1 victory.

Sellers, a young southpaw, also pitched a whale of a game for Vernon. A pass to Boehler in the sixth was cashed into a run when Brubaker hit to left. Boehler was content to remain at third but when he saw Blakesley fumble the ball, he dashed for the plate and was safe.

The other run was scored in the eighth and a wild throw by Sellers helped in the making of it. Adams singled and Pete Read bunted him along. Boehler also laid down a bunt and beat it out. On Sellers's wild throw to first Adams scored.

McDowell opened with a hit and Griffin was passed. There was a lot of life on the Vernon bench as Danny Murphy and Warner grabbed bats to swing for Slade and Sellers. But they both failed. Murphy popped out to McCarron and Warner struck out. But old, Chet Chadbourne made good with a single that scored McDowell and Menosky was walked, filling the bases.

Then it was that Manager Howard jerked Boehler out of the game and the Great Mails strode to the center of the diamond to pitch to Blakesley. He got rid of him on a pop fly to Adams and the game went to the Oaks. Score:

CHARLEY ROOT SAVES LOCALS

Angel Ace Stops Seal Rally in Ninth Inning

Pat Shea Knocked Off Mound by Angel Batters

Wally Hood Hits His Second Homer of Series

BY ROBERT E. RAY

Our Angels may not be able to beat the Senators and the Oaks, but they can clean up on the Seals and proceeded to make it two straight over the league leaders yesterday when they nosed out Bert Ellison's outfit, 7 to 6, in as hectic a game as the average layman would care to witness.

Pat Shea couldn't hold a four-run lead handed him by his mates in the early innings and was finally batted to the showers in the seventh when the locals scored three runs and took the lead for the first time. At that, though, the Seals were in the contest right up to the closing frame when they filled the bases with none out only to have Chuck Root relieve Dumovich and retire Mulligan, Hendryx and Ellison in order and allowing only one run to score, which was just one short of tying the score.

If there are any bouquets to be passed around, Mr. Root should be awarded the largest share of them. Any one that can step in with the bases full and retire Mulligan, Hendryx and Ellison might even be awarded a Carnegie medal without stretching a point.

While the Seals are dropping games to the Angels, "Red Dog" Killefer and his Seattle Indians are cleaning up on everybody sent against them and are now only two and a half games behind the Bay City crew. The Angels are also doing a little climbing, yesterday's win putting them ahead of the Beavers in sixth place.

George Payne started for the locals, and the Seals touched him for three runs in the second and one in the third before Georgie gave way to let Golvin bat for him. Paul Waner started the third by getting a life on Wally Hood's error. Ellison drove Waner to third on a single. Kilduff's single scored Waner and sent the "perfect pilot" to third. Rhyne singled to left, scoring Ellison. Yelle forced Kilduff at third. A base knock by Shea filled the bases and Kelly scored Rhyne with a sacrifice fly to Durst. Payne finally got the Seals out when Valla flied to Durst. Mulligan's double and Ellison's single to center gave the visitors their run in the third.

After Beck had grounded out to open the home half of the third, Golvin, batting for Payne, drew a walk. Twombly flied to Waner, but Krug coaxed a walk from Shea and both runners scored on Durst's double to right. Dumovich took

France and Spain Rule Favorites Among Tennis Teams of Europe

HOT SCHEDULE FOR DAVIS CUP

Tilden Picks Denmark to Get in European Semifinals

Believes Danes Will Take on New Zealand Stars

Predicts Battle Royal for Trophy This Year

BY WILLIAM T. TILDEN II,
National Tennis Champion

Picking the winner in the lower half of the European zone of the Davis Cup competition is somewhat like a game of blindman's buff. There is no logical favorite and little of anything to base a choice upon. No matter what nation emerges from the mass of dark horses they are due for defeat at the hands of France or Spain in the final round. There is only one real advantage of the lopsided draw in the European zone; it allows a couple of nations which, under average conditions, would be eliminated early, to share in the gate receipts of the later rounds of play.

In the first match Denmark meets Hungary and from the little I can glean Denmark should win. Denmark is the closest to a favorite in the zone according to most critics, although I have another choice. Italy meets Rumania with little to choose, although I believe Baron De Borpurgo should give Italy an edge over Nicholas Mishu of Rumania. Austria plays Switzerland with the latter nation the logical winner. My choice for the final round is New Zealand, which should easily eliminate Czecho-Slovakia.

CRUCIAL MATCH

The round of eight brings Denmark against Italy in a crucial meeting. I believe Denmark will nose out the odd match, although De Borpurgo may prove strong enough to carry Italy to victory single-handed. Switzerland meets New Zealand and here I am still picking New Zealand, although most of the people with whom I have talked tell me Switzerland will win. I base my judgment on the general average tennis I witnessed in New Zealand among young players when I was there in 1921. If the development has been normal since that time I believe they must have found two good men to represent them at this time. If they had not such players in readiness I cannot believe the New Zealand tennis association would have incurred the expense of the trip.

Not very sound grounds for a choice, but at least it is more to go on than is known about most of the nations in this portion of the draw.

This should bring Denmark against New Zealand in the semifinal round. I believe that a very close match will result. Eric Tegner of Denmark, their premier player, is the best man in the competition in the lower half. He has had several years' experience in Davis Cup competition and should prove a big assistance to Denmark. If I have overestimated the strength of New Zealand's new players then Tegner will carry the Danish team to victory, yet for some reason I have a hunch that New Zealand will win and enter the final round against the winner in the upper half probably France or Spain.

FRANCE STRONG

I cannot see any chance for either New Zealand or Denmark against either France or Spain. La Coste and Cochet both can defeat Tegner decisively. Manuel Alonso and Count De Gomer are also his superiors, while the Danish second-string player will not have even an outside chance. I have heard heard of no man in New Zealand as an outstanding figure. If such a player had appeared there we would have heard of him. No one but the very top flight can defeat either the French or Spanish stars, so I regard the winner of the upper half as certain to enter the interzone final against the winner of the American zone.

I deplore uneven draws in any event; yet this year I believe that real good may come out of it, for the weak lower half will allow keen competition among the nations entered without the certainty of defeat until the final round. The lower half is "anybody's game" until the final. I may be absolutely wrong in picking Denmark and New Zealand as the logical finalists. They are just as apt to be Czecho-Slovakia and Hungary. Keen competition that will arouse interest and stimulate play, is more to be desired than even quality, for quality will come once quantity is assured. Naturally, interest in the final round will fall off somewhat since there is little or no question of the ultimate result. Yet for all that, some weaker nation will share in glory and profit of the final round, a just reward for their struggle through their own side of the division.

I see no reason to question the fact that 1924 will be the banner year of the Davis Cup competition. I believe that several new players will rise to fame from the ties played in the lower half. I trust such stars will emerge. I am a great believer in the good to tennis accruing from every new star.

MOTORS TO HUM AGAIN AT CULVER

Jimmy Wood and Kaye Sign Up for Speed Events Next Sunday Afternoon

Sunday marks the opening day for the new Culver City Speedway. Judging from the speed that has been turned up during the past few days by noted drivers on "Wallace's Eighty Acres," Sunday's events will provide more thrills than may be expected in the average speed classics.

One of the most sensational announcements made by Wallace this week was that Jimmy Wood, famous race star, along with his old-time team-mate, Johnny Kaye, had turned in their entry blanks at the Culver City Speedway for Sunday's events. Wood and his team-mate have entered new 183-cubic-inch "eight-in-a-row" which was termed by the "railbirds" who witnessed these cars in action as "rank poison."

Wood is a veteran in the race game, having started his career in the Vanderbilt Cup race in 1904; later riding as mechanic with Barney Oldfield, then spending several years with Arthur and Louis Chevrolet, known throughout the sporting world as manufacturers of the famous Frontenac racing car.

The entry of Wood is only one of the many famous stars who are expected to sign up at Culver City Speedway within the next few days.

Babe Stapp, the hero of last Sunday's races, in his Millerized Ford, was turning up some fast laps yesterday and is expected to give Wood and Kaye some real competition in next Sunday's speed classics.

GET SCORE CARD AND NOTE DISTANCE OF HOLES AND LENGTH OF COURSE.
BE SURE OF A GOOD CADDY.
QUESTION THE OLD MEMBERS AS TO GREENS AND HAZARDS.

When you are going to play on a course that you have never played before, what points, if any, about the course do you try to learn about in advance?

Answered by BOB CRUICKSHANK

Runner-up in National Open championship, 1923, and the man who, in 1921, defeated Hutchison, Sarazen, and Barnes in an invitation tournament at St. Joseph, Mo. Runner-up in Pittsburg tournament for professional golfers, 1922, being defeated only by Sarazen.

First of all, I get a score card and look over the different distances of the holes and also the total length of the course. I get a good caddy, if possible, and find out from him what trouble there is to be found from the tees. On the approach shots, I would ask if there are any hazards behind the green, and finally, I would ask if the greens were fast or slow, soft or hard. I always have liked to play over a course for the first time, and very ofte have played it better than after a few days of practice.

Increase Band for Tomorrow's Legion Fights

A 100-piece band will furnish the music at the Hollywood American Legion stadium tomorrow night, according to an announcement yesterday from Manager Si Masters. It is the Roberts Golden State Band, which has always played at the Legion arena, with about seventy members slated to help the original thirty musicians do their stuff.

"Oakland" Frankie Burns, who has been hard at work in preparation for his bout with Dick Hoppe, an elimination bout in the lightweight tournament, billed as tomorrow night's feature, will taper off training this afternoon. Willie ("Gig") Rooney, who has been in charge of his training program, reports his charge in excellent condition, and ready to give Hoppe the toughest argument the Glendale scrapper has encountered during the tournament competition.

COAST AVERAGES

San Francisco continues to top the clubs of the Pacific Coast League in fielding with a mark of .973. The team gained three points by playing practically errorless ball in the seven-game series with Salt Lake last week. San Francisco made but two errors during the week.

Seattle, Vernon and Salt Lake, the teams which follow San Francisco in the club standings, also follow in order in the club fielding.

The club fielding averages compiled up to Tuesday, the 10th inst. follow:

IN BOXING AND GOLF

BY FEG MURRAY

Feg Murray

A straight left arm is a good thing to possess, especially in boxing and golf. Two champs, and recent pals in California, Benny Leonard and Gene Sarazen, are well-known exponents of the straight left creed. Benny has straight-lefted his way to victory over many an opponent, notably Lew Tendler in their last fight, while Sarazen's straightened port side arm is one of the secrets of his accurate iron play, and has played a big part in his many victories.

AUTO CLUB FISHING DOPE

Outing Bureau of Auto Club of Southern California Compiles Interesting Data for Fisher Folk of Southland

Prospects for good trout fishing in streams easily reached from Los Angeles are poor. The streams are all low and have been unmercifully fished since the opening of the season and as a result very poor success has been had. It is almost necessary to travel by saddle horse and pack animal to get good fishing. The streams and lakes in the high Sierras are reported excellent, due to low water and lack of snow. Several parties made the trip into the Kern River and lakes from Mineral King and report excellent fishing. Best fishing in several years reported in the Owens Valley district.

Ocean fishing all along the coast is reported good. Fine catches have been made from the piers, surf, barges and live-bait boats.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY

TROUT

Trout fishing in Cuyamaca, Barrett and Lower Otay reservoirs reported good the past week. San Diego River, Cedar Creek and Boulder Creek are closed to fishermen on account of the protective quarantine.

BLACK BASS

Bass fishing reported good at Morena, Sweetwater and La Mesa reservoirs. Mud suckers and crawfish best bait. These may be secured at bait stands in San Diego. Bass plugs and bucktail flies reported good lures. Live bait for sale at Morena for 50 cents dozen. Good perch fishing may be had at Hodges reservoir and Escondido reservoir.

OCEAN FISHING

Good corbina, spotfin and sea trout fishing reported along San Diego coast. Trolling off the kelp beds good. Mackerel, barracuda, albacore and bass plentiful. Good fishing was had at the mouth of San Diego River. Ocean Beach and Oceanside. Surf fishing along Coronado Beach, excellent. Boats and bait may be secured at San Diego. San Onofre and Las Flores closed on account of protective quarantine.

LOS ANGELES COUNTY

TROUT

San Gabriel River reported poor. West Fork San Gabriel River, fair. North Fork San Gabriel River fair. Cattle Canyon, San Gabriel River, reported good. Big Rock Creek is poor. It is necessary to get well up these streams to get any fishing.

OCEAN FISHING

Santa Monica. Pier fishing good. Mackerel, smelt, halibut and barracuda caught. Bait and tackle may be secured on Santa Monica wharf. Live bait boat fishing good the past week. Mackerel, bass, barracuda and some albacore are running. Boats leave Santa Monica pier, 7:30 a.m., 8 a.m., 12:30 p.m., 1 p.m. Fare $2. These trips are very popular and many fish are caught. Grunion are due to run June 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20 at high tide.

Venice. Good catches of mackerel and barracuda caught from barge.

Redondo. Good catches of macherel and bass reported fro mlive-bait boats and barges, and some mackerel were caught from the pier. Best results had on Pier No. 3.

Long Beach. Barge fishing reported good. Fare $2. Boats every hour.

Seal Beach. Grunion are supposed to run on June 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20. This beach is considered the best place near Los Angeles for grunion fishing.

OWENS VALLEY DISTRICT

Trout fishing continues good with many limit catches reported in the various lakes and streams. Lake fishing has been exceptionally good for this time of the year. Twin, Silver and Grant Lakes report fish are taking flies in addition to salmon eggs and spinners. June Lake, Convict Lake, Gull Lake, Gem Lake and Agnew Lake report good catches. Fly fishing in the Owens River is fair. Best results obtained in river at Birchim Canyon, Chalk Bluffs and Leffingwell Gorge. Bishop Creek, Rush Creek, Leevining Creek, Pine Creek and Big Pine Creek reported good. Fly fishing is better in the creeks, although some are using bait. Mammoth Lakes are open and fishing is reported good, fish taking flies, salmon eggs and spinners. Kearsarge Lakes report good fishing. Big Pine Lakes open and many limits taken the past week. Accommodations, meals, supplies and horses may be secured at Glacier Lodge. Free camp ground is open eleven miles up Big Pine Creek at Glacier Lodge. New road is open to automobiles but steep and narrow. Good reports received from Rock Creek Lakes and the Gorge of the Owens River. June Lake reports many good catches. Fishing in all streams and lakes declared better this season than for many years, due to low water and warm weather.

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY

Fishing fair at Big Bear and Arrowhead Lakes. Experienced fishermen making fair catches. Poor fishing reported in all streams in this county.

The Rainbow Angling Club continues to furnish excellent trout fishing; fish averaging ten to twelve inches. The best fishing in Southern California is being had here. Membership, $15 per year. They have a beautiful stream and can be recommended highly for a day's picnicking and fishing. Located seven miles out of Redlands on Mill Creek Road. Afternoon and evening trout parties getting very popular here.

ORANGE COUNTY

OCEAN FISHING

Ocean trolling was good the past week off Balboa and Newport. Mackerel, bass, barracuda, yellowtail and albacore reported plentiful. Pier fishing for croakers, mackerel, yellowfin and halibut good. Bait, tackle and boats may be secured at Balboa. Grunion should run June 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20.

RIVERSIDE COUNTY

Trout fishing reported poor in all streams in Riverside County.

VENTURA COUNTY

TROUT

Ventura River, Coyote Creek, San Antonio Creek and Piru Creek all report very low water and poor fishing. Matilija Creek, fair; Lower Sespe, Sisar Creek and Santa Paula Creek, condition poor. Upper Sespe is fair, water very low and mossy; this part of the stream is reached only by ten-mile saddle trail from Wheeler's Hot Springs. Several limits reported, but fish are small.

OCEAN FISHING

Good mackerel, halibut, barracuda, corbina and surf perch fishing reported at Point Mugu. Good corbina fishing reported along Rincon Coast. Big run of halibut and barracuda at Hueneme. Boats are available at Ventura for island fishing trips.

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY

TROUT

Streams of Santa Barbara County are still closed on account of foot-and-mouth quarantine; residents of Santa Barbara county only allowed to fish. Streams very low, water warm and fish in poor condition.

OCEAN FISHING

Good surf fishing is to be had along the shore of Santa Barbara county. Fishing on Stearns Wharf good. Good trolling for barracuda, bass and cabrillos may be had at Santa Cruz, Anacapa and Santa Rosa Islands. Abalones and mussels may also be gathered at the above-named islands. Boats are available for the island trips at Santa Barbara. Trolling along the kelp beds good the past week.

SAN LUIS OBISPO COUNTY

TROUT

Fair catches reported from Cambria and San Simeon Creeks. No trespassing on private ranches allowed.

OCEAN FISHING

Good pier fishing and ocean trolling may be had at Avila and Cayucos. Clams are plentiful at Pismo and Morro Bay. Abalones may be gathered along the rocky coast at San Simeon and Cayucos.

TULARE COUNTY

Good fishing is reported in all streams in this county. Trails from Mineral King to Kern River are now open and good fishing is being had. Some of the best fishing in the State is available in this district, especially in the Kern River in the vicinity of Kern Lakes. Marble Fork, Three Rivers and Kaweah River reported good in the upper reaches. No fishing allowed above Marble Fork bridge on account of low water.

KERN COUNTY

Fishing in the Kern River is reported good above the dam at Fairview. Many fish are being taken on flies and spinners. The farther up stream the better the fishing. Horses are available at Fairview for trips up to Camp Durwood, fifteen miles.

MADERA COUNTY

Good bass and fair trout fishing was had at Bass Lake and in tributary streams. Many four and four and one-half-pound bass taken.

WAWONA

Fishing good the past week in the Merced River. Water low for this time of the year.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

Streams all over Northern California reported low and clear and fishing better than for several years. Upper reaches of the Sacramento River good; McCloud River, good; Pitt River at Big Bend, good; Hatchet, Hat and Hog Creeks are all excellent. Klamath River good from Hornbrook to Happy Camp. Shovel Creek at Klamath Hot Springs, fine. Eagle Ridge Tavern on Upper Klamath Lake reports excellent fishing in the lake and in the Williamson River, Spring Creek, Sprague River, Woods River and Recreation Creek.

TENNIS CHAMPION OF QUEBEC ELIMINATED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, June 11.—Mrs. L. C. Beaupre, champion of Quebec, failed to reach the semifinal round of the invitational tennis tournament at the Apawamis Club of Rye today, being eliminated after an extra set tussle with Miss Florence Sheldon. The score was 6-1, 5-7, 6-1, but the figures fail to tell of the close fight the Canadian player really made in the final set, most of Miss Sheldon's winning games being forced to deuce.

It was a back court duel most of the way.

Another of today's winners was Mrs. Robert Leroy, New Jersey State champion, who outdrove, outsteadied and outlasted Mrs. J. O. Blanchard, 6-1, 6-2.

INDIAN RIDERS STAGE RODEO AT LAKE TAHOE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LAKE TAHOE, June 11.—Indian riders from Carson Valley will put on a rodeo at the east end of Lake Tahoe on June 15 as part of a special two-day program arranged by the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce Lake Tahoe Committee. There will be bucking contests, relay races, Roman races and other thrilling events. Preparations have been made by resort owners along the lake to take care of thousands of visitors from all points in California.

DEMPSEY STEPS ON IT

World's Heavyweight Champion Pilots Duray's Mount Around Course at Ascot Speedway

Jack Dempsey drove his first racing automobile yesterday afternoon. The world's heavyweight champion whirled Leon Duray's super-charger Miller around Ascot speedway while Maj. John Darrah and a crowd of disabled veterans cheered his efforts to keep the car from capsizing on the turns. Railbirds declare the champion performed in great form.

Dempsey, donor of the trophy for the feature race and starter of all the events at Ascot on Sunday, the 22nd inst., went to the course yesterday afternoon to pose for some photographs with the veterans who are conducting the big show. As he was seated in Duray's car for the snapshot artists someone suggested that smoke from the exhaust pipe would enhance the value of the protograph. Duray himself cranked over the motor and the pictures were taken. Then the great boxer "shoved off," much to the surprise of the crowd, and began batting out some fast laps. Ten events are on the card, with three motorbike races sandwiched among the auto contests.

The announcement that President Bentel of Ascot is negotiating with Eddie Hearne, 1923 A.A.A. champion, to compete at Ascot during the summer and fall meets, created excitement in racing circles. Hearne arrived from Indianapolis a few days ago with the declaration that he is through with auto racing. But after talking with Bentel for a couple of hours Hearne qualified his announced decision by saying that he did not say he was "positively through." Wiseacres of the local racing game will not be surprised to see the veteran of the sport, a great driver over all sorts of tracks, but gaining his biggest reputation by winning races and breaking records over dirt courses, among the line-up at Ascot on the 22nd inst.

Bentel said last night that Los Angeles drivers had been offered by wire five of the cars which competed in the 500-mile race at Indianapolis. "It is possible that we will aid the pilots to grab these valuable cars," said Bentel.

TWO FOR SIWASHES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORTLAND (Or.) June 11.—Seattle gained another full game on San Francisco today, beating Portland 9 to 6, here, while the Seals were losing to Los Angeles. Portland made short work of Wheezer Dell, batting the veteran off the mound with five runs in the second. Williams took up the heaving and did well. By consistent hitting in the pinches the visitors made up the difference and forged into the lead with a three-run rally in the seventh. The score:

Pitchers of Horseshoes to Stage Tourney

The directors of the State Fair were so well pleased with the interest in the hastily prepared tournament for horseshoe pitchers last year, that they have decided to materially increase the events and make it a three-day affair as is customery throughout the country.

Running a close second to golf, horseshoe pitching has taken the Coast by storm. While Southern California is at present the scene of greatest activity in the sport, the north is taking to the game very strong. The main reason why there was not a much larger number of entries last year, was because the California Horseshoe Pitchers' Association tournament was held on the exact dates of the State Fair.

This year, the California association tournament will be concluded in advance of the State Fair, and many from the south will enter the State Fair tournament. Entries are expected from Oregon and Nevada as well as this State, and at least 300 are expected to participate. The different events though not as yet decided upon, will be worked out shortly and standard plans of big State meets will be followed as closely as possible, and adequate prizes offered.

MRS. THOMPSON IS VICTORIOUS ON LINKS

Mrs. J. F. Thompson took first honors in the Sassy Jane invitational tournament at Griffith Park yesterday, with a card of 117-24-93, according to Mrs. Ike Wentworth. Mrs. L. M. Copp finished second with a card of 113-18-95. Miss Mary Greem and Mrs. Lisure tied for third place with cards of 109-10-99 and 107-8-99, respectively.

FISHING PARTY BACK WITH TROUT LIMIT

A fishing party composed of Mr. and Mrs. Bradbeer and Mr. Wallace returned from East Lake and Bubbs Creek yesterday with three limits of lockleven and trout. The limits were all made on flies and spinners, and the fish ran from fourteen to eighteen inches in length.

PNEUMATIC CORD TIRES

For Commercial Vehicle and Passenger Car

Successful operators in this and many other cities have solved their transportation problems and reduced tire expense by specifying Lee Puncture-Proof Cords.

If you will inquire, we will show you a list of the commercial car owners in this neighborhood, who are protected against waste of driver's time and broken delivery promises by using these tires.

As long as regular pneumatic casings, liable to injury, are used on delivery cars, the factor of possible delays and loss of driver's time must be reckoned with. The Lee Puncture-Proof is the only pneumatic tire which eliminates such costly factors—it is guaranteed against puncture and blowout.

Let us explain its many money saving features.

3 layers of overlapping steel discs which never touch each other, protect the casing of this tire and make punctures and blowouts impossible.

Here we show what happens to a nail when it strikes a Lee Puncture-Proof and is stopped by the steel disc sheathing under the tread.

SOLONS WIN AGAIN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SACRAMENTO, June 11.—The veteran, Charley Hall, had much the better of Rudy Kallio in a pitchers' battle here today and the locals copped their second straight game, trimming Salt Lake 3 to 1. Hall let the visitors down with four measly blows, while his mates garnered eight off Kallio. The score:

El Monte and Riverside to Mix Saturday

El Monte Union High School and Riverside High will meet in the final Southern California championship play-off game at Riverside, Saturday. The victor goes north to compete for the State title.

Don Johnson and Ted Wilkinson will be the El Monte battery. McMurray and Zichrack will be Riverside's pitcher and catcher.

El Monte is undefeated, having won ten games this season, and is rather favored to cop the battle, but Riverside will be a hard team to beat on their home grounds.

NAME SCANTLEBURY CAPTAIN IOWA NINE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

IOWA CITY (Iowa) June 11.—Wilbur E. Scantlebury of Hampton, Iowa, has been elected captain of the University of Iowa baseball team for 1925. He is a shortstop and is a consistent performer on the field and at bat. Last fall he also made his letter on the football squad, playing halfback.

CHAMPION FISHERMAN TO BE AWARDED PRIZE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LAKE TAHOE, June 11.—"Fish stories" will be barred and only actual measurements will count in the "biggest fish" contest which will be one of the novel features of the special Sacramento-Lake Tahoe program here June 14-15. The Sacramento Chamber of Commerce has offered a silver trophy for the biggest fish caught in Lake Tahoe during the two days. Fishing is exceptionally good and the contest is expected to be a lively one. Entrants will be required to comply with rigid rules which have been drafted to prevent prevarication. Not only must fish be presented for official measurement, but the fisherman must sign an affidavit. A notary public will be on hand to look after this feature of the contest.

Prizes will also be awarded to the fisherman who has the best hard-luck story and to the one who tells the most original "fish story."

CALIFORNIA'S PROSPECTS IN OLYMPIC GAMES DISCUSSED

BY BOYD COMSTOCK,
Former Coach University of Southern California and Yale University

The 400-meters event will bring together a particularly fine lot of quarter-milers. Wilson of Iowa rules as a favorite by reason of his 48 1-10s. race in the Iowa City tryouts, but this does not mean that he will win the Cambridge race.

Cochran of the Olympic club is another time favorite, and the same may be said of Martz and Powers of Southern California. Martz negotiated the distance in 48 8-10s. with Powers running in the same time.

Martz failed to qualify for the intercollegiate finals, although he was rated as the best performer in that set of games. Powers, the Occidental quarter-miler, is well qualified to compete against the eastern middle-distance men, because he runs their type of race.

Cochran won the national collegiate 440 on two occasions, but failed the same number of times in the national championships.

WILSON FAVORITE

Wilson rates as a favorite in the sprints and 400 meters because of his performances in the sectional tryouts and sectional collegiate meets. His best national and intersectional times, however, have been made in the relay events.

The eastern experts believe that Helffrich has the best chance of winning the Olympic 400 because of his ability to run the necessary heats, semifinals and final, and he is certain of a place on the squad if he elects to specialize for this event.

He won the intercollegiate 440 yards in slow time, but defeated a number of 49 and a fraction runners. Miller of Stanford was one of the finalists.

Croft of Princeton was second in the intercollegiates with Bates of Dartmouth third, Chapman of Yale fourth and Gage of Yale fifth.

Biers of Washington won this event in the Kansas tryouts with a mark of 49 4-10s, which approximates the times which have been made by the intercollegiate place winners.

Ascher of Georgetown, one of the outstanding favorites, won the eastern 400 meters in 50 4-5s., and on the strength of his 1923 performances should win from a majority of the sectional representatives. Last season Ascher literally ran away from a hand-picked assortment of champions, and it is reasonable to expect that he will show an equal amount of ability next Saturday.

TWO CONTENDERS

Woodring, the former Syracuse runner, and Taylor, the former Princeton star, must also be considered. Last season Woodring won by a narrow margin from Taylor in the intercollegiates in the fast time of 48 2-5s.

Sweet of Illinois made the best time of the year in the conference meet, with a mark of 48 1-5s. Biers was second in that competition.

Fitch won the last national 440 and therefore deserves more than casual attention. Wolters, the former conference champion, was second in that race. Driscoll must also be listed as a possible team member, with Stowers, the former Williams runner, as an additional prospect.

This incomplete list of prospective place winners will be supplemented by a dozen or more high-grade section and collegiate champions.

The race will probably be won by an experienced veteran, and certainly most of the places will be taken by campaign performers.

If Woodring is in condition, he should win by a fair margin because he has the speed and stamina. Taylor lacks the experience, but ranks with Woodring in point of stamina. Ascher has ability to hold a sustained sprint around the entire circuit.

In a match race with a limited entry list, Cochran and Martz would have an excellent chance of winning or placing well up, but in a large field they will find it difficult to hold or better their initial position.

Wilson will probably be selected as a member of the team, because he has the ability to compete in the sprints, the 400 meters and the relay events.

The Coast entries, Powers of Occidental, Martz of Southern California and Miller or Stanford, must be considered as real contenders in spite of the showing made in the intercollegiates. Powers has had a hard season, but he should perform up to par.

Richardson of Stanford may place in the 800-meters race, but the odds are against the Californian in this event.

Merchant of the Olympic Club should place in the hammer and Boren of California deserves a place in the broad jump. In this event seven 24-ft. jumpers will compete for the four places.

Lockhart, winner of the 1500-meters race in the northern tryouts, stands out as one of the place winners in the final tryouts, with Buker of the Illinois A.C. as the favorite. Hill of England won this event in 1920 in 4m. 1 4-5s. Lockhart equaled this time.

PROSPECT FAILS

Buker ran 3m. 59 9-10s. in the Middle West tryout. Kerr of Stanford was regarded as a prospect in this event, but his failure to place in the intercollegiate mile seemingly eliminates him as a possibility.

The California javelin throwers, Neufeldt and Dodson, have an even chance of placing against the middle western and southern representatives, Hoffman, Priester, Frieda, Welchel, Schjoll, Schildhauer, Angier, Oberst are regarded as the best men in the two sections. Gibson of Princeton stands out as the best eastern javelin man.

Hampton, the California freshman, has an excellent chance of making the team. His jump of 6ft. 4in. compares with Poor's best mark. First place is a toss-up between Brown and Obsorne. Landon, Poor and Hampton are capable of clearing 6ft. 3in. or better. The majority of the contenders are capable of clearing slightly better than 6ft.

the mound for the Angels at the start of the fourth and managed to remain perched on the hillock until the Seals put on their threatening rally in the ninth.

Los Angeles tied the count in the fifth by putting over two more markers. Krug opened by getting a walk and advanced to second when Durst beat out an infield hit. Hood sacrificed the runners along. Here Shea decided that he would walk Cruise for Jacobs, and what does the youthful Seraph infielder do but double down the right-field line, scoring Krug and Durst. Had Cruise been even a little bit fleeter of foot he would have scored, also, and Jacobs would have got a triple on the hit. Jenkins hit into a double play to close the inning.

The Seals unknotted the tie in the sixth when Petey Kilduff doubled to the center-field fence and scored on Yelle's single to center.

The Seraphs put on a seventh inning rally, which they are becoming famous for against the Seals, scored three runs, rapped Shea to the showers and iced the game, although the Northerners made it warm and melted a little bit of the ice in the ninth. Wally Hood connected with the first ball Shea pitched and drove it over the left-field fence for his second home run in two days. This tied the score once more. Cruise was out, but Jacobs rekindled the rally with a single to left and hits by Jenkins and Twombly along with Beck's sacrifice, which squeezed Jacobs over the plate, fanned the local uprising into a flame. Krug hit a long fly to Kelly for the third out. Griffin relieved Shea just before Krug made his out.

Both sides were retired in order in the eighth, but Dumovich got himself in the hole to start the ninth by walking Sam Agnew, who went in to bat for Griffin. Joe Kelly doubled Agnew to third with a drive against the lef-field wall. Here, Krug called in Root to save the day and Chuck's first move was to hit Schorr, who batted for Walsh, who was sent in to bat for Valla without getting a chance to come to the plate, filling the bases. Then Root settled down and hurled superrespectable ball. Mulligan hit a sacrifice fly to Twombly, Agnew scoring, but Hendryx popped to Krug and Ellison fouled to Jenkins—and that was that.

A crowd of about 4000 was out for the pastime and a larger bunch is expected out today. Elmer Myers or Root will probably hurl this afternoon, while Bert Ellison has his choice of Oliver "Twist" Mitchell, the league's leading hurler, and Jim Scott.

Tom Newman is the champion billiard player of England. He beat Reece by 16,000 to 14,843 in a recent match. Newman for the fourth time in his career made a break of more than 1000 points during the match for the professional championship. He set a record when he increased an overnight unfinished run of 913 to 1021.

cally equal with Paddock, Kirksey and Murchison. Since that time he hasn't won a race, practically speaking, until the Olympic trials at New York last week.

When Scholtz succeeded in rambling the 100 meters in a trial heat in 10.5 s., he ran the fastest 100 meters ever traveled in Olympic competition and was only one tenth of a second behind the world's record of 10.4 held by Sir Charles Paddock. Al Leconey of Lafayette was another real comeback. Leconey was unbeatable two years ago and last year was a flop. Now he seems better than ever.

Molla Mallory, the world's most persistent invader of Europe, doesn't seem to have entirely forgotten how to win matches. Yesterday she put over her first really good victory of the season when she eliminated Mrs. Satterthwaite of England in two straight sets in one of the tournaments in which most of the Americans are playing. Mrs. Satterthwaite is ranked just below Miss McKane and Miss Ryan in England and is one of the steady baseline players for which England is justly famous.

Mrs. Mallory is absolutely determined to play really good tennis in England just once. Perhaps she'll quit when she does it and then again, perhaps she won't, but in any event it won't be like Molla to quit trying until she has really shown what she can do over there. The competition that she gets in the early season tournaments ought to bring up her game to just the necessary edge, providing it is ever possible for her to become accustomed to British conditions.

The splendid showing of Morton Kaer of U.S.C. and of Cliff Argue of Occidental in the national pentathlon trials at New York Tuesday ought to be very gratifying locally. Kaer's performance is not particularly surprising in view of his fine work in both the pentathlon and decathlon trials here. Argue's work is encouraging for the reason that he was in a terrible slump, as stale as an old slice of bread, just before he went East and there was considerable question of his ability to do anything resembling his normal work.

Both Kaer and Argue ought to do much better in Europe than they did at New York. Legendre, granting his remarkable ability, has had nothing to do the past few months but prepare for the pentathlon trials. Kaer has been fussing around running 400-meter hurdles and doing other odd jobs. Argue has been sprinting for Occidental and then quit entirely when he went stale and took up baseball. Watch Kaer and Argue at Paris. It is not likely that they will beat Legendre but they will do proportionately much better work than they did at New York.

It has made straggly, unruly hair a thing of the past

UNTIL recently, there seemed to be no way of keeping the hair in order.

Brushing with the wet hairbrush, a harmful practice — putting on old-fashioned pomades — such methods were never satisfactory.

Then came Stacomb—and instantly well-dressed men everywhere realized that it was just what they had always needed. Today you find smooth, well-kept hair everywhere you go.

Stacomb is a light, velvety, invisible cream, non-staining and non-greasy. A touch of it, applied in the morning, will keep your hair in place all day just as your hairbrush left it.

Even when it has just been shampooed, Stacomb keeps your hair in perfect order. No matter how dry and straggly it may be, Stacomb will keep it soft and smooth.

Women find Stacomb excellent to control stray hairs, to make the curl stay in, and to keep bobbed hair in place. Try Stacomb today. In jars and tubes—at all drug and department stores.

FEATHERWEIGHT · FLAT-KNIT
UNION SUITS

Style illustrated is short sleeve ¾-leg

An Annual Reminder

Year after year we suggest a way to help keep yourself cool and comfortable. It's simply this—wear Lastlong Union Suits. More men each year heed our advice and thank us for it.

Why Lastlong? The difference is in the fabric. It's made of the best featherweight, flat-knit cotton fabric produced in the U.S.A. Doesn't get clammy; absorbs perspiration but doesn't retain it. Loose-fitting, elastic, no griping or binding anywhere.

Lastlong can be had in short sleeve or sleeveless three-quarter leg; athletic style suits; athletic shirts and drawers for men; boys' athletic suits. Popular prices.

If your dealer doesn't have Lastlong ask him to order some from his wholesaler.

UDS ARIZONA PAROLE SYSTEM

k of Board Replies to Judges' Protest

s Declare Officials Exceed Authority

d Minimum Sentences Must be Served

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
PHOENIX, June 11.—Objection at a late meeting of Arizona Court judges to the action Board of Pardons and Pa- in releasing penitentiary con- before the expiration of the periods of their impris- defense of the system from William Del- clerk of the board, and E. McClusky, secretary The former ex- belief that the present is something of a balance in the actions of the various judges, who have very different ideas with regard to the punishment that should be inflicted upon individuals for the same crimes.

He asserts that the vast majority of young men paroled and sent home never enter the gates of another penal institution. Mr. McClusky stated that if the present system were eliminated guards must be increased and additional facilities provided for prisoners, possibly to the doubling of the present capacity within two years, and the general expense of prison operation would be made greater. He said the prison this year would turn back to the State at least $70,000.

Speaking for the Superior Court, Judge F. C. Struckmeyer of Phoenix flatly states: "The pardons board has no right or power to release a prisoner until he has served his minimum sentence, less his time for good behavior. The power and duty to fix the term of imprisonment is not placed upon the Board of Pardons and Paroles. The board cannot arrogate to itself power not possessed and it has not the power to substitute its judgment as to what the minimum sentence should be. The imposition of the sentence, the fixing of the minimum term of imprisonment, is a judicial act and not an administrative act, which the board may exercise."

PHOENIX TO GET RAILROAD LINE

Espee Coast-to-Coast Road is Due in Two Years

Terms of El Paso Merger in Coup Are Disclosed

Great Aid to Arizona Seen in Proposed Project

and it is mutually desired to extend and develop the railroad facilities of the State of Arizona, more particularly in Phoenix and the region adjacent thereto, and to give to said city of Phoenix and adjacent communities through train service between the California Coast and eastern points.

NEW MAIN LINE

"Now, therefore, in consideration of the mutual covenants therein contained, the Southern Pacific Company and the El Paso and Southwestern interests mutually agree that, in case the Interstate Commerce Commission shall approve such application and shall authorize and permit said transfer and exchange of securities, said Southern Pacific Company will take steps immediately when said approval is obtained to construct or cause to be constructed, and to complete within a period of two years, a main line railroad through the city of Phoenix from a point at or near Red Rock or Picacho northerly through the Casa Grande Valley irrigation project connecting with the Phoenix and Eastern at or near Magma Junction or Florence, whose line from such connection through Phoenix, together with the Arizona Eastern line from Phoenix to Hassayampa, will be brought up to main-line standards and will be connected by new construction with the main line of the Southern Pacific at some point between Colfred, Ariz., and Indio, Cal., to be determined by physical conditions, expediency and the ability of the line, when completed, to afford adequate main-line service, which will be given."

ARIZONA WILL GET BENEFITS IN NEW WAY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
PHOENIX, June 11.—Phoenix is to get her long-expected main-line railroad, but in very different shape than had been expected. The Tucson, Phoenix and Tidewater Railroad appears to have been wholly eliminated, with all its right of way troubles and in its stead is to be a new Southern Pacific line—one that will leave the present route about Red Rock Station and passing through Florence, join the Southern Pacific's Arizona Eastern branch at Magma and thence enter Phoenix through Mesa and Tempe.

Westward the Hassayampa branch would be continued about sixty miles to a crossing of the Gila River near Colfred Station, just east of Yuma. The new construction would be about 140 miles in length, at a cost of $10,000,000, and for most of the distance would pass through an irrigated region, with inclusion of the Casa Grande, Florence, Salt River and Lower Gila River valleys.

ALL AFFECTED

Even larger than the local effect is the proposed consolidation within the Southern Pacific system of all the railroad lines of Southern Arizona, save a few mining spurs. It is called a coalation, rather than an absorption, and the El Paso and Southwestern system of 1200 miles of trackage, from Dawson and Tucomcari, N. M., through El Paso, Douglas and Bisbee to Tucson, with a number of very important branches, will be turned into the pool in consideration of a large block of Southern Pacific stock, with corresponding exchange of Southwestern stock.

From El Paso to Yuma it virtually will provide a second track for the Southern Pacific, which further will be favored by the fact that the Southwestern line has much lower grades. With only slightly longer mileage westward from Red Rock, the new route also would have much better grades, at slightly increased distance, following down the Gila River, which will be crossed near Florence and near Yuma.

There had been local expectation that the Southwestern would build its own line from Tucson to Phoenix, as it had taken over the Tidewater organization and property, understood to include much valuable realty in Phoenix, as well as a right of way across the business part of the city. Here it was expected that transfer of business would be made to the Santa Fe, leading toward the $7,000,000 terminal lately purchased in Los Angeles, apparently by the Phelps-Dodge-Southwestern interests, understood connected to a degree with the Texas Pacific.

SHUN DISCUSSION

No railroad men here today appeared to care to discuss the question of what effect the new deal will have on the Coast terminal purchase, but there appeared assumption that it would be used "some time in the future." It does not seem to be included in the coalition, though it may be.

In Phoenix now are President Walter Douglas of the Phelps-Dodge Corporation, which controls the Southwestern system and many Arizona mines of large value. With him are R. G. Beckett, Western Phelps-Dodge manager, and E. E. Ellinwood and John Mason Ross, counsel for the corporation. They visited the State Corporation Commission to leave a copy of the agreement in so far as it affects Arizona construction and operation and stated that the main issue would be presented to the Interstate Commerce Commission. There was some reference to the national plans favoring railroad combinations by zones. This was carried out to an extent by the coalition. Denial was made that the combination in any manner had been forced by either side. It was stated that the popular idea that Phelps-Dodge controlled the Rock Island system has been in error. It merely has been carrying Rock Island traffic as far as Tucson, where, it is told, no specific date is known for ending the time of delivery to the Southern Pacific.

DOUGLAS FRANK

Mr. Douglas talked very frankly, expressing his opinion that the new plan is much greater than the original suggestion of a stub line from Tucson to Phoenix.

"We are Arizona people, in our mines and railroad interests, and we are sincerely desirous of conserving every Arizona interest. I believe that the new route, passing through 140 miles of farms will give the people of the nation a much better understanding of agricultural Arizona, while it will give the Gila and Salt River valleys much better transportation facility," he said.

He assumed that the long-projected Southern Pacific water grade line from San Carlos to Phoenix had been abandoned when crowded out of the Gila River by the San Carlos dam and considered the branching from Red Rock in very logical succession. In addition, in a prepared statement, Mr. Douglas made declaration that "the El Paso and Southwestern has not been sold to the Southern Pacific or to anyone else. No such sale is now or has been contemplated by us.

"Negotiations have been in progress for some months between the Southern Pacific interests and the El Paso and Southwestern interests and have finally resulted in an agreement under which, if approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, those interests will become associated in the railroad business through an exchange of securities.

The Southern Pacific Company will become the operating company, but the Southwestern interests will be given substantial and adequate representation in the direction and control of the operating company.

GREAT VALUE

"It has been mutually and definitely agreed between the Southern Pacific and El Paso and Southwestern interests that the Southern Pacific main line shall be built through Phoenix, construction to commence immediately upon receiving the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Within two years thereafter the main line through Phoenix is required to be completed and brought up to main-line standards.

"I need not enlarge upon the enormous value and importance of all of this to the Salt River Valley and to the Florence-Casa Grande Valley. It will certainly open a new era of business development and expansion for both of them.

"If the Interstate Commerce Commission shall give its approval, the proposed plan will result in a greatly increased volume of freight and passenger traffic east and west through Arizona, thus benefiting all of the communities now served by the two railroad systems in this State. It will involve an expenditure now estimated at $10,000,000 in this State in new railroad construction, in bringing present lines up to main-line standards and in providing additional facilities.

"In short, if the commission shall approve the proposed plan, Phoenix and the Salt River Valley speedily will realize their long-cherished hope of being placed on a main-line transcontinental railroad. But everything must await the action of the commission."

MEXICANS FIX EYES ON CLEVELAND

Republic Sees American Decision as Vital Point in Foreign Relations

BY JACK STARR-HUNT
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, June 11.—The newspapers of Mexico City practically have laid aside Mexican Presidential problems excepting for comment on the battle between Calles and Flores supporters in the State of Queretaro Monday, and are devoting columns of space to the Republican National Convention at Cleveland.

As on former occasions, Mexico is showing the keenest interest in the United States Presidential race, especially the educated and wealthier classes. The basic reason for this is that any change in the views of the occupant of the White House vitally affects the southern republic.

The resumption of diplomatic relations between the United States and Mexico, the appointment of Ambassador Warren to represent the United States here, the latter's presence at the Cleveland convention, and the belief here that Ambassador Warren is a probable candidate for the Vice-Presidency, all go to strengthen Mexico's interest in the American political situation.

The leading newspapers publish special services direct from the Cleveland convention hall, which demonstrates plainly the importance attached here to the developments of both the Republican and the Democratic campaigns.

WASTE WHAT THEY FAILED TO TAKE

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, June 11.—When E. E. Snoil, manager of a local gasoline service station, came to work this morning he found the inside of his place of business under cover of a six-inch coating of lubricating oil. In addition to the flood of oil the tires and automobile accessories contained in the stockroom were found missing.

During the night, it was disclosed, thieves entered the station and after stealing everything of value, opened the taps on several hundred gallons of oil which was contained in barrels.

TO PROTEST IMPROVEMENT

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, June 11.—Property owners residing on Green street today formed an association, elected officers, and as an organization will protest the proposed improvements as planned by the City Directors for Green street. M. K. White was elected president, and Reed Giddings was elected secretary, of the new organization. John Munger, former City Attorney of Pasadena, was retained as the body's attorney.

REVISIONS MADE IN SOME PLANKS

Action Follows Objection by Committeemen

Insurgents' Wants Turned Down Completely

Changes in Court, Rail and Ku Klux Clauses

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CLEVELAND, June 11.—Sharp opposition to a number of planks of the Republican party platform worked out by leaders at their all-night conference developed today at the final meeting of the resolutions committee. As a result one plank was rewritten and modifications were made in several others.

The World Court, the Ku Klux Klan and the railroad question were the chief fighting points.

When these had been ironed out, after eight hours of deliberation, the Republican insurgents' platform was presented for approval, but was rejected after fiery debate by an almost unanimous vote.

The World Court plank as recommended by the drafting committee was approved only after Chairman Warren had given his personal assurance that it had been written by President Coolidge himself.

Attempts to alter this provision were made by Senators Watson of Indiana and Harreld of Oklahoma.

CLOSE VOTE REPORTED

The Ku Klux Klan issue was presented by R. B. Creager, national committeeman from Texas, who insisted on an unmistakable and vigorous declaration against that organization. He offered a substitute stronger in language than the constitutional guarantees provision submitted by the drafting committee, but lost his fight. It was currently reported that the vote was 18 to 17.

Senator Cummins of Iowa, former chairman of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, forced a rewriting of the plank dealing with railroads. He expressed dissatisfaction with its wording and it was necessary to appoint two different subcommittees to work out substitute drafts before an agreement could be reached.

Farm relief and the tariff as it affects the farmers came in for extended discussion during the course of which Senators Gooding of Idaho, and Norbeck of South Dakota, emphasized that the farmers of the Northwest must be taken into consideration unless the party was to face possible reverses in the November election.

LOYALTY ISSUE UP

During this debate the question of party loyalty was brought to the front with some committee members construing the declaration for party responsibility as a slap at the Republican insurgents in Congress. Others declared the language should not be so interpreted, and in the end the plank, as well as those dealing with agriculture and the tariff, was given committee approval without change.

Reports emanating from the committee session, which was held behind closed and guarded doors, were that an unsuccessful effort had been made to include in the platform declarations in opposition to high surtaxes and the issuing of tax exempt securities.

HOOVER REFUSES TO ENTER RACE

ners and emblems held in the background re-appearing with a lot of new devices hitherto undetected, and, the platform having been disposed of, the Vice-Presidency again is the chief topic of conversation and the principal interest of the delegates.

There is a large group in the convention not yet willing to concede the elimination of Mr. Lowden, and many politically wise gentlemen, sensing the indecision of the delegates, are endeavoring to make capital from the situation.

Veteran newspaper correspondents, some of whom were present when William Jennings Bryan swept the Democratic convention off its feet in 1896 and captured the nomination for himself through personal magnetism and flights of oratory, are speculating as to the possibility of Dr. Marion Leroy Burton, president of the University of Michigan, who will nominate President Coolidge tomorrow, making an impression that will lead to his own nomination as the President's running mate.

There is still another group in the convention that cynically embraces a conviction that the convention dealers have decided upon a candidate to be advanced at a psychological moment, and that the name of this individual has not yet been brought into discussion.

California was honored in the convention today when Mrs. D. E. F. Easton of San Francisco was appointed by Temporary Chairman Burton as a member of a committee to escort permanent Chairman Mondell to the convention platform. Her appointment was greeted with cheers by the delegates.

The certainity of the President's nomination virtually unopposed, the logical desire of Republican leaders to draft a platform in keeping with the President's policies and wishes and the absence of conditions that ordinarily develop dramatic contests and unusual situations, have drained much of the color from the Cleveland convention conclave. In fact the only relief from a very business-like and expeditious handling of the party's entire purpose here has been the flurry over selecting a candidate for Vice-President.

Cleveland has made one tremendous and splendid contribution to the convention in providing an adequate and comfortable auditorium in which the conduct of business has proceeded without mechanical hitch or trouble. Electric amplifiers carry every modulation of a speaker's voice to all parts of the vast hall, the lighting is both effective and beautiful and, contrary to prior experience, the seats have been constructed with some regard for the needs of a human frame required to remain for many hours under the spell of campaign oratory.

BOYS FILE NOT GUILTY PLEAS

of you with murder. Do you plead guilty or not guilty?"

"Not guilty," they responded together.

"On June 6," continued the clerk, "the grand jury returned indictments charging you two with kidnaping for ransom. Do you plead guilty or not guilty?"

"Not guilty," both replied clearly.

Persons seated in the court clambered on benches and craned their necks for a glimpse of the youths. There was a general scrambling for points of vantage.

"Have the opposing attorneys agreed on a trial date?" asked the judge.

"No, Your Honor, we haven't had a chance," said Attorney Bachrach.

CROWE ASKS HASTE

"I believe, Your Honor," added Mr. Crowe, "that this case should take the regular course. I believe July 15 should be set as the date for trial."

"That is a very short time in which to prepare the case," abjected Bachrach. "The State must know the defense cannot get ready within that time. Your Honor must be aware of the public feeling arising from the statements in the newspapers. According to the newspapers, the State's Attorney is going to attempt to hang the defendants."

"Unless something very unexpected occurs," said Judge Caverly, "the trial will be called August 4. There will be no subpoenas for anybody for the trial on that date until July 21. There will be nothing further done on this case until that date."

"Your Honor," said Attorney Bachrach, "we will permit no other business to interfere with our duties in this case. It may be necessary, however, to ask later for more time."

There was a banging of flashlights and court was summarily dismissed.

MAKE BIG SAVING

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

REDLANDS, June 11.—C. A. Rolfe, president of the Southwestern Home Telephone Company, says that about $300 a month will be saved the business men of this city after July 2 when the toll tax for long distance telephone calls of more than 10 cents is discontinued. The local company has been collecting about $800 a month for this.

Federals Take Villa Hermosa; Rebels Had Fled

FACIAL SURGERY IS NOW COMMON

Plastic Operations Every-Day Occurrence

International Clinic is Set Up in London

Many Incompetents Said to be Reaping Harvest

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The biblical injunction to cut off thy right hand if its offend thee has never enjoyed much of a vogue, but the same idea is now proving popular with regard to mouths and noses. People who are dissatisfied with their facial features are having them at least reshaped to suit their personal tastes. A man need no longer worry through life with a tip-tilted pug nose if he prefers a dignified Grecian beak, and no woman need be handicapped with an unlovely mouth who has the courage and the money to have it changed into a tempting Rosetti model.

Plastic surgery has at least brought relief to the homely. From now on personal pulchritude will doubtless be as purchaseable a commodity in most large cities as Turkish baths or Paris labels.

In London an international clinic for plastic surgery has been established under the direction of Maj. H. D. Giles, who became famous for this work during the war. Two American doctors are also on the faculty. This clinic, housed in a new wing of St. Andrew's Hospital, is the first institution run by professional men of standing which is devoted to the study and treatment of the face.

HINDUS PRACTICED IT

Although plastic surgery owes sudden rise and spread in this century to the war, it is not an absolutely new art. The ancient Hindus, to whom so many remarkable achievements are attributed, are credited with having performed plastic operations 2000 years ago.

Today thousands of men who sustained ghastly facial wounds are walking the streets with their fair share of pulchritude and contentment owing to the skillful work of the war surgeons. As much as two-thirds of a face could be rebuilt, it was found.

Members of the theatrical and moving-picture industries are especially anxious to take advantage of the new plastic art, which not only provides new features but restores lost youth. Thus, in Fifth avenue and in Hollywood Boulevard face-lifting and eye-cutting have become almost as commonplace as manicures.

Against this rapid increase in beauty doctors, many of them graduates from obscure and questionable colleges, reputable plastic surgeons are now lifting voices of warning. People who desire new faces for old should proceed with the utmost caution, they declare.

MANY FAILURES

That there is a large number of unsatisfactory operations is shown by the numerous suits that are constantly being brought against careless practitioners. As a protection against this familiar contingency many beauty doctors now carry insurance against loss through lawsuits, while many patients also seek insurance before undergoing so-called cosmetic operations. It is interesting to note that they are classed as extra-hazardous risks.

Fortunately, a slight tendency is now apparent among reputable surgeons to abandon their old prejudice against cosmetic operations. So far it is much more noticeable abroad than in this country. Over there it is realized that if the reputable surgeons refuse to perform such operations the patients will merely go to the unskilled practitioners, whose offices are springing up everywhere. It was partly in protest against the work of these inexperienced artisans that the plastic surgery clinic in London has been opened.

OFFICERS EXONERATED FOR SLAYING SPEEDER

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SEATTLE, June 11.—Deputy Sheriffs Leo Sowers and Ed P. Fitzgerald today were exonerated by a Coroner's jury of blame in killing Frank Martin, waffle-house man of Spokane, Monday near Seattle. William Larrimore, Dallas, Or., and Wesley McCauley of Eastern Washington, were in an automobile with Martin when the deputies shot at it after a command for it to stop had been answered by an increase of speed.

AMERICA SAID TO SEEK NEW WAR INVENTION

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, June 11.—The grim horrors of future warfare were shown at an experiment tonight at the peaceful Yorkshire village of North Ferriby when Ernest Welch tested a winged incendiary rocket, which he claimed when fired into the air will burst into a rain of molten metal over an area of from five to eight miles, destroying airplanes or anything within its range. A definite offer for the invention is said to have been made by the American government.

RUMANIA RECOGNIZES NEW GREEK REPUBLIC

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ATHENS, June 11.—Despite two months of efforts by the Queen of Rumania to prevent recognition of the Greek republic, Rumania yesterday official recognized the new government. Rumania is the last country of Europe and America to do so, and it is believed here that the Queen's interest in her daughter, former Queen Elizabeth of Greece, was responsible for the delay.

RECIPROCAL BOYCOTT IS TOKIO FEAR

Retail Merchants Give Views When Visited by Japanese Agitators

BY RODERICK MATHESON
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TOKIO, June 11.—The leading retail stores of the city were visited yesterday by delegates of Taikosha "concerted action society," an anti-American organization which is composed principally of students who scattered the hand bills advocating the boycott of American goods and interviewed the managers. The delegates report that the majority of managers agreed in the principle of the boycott.

Several of the managers warned the agitators of the dangers of a counter-boycott in America, which Japan cannot afford.

A circular which is being distributed in the mails of Japanese Christians, who are urging the churches of Japan to break away from the mission organizations, and also compare President Coolidge to Pontius Pilate. It begins: "Searching history in the East we find Pontius Pilate, who, knowing Christ's innocence, suffered him to be crucified; in the West we find President Calvin Coolidge, who knowingly placed his name on the unjust and unrighteous anti-Japanese legislation bill."

Coming Wheat Shortage Held Farmers' Boon

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, June 11.—The American wheat farmer "will come into his own" as a result of a wheat crop shortage in the northern hemisphere the world over, George E. Marcy, president of the Armour Grain Company, declared today in a statement. Wheat and rye should command very high prices, he added.

"First, the government crop report indicates not to exceed 100,000,000 bushels available for export the coming year," he said. "The Pacific Coast is bound to sell more or less flour to the Orient. Pacific Coast mills, therefore, not only will cause a shortage on the Pacific Coast but also will reach east into Montana, Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska for wheat.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN SOON TO BE A MEMORY

Famous Amusement Center Created by Stanford White and Scene of Tragedy to be Razed

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
[Copyright, 1924, Public Ledger.]

NEW YORK, June 11.—Old Madison Square Garden, the home of the horse show from time immemorial; the amphitheater of the circus from the days of P. T. Barnum to the present days of the Ringling Brothers, and the scene of the greatest boxing matches, to say nothing of the famous political gatherings of the United States; the setting of fashion shows, of balls and parties and fetes of the four hundred of Father Knickerbocker, is scheduled to pass into memory with the passing of the present year.

This is not the first time that the fate of the Garden has hung in the balance, but it is the first time that serious consideration has been given to the permanent passing of the old landmark.

The Garden was the greatest temple of amusement that New York had ever known, and was unique in the pleasure palaces of the world when it was presented to the public through Stanford White, its creator. It was among the first of roof gardens which afterward became so popular, not only in this city but throughout the country. The tragedy of the fatal night when the death of White crowned the comedy and music of the roof and capped its bright lights forevermore has been often rehearsed and reset and retold.

THE ROYAL BOX

The royal box in the second gallery, which was long occupied by Stanford White and his friends, and later by the Goulds, the Astors, John McE. Bowman and their guests of the horse shows, remains untouched except by the dust of time. There isn't a relic which belonged to White left to remind the present generation of his genius, or to recall his name. His office in the tower and his suite, which was the gathering place of noted persons and many pleasant parties, has long since been given up to commercial pursuits.

When Stanford White reigned there it was the scene of the signing of many large contracts for the upbuilding of New York. Tex Rickard, the boxing promoter, now holds forth there, and the offices have witnessed the culmination of the greatest contracts ever put over in the sporting world.

ROOF'S DECLINE

The only use to which the roof on the fourth floor of the Garden has ever been put has been to convert the once gay dressing-rooms into a cook house for the Barnum & Bailey and Ringling Brothers' circus performers. Today the walled-in theater up in the air, which in the nights of old were resplendent with soft electric glow and shaded lanterns, and whose plush-covered walls yielded to the light steps of shapely girls, while the air was filled with music mingling with the clink of ice, bubbling champagne and gleaming highballs, is just a plain brick roof with the artistry of Stanford White gazing down upon it from its Corinthian columns.

Beyond the dressing-room structures is a cinder path, where amateurs and profession runners vie with one another in the race.

POEM TO CONVICT

Joseph M. Nye, famous as "Bill" Nye, when he was the head of the secret service, and the man who took care of royalty, from the King of Belgium to the Prince of Wales, as well as other notables who visited this country during and after the war, is located in New York as the executive assistant of the Guaranty Trust Company at 140 Broadway. A few days ago Mr. Nye received a copy of a poem written by the son of Nathaniel Hawthorne, while he was incarcerated in the Federal prison at Atlanta. The theme of the poem was the passing from this life of John Ross, who had been a prisoner for eleven years in the government bastile, and for twenty-two years before that in a prison at Albany.

At the opening of the Atlanta Penitentiary Mr. Nye was assigned there as Bertillon expert and in charge of statistics and the correspondence of the prisoners. He admired the beauty of the younger Hawthorne's lines, but remarked that the pity of it was that Ross's history wasn't incorporated in the poem.

STORY OF ROSS

"I remember Ross very well," he said. "He ran away from his home in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, when he was 11 years of age. Forever after that he followed the sea. It was on May 9, 1880, when he was sailing before the mast on the ship Bullion, he ran amuck and killed John Kelly, the mate. He was tried by an American Consular tribunal at the first port of call, which was Yokohama, and sentenced to death, which sentence was commuted to imprisonment for life by President Rutherford B. Hayes.

"There were no Federal prisons in those days, and he was brought back here and incarcerated in the Albany prison, where he remained for twenty-two years. The first contingent for the Federal prison at Atlanta was sent from Albany, and Ross was one of the first to be confined within the walls of the Georgia bastile, which has since become famous.

ROSS GETS RELIGION

"Ross was a prisoner of the first class, and as such was entitled to send out a letter every two weeks. He had no friends and for quite awhile didn't write to anybody. Something always happens to a man who is long confined in a prison, and Ross 'got religion.' He became a monomaniac on the subject, and finally wrote a letter to the pastor of the Pownal-Street Presbyterian Church, in his old home at Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island. He gave his blessing to the pastor and also to the widow of Capt. Nicholson and to Bernard Trinon and his son.

"I sent out the letter for him and was curious to see what the reaction would be. There was no answer, and Ross would write out his letter on his slate and then copy it on the prison stationery when his turn came to write. He kept writing for two years, and no answer came. After that he kept right on with his one-sided correspondence, and finally I stopped sending out his letters.

KEEPS ON WRITING

"But he kept on writing just the same, and was apparently satisfied that he would get an answer some day.

"Finally I wrote a letter addressed to a pastor in his old hometown, and when I didn't get an answer I was determined that I would get some result, and wrote to the Chief of Police of Charlottetown, setting forth all the circumstances of Ross's career. That letter bore fruit. The Chief of Police dug up the son of Bernard Trinon, and he wrote a wonderful letter to the old convict.

"A friend of mine from New York was in my office when the letter arrived, and I told him the story of Ross and his correspondence and invited him to come with me inside the prison and see the joy that John would get out of the receipt of the letter. He had been in prison then for nearly thirty years, and this was the first time he had heard from the outside world. I thought that he would brighten up like a polished silver dollar when I gave him the letter. He didn't. He just accepted it as a matter of course, and with my friend I stood off some distance to watch him read it.

"The effect was entirely different to what I had anticipated. He read the letter over very carefully, apparently studying its contents, then put it back in tue envelope and shoved it in his pocket.

" 'Well, John,' I said, unable to stand it any longer, 'got a letter at last, eh?'

" 'Letter, nothing,' he answered. 'Supposed to be from Barney Trinon's son. He can't write no letter. He's in short pants.'

"The passage of thirty years spent in prison meant nothing to John Ross, the sailor."

Japanese Act to Stir Chinese on Ban Boomerang

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SHANGHAI, June 11.—The Japanese effort to stir up the Chinese on the subject of agitation against the Japanese exclusion clause in the American Immigration Act, has been fruitless and has had the unexpected effect of stimulating the Chinese to reopen the agitation against the Japanese Exclusion Act against Chinese.

Several Chinese newspapers here have reopened the subject of the Japanese exclusion of Chinese laborers and call attention of the recent protest received here from the Chinese Merchants' Association in Kobe, Japan, who are asking the Chinese Chamber of Commerce to protest, especially against the recent deportations of Chinese laborers, peddlers and small merchants from Japan.

STUDIES MADE OF FARM PROBLEMS

The composite picture of the farmer's life in this country is, of course, a happy mean between poverty and affluence. Its worth is something which does not readily lend itself to definition in the ordinary terms of figures. Independence is probably the most expressive word that can be applied to the farmer's life. The man on the soil, however, is not as independent as he once was.

In some farming States the farmers buy more food than they produce. In Kentucky, Tennessee and Texas they buy practically all of their clothing and a larger proportion of their food. Items of expense include rent, fuel, automobile upkeep, doctors, dentists and nurses, clothing and food.

A series of publications has been started by the United States Department of Agriculture based on studies of the cost of living among farmers. The series is a valuable contribution to current information. Among other things, the department finds that the average farm investment in Kentucky is $34,126, in Tennessee $14,347 and in Texas $19,017; average incomes were, respectively, $4061, $692 and $1587.

There is little or no unemployment among farmers, whose economic condition could be still further improved in most cases by greater diversity in farming. The industrialist may earn a larger income, but his expenses of living are greater, as are the fluctuations of his fortunes.

We often hear the farmer complain that everything he sells is cheap and everything he buys is high. That is more or less the plaint of all producers. If the farmers' life were ideal, all of us would desire to become farmers.—[Buffalo Express.

SCHOOL OF TELEPHONY

Course Is Installed for Students of Boston University

There is more to answering the telephone than a honeyed "hello" or ability to cajole the operator, it seems, when this hitherto taken-for-granted activity is raised to the level of a fine art by inclusion in the curriculum of a university.

The college of business administration of Boston University has introduced a course on the "use of the telephone." As a starter it is being given to employees of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company by Prof. John C. Scammell of the English department of the college.

One of the greatest problems over which Prof. Scammell seeks to give his pupils mastery is that of impatience and irritability. The course aims first to teach the telephone users to control their own anger at delays in service. Next it would eliminate anger caused by the irritability of the person on the other end of the line who has become excited because of slow or otherwise faulty telephone connections.

WARNS OF SHORTAGE OF POWER

State Commission Avers Southland Must Save as Much as Possible

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Electric power consumers of Southern California were warned today by the State Railroad Commission that they face the possibility of a serious shortage, due to the lack of water in the mountains to run the hydroelectric generating plants of the State.

A statement issued by the commission said:

"The power situation in the southern part of the State is becoming serious, due to the unprecedented drought conditions.

"The records before the commission, which will be considered in connection with the hearing before Commissioner Martin in Los Angeles on Friday, indicate that the run-off in the mountains resulting from the March and April snows, has been disappointing and that there is probability of a quite serious power situation.

"Consumers are urged to be prepared to conserve power wherever possible and to be prepared to face a curtailment if necessary. All steam plants which are available are being operated and utilities are doing all in their power to avert a further shortage. The commission plans to take every possible step to assure fair treatment to all consumers."

Five Tremors Are Recorded in Chilean City

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

SANTIAGO (Chile) June 11.—Five earth shocks were recorded on the seismographs here yesterday and last night but they were not felt by the population generally. They were said to have affected the central zone between Coquimoc and Talca.

A heavy earthquake had been predicted for the middle of May culminating in a series of seismic disturbances similar to the tidal wave which occurred last week.

D'Oisy Predicts Yankee Flyers Will Reach Goal

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
[Copyright, 1924, by the Chicago Tribune.]

TOKIO, June 11.—The Americans have the right type of planes for a world flight, says Capt. Pelletier D'Oisy, discussing his own experiences in his Paris-to-Tokio flight.

"The Americans will surely succeed. With hydroplanes they are able to make the dangerous jump from Bangkok to Akyab. They also will not be forced pass over the China wastes where there is nothing but hills and plains. Ah, that flight from Canton to Shanghai, and Shanghai to Peking! I am very happy it is all behind now."

PLEASURE DECLARED A HEALTH ASSET

Many persons are ill, mentally and physically, because they are suspicious of pleasure. The hardy races hold pain in high esteem as a personal discipline, and inducing pain in oneself has even been inculcated as an act of virtue.

We speak of pain as "holy." But pleasure may be no less holy than pain. Many devout men and women have realized pleasure is essential for moral self-development and conduct. The physical reaction of pleasure makes the body resistant to disease, aids in recovery from sickness, tends to the lengthening of life, and prevents morbid manifestations in old age.

An ascetic fear of pleasure is incompatible with a sense of bodily efficiency and well-being. Some people appear to believe that nature has evolved the complicated nervous system simply as an instrument for producing pain or discomfort. A pleasant surprise, such as receiving cheering news, immediately excites the heart to vigorous action. "A merry heart goes all the way." Death may come prematurely because a man has neglected pleasure.

It is not easy to define pleasure in a general sense. The pleasure that the Spartan winter bathers in the Serpentine enjoy suggests pain to less robust persons. Fishing may be a man's passion, but his friend may regard that recreation as a form of acute boredom. If you have found the pleasure that energizes the body and refreshes the mind, cherish it as one of the chief assets of health. If you have lost the play-instinct, you are exposed to physical and mental peril.—[London Mail.

THEY PROMPTLY DID

One of several fortresses formerly owned by Lord Castletown's ancestors is Morett Castle, now a ruin, but at one time a place of immense strength. Concerning this his lordship tells a grim story in his recently published book, "Ego." The castle was besieged by the Irish and the owner was unluckily captured in a sortie. He was brought up by his captors outside the walls and a parley demanded. His wife came on the battlements, and the enemy herald announced that unless the fortress was surrendered within an hour her husband would be hanged.

"Give me time to think it over," requested the lady.

"One hour," said the Irish.

"One hour will do," replied the lady. At the appointed time both sides returned, the lady on the battlements, the prisoner with a cord around his neck and surrounded by his guard.

"I have decided," she said. "I can always get another husband, but never another Morett. You can hang your prisoner."

BOSTON BREEDS HIGH FINANCIERS

Rowe Latest Follower of Ponzi, Greene

President of Bank at 25, Bankrupt at 29

Deluded Clients Mourn for Lost Millions

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BOSTON, June 11.—Another boy wonder of the financial world has crashed into bankruptcy.

Arthur W. Rowe of Winthrop, 29 years old, president of the American Bankers' Corporation and emulator of Henry V. Greene, has been wiped out.

The youth, whose rapid rise from bank clerk to the chief executive of a financial corporation, was heralded far and wide, has made a more rapid descent.

Voluntary petitions in bankruptcy have been filed by both the American Bankers' Corporation, which had offices at No. 21 School street, and by President Rowe.

ASSETS AMPLE

The corporation's assets were given as $952,108.75, and liabilities as $20,316.09. Rowe's personal petition listed assets as $70,585, and liabilities as $72,795.07.

Rowe was the victim of misplaced confidence in his own financial ability and the gullibility of the public, according to State-street gossip.

Rowe entered the financial world immediately after graduation from Winthrop High School, becoming a clerk in a Boston trust company. Later he took a position in another banking organization, where he is said to have studied banking and the possibilities of commercial paper.

YOUTHFUD PRESIDENT

With Henry V. Greene, who rose from soda dispenser to frenzied financier, as his example, Rowe began the organization of the American Bankers' Corporation, and was made its president at the age of 25. It was organized April 20, 1920, some time before the State Department of Utilities came into existence on August 26, 1921.

Apparently the business prospered for a time, and young Rowe blossomed out as owner of several automobiles and a member of clubs. A staff of salesmen scoured the State, urging the public to buy stock in the company and obtain large dividends. To facilitate sales the Greene plan of partial paymen for blocks of stock was adopted. The offices were moved from Washington to School street.

On April 18, 1923, there was a sudden halt in the proceedings. The Department of Public Utilities had asked for a fiscal statement for 1922. The officers of the corporation apparently did not care to furnish it, and notified the department they had ceased to sell stock. They continued to sell notes, however, and in a short time complaints began to come in.

INVESTORS SEEK FUNDS

Anxious men and women wondered why they received no more dividends. They visited the offices of the American Bankers' Corporation, but experienced much difficulty in seeing President Rowe. Those who were successful were told that returns from loans and investments had been poor, but a more prosperous period was expected.

Others sought legal advice. In the case of stockholders, they were told nothing could be done. Holders of notes were advised to sue, as notes are collectable. A number followed this advice with the result that judgments were obtained and keepers placed in the office of the corporation to collect.

ANGELENO CHOSEN AS APARTMENT MEN HEAD

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CAMP CURRY, YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, June 11.—Henry Fentress, Los Angeles, has been named president of the Apartment-House Association of California, it was announced today in the annual convention of the association here. Mrs. W. P. Hall, San Diego, was named secretary.

"ORDER" IS THE ARMY'S LAW

"After a southern breakfast of fried rabbit, hot cakes and gravy, we put the cabin in order and left for Port Moller at 7:45 a.m." is part of the story by Aviator Martin regarding his experiences at Chignik, Alaska, told in the direct simple language of Robinson Crusoe. There is a touch of "nature" in it, too, of how "order" in the United States Army becomes "second nature." The two wanderers were away from civilization, lost to the world, in a strange land, but soldier-like they could not leave the rude place that gave them temporary shelter without putting the "cabin in order." Ordinary persons would have paid as little attention to this as the guest at Macbeth's banquet did to the order of their going when Banquo's ghost appeared to frighten the host, but to an army man "order" is the first law of nature.—[Denver News.

THE ELPH, SOME ANT

The American truth-teller was in form. "Talking of ants," he said, "we've got 'em as big as crabs out West. I've seen 'em fight with long horns, which they use as lances, charging each other like savages."

"They don't compare with the ants I saw in the Far West," said an inoffensive individual near by. "The natives have trained them as beasts of burden. One of 'em could trail a ton load for miles with ease. They worked willingly, but occasionally they turned on their attendants and killed them."

But this was drawing the long bow a little too far.

"I say, old chap," said a shocked voice from the corner, "what sort of ants were they?"

"Eleph-ants," replied the inoffensive individual—[Tit-Bits.

TRYING TO DECIDE

Col. Edward H. R. Green said at a dinner in his South Dartmouth country house: "The more revolutions there are, the fewer titled foreigners will carry our rich girls off to Europe. A New York girl said to her father the other day: 'Didn't I hear Count de Coldirodi's voice? Where is he?' 'He and I have just had a conference,' the girl's father answered, 'and he is now in the library figuring out whether he loves you or not.' "—[Argonaut.

Exceptional advantages are offered in and near Salt Lake City for manufacturing and distributing plants—raw materials, economical power, labor, housing and living conditions, marketing territory, transportation facilities, banking service, general industrial conditions and climate.

Opportunities for Capital in Salt Lake City

Twenty new industries came to Salt Lake City in 1923, with payrolls amounting to $2,500,000 annually, while the value of products manufactured in Salt Lake City last year amounted to a total of $103,000,000.

Destined to become the great Iron and Steel Center of the Western States

UTAH is admitted to be the logical state west of the Missouri River for the location of a mammoth steel industry. In one county alone there are deposits of 480,000,000 tons of measurable iron ore suitable for iron and steel manufacture. Coking coal, manganese ore and limestone—the other important commodities in the steel industry are also found in the state in immense quantities and assure the success of the newly established steel plant at Ironton, Utah, which started production May 2nd, 1924, on a 500-ton daily basis.

More factories and business houses are needed in Salt Lake City and transportation facilities are already here to take care of the increased production and business expansion. Six main trunk line railroads serve Salt Lake City and an abundance of conveniently situated industrial sites are available.

For the manufacturer or business man who wants to grow and prosper with the growing West, who wants to live in a beautiful city which offers every cultural and educational advantage—Salt Lake City is the place! It is not only a city where opportunity to prosper invites you to come, but it is a place where your family—your wife and children—will find life pleasant and enjoyable, and scenic delights which can be found in no other city in the world. Healthful outdoor sports and recreation at an altitude of 4300 feet—a multitude of places to go—new scenes and experiences on every hand—a continuous round of interest.

Address Dept. 107 for information about Salt Lake City and Utah or—better still—take advantage of the new low railroad rates now in effect between Los Angeles and Salt Lake City and investigate for yourself the opportunities that await you in this thriving, progressive city.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, Salt Lake City

CANADA'S CHIEF SHOCKS BRITAIN

BY JOHN STEELE

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, June 11.—The recent speech by MacKenzie King, Premier of Canada, declaring the time had come when Canada must make up its mind between complete independence and annexation to the United States and a more clearly recognized relationship as a self-governing state within the British Empire comes as a rude shock to politicians in London, who, while knowing the discontent in Canada and other parts of the empire, hoped it would blow over without the necessity of formal recognition or action.

Perhaps this policy might have succeeded had it not been for Canada's resentment over the Lausanne Treaty and its refusal to ratify it because it had not been consulted. It is believed in some quarters there have been protests from other dominions, and a similar situation has arisen over Ireland's appointment of an independent ambassador to Washington.

SOURCE OF TROUBLE

The trouble, of course, is that a change in the relationship between the various units in the British Empire since the war, while freely admitted by the British, has not been recognized to the extent of providing new machinery to take the place of that which has become obsolete.

Before the great war the imperial government conducted all the foreign affairs for the empire and the dominions acquiesced. The outbreak of the war woke them up to the fact that they might be committed to a life-and-death struggle without having a word to say in the development of the quarrel. They accepted the burden loyally on this occasion, but they determined never again to be in such a position, and the matter came to a head at the imperial conference in 1923, when Lord Curzon for the British Foreign Office accepted the Dominion demands and created a new situation which is now working badly for lack of adequate machinery.

MacDONALD HAS PLAN

In resolution which were adopted to govern the future conduct of foreign affairs in this conference mention was made of the imperial government, which takes its place as simply one of the governments of the empire. Prime Minister MacDonald is understood to have framed a tentative scheme which suggests setting up a permanent imperial committee to consist of the Prime Minister, Colonial Secretary and high commissioners in London from the dominions and other specially chosen representatives and a number of high officials of the colonial and foreign offices.

The committee is intended to be a permanent connecting link between the imperial conference and the home government and the dominions.

CITY MAY BUILD LIGHTING PLANT

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

FULLERTON, June 11.—Following a discussion of the cost of the city's decorative lighting system last night, the City Council directed the City Engineer, W. C. Record to make a thorough investigation of the costs and revenues that might be derived from a municipally owned plant. The Trustees discussed the feasibility of building a generating plant which might be operated by natural gas from the Fullerton field, and also asked the Engineer to include in his report the cost of such a plant, as well as the probable prices at which current might be purchased from the Southern California Edison Company.

CHARGE DOCTOR SLAYS PATIENT

Pennsylvania Physician is Under Murder Suspicion

Declares Woman Shot Him and Herself

Puzzling Circumstances of Case Baffle Police

HARRISBURG (Pa.) June 11. Dr. Cornelius M. Dailey, prominent Harrisburg physician, is charged with the murder of Mrs. Anna M. Manbeck, in a warrant issued here.

The warrant was not served on the physician, as the police were not permitted to enter the private room in the Harrisburg Hospital, where Dr. Bailey is recovering from a pistol wound of the right shoulder. Consequently, a police guard was stationed outside the door with instructions to serve the warrant as soon as the patient's condition permits.

WOMAN FIRED SHOTS

Dr. Dailey said Mrs. Manbeck, an attractive 47-year-old widow, who was found dead in the physician's office early Sunday with a bullet through her breast and a revolver on the floor behind her chair, shot him and then herself, according to the authorities.

Since Dr. Dailey has been admitted to the hospital, his attorney, former Lieut.-Gov. E. E. Beidleman, has refused Dist.-Atty. Robert T. Fox and county detectives' permission to question him about the shooting, which is cloaked in mystery.

"That woman fired the shot," is the only information Dr. Dailey is said to have given the District Attorney.

Dr. Dailey at first was believed to have been wounded seriously, but physicians at the hospital say he will recover. They explained they kept the authorities from seeing the physician for the purpose of giving him a chance to recover.

TO LOCATE WIFE

John H. Yontz, a county detective, who has been working on the case, said he has been trying to locate Dr. Dailey's wife, who is said to be living in Philadelphia since she and her husband separated about a year ago.

Mrs. Manbeck lived with her brother-in-law, John Gohl, in this city since the death of her husband.

"We have been informed Mrs. Dailey is living in Philadelphia with her parents," Yontz said, "and we are anxious to locate her and perhaps she may be able to aid us in the investigation."

The police and the District Attorney have not yet announced their theory of the shooting but are perplexed at the discovery that the clothing worn by Dr. Dailey was burned by a nurse or an orderly at the hospital after the physician was admitted there.

EVIDENCE MISSING

Mr. Fox said today the clothing would have been important evidence. He wanted to have it examined for powder marks, since Dr. Dailey, in the only statement he made to Mr. Fox, declared Mrs. Manbeck shot him and then herself.

Mrs. Manbeck's home was broken into last night, police learned today, and an investigation was started to determine whether it had been robbed.

Much importance is attached to the statement of Mrs. Elizabeth Rosen, who occupied an apartment above that occupied by Dr. Dailey. She said she heard the door bell ring early Sunday, and a few moments later heard the shot in the rear of his apartment. Later, she said, she heard Dr. Dailey telephone to a garage for a motor car, and then she heard the second shot.

BODY IN CHAIR

The body of Mrs. Manbeck was found in a chair in the office. She was fully clothed and her coat and hat were lying on the floor beside a chair. The pistol, of German make, was found on the floor behind the chair in which the woman was seated. Her hands were crossed in her lap and a hand bag hung over her right wrist. A bullet through the left breast had caused her death.

The pistol, police say, may be an important clue in clearing up the mystery. Relatives of Mrs. Manbeck say that she never owned a pistol. Dr. Dailey's relatives insist that he was afraid of firearms.

Police have been unable to establish where Mrs. Manbeck spent Saturday night. Relatives with whom she lived say that she was not at home. It is said that she came to the doctor's office about 7 a.m. Sunday, a short time before the shooting took place.

Mrs. Manbeck has been a patient of Dr. Dailey for about a year, according to relatives. They said that she frequently called the physician on the telephone and after several calls is said to have remarked: "This will be the last time; we are going to break it off."

DRY COPS TAKEN IN VICE RAID

Nine Found Watching Five Girls Perform; Plead Line of Duty

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, June 11.—Nine prohibition agents avidly watching five high-brown girls put on a special performance were arrested tonight when police raided a flat on Prairie avenue. They were locked up charged with being inmates of a disorderly house.

"It's a rotten shame," they protested. "We were getting evidence of booze, and before we can make a pinch the coppers come in and spoil our raid."

Nipponese Who Planned to Kill Consul Is Held

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TOKIO, Jue 11.—Masunosuke Yamamoto, a dock worker at Yokohama, is held by police for investigation. On the afternoon of the 8th inst. he visited the American Consul-General with a concealed sword.

The police guard intercepted Yamamoto, who said, "I intended to request the Consul to induce Americans to alter the immigration law and if he refused, I intended to kill the Consul and then commit suicide." The affair was not reported to the press.

Premier Kato refused to grant an interview with foreign correspondents, so that at present there is no explanation.

NOVEL IRRIGATION PACT IS NEGOTIATED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, June 11.—A novel contract has been entered into by the Salt River Valley Water Users' Association with the Gila Water Company for delivery of drainage water into the Agua Fria, Salt and Gila rivers for a period of forty-five days. This contract is for the benefit of land acreage under the Gillespie irrigation project on the Gila River, and will net the local organization 75 cents per acre foot. While the Gila River carries a large volume of water in certain periods, it is almost dry at the present time above its junction with the Salt, and most of the water now being delivered at the Gillespie dam is from seepage in the large agricultural areas above.

EX-ANGELENO GETS DIVORCE AT RENO

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RENO (Nev.) June 11.—Charging his wife frequently spanked him with a hairbrush, William Horsley, former Los Angeles resident, has been granted a divorce in Reno from Mrs. Irene N. Horsley on grounds of extreme cruelty. The couple were married at Los Angeles in May, 1906, and the husband claimed his wife soon proceeded to assert her authority. Horsley said his wife also was addicted to staging many midnight parties, and that his protests brought beatings and verbal abuse. The decree was granted by District Judge Bartlett.

AMERICAN BANKS AID GERMAN SUGAR MEN

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MADGEBURG (Germany) June 11.—Five American banks are reported to have advanced credits aggregating several million dollars to German producers of sugar to finance Germany's export sugar production during the 1924-25 period. The agreement stipulates that the maximum credit available is ten gold marks per hundredweight of sugar permitted for exportation by the Federal Ministry of Economics.

AMERICAN WRITER SUCCUMBS IN PARIS

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, June 11.—James Keating, American newspaper man and former publicity director of the Czecho-Slovakian government, died last night at Beaujon Hospital after an overdose of a sleeping potion. He leaves a wife in New York. Mr. Keating had been well known in American magazine and newspaper circles for twenty years.

RUMANIA IS UNDER RULE OF MILITARY

Ban Placed on Press as Result of Revolution to Overthrow Bratanio

BY JOHN CLAYTON

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VIENNA, June 11.—Martial law has been declared throughout Rumania, with a ban on all public meetings, following Gen. Averscu's peasant demonstration, it was learned from Bucharest today. The censorship, which until now had been extended only to dispatches destined for abroad, has been applied to local newspapers. Only news favorable to the present government can be printed.

King Ferdinand is taking a sincere interest in the situation. On Sunday he received Gen. Averscu and other opposition leaders and received from them a promise to abstain from violence until the Bratianos had a chance to resign. Gen. Averscu is being strongly supported in his campaign for the overthrow of Premier Bratiano.

The American and British interests, which are threatened with serious losses from the confiscation of oil properties for the benefit of Premier Bratiano's private purse, are lending their support to the veteran general and politicians.

Albanian Army Still Commands Central Section

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
[Copyright, 1924, by the Chicago Tribune.]

BUCHAREST, June 11.—The Albanian government still holds Tirana and all of the central part of the country.

In the south Bishop Fannoli of the Orthodox church has captured Valona with revolutionary troops and has advanced to a town on the Akonmpi River. He controls the Valona-Otran cable, which is the only cable out of Albania, and more than a third of all the Albanian territory. This country is all open plains. The government troops are intrenched north and back of the Akonmpi River, which is the second river from the Greek frontier.

In the north of Albania, Chief Luigji Gurakauki, who is co-operating with Bishop Fannoli, has captured Scutari and the telegraph line from Scutari into Jugo-Slavia. He has advanced to the town of Alessandro, which he has captured.

BUSINESS SESSIONS OF ENGINEERS OPEN

PRESIDENT URGES MEMBERS TO ACCEPT PUBLIC RESPONSIBILITIES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—The business sessions of the tenth annual convention of the American Association of Engineers opened here today with an address by Webster L. Benham, Kansas City, Mo., president of the organization.

"We must encourage the participation of members in governmental affairs and encourage qualified engineers to accept public appointments and responsibilities," he said.

Orlando, Fla., the twin cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul, and Honolulu are seeking the next convention of the association. The city will be selected on Friday.

DROPS FIGHT AGAINST SCIENTISTS; RESIGNS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BOSTON, June 11.—Federal Judge Andersen today dismissed the suit brought by Mrs. Catherine Aller of Phoenix, Ariz., seeking to have the directors of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of this city and the trustees of the Christian Science Publishing Society restrained from refusing to print her card as a practitioner in the Christian Science Journal. The dismissal was made at the request of Mrs. Aller, who notified the court that she had resigned from the Christian Science church.

FARMER RUNS AMUCK, KILLS ONE, HURTS TWO

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

FORT MORGAN (Colo.) June 11.—George Bath, a farmer, killed his 13-year-old daughter Lydia and dangerously injured his wife and another daughter, Marie, with a crowbar today as they slept in their home near here. Then he hanged himself. Five other children, all under 12, escaped and gave the alarm. Bath had been worried over financial affairs, according to friends.

LOVE MARRIAGE GAINS IN CHINA

Girls Absorb American Idea of Wedlock Basis

University Co-eds Organize to Defy Traditions

Frame Bill of Rights Against Mastery of Man

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SHANGHAI, June 11.—The girls of China have absorbed the American notion that love is the real basis for marriage. The notion is so common in America now that it is taken for granted, but Chinese girls defy all the traditions of 3000 years when they voice such sentiments.

But a movement has started among all of the girl students in Chinese government universities which has this notion as its basis. Miss Mo Yi-min, an advanced young woman at the government university in Peking, first suggested the movement. And the readiness of Chinese girls to accept it was illustrated by the rapidity with which the movement spread to the schools of other cities, including Shanghai.

FRAME BILL OF RIGHTS

And having started making demands for new "rights," the Chinese girls have not stopped. The new society has just framed a bill of rights which would probably satisfy even an American girl—though the latter would never think of asking for such things, but would simply take them.

These girl students in China are demanding that the Confucian idea that man is the master of woman shall be painlessly eliminated, that the system of polygamy shall be abolished, that the slave-dealing marriage methods shall be vigorously opposed. They ask also that laws shall be revised to make men and women equal, that women laborers be given a square deal and that feminine education be everywhere encouraged.

COEDUCATION GAINS

During the few years since the close of the World War coeducation has been introduced into most of the higher government schools in China. It has been pronounced entirely successful by the girls themselves and by the school authorities. But the older generation, nourished in the Confucian tradition, is shaking its head mournfully. Its members point to the new movement among the girl students as an example of the menace of coeducation. The girls are getting radical notions into their heads and it will be difficult to get them out, say their elders.

But Chinese girls, like their sisters in America, seem to know what they want and apparently have the same determination to get it.

NEW RAILWAY LINE PLANNED FOR TEXAS

WILD PROVIDE DIRECT ROUTE BETWEEN PLAINVIEW AND FORT WORTH

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FORT WORTH (Tex.) June 11. Construction of 254 miles of railway, which will round out a direct line between Fort Worth and Plainview, is contemplated by the Fort Worth and Denver City, the Texas corporation of the Colorado Southern, according to F. E. Clarity, vice-president and general manager of the former road. The new line through West Texas will be formed by the construction of seventy-six miles of track between Fort Worth and Stamford, where connection will be made with the Spur and Northwestern line of the Fort Worth and Denver that runs to Spur, and the construction of 178 miles of track from Spur to Plainview.

It is stated by Mr. Clarity that the route of the proposed road is through a region which is undergoing rapid agricultural development and which already produces a large tonnage of various kinds of products. The line will have a length of 340 miles.

RECALL ELECTION IS CALLED ON JUDGESHIP

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FLORENCE (Ariz.) June 11.—A special election has been called for June 28 by the Pinal County Board of Supervisors, to act upon the proposition of the recall of Judge Stephen H. Abbey of the Pinal County Superior Court.

P. A. Salazar, bailiff of the Superior Court, is reported to have received a letter signed "K.K.," advising him, "Be careful—we are watching you." A similar letter lately was received by Judge S. H. Abbey, who was told that the "Invisible Eye is watching you." Another bailiff of the Superior Court has been arrested for carrying concealed weapons, the arrest alleged to have been due to Ku Klux influence.

STRAY VILLISTAS GIVE UP ARMS FOR FOOD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TORREON (Mex.) June 11.—Four Villista rebels, ragged and hungry, appeared before Dimas Garcia of La Loma ranch, delivering to him their arms and ammunition and begging for food and clothing. They claimed they had strayed away from the main band of rebels, and, fearing consequences, preferred to surrender to some private citizen rather than to the military authorities. After being fed and clothed they departed, stating they were going to their homes never again to mix in revolutionary affairs. Afterward the arms and ammunition were turned over to Gen. Mange by Senor Garcia.

ARIZONA PIONEER DEAD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

YUMA (Ariz.) June 11.—Charles Cowell, who died lately in Los Angeles, aged 86, was a noted pioneer and local resident. He was a Civil War veteran, came from California to Tombstone during the bonanza rush and later was a scout in the commands of Gens. Crook and Miles. He discovered lead mines near Bouse and only lately was a visitor to mining property in northern Yuma county.

Chapter LXII
THE CALL

Kendrick half got to his feet, and then sat down again. "We will go back together," he said. "She will be pleased to meet you, and I am sure she will forgive. Won't you come? You know Marthe, her sister, is now quite well, and Elise often talks of you yet."

Lapierre shook his head and at last Kendrick surrendered to his importunings.

Lapierre watched him until he vanished round a bend in the path.

He looked down at the notes Kendrick's generosity had forced upon him. They were, he saw, of high denomination, and there were many of them. He held in his hand almost as much money as he had brought to Monte Carlo. He looked at the phial. In the one hand the tables and their lure, in the other, escape.

He drained the bottle to its dregs.

They found him an hour later, with the notes still clutched in his hand.

Kendrick went back to the Casino post haste. By this time, he was certain, Elise and the others would be there. He must tell her.

In the vestibule an attendant came after.

"Monsieur!" Kendrick looked around. "There has been a telephone call for you, monsieur. It was from the house of Monsieur le Comte Mordac—his servant. The call was but a minute or two ago. Perhaps you would wish to speak to him."

Kendrick waited while the villa was obtained.

"Yes—this is Kendrick."

From the other end came the voice of Jules, Mordac's confidential servant.

"Monsieur! I have tried to get you at your hotel and at the Casino. In despair I was about to ring up the police!"

"The police!"

"But, yes. Will you come up to the villa at once? Something dreadful has happened.

Kendrick dropped the receiver. Jules met him on the steps of the villa.

"What is it?" demanded Kendrick.

Jules gestured with a trembling hand. Kendrick grabbed his shoulder.

"Up in the little smoke-room, monsieur—the one overlooking the Italian garden. You remember it. They—"

Kendrick bounded up the marble staircase.

There were two people in the room—and one of them was dead. Mordac was lying on his back on the divan. From beneath him welled something red and sluggish.

Sitting by Mordac's feet was Lolette. Her gorgeous evening gown was ripped to shreds. On a little Moorish table, beside an ash tray, was a crooked kukri, which Kendrick remembered hung usually on the wall. Its blade was stained. In the ash tray were two cigaret ends.

Lolette looked around.

For the first time since he had known her her eyes were wide. They stared at him without any recognition. In their wildness they reminded him of the yellow eyes of a tiger.

She said: "I killed him. The knife is there. I don't know where his pistol is. He had it in his hand, and you will understand—to shoot Brunel, when I stabbed him in the back—with that."

Kendrick realized that any word from him might send her into hysterics.

"He had thrown me off several times. That is how my beautiful dress got torn. They fought —it was like wild beasts. I was in it —fighting too. I learnt to fight up in the Butte. See the bruise he gave me?"

She showed her shoulder, black and discolored.

"He gave it me," she repeated, and looked at Mordac. "And I loved him. She—that woman—crouched in the corner, screaming! God! Screaming!"

"She!" She—Elise! In this!

Lolette nodded. "But, yes. It was because of her. And I liked him." She leaned forward. "And he did not get her after all. She had resisted him—had fought him off, till Brunel and I arrived."

Kendrick had not known the strength of his own will until those moments. He wanted to seize Lolette, to shake her, to get from her all the truth by urgent, drumming questions; but he restrained himself. Despite the staggering anxiety of his heart, he must wait, for only by waiting could he learn it all.

Where was Brunel? Where was Elise? He dared not try to answer the questions.

"He tricked us—you, too! You, the so clever American. He lied to us all, and we all sucked it in —all of us. But he miscalculated. He did not reckon on me."

Kendrick was now beginning to understand. In some devilish fashion Mordac has so arranged things that he, Brunel and Lolette were down in Monte Carlo while Elise was alone with him in this room.

"But I guessed. I brought Brunel with me. Brunel forced Jules to tell us where they were—in this room. After that—it was all mad —mad I tell you, mad!"

"Where is she now?" he demanded.

She laughed. "God knows!"

He stepped over to the divan. "Now, listen, Lolette," he said gently. "You must remember. What happened—last of all?"

"Brunel picked her up. Of course, I remember. We came up in Brunel's car. There were tins of petrol in the back. He picked her up and carried her out of the room. I heard the car racing away. But—where are you going?"

In the corridor he found Jules. "Come with me!" he ordered.

"Where is the garage?"

"At the back, monsieur."

"Petrol there?"

"Yes, monsieur."

His car's tank was filled, and into the back of the tonneau was flung half a dozen spare cans.

"Now, Jules!" Jules had never seen anybody so horribly cold as this American. "Do you know the castle of Monsieur Brunel beyond Bareges?"

"Yes, monsieur. I was with Monsieur le Comte when we paid the one visit to it."

Kendrick clucked home a gear and raced the engine up. Jules cried out in alarm.

"Where do you take me, monsieur?"

"It is you who take me," snapped Kendrick. "To that castle in the Basses Pyrenees. And if you guide me wrong, may God have mercy on you!"

Lolette heard the car and she laughed.

Tomorrow: Kendrick Drives.

ALL NATIVE INDIANS ARE MADE CITIZENS

BILL SIGNED BY COOLIDGE DOES NOT AFFECT TRIBAL RIGHTS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, June 11.—"As a result of the signing of the Indian Citizenship Act by President Coolidge every native-born Indian in this country is made a citizen of the United States," said Charles H. Burke, Commissioner of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, today.

"The number of Indians given citizenship by the new legislation," he continued, "is approximately 125,000. There are 200,000 Indians who have already been made citizens by various acts passed by Congress in the past. The law just signed by the President lets down the bars and includes every Indian born within the territorial limits of the United States."

Commissioner Burke further stated that the granting of citizenship does not remove the restrictions on the lands of the Indians now under government guardianship, the Supreme Court of the United States having held that wardship is not inconsistent with citizenship.

The bill providing citizenship for Indians, as originally introduced and passed by the House of Representatives, authorized the Secretary of the Interior in his discretion to issue certificates of citizenship to Indians who made application for them. It was amended in the Senate to grant citizenship outright to all noncitizen Indians, and this amendment was finally adopted by the House. President Coolidge signed the legislation as amended.

A provision in the act granting citizenship to all the Indians of the United States stipulates that the Indians' right to tribal or other property shall not be impaired or otherwise affected.

BRITISH SHIPS GAIN BY LIQUOR TREATY

GIVEN GREAT ADVANTAGE OVER FOREIGN VESSELS IN RUM CARRYING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) June 11. The signing of the international treaty on liquor carrying and the right of search within one hour's run of the United States shores has had the effect of confining the carrying of liquor from the United Kindom to this port to British steamers only if the boats call at United States ports northbound.

Foreign boats have been sharing this liquor-carrying trade between Scotland and Vancouver and have been coming direct, like the British boats, without touching at American ports.

As the countries from which these boats come are not parties to the new rum pact these boats will be compelled to either continue to bring their liquor direct or discontinue the trade.

British boats will have the advantage, as they can carry liquor and still call at Pacific Coast American ports if necessary. The only stipulation is that the liquor must be properly listed and placed under seal by United States customs officials when the boat enters an American port.

RULES AUTO NOT MAN'S CASTLE IN DRY LAW

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, June 11.—A late decision of United States Judge F. C. Jacobs was against a moot contention that a man's automobile should be considered in the same castle-like class as his domicile, this with especial reference to search by prohibition agents. To a degree backed by a Northern Arizona ruling, there had been assertion on behalf of bootleggers that a prohibition officer had no right to even peep into an automobile unless he were provided at the time with a search warrant for that particular car. In the case of Gabriel Aguilar, Judge Jacobs ruled an officer's glance into the car and his subsequent discovery of whisky therein did not constitute a search within the meaning of the statute.

LIGHT AND POWER MERGER AT DALLAS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DALLAS (Tex.) June 11.—Completion of the power transmission line of the Texas Power and Light Company of Dallas from Hillsboro to Tyler and Palestine is followed by the announcement that that company has taken over by the merger process the electric light and power plant of the Texas Public Utility Company at Lufkin, and the local electric light and power plant at Crockett. Negotiations are pending for the absorption of other similar plants in East Texas by the Texas Power and Light Company, it is stated. This company now serves 120 towns and cities of Texas. It has under consideration an expansion of its power transmission generating system to South Texas and the construction of one or more additional generating stations.

RAILROAD ORDERED SOLD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

POPLAR BLUFF (Mo.) June 11. Sale of the Cape Girardeau Northern Railroad, at a minimum price of $750,000, has been ordered for July 2 by the special master in the case following foreclosure proceedings. The line, which has been in receivership for a number of years, has a book value of $1,800,000. It has 104 miles of track. It runs from Cape Girardeau northwestward to Farmington.

Located where the climate is ideal, on a [illegible] bay, where the mountains meet the sea, in the front yard of one of the world's [illegible] cities, Santa Monica offers more summer attractions, variety, advantages, comforts and conveniences than would be possible any other place in the world.

Every member of the family can have recreation adapted to his needs—rest, relaxation, land, water and air sports, varied amusements—and at the same time he can take advantage of endless opportunities in all phases of education, inspiration, entertainment and business which would be wholly out of reach at most resorts.

The Pacific Palisades Chautauqua and Summer Schools offer a wide range of interest and instruction from kindergarten to international thinking—from home making and politics to inspiration and world peace—with many prominent speakers.

The beach offers a great battery of amusements natural and artificial. One of the best golf courses in the state for women is here. There are beautifully situated municipal tennis courts. Santa Monica is internationally famous in tennis.

Within forty minutes you can reach the outdoor symphony concerts in the Hollywood Bowl or the Pilgrimage Play in the same vicinity. (In the Hollywood Mountains.) University summer sessions will be on in the city. Mountain resorts can be easily reached for a trip or variety. You can make any kind of a program—your opportunities are unlimited.

You can go into the city and shop during the wonderful summer sales, do things for the children and yourself that you can not do at home, get business and market information, make contacts and acquaintances that will be helpful during the year.

In these days merely going somewhere to waste the summer is not profitable. If one would keep up with progress and business he must make his recreation time count for edification, instruction and better equipment to meet all the needs and activities of the rest of the year when he is more or less circumscribed and limited in his opportunities and his time.

At Santa Monica are the things most sought in summer, yet within easy reach are thousands of things that you may never have an opportunity to enjoy or take advantage of unless you do it in this way—during your vacation.

In the center of the page are a few of the attractive apartments and flats, furnished and unfurnished, where you can find elegant quarters for the summer or permanently.

These are in the Palisades district 150 feet above and slightly removed from the beach front. All have ocean or mountain outlook or both. You will find some very beautiful apartments and situations among these and others. You can find quarters modest or magnificent at reasonable rates to suit your inclination and your purse. And you will find a nice class of people both as hosts and fellow guests.

ENJOYING THE BEACH

Located where the climate is ideal, on a great bay, where the mountains meet the sea, in the front yard of one of the world's great cities, Santa Monica offers more summer attractions, variety, advantages, comforts and conveniences than would be possible any other place in the world.

Every member of the family can have recreation adapted to his needs--rest, relaxation, land, water and air sports, varied amusements--and at the same time he can take advantage of endless opportunities in all phases of education, inspiration, entertainment and business which would be wholly out of reach at most resorts.

The Pacific Palisades Chautauqua and Summer Schools offer a wide range of interest and instruction from kindergarten to international thinking--from home making and politics to inspiration and world peace--with many prominent speakers.

The beach offers a great battery of amusements natural and artificial. One of the best golf courses in the state for women is here. There are beautifully situated municipal tennis courts. Santa Monica is internationally famous in tennis.

Within forty minutes you can reach the outdoor symphony concerts in the Hollywood Bowl or the Pilgrimage Play in the same vicinity. (In the Hollywood mountains.) University summer sessions will be on in the city. Mountain resorts can be easily reached for a trip or variety. You can make any kind of a program--your opportunities are unlimited.

SEA OUTLOOK FURNISHED APARTMENTS

You can go into the city and shop during the wonderful summer sales, do things for the children and yourself that you can not do at home, get business and market information, make contacts and acquaintances that will be helpful during the year.

In these days merely going somewhere to waste the summer is not profitable. If one would keep up with progress and business he must make his recreation time count for edification, instruction and better equipment to meet all the needs and activities of the rest of the year when he is more or less circumscribed and limited in his opportunities and his time.

At Santa Monica are the things most sought in summer, yet within easy reach are thousands of things that you may never have an opportunity to enjoy or take advantage of unless you do it in this way--during your vacation.

In the center of the page are a few of the attractive apartments and flats, furnished and unfurnished, where you can find elegant quarters for the summer or permanently.

These are in the Palisades district, 150 feet above and slightly removed from the beach front. All have ocean or mountain outlook or both. You will find some very beautiful apartments and situations among these and others. You can find quarters modest or magnificent at reasonable rates to suit your inclination and your purse. And you will find a nice class of people both as hosts and fellow guests.

GIANT FOREST IN FULL BLOOM

Nature Dons Best Attire as Summer Days Approach

Tulare County Cities Act to Conserve Water

Southern Planters Interested in California Cotton

GIANT FOREST (Sequoia National Park) June 11.—Giant Forest is at its best. Dogwood is in full blossom—white stars against forest green. Blood red snow plants are pushing through the carpet of pine, fir and sequoia needles. The meadows are brilliant green and shooting stars, white and yellow violets and false hellebore are coming into bloom. Deer are abundant around the camps and bear are at the Bear Pit every evening to the great delight of the visitors—especially the kiddies.

Travel is much heavier to Giant Forest this season than last year, 3584 cars and 11,050 visitors in 1924 comparing with 1766 cars and 5450 visitors for the same period of 1923.

The Giant Forest Lodge is open and Manager E. H. Maize reports a busy season. The lodge can accommodate forty guests in cabins and sixty in tents on the American plan, with meals at a central dining-room. The housekeeping camps will care for 120 people.

The postoffice, general store, Lindley Eddy Studio and Curio Store, telephone and telegraph office, rent burros—all are open for business at Giant Forest. Meat and vegetable markets will also be ready in a few days.

Further improvement of the excellent roads leading to Gen. Grant National Park has resulted in travel this season of 2261 autos and 9310 visitors. The Grant Park Lodge is open under new management and reports capacity business.

HEADS BOY SCOUTS

EXETER, June 11.—Frank W. Mixter of Exeter was elected president of the Tulare county Boy Scout Council at the last meeting of the county executive board for this season. Council meetings will not be resumed until September. Mixter succeeds Dr. Elmo Zumwalt of Tulare, whose term of office expired and who asked to be relieved from service.

This meeting was held in conjunction with the Visalia Scout Council and plans were completed for the Boy Scout camp to be held at Wolverton, Giant Forest.

COTTON POPULAR CROP

PORTERVILLE, June 11.—Marked interest is being displayed in cotton raising as a future industry in Porterville district, according to Clayton Hickle, secretary of the Porterville Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Hickle reports arrival of a number of practical cotton men from Tennessee and South Carolina who have been attracted here by cotton development now under way and plans for future planting. Letters from cotton States are also arriving almost daily.

Cotton acreage in Porterville-Poplar districts is now estimated at about 2000 acres and it is believed that with success this season, this planting will be increased to 5000 acres next year. Yield would then be about 7500 bales, according to estimate. There is said to be from 10,000 to 15,000 acres available for cotton planting in this district if production continues as favorable as last season.

FINE RECKLESS DRIVER

TULARE, June 11.—George Simmons of Kingsburg was fined $100 in local Police Court with a choice of fifty days in the Tulare County Jail when convicted on a charge of reckless driving. A. B. Hanchett of San Francisco caused the man's arrest. With Simmons, and driving the car, was Clara Carlson of Selma. Both were alleged to have been in a partially intoxicated condition. The woman was sent back to Selma. It was expected that friends of Simmons would pay the fine.

CONSERVE WATER SUPPLY

VISALIA, June 11.—Attention of water users is called to necessity of conservation, at least to the extent of obeying long-standing city ordinences prohibiting use of water for irrigation purposes between 8 p.m. and 6 a.m.

The company's pumps are handling the domestic situation and with a few outlying exceptions the supply has been maintained. However, the pumps are drawing considerable air and the general situation, with the low-water table, is such that the company has asked patrons to assist through curtailment of what may be described as waste water.

MAY LOCATE IN VISALIA

VISALIA, June 11. — Col. and Mrs. Kenneth Gardner of New York City, who have been visiting in Visalia for a few days, have gone to Giant Forest. Col. Gardner, who is retired, is considering establishing a home here. He was escorted on a tour of Tulare county by A. E. Miot, secretary of the Tulare County Board of Trade. Col. and Mrs. Gardner were accompanied to Giant Forest by Harry Beidleman, secretary of the Visalia Chamber of Commerce.

A SIGNIFICANT PIN-FALL

A pin was dropped on a desk by a speaker at the dedication of the new building of the National Academy of Sciences and the National Research Council in Washington. That pin-fall was perhaps the most significant and widely heard of any in all history. Without being warned to silence, every person in the high-domed, wide-winged hall plainly heard the pin as it struck the woodwork. Thousands of radio listeners, hundreds of miles way, also heard. Specially designed artificial stone walls made the sound clear, distinct, without those hollow echoes which characterize high-vaulted buildings of the past. That pin-fall sounded an engineering triumph in the long-neglected science of acoustics.—[Kansas City Star.

Oil From Birds

One of the curiosities of bird life of South America is the "oil bird" or guacharo. It breeds in rocky caves on the mainland, and one of its favorite haunts is the island of Trinidad. It lays its eggs in a nest made of mud, and the young birds are prodigiously fat. The natives melt the fat down in clay pots, and produce from it a kind of butter. The caves inhabited by the birds are usually accessible only from the sea, and the hunting of them is sometimes an exciting sport.

DANCES HER WAY INTO FILMS

Girl Has Been in Best of Stage Plays

Helen Doty

COMING to Los Angeles for an engagement in a girl revue, Helen Doty has danced her way into the films.

A specialty dancer in "Sally," in the Chicago Grand Opera Company, and with Mitzi in "The Magic Ring," as well as the premier dancer in a big revue in Chicago last summer, Miss Doty has been given a part in "Deburau," by Harry Beaumont. He is shortly to begin filming that picture at the Warner Brothers' studio.

Miss Doty was featured in "Song of India," on the Keith Circuit, and came to Los Angeles to do a specialty dancing act with "The Passing Parade of 1924," which recently opened at the Rendezvous.

PARIS DAY BY DAY

Montparnasse

BY RAYMOND G. CARROLL

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1924, Public Ledger.]

PARIS, June 11.—Mademoiselle Musette, of the type whose custom it is to sleep till about mid-day, screamed from a near-pavement table in front of the Rotonde Cafe at the corner of the Boulevards Montparnasse and Raspail on the Left Bank, and called for some Frenchman in the crowds about her to come to her assistance. There was no response, and subsequent inquiry developed that there were no Frenchmen, all being aliens.

The troubles of Musette need a Stephen Crane to tell them at length. I shall dismiss them mith a word—"tipsy." They only served to demonstrate the international character of the district in Paris, which is being heralded world-wide as the "New Latin Quarter."

Montparnasse is three things to Paris, a railroad station, a boulevard and a cemetery. The swiftest way to have one's life ticket punched for the three places is to become a regular patron of the Rotonde, and its two equally famous neighboring resorts, the Dome and the Jockey.

A soft-voiced little man named Brossau, with chin-whiskers, acknowledges the proprietorship of the Rotonde Cafe; a double-decked restaurant with a stuffy child's-size dancing room upstairs having an excellent jazz band in attendance, and an outdoor spread of tables which fan to the curb of Montparnasse Boulevard on one side and to taxi-tires on the Raspail side.

"I am the center of the world," he boasted, "and it all came to me in three years. Brossau is very kind to poor artists who bring their pictures to hang on the walls of my place. I have 200 paintings—maybe you like to buy one?"

They proved to be an exceedingly poor lot of paintings. Brossau takes them in trade for his drinks, and then disposes of them to wealthy slummers who buy when under the influence of his drinks.

The Dome across the Montparnasse does the same in the name of art, and a couple of blocks up the boulevard at the Rue Campagne Premiere is the Jockey, a dump cut to the pattern of Greenwich Village in New York with one supposedly American joke hung on its walls:

"We only lost one customer—he died."

Every few weeks somebody "shoots" the resorts of the Montparnasse for the screen, and thereafter the Rotonders, Domeites and Jockeyians spend the next months at the movies to find themselves in the news-reel pictures.

Today was one of those joyous occasions, and Montparnasse faced the camera all dressed up to kill. In the international mix-up of art students and those there to be mistaken for students, on the cafe terrace when the picture-grinder arrived at 4 o'clock were several Americans who with great composure, posed behind their glasses of cordiale, and lifting their cigarettes to their lips in a graceful curve that avoided the tips of their horn-rimmed spectacles, struck what they thought to be the note of true Americansim needed among the representatives of five to six other continents who make up the Montparnasse aperitif season.

Hishi Homa of the Chickasaw Nation, who is known by the paleface name of Overton Colbert in his Paris studio, where he aims to interpret the art of his race, did a war dance in all his feathers before the celluloid strip. And the jazz band came out of the upstairs and in the open-air registered sound for a while.

Couples in the weirdest of costumes began to appear. There was Isha, the negro model famous all over the district, in a turban of silver cloth, dancing with a white woman on the pavement; Mme. Emilienne Alencon, once a well-known actress, now a frequenter of cafes, wearing a red hat and accompanied by a new woman friend; Mme. Albert Lazard, a German painter; G. K. Nourwich, a Harvard graduate; Zborovski, an art connoisseur; Mme. Wrassiloff, who has flooded Paris with fantastic dolls, and George Michel, the writer, who was also the translator of Kipling's works into the French language.

In the mention of Michel's name the secret of the whole "shooting" was revealed. The films were for his next and fifty-first book to be called "Les Montparnasse," a sensational history of the district, its vices, virtues, its haunts, cafes, cabarets and notables of the last ten years—the Montparnasse that has known Lenine, Trotzky, Picasso, Epstein and many other international celebrities.

One cure for "Bohemia" habits is to study its personnel by daylight. It is a life which is itself a tragic comedy in fancy dress, a life unreal, existing wholly in exaggeration. Everybody is a poseur, wants to be thought famous and most of the aspirants have neither the talent nor the luck for that.

They see the cemetery at the end of the way; in actuality only a few blocks distant. And meanwhile there is the stern reality of day by day, the necessity for funds to keep up the illusion of false importance. Hence the writing of another letter to some distant home, begging for just one more check to attain a fancied triumph.

They drink and drink and drink in the Montparnasse in the feverish gayety of the gambler who has staked his all on one throw of the dice. False sentiment! Silly hopes! Boys and girls from everywhere who believe their own lies, and fool even themselves.

To shake off the sadness produced by the sunshine in the ashen faces of the Montparnasse, we returned to the Right Bank of the Seine and hastened to the Place des Etat, where stands the new statue to Alan Seger, known to Paris in prewar days as "the starving American." But a few steps distant is the Avenue du President Wilson.

Seger was a genuine Bohemian of genius, his "I Have a Rendezvous With Death" ranking among the best of the war time poems. He was a soldier in the Foreign Legion of the French Army, and was killed in the Somme. When the war started Seger's entire works were at a printing place in Bruges, and it was due to the energy of John W. Garrett, an American, who had charge of the exchange of prisoners, that they were recovered from the Germans.

It is not generally known, but Seger, was suffering from the "white plague" when shot down by the Germans. He refused to take advantage of an opportunity to be discharged.

Some French officers decided it would be a good idea to get up a memorial for him. Marshal Foch thought the proposed memorial inadequate and said: "Better give him a bunch of violets—they at least are beautiful, and mean more than what you suggest." The upshot was that a statue was decided on, for which Foch himself gave 5000 francs, a really handsome gift, for his annual salary is only 18,000 francs.

In the same square with the Seger statue, which was done from a photograph by a French sculptor, is the bronze group of Washington and Lafayette presented to Paris by the late Joseph Pulitzer, who always knew the fitting thing to do. The acts of Foch and Pulitzer made the day for us, and completely submerged the ill effects of Montparnasse.

To protect pedigreed dogs Parisian fanciers are having their canines' paw-prints taken at birth in order to verify identification later on. This method, it is hoped, will make it impossible for unprincipled dealers to pass off mongrels as the progeny of dogs of high degree.

RUM SHIP MARK FOR GUN CREWS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW LONDON (Ct.) June 11.—Following a thrilling chase near Block Island, the palatial oil-burning yacht Vereign was captured by the revenue cutter Seminole after one of seven shots plowed through the pilot house of the yacht and wounded the captain and two members of the crew, one of whom was taken to a hospital here in a critical condition.

The Vereign was laden with more than 1400 cases of champagnes, whiskies and alcohol valued at about $100,000, and the ship itself is said to be valued at nearly twice that amount.

The shell which found its mark on the yacht exploded near the three men in the pilot house. All narrowly escaped death. As it was, John Stack, 35 years of age, of Brooklyn, lost a portion of his right leg and his right thumb. There were thirteen men aboard besides the captain.

The yacht steamed out of Newport and took on its liquor load at Rum Row off Montauk Point. She was first sighted by the Seminole southeast of Block Island, apparently making for the Connecticut shore. She was ordered to heave to by Capt. Philip H. Scott of the Seminole, who shouted through a megaphone, but the reply of the Vereign was increased speed and a zigzag course.

The chase led for several miles, with the government ship steadily gaining. But the gain was not sufficient to overhaul the fleeing yacht, so it was decided to direct a few shots at her.

First a blank shot was loosed and then four solid shots were fired, but none found its mark. The yacht put on more power and speeded at forced draught. Then two shells were fired by the Seminole. The first exploded over the pilot house, where the captain was at the wheel with Stack on the bridge. The second registered a full hit on the pilot house, where it exploded.

Stack fell to the floor of the bridge probably mortally wounded, and the captain and one other member of the crew were severely lacerated by flying splinters from the wrecked pilot house. The captain gave up and gave orders to heave to, following which the Seminole drew alongside.

The prize was towed to this city, while first aid was administered to the three injured men. When the ships arrived here an ambulance was summoned and Stack was taken to the hospital. The captain and thirteen members of his crew were arraigned before United States Commissioner Earl Mathewson, but all refused to give their names.

KNEW ALL ABOUT IT

A farmer called at the village postoffice.

"Hello, Seth!" he said. "Got anything here for me?"

"Don't see nothin', Jake," replied the postmaster. "Was ye expectin' somethin'?"

"Yes," answered the farmer. "I was expectin' a postcard from my Aunt Jinny, tellin' me what day she was comin' down."

"Hanner," called the postmaster to his wife, "have ye seen anything of a postcard from Jake Leed's Aunt Jimmy?"

"Yes," was the prompt reply. "She is comin' down on Thursday."

Women used to spend hours embroidering designs on laundry bags, shopping bags and the many other utility bags that need a design to dress them up. It takes less time and the result is more effective if a cut-out from cretonne or silk is attached to the bag with a drop of liquid glue. Raw edges may be covered with narrow ribbon.

NEW FINANCING BY ARGENTINA

Short Term Treasury Notes Now Being Offered

Western Chemicals Approved for Local Listing

Barker Brothers Make Good Report; Business News

New financing of the Argentine Republic was announced yesterday by Blair & Co., Inc., in the offering of $10,000,000 government of the Argentine one year 5 1-4 per cent treasury gold notes, at 100 1-4 and interest to yield about 5 per cent.

The notes, according to the bankers, will be a direct obligation of the Argentine government, and the proceeds of the sale of the issue are to be available for the general purposes of the government. The national debt of the republic as of December 31, 1923 at gold parities of exchange, amounts to pesos 932,000,000 gold, the equivalent to $100 per capita in the United States.

The Argentine Republic has an area of approximately 1,100,000 square miles or over one-third of the area of the United States, and leads all South American countries in the volume of foreign trade. Railroad mileage totals 22,355 miles and the government has considerable more under construction.

The bankers state that the government of the Argentine nation 5½ per cent treasury gold notes due August 25, 1924, will be accepted on a 4 per cent interest basis in payment for the one year notes.

NEW LISTINGS

Listing of the stock of Western Chemicals Inc., a company operating properties in Nevada and Arizona for the production of heavy chemicals, has been approved by the board of governors of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, and the shares will be called for the first time tomorrow.

The company was incorporated in Nevada in 1919 and has an authorized capitalization of $5,000,000 of which $2,825,896 is outstanding with a par value of $1. Properties operated consist of a potash, alum and sulphur deposit at Alum, and an alum and sulphur deposit near Silver Peak, both in Nevada, and a sodium sulphate holding at Camp Verde, Ariz., where a reduction plant with a capacity of 300 tons daily is in operation. In its report to the listing committee of the exchange, the company states that orders for its products are in excess of the plant's capacity.

Officers and directors are J. A. Cavers, president; S. D. Pepin, secretary; J. A. Roberts, treasurer; W. D. Roberts, E. B. Moore, L. F. Lorenz and T. Will Rice.

BARKER BROTHERS

Net profits for the first five months of 1924 before income taxes reported by Barker Brothers, show earnings are running at the annual rate of over 7.3 times the yearly dividend requirements of the first preferred stock, according to Hunter, Dulin & Co., and Bond & Goodwin & Tucker, underwriters of the preferred stock issue.

As of May 31, there were total net assets of over $298 behind each share of the first preferred stock of which $205 were net current assets. Net sales for May were $1,187,348, an increase over each of the two preceding months.

STORAGE HOLDINGS

Compared with a year ago, cold-storage holdings of apples as of May 30, 1924 increased from 67,980 boxes to 193,966 boxes in the Los Angeles district, which consists of Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Pasadena, San Diego and Santa Barbara, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Onions increased from 900 sacks to 2367 and potatoes held in storage advanced from 47,786 to 69,690 sacks.

Estimates by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the commercial peach production in the United States as of June 1, 1924 place the total at 52,514,000 boxes as against 45,702,000 boxes counted at the end of 1923 and reported as the final crop. The bureau estimates California's production at 13,584,000, compared to 15,830,000 at the end of 1923.

TEXAS WOOL CLIP

Wool buyers in Texas report the sale of the first lot of six to eight months' wool clip of the season totaling 400,000 pounds to Studley & Emery, and Hallowell, Jones & Donald, both of Boston. The prices ranged from 47 to 50 cents a pound for twelve months' wool and 42 to 44 cents for six to eight months' clip. All of the wool was produced in Sutton county, where a considerable quantity of the spring remains to be sold.

NEW DISCOUNT FIRM

Formation of the Commerce Discount and Acceptance Company for the purpose of discounting the time payment contracts of dealers in household equipment, machinery, supplies and specialties of various kinds, is announced. The company has opened offices in the Van Nuys Building.

DAILY TRADE TALK

Big Glass Company Invades Local Field; Business Outlook as Seen by Expert Observers

The Beavers Glass Manufacturing Company, with offices in the W. M. Garland Building, yesterday announced the purchase of the Federal Glass Plant at Compton and the election of a directorate. Plans are being made for the erection of new buildings which will increase the capacity of the Compton plant fourfold, and a vigorous financial campaign is to be immediately inaugurated, the necessary authority having been secured from the Corporation Commissioner, according to George R. Emery of the company.

The concern will manufacture a newly invented triple-seal Mason jar and will also have exclusive manufacturing and distributing rights in Pacific Coast territory of a patent top which, it is claimed, eliminates the bad features of the old-fashioned jars, involving the fitting of rubber bands, the soaking in hot water to remove them, the burned hands and oozing contents.

The principle of the new top is embodied in a paraffin fiber disc, which takes the place of the usual rubber ring. The heat of the contents effectively seals the cap onto the jar when it is screwed down, and keeps them in perfect condition. A small square length of metal rod is fitted into the groove on each cap and a slight twist, due to the leverage employed, opens the most stubborn jar with ease and safety, according to the inventor.

The company has a total authorized capital stock of 5000 shares of preferred, par value $100, and 5000 shares of common, no par value. The stock will be offered in units of two preferred and one common for $200, and the proceeds of the issue are to be used to purchase, enlarge and equip the Compton plant and to carry the business to an established market, which, President Beavers said yesterday, is already assured.

"There is an almost unlimited market on this Coast for all lines of glassware," he said. "The wholesale jobbers who are dealing in fruit jars, which this company will specialize in the manufacture of, are at present compelled to buy their goods in the East and Middle Western States, and the amount of business done on the Pacific Coast amounts to approximately 1500 carloads, representing an expenditure of between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 annually, this amount being spent for home canning exclusively. Being compelled to buy in the East, the jobber is frequently called upon to carry over large stocks of an extremely bulky product which 'freezes' valuable capital in freight and warehouse charges."

CONTRACTS ON HAND

The company already has over $500,000 worth of contracts calling for delivery within six months, according to Mr. Beavers, who added that the factory would give initial employment to between 200 and 300 workers.

The directorate includes Elmer Beavers, president, who is also vice-president and director of the Beavers Seal Jar Cap Company of Norristown, Pa.; formerly associated with large eastern corporations, and for the past five years engaged in the fruit-jar and cap business; Ray W. Clark, vice-president, who is director and assistant to the president of the National City Bank of Los Angeles; H. H. James, treasurer, who is director and assistant secretary-treasurer of the Merchants' Mortgage and Finance Company of Los Angeles; State Senator Frank A. Arbuckle, representing Ventura and Santa Barbara counties, and salesmanager for John A. Vaughn & Co.; Harold G. Ferguson, formerly associated with the county counsel's office; Mr. Ferguson resigned as trust officer of the California Trust Company to become vice-president of the Evans Ferguson Corporation and director of the Pacific National Bank of Los Angeles; J. Charrey, contractor and builder and former director in the Eastman Kodak Company of St. Paul, and president and director of the Midway Glass Company. E. E. Fitch is secretary of the company.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

Speaking of the decline in business activity, the Mechanics and Metals National Bank of New York, in its June review, says:

"There is under way a perceptible slowing down in the country's trade activity, and, more than anything else, the business community is seeking to learn whether this is a passing phase or whether it is due to fundamental economic conditions that are unsound.

"Much depends, so far as both the immediate and the longer future of our national prosperity is concerned, on the forces that are responsible for the current decline in business volume. The Presidential election, which is only five months off, and the discouragement of the spirit of enterprise because of Congress, are most often mentioned when reasons are sought for the decline. But other reasons are also frequently mentioned, and in making the distinction between them, those who look beneath the surface for underlying indications are inclined to give these more than momentary attention.

"If, as so many people believe, the downward turn finds its primary cause in politics, it may quite readily be determined that the current movement is of minor importance, to be followed presently by an upward swing and by renewed prosperity. If, one the other hand, the downward turn finds its cause in weak and unsound economic conditions, it may just as readily be determined that what is under way is a major movement of business adjustment, in which basic changes may compel a continuing reaction, until trade activity and prices are alike on a scale in keeping with altered conditions.

DETERRING FACTORS

"Briefly, then, what is there in the current situation to imply a possible unfavorable major variation in the country's trade? For one thing, there is the altered buying power of the farm communities. For another, there is the country's improperly balanced scale of industrial activity, already alluded to, with undue dependence on automobile manufacturing and building construction. Then there is the excessive scale of wages, insisted upon by labor in return for limited hours of work. There is the nation's annual burden of more than $7,000,000,000 of taxes. Still again, there is the lack of stability in our relations with foreign markets.

"Reasons like these, and others that are collateral to them, have undoubtedly had a part in turning the business community conservative, making it tread warily in its forward commitments. At the same time, one is impelled to believe, for the moment at least, that the current decline in business is of minor rather than major significance, and that fear of underlying dangers is not destined to carry business immediately into any region of sharp curtailment."

ANOTHER VIEWPOINT

James B. Clews, of Henry Clews & Co., New York, sees a disposition to await the outcome of the political conventions before forming any very definite opinion about the relation of politics and business. "Financial leaders," this authority says, "apparently feel fairly well assured of the prospects and are disposed to regard the future with a reasonable degree of satisfaction. The apparent loss of ground on the part of the radicals has, of course, stimulated this view of the matter.

"One of the most encouraging forecasts of business conditions has been published by the Federal Reserve Board, which finds that there is a good deal of reason for believing that business conditions have about reached the low point in the course of their reaction and that from now on recovery may be expected.

"Cabinet officers who have discussed the situation have likewise taken the view within the last few days that whatever reaction there has been is slight in its total effect and need not be reckoned as a really discouraging feature. They base these views upon the continued maintenance of a good export trade and a substantial volume of production. This does not alter the fact that difficulty is found in connection with the narrow margin between cost of producing goods and selling prices, which remains one of the principal barriers to decisive advance in stock values.

MARKET OUTLOOK

"Market prospects cannot, of course, be expected to develop definitely until more is known of the political future. Nevertheless with the signing of the tax bill one great question has been removed and the market already presents a more hopeful appearance. Still it is an encouraging sign that investors are paying so little attention to the threat of the radical wing to run a third ticket, and this can only be accounted for by the fact that the belief is growing stronger daily that Mr. Coolidge, in spite of any and all opposition, will receive the support of a majority of the voters when it comes to a showdown next fall.

"The technical position of the market is quite strong by reason of the comparatively small amount of stocks carried by Wall street houses generally and the large outstanding bear account. With call money abundant and cheap it has, at all events, the foundation prepared for vigorous recovery whenever the time comes that general business and political conditions will permit. Considering the very generous income returns from stocks, going quotations cannot be regarded as high."

WOOL MARKET HAS LIMITED ACTIVITY

NEW RECEIPTS LIGHT; LACK OF SNAP IN EAST REACTS ON WESTERN GROWERS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHILADELPHIA, June 11.—The local wool market remains limited in activity and easy in tone. Moderate buying, mainly from out-of-town sources, tending irregular makes it difficult for the trader to hold a definite position. Values keep fairly within last week's range, though here and there a small lot is reported sold at a shade less than the low range. Small supplies locally have been a material aid to dealers in maintaining a good trading position, neither the limited demand nor original strength in the West affecting the general tone of the market. Most local business has been done in three-eighths and quarter-blood wools.

The lack of snap in the eastern centers is beginning to have a real effect on western growers. Some Oregon wools have been reported bought at 38-39 cents, compared with previous sales at 40 cents. Movement of new clip wools has been comparatively light, dealers estimating that not 50 per cent of the volume received this time last year has arrived in this market. Buying has been less bold among local dealers than in other centers, the situation in the mills hereabouts having had a restraining influence on statistical temptations toward speculation.

The worsted situation grows no better. There is talk of opening the lightweight season earlier than usual this season, but yarn merchants see little possibility of their trade benefiting. The piecemeal nature of the buying in heavyweights forecasts, they say, a similar condition in lightweights. The current estimate of worsted spinners' stocks indicates that approximately one-half of the trade is carrying abnormal supplies, due to the necessity of maintaining organizations intact.

Prices on good length choice territories have held firm, with the average wools showing a tendency to ease. The range for the week on territories, clean basis, is as follows: Fine staple combing, $1.30 to $1.35; average fine, $1.20 to $1.25; half-blood combing, $1.12 to $1.20; three-eighths combing, $1.05 to $1.07; quarter-blood combing, 85 cents to 90 cents.

New fleece wools have been received in small quantities, with Ohio and similar in light demand. Prices are tending softer, but sales show an actual decrease. Quotations for the most part are nominal, without enough volume of business to warrant a firm idea on all qualities.

POULTRY MARKET IN SAN FRANCISCO

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—A small supply of dressed turkeys were offered during the morning's business today and sold from 28c to 30c per lb. The birds lacked plumpness and the demand was slow. Broilers remained unchanged—just a nominal amount of trading taking place.

Turkeys—Live, 21@23c lb.; dressed, fancy, 28@30c lb.

GOVERNMENT SURVEY OF BUSINESS

Trade Indices Reveal Trend of Commercial and Industrial Movements

The Department of Commerce announces the following figures covering basic industrial and commercial movements in May:

Sales of two large mail-order houses totaled $27,404,000 in May of this year as compared with $33,836,000 in the preceding month and $29,261,000 a year ago. The price index of twenty-five industrial stocks, relative to 1913 as 100, remained unchanged from April at 183 and compares with 186 in May of last year.

The price index of twenty-five railroad stocks, computed on the same basis, stood at seventy-five in May, showing no change from the preceding month and comparing with seventy-three a year ago. Stock transactions in May were fewer than in the previous month and about 42 per cent less than a year ago.

A total of $305,740,000, representing an increase of about 4 per cent over a year ago, will be paid to investors during the month of June in the form of dividends and interest. Dividend payments will amount to $64,840,000, an increase of 8 per cent over June of last year. Savings deposits on May 1 were about 8 per cent higher than a year ago.

Interest rates on the New York market declined during May, the average for call money being 3.63 per cent as compared with 4.44 per cent in April and 4.80 per cent in May of last year, while rates on commercial paper at 4.23 per cent may be compared with 4.63 per cent in the previous month and 5.13 per cent last year.

Capital stock of May incorporations aggregated $519,897,000 as against $528,857,000 in the previous month and $817,230,000 a year ago. New capital issues of corporations amounted to $625,919,000 as compared with $265,954,000 in the preceding month and $348,220,000 in May of last year.

The gross debt of the Federal government made a further decline during May, amounting to $21,545,000,000 on June 1, as against $22,631,000,000 a year ago.

FURTHER GAINS IN COTTON CONTRACTS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, June 11.—Cotton futures improved in today's local session, an irregular higher range resulting from short covering mainly induced by bullish reports and the Washington estimate of May consumption. In early trading the list advanced moderately with active short covering in the new crop positions. Profit-taking took the edge off this advance, but in the afternoon, another wave of short covering brought an advance of about half a cent. Later, trading was light and prices eased from the best, to close 28 to 43 points net higher. Spot cotton 29.25, 40 points net higher.

BOND QUOTATIONS

NEW HIGH PRICES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, June 11.—Further readjustment of bond prices to prevailing low money rates today carried the average of leading issues into new high ground for the year. Sales, exceeding $23,000,000, set a record daily total for 1924.

Establishment of a new low figure for long time funds, announcement that the Treasury's $150,000,000 offering at 2 3-4 per cent had been oversubcribed and the whirlwind sale of the "Nickel Plate" $26,000,000 bond issues today accelerated the forward movement of prices.

Widening inquiry for railroad liens quickly carried more than a dozen issues to new 1924 top prices but the high levels to which the leading investment and speculative obligations have been bid up prompted more selective buying and relatively inactive bonds showed the largest net gains for the day. International-Great Northern issues were depressed by reports that the proposed merger with the Gulf Coast Lines had struck a snag.

United States government bonds continued to eclipse their previous 1924 high records today when the Treasury 4 1-4s again achieved a new peak price for all time.

Institutional buying expanded to an exceptionally large volume. Public utility and industrial mortgages also spurted up briskly.

The current ease of money, it was reported, might result in a lower rate for the next Federal Land Bank issue. Offerings of about $40,000,000 bonds is expected this week for the same reason, railroads and corporations contemplating new financing, are said to be proposing to enter the market earlier than they had planned.

Following are closing quotations on bonds listed on the New York Stock Exchange, furnished by Logan & Bryan, 636 South Spring street.

NEW YORK CURB

Spirited Advance

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, June 11.—Stock prices moved to higher ground in today's curb market in sympathy with the brisk advance on the "big board."

Except for a point drop in Prairie Oil and Gas, which closed at 221, all of the active oil shares showed small net gains on the day, ignoring a 15-cent reduction in Smackover crude prices. Standard Oil of Indiana, Kansas and Kentucky and Ohio oil each closed about a point higher.

Strength and activity of the radio stocks was the feature of the industrial list although some good gains were recorded in the public utility group. Commonwealth Power stood out with a gain of 1 point. Ford Motors of Canada dropped 4 points on a few odd lot transactions while Gillette Safety Razor moved up 3 points.

Trading in the bond list was more active with a good demand developing for the high-grade public utility issues.

Following are the closing quotations on the New York Curb market. Furnished by Logan & Bryan, members of the New York Stock Exchange, 636 South Spring street.

CAPITALIZATION

Upon completion of present financing

	Authorized	Outstanding
Common stock	$250,000	$250,000
8% Cumulative preferred stock (this issue)	$250,000	$200,000

BUSINESS: The Company is engaged in the retail lumber business having 10 distributing plants located at advantageous points in Southern California, including the cities of Los Angeles and Pasadena.

ASSETS: The total net assets as of May 1, 1924, after giving effect to the present financing, will be $491,170.73, or more than 2.45 times the par value of preferred stock outstanding.

DIVIDEND GUARANTEE:
Wm. J. Bettingen, President of the Company, guarantees by personal endorsement on each certificate of stock, the payment of dividends when due.

DEATH CLAUSE:
In case of the death of Wm. J. Bettingen, President of the Company, proceeds from life insurance in the amount of $250,000 shall be applied through trust agreement between Wm. J. Bettingen and the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank as trustee to purchase all of this stock presented within ninety days from date of death at 100 and accrued dividend.

COLLATERAL AGREEMENT OF REPURCHASE:
Through a trust agreement with the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank as Trustee, Wm. J. Bettingen further covenants, in case of the default of dividend payment for nine months, to deposit sufficient funds to purchase all outstanding stock to be presented to trustee at par and accrued dividends.

EARNINGS: Net earnings for the year ending December 31, 1923, were $41,112.75, which is over 2½ times dividend requirements on the preferred stock to be issued. Profits for the first four months of 1924 would indicate earning of over 4½ times dividend requirements on the outstanding preferred stock.

PREFERENCES: This issue has preference as to assets and cumulative dividends at the rate of eight per cent per annum, payable quarterly, and the Company's articles of incorporation provide that the Company shall not mortgage its property for the purpose of securing an issue of bonds or otherwise without the consent of the holders of 2-3 of the outstanding preferred stock.

REFERENCES: For the responsibility of Wm. J. Bettingen's guarantee, we refer to the Citizens Savings Bank of Pasadena and the Dominion Bank of Canada.

All legal matters pertaining to this issue have been passed upon for us by Mott & Vallee, Esqrs., of Los Angeles.

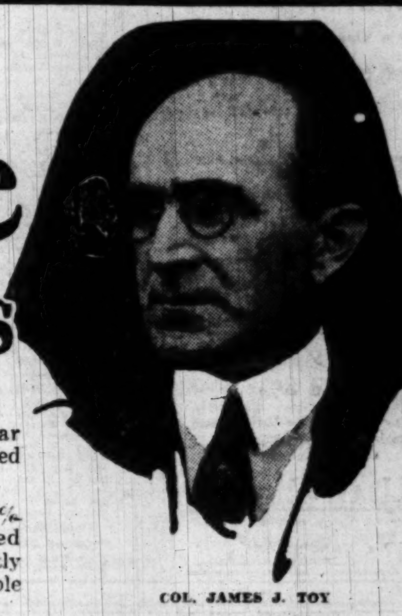
To duplicate a war-time success



COL. JAMES J. TOY
Pres. and Genl. Mgr.
DeLuxe Laundry Association

A business man of wide experience—recognized nationally as an authority on Industrial Efficiency—during the war organized the Army Laundries—an undertaking involving thousands of untrained employees and millions of dollars in working capital—is credited with being the only man on record to direct a war-time government activity at a profit.

EVERY doughboy and every civilian familiar with America's war effort knows Colonel Toy, laundryman-in-chief of the United States Army.

During the war the army laundries showed a net profit of over 40% on the invested capital with rates considerably below that charged by commercial companies—an unprecedented return from any strictly government activity in war time. Col. Toy was the man responsible for this achievement.

Under the leadership of Col. Toy the DeLuxe Laundry Association has been formed to duplicate this amazing war-time success under the very favorable conditions existing in Los Angeles today. Col. Toy proposes to put to commercial use the many revolutionary practices and economies developed by him in co-operation with army engineers and government bureaus.

Col. Toy has selected Los Angeles as the ideal city for his first operations. The plant is already completed, one of the largest and finest laundry establishments in the world. Thousands of dollars worth of equipment is being rushed from the East. A large volume of institutional laundry insures full capacity and profit when the first unit of the plant is put into operation September First.

The DeLuxe Laundry Association introduces a new era in the commercial laundry business—a new type of laundry service and satisfaction to the public—and to the investor, many new profit-making economies and efficiences in plant operation.

Col. Toy and his associates have withheld public announcement of this enterprise until their plant was built, their equipment on the way and until large-volume patronage was assured. Today they are offering a limited amount of the capital stock of this Association for public subscription.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Stocks were casual in their movements yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and failed to denote any marked price tendency. Julian Petroleum preferred touched new high ground at 31 7-8 but was unable to hold the position and fell back at the finish to 31 3-4, unchanged from the previous day. The common declined 3-4 of a point to 17 3-4.

Both of the Union Oil stocks pushed upwards 3-4 of a point, Union of California rising to 123 3-4 and Union Oil Associates going to 53 7-8. Standard of California advanced 1-2 to 57. Los Angeles Investment began the day at 3.55 and closed at the top at 3.60, a gain over the previous session of 4 cents.

Gold Dust crossed the boards at 1 cent and Richmond Consolidated was listless at 14 1-2 cents. Telluride sold at 16.

An advance of 1-8 of a point was registered in General Petroleum 7s of 1931 at 105. Southern Counties Gas 5½s of 1936 moved up to 91 5-8.

GRANT GERMAN CREDIT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, June 11.—American bankers today completed negotiations for granting a credit of $25,000,000 to the German Gold Discount Bank, organized by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, extending an initial advance of $5,000,000 made six weeks ago.

ANNOUNCEMENT—

For the convenience of its customers and the general public, The Merchants National Bank of Los Angeles maintains branch offices at the following locations:

Northeast Corner Seventh and Hoover Sts.
W. E. Zimmermann, Manager

Northeast Corner Main and Washington Sts.
G. R. Anderson, Manager

2010 East Seventh Street, Near Mateo Street
J. A. Taylor, Manager

The first two of the above branch offices are permanently located in buildings erected by this bank, with spacious quarters and complete facilities and conveniences. The Seventh and Mateo office, recently opened, while in a temporary location, is prepared to meet the requirements of our customers and will be permanently housed in its own home on the northeast corner of Seventh and Mateo Streets on or about January 1st.

A General Banking Business Is Transacted Through These Branch Offices

Special attention is directed to the business and industrial development of the neighboring districts.

MARKET REVIEW

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, June 11.—Today's general advance in prices on the stock exchange was fairly attributable to the day's further decline in the open money market, the significance of which was emphasized after the close of business by the reduction in the reserve banks' rediscount rate to 3½ per cent. This may properly be called the lowest in the history of the reserve system, for although a rate of 3½ per cent was granted during the early months of our own participation in the European war, it was applied only to rediscounted paper secured by liberty loans and was frankly fixed at that low level only to facilitate subscription to the government's first war loan bearing 3½ per cent interest. In other words, it was purely a war expedient, and, in fact, did not extend to ordinary commercial paper with a sixty or ninety days' maturity, which is the usual criterion of a bank rate. Even during 1917 and 1918 such paper commonly rediscounted at 4 per cent and the ruling rate was higher still, after the liberty loans began to be issued at 4 1-4.

That today's reduction recognized conditions in the open money market was shown by the decline in sixty-day loans on negotiable collateral to 3 per cent, the lowest since the beginning of 1917, and in bankers' acceptances to a lower rate than any heretofore fixed. These visible circumstances, taken along with a surplus reserve for the New York bank and the system as a whole, which has lately far exceeded that of any period since the war, and considered also in the light of the abnormally rapid recent shrinkage in the rediscounts of the Federal banks, explains the reduction. Whether it will or will not actually alter the movements of the credits between the reserve banks and the markets is perhaps doubtful; the reduction from 4½ to 4 per cent at New York on April 30 has had no such result. It will hardly change the position in regard to the present earning power of the reserve banks, they have lately been transferring to direct investment in government securities the resources which found no employment in the rediscount field. But a 3½ per cent rediscount rate would provide some smaller earnings than government securities purchased even at present prices.

Movement of prices on the stock exchange was upward all day and the business done nearly reached the million share mark, being in fact the largest total of any day in more than six weeks. It was not easy to ascribe this sudden return of activity and strength to any other direct influence than the money market's action. The fact that values on the stock exchange had not been shaken by the stories of somewhat startling sidelights on the industrial position naturally helped to emphasize recovery when the market seemed actually to have turned. But the question how far a movement of the sort could normally be carried in the absence of distinctly reassuring news from the field of business and home politics, is more doubtful. A stock market does not by any means always and necessarily move up in proportion as money rates move down.

MARKET GAINS STRENGTH

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, June 11. — Total stock sales, 865,500 shares.

	Twenty Industrials.	Twenty Railroads.
Wednesday	93.42	84.65
Tuesday	91.81	83.71
Week ago	92.16	83.19
High, 1924	101.24	86.32
Low, 1924	90.27	81.00

Stock prices developed impressive strength in today's session of the stock market, one of the most active in recent weeks. Two dozen stocks established new high records for the year, including Union Pacific, Atchison, Texas and Pacific, Pere Marquette, Pittsburg and West Virginia, International Paper and Missouri Pacific common and preferred.

Bullish sentiment was created by the continuance of easy money rates, the more optimistic tenor of the weekly steel trade reviews, and indications that the Republican national platform would contain planks favorable to business. The reduction in the local Federal reserve rediscount rate from 4 to 3½ per cent was not announced until after the market closed. While the main purpose of the change undoubtedly was to bring the bank rate more in line with the open market rates, local bankers pointed out it also places New York in a better position to compete with London for several of the international loans now pending.

United States Steel common, generally regarded as the market leader, closed more than a point higher, at 96⅝. General Electric and American Can each closed more than 3 points higher, while net gains of 1 to 2¾ were recorded by such widely diversified issues as American Sugar, American Woolen, Baldwin, Dupont, Marland Oil, Tobacco Products, Studebaker and United States Industrial Alcohol.

Oil shares apparently paid no attention to the 15 cents a barrel reduction in Smackover crude oil. While the advance in these shares was not as extensive as it was in the other industrial groups, gains of a point or so were quite common at the close.

Call money held at 2 per cent all day. Time funds were available up to ninety days at 3¼ per cent, the lowest in several years, while four to five months maturities were quoted at 3¾ and the longer accommodations at 4. Bank acceptance dealers reduced rates one-quarter on all maturities up to 120 days, bringing them to record low levels. A brisk rally in French exchange, predicated on the belief that the resignation of President Millerand of France would hasten the acceptance of the Dawes report, was the feature of the foreign exchange market. The Paris franc jumped more than 30 points to around 5.40 cents, with a slightly smaller gain being recorded by the Belgian currency, which is now quoted slightly above 4½ cents.

Ever turning—Ever earning!

UPON the activity of money depends its usefulness—its value. Except for that hoarded by a rapidly decreasing number of misers, ALL money is more or less active. It is ever turning, ever earning. Masterly genius and foresight guide the turning, earning dollar into productive channels. The profits go to those who wisely establish themselves in the inevitable path of its turning.

Who Says Money Is Tight For Home Building?

. . . Surely someone must be mistaken.

. . . We have been advertising for some time trying to get enough applications for loans on desirable property in well-located residential districts. There is a good reason why our supply of funds seems to be inexhaustible.

. . . When we make a loan, we have a clientele of conservative investors, who depend solely on our recommendations, waiting to buy our First Coupon Mortgages.

. . . The proposition is a clean-cut one. The charge for making loans is only nominal. Our First Coupon Mortgages are made on practically the same basis as a bank makes its loans. We also have funds available to loan over and above the First Mortgage at the cheapest rates in Los Angeles.

. . . The rapid turnover of our First Coupon Mortgages makes it necessary to constantly act upon new loans. Perhaps you have been reading our advertisements and wondered if it were really true that there is money available for home building in Los Angeles at the present time.

. . . There is.

. . . We invite you to call personally for further particulars. Prompt attention also given to applications from brokers.

A copy of our new circular on First Coupon Mortgages will gladly be sent upon request.

Rapid Strides Made in Wheat Price Recovery

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, June 11.—Wheat prices at the outside figure today showed 7⅞@8⅞ over the low of Monday, demonstrating what speculative interest will do when there is no attempt to legislate the market out of its normal level. Purchases of wheat futures on Tuesday, as officially reported, were 39,116,000 bushels, or 30,000 bushels in excess of the total on Monday and the largest day's business since last March. There was a further broadening in the trade during the day and profit-taking sales early were readily absorbed and prices advanced to a new high on the crop for the September and December, reacting toward the last on evening up by longs, but closed 2⅛@2½ higher.

The outlook for more favorable weather for the new corn crop more than offset the strength in wheat and corn futures were ½@1¼ lower at the last while oats were unchanged to ⅛ higher and rye up 3¼.

While there was little change in the character of the news affecting the wheat crop or the outlook, other than Murray's report suggesting a 5.9 per cent reduction in the acreage in the three Canadian provinces with a prospective yield of 125,000,000 to 175,000,000 bushels less than last year, bears have lost the greater part of their confidence, and there was little opposition to the advance.

It was hard to trace the early buying, which rapidly absorbed the surplus in the pit, and later when strong commission houses with eastern and western connections started to buy freely offerings were found to be limited. July advanced to 111⅝ and closed at 110½ to 110⅝, while September, after selling at 114 closed at 112½ to 112⅝. December was 115@114⅞ at the last. Foreigners refused to follow the advance, and export business was limited with the cash basis at Winnipeg ⅛ lower. Futures in the latter market were 1⅝@1¾ higher with July 1⅛ over Chicago, a net loss of ¼. Liverpool closed 2½d higher than Friday. A belief that warmer and more settled weather would follow the recent cold and wet spell offset bullish consideration in corn, while there was a fair advance at one time in sympathy with wheat. The finish was about the bottom with July at 80⅛ to 80; September at 79⅞, and December at 73½ to 73⅝. Condition in Iowa was reported at 77, the lowest since 1903, comparing with 86 a year ago, and a ten-year average of 93. Cash demand was better with the basis steady to ¼ higher. Receipts 113 cars.

Trading in oats on Tuesday was about three times as heavy as it was on Monday, and there was a further broadening in business today. July and December sold up to a new high on the crop, July touching 48, but was back to 47⅜ at the last of profit-taking.

FURTHER ADVANCE IN WHEAT AT CHICAGO

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, June 11.—Wheat soared today to nearly 9 cents a bushel higher prices than were touched on Monday, before the United States government crop report was issued. The fresh advance today appeared to be largely a result of huge buying that developed after one of the leading authorities in the grain trade here had expressed decidedly bullish views regarding world supplies of bread material. Wheat closed unsettled, 2 to 2⅝ net higher. July 110⅜ to 110½ and September 112⅜ to 112½, with corn showing ⅛ to 1¼ decline, oats unchanged to ½ up and provisions 10 to 22 down.

On today's advance September and December deliveries of wheat overtopped the season's previous high price record, but the extreme gains failed to hold, heavy profit-taking sales leading to a reaction of about 1 to 1½ cents at the finish.

Further impetus to the upward movement of the wheat market was afforded by unofficial estimates indicating a reduction of 5.9 per cent in the acreage of the Canadian Northwest, with a condition of 88.6 against 95.7 last year, suggesting a yield of 275,000,000 to 325,000,000 bushels compared with 450,000,000 bushels harvested last year. Notice was also taken of better milling demand.

Warmer weather eased the corn market and held down oats. Temporarily, however, December corn and July and December oats sold at new records.

Provisions declined owning to sympathy with hog values.

NEW YORK RUBBER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, June 11.—The local market continued firm but a poor buying interest slowed up the situation somewhat and held prices in check. Spot and nearby futures were quoted a trifle higher by local dealers, but the manufacturing interests were well under cover.

In the monthly statement it was shown that crude imports into the United States for May totalled 22,466 tons, a decrease of 12,000 tons over the same month a year ago. But the imports for the year thus far are 17,000 tons below the amount received to date last year.

On the basis of these figures sellers today predicted a shortage of supplies of spot and nearby rubber throughout the months of June, July and August and possibly September. The close of the market found spot ribbed smoked sheets selling at 19½c per pound; brown crepe, in thin clean, dropped ¼c and was quoted today at 18¾c per pound. Amber No. 1 was quoted at 19½c per pound and fine upriver Para was selling at 20¼c per pound.

PRODUCE MARKET

DAILY MARKET REPORT

Trading yesterday was moderate, with heavy supplies of most fruits and vegetables. Cantaloupes are again cheaper, with green stock depressing the market. BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

The Pan-American Petroleum Company's Pacific Southwest No. 1 at El Segundo is drilling in a saturated oil sand below 4020 feet, according to field reports. Seventeen feet of sand have been penetrated, and the drill has been in oil-bearing formation all the way from 4000 feet where the first showing was found, it is said.

James A. Anderson, president of Pan-American, declined yesterday to confirm the report, being unwilling to make any statement as to the formation, merely saying that the hole was down about 4000 feet.

On Large Lease

The Pan-American Petroleum Company has leased a large tract in the eastern extension of the Torrance field, according to field reports. The tract is owned by the Security Trust & Savings Bank, and comprises about sixty acres. Production has been found on both sides of the lease, which is believed to be within the producing area.

Officials of the Pan-American yesterday refused to discuss the transaction.

Acquires Wildcat

E. J. Miley and associates have acquired the Industrial Syndicate No. 10 wildcat well near Ojai from the Industrial Syndicate, and will complete the well, it was repored yesterday by Mr. Miley. The transaction included the well, which is about 1700 feet deep, and about 110 acres of land. The Miley interests have acquired other acreage in this district aggregating about 1500 acres, and are preparing to install a rotary rig in place of the cable tools used by the Industrial Syndicate. The property is located across the river southwest from Ojai.

Enters Rosecrans

E. J. Miley expects to start drilling operations in the Rosecrans field shortly, it is reported. The Miley interests hold several leases in this field, but it is considered probable that the first well will be located on a two-acre tract offsetting the southwest corner of he General Petroleum Corporation's McGillin lease between the McGillin and Athens lease of the Union Oil Company.

Rig is Built

The General Petroleum Corporation has completed the construction of its rig on the McGillin lease in the Rosecrans field, east of the Athens No. 1. The well is located in the southwest corner of the tract.

State Pays Dividend

The State Consolidated Oil Company will pay its regular monthly dividend of 1 per cent on the 15th inst., according to officials. The company is headed by E. J. Miley as president and general manager and largest stockholder, and is reported to have paid a total of $214,310.70 in dividends on a total outstanding capitalization of less than $900,000. The company operates in the McKittrick and Midway fields principally, with holdings in Ventura county, and the Huntington Beach field.

[illegible] Big Area

The Kreyen-Hagen wildcat well, which is being drilled by E. J. Miley in the Coalinga district, is drilling ahead at 3312 feet, according to Mr. Miley. The well was shut down for some time while an adequate water supply was being developed. The crew will start coring at about 3500 feet, but no important showings are expected until above 4000 feet, it is said. Mr. Miley holds 2300 acres in the Kreyen-Hagen tract which is located about ten miles southwest of Coalinga on the Jasalitos structure. It was necessary to build about ten miles of road, and to pipe water nearly two miles in order to get the project under way, according to Mr. Miley.

Pan-American Fishing

A fishing job is in progress at Signal Hill in the Pan-American Company's Richardson No. 2. The Pan-American Company's Signal Hill leases yielded a total of 2100 barrels of oil on Monday. Union Pacific No. 1 is producing 2600 barrels; No. 5, 1200 barrels; Chaney No. 1, 1000 barrels; Betz No. 4, 400 barrels, and Anderson No. 2, 1100 barrels. Pan-American Zone No. 1, at Catalina avenue and Vine street, the most important test well on the south edge of the field, is cleaning out at 3171 feet. The well has been drilled to 5465 feet.

Signal Hill Busy

The Pacific Drilling Company is running tubing preparatory to putting Black Diamond No. 1 on the pump from the 5002-foot level at Signal Hill. The Carl Maier interests are preparing to cement casing at the 4250-foot level in their Yorba No. 1. The well will be drilled to approximately 4600 feet. Maier-Harris No. 1 is producing 100 barrels daily from the [illegible] level. Maier No. 2 is producing at a rate of 480 barrels. Maier No. 1 is cleaning out at [illegible] feet. Field No. 9 of the [illegible] Midway Company has been drilled to 4600 feet, and bailing from the bottom is under way. [illegible] Bauman No. 2, drilled to [illegible] feet, has cemented six and five-eighths-inch casing at 4343 feet. [illegible] No. 2-A, which was spudded in a few days ago, has reached the [illegible] level. Operations of the [illegible] Petroleum Syndicate, according to a field report issued [illegible], are as follows: Warren No. 1, cemented; Lakes No. 2, running two and one-half-inch tubing; [illegible] No. 1, reaming; Rogers [illegible] 1, drilling in hard sand shale formation at 4973 feet; Compton No. 1, drilling in sand formation at [illegible] feet.

Weekly Report

Oil field operations reported to State Oil and Gas Supervisor R. D. [illegible] during the week ending the [illegible] inst., show thirty-four new wells started, as compared with [illegible] the previous week. Of the [illegible] notices to drill filed [illegible] eighteen were for wells in the Torrance field, three in the [illegible] Beach field, one in the [illegible] field, two in Los Angeles county, one in Ventura county, one in San Mateo county, one in Santa Barbara county, six in the fields of Kern county and one in the Coalinga field. The total new wells this year is 707, as compared with 702 at the same date last year. Tests for water shut-offs this week numbered thirty-seven, as compared with thirty-one the previous week. Yearly total to date 753; total to same date last year 893. Deepening or redrilling jobs this week numbered eighteen, as compared with nine the preceding week. Total to date this year 253; total to same date last year 307. Abandonments this week numbered five, the same number as the proceding week. Total to date this year 246; total to same date last year 115.

Successful Job

Several months' work finally resulted in a successful cement job at the Superior Oil Company's Torrance No. 1 at Carson street and Madrid avenue on the north side of the Torrance field.

The hole was drilled to 3760 feet but came in wet several months ago. Since last September the company has been endeavoring to plug back successfully.

The well is now plugged to 3650 feet and the drill crew is preparing to make a production test. Although the location is known to be near the edge of the structure, production is expected.

With Five Rigs

The Pan-American Petroleum Company is going in with five rigs on its community lease at Redondo Road and Normandie avenue on the east side of the Torrance field.

Reyes Drills In

The Shell Company's Reyes No. 4 in the Dominguez field is drilling past the plug at about 3860 feet, according to field reports. The water string was set at 3730 feet where the sand was found, and the water test showed a successful shut-off, it is said.

Make Fast Time

The Associated Oil Company's Brockley No. 1, drill crew in the Rosecrans field made the unusually fast time of 2500 feet in one week of actual drilling, according to field reports. The well is drilling ahead at 2670 feet.

The Associated Higgins No. 1 in this field is about 2300 feet deep.

Change Lease Name

The Union Oil Company has changed the name of its Bank of Italy lease northwest of the Rosecrans No. 1, and south of the Athens No. 1, to the Trust lease, it is reported. The lease comprises 130 acres. Location for the first well of this tract has been made, offsetting the General Petroleum Corporation's Vaughn No. 1, it is said.

LEASES ON UTE LANDS ARE SOLD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FARMINGTON (N. M.) June 11. The sale of six exploratory leases on the Ute Indian lands in the Ute Mountain Indian Reservation was held at Durango yesterday. All of the tracts were sold, the six comprising a total of 23,140 acres.

The highest price was paid by the Gypsy Oil Company, $86,000, for Tract B, which is described as follows:

Beginning at a point three miles west and one and one-quarter miles north of the official corner to Sec. 6, T. 31 N., and Sec. 31, T. N. R. 13 W., N. M. P. M., as a place of beginning, which is designated Corner No. 1, thence north one-quarter of a mile to corner No. 2, thence east one-half mile to Corner No. 3, thence north one-half mile to Corner No. 4, thence east one-half mile to Corner No. 5, thence north one-half mile to Corner No. 6, thence east one-quarter mile to Corner No. 7, thence north one and one-half miles to Corner No. 8, thence west three and one-quarter miles to corner No. 9, thence south two miles to Corner No. 10, thence east three quarters of a mile to Corner No. 11, thence south one-quarter mile to Corner No. 12, thence east one-quarter mile to Corner No. 13, thence south one-quarter mile to Corner No. 14, thence east one-quarter mile to Corner No. 15, thence south one-quarter mile to Corner No. 16, thence east three-quarters of a mile to point of beginning, all containing 4720 acres more or less.

TRACTS SELL LOW

This land is in San Juan county, New Mexico. The remainder of the tracts were sold comparatively low, the next highest being bid by Bob Childress of Wichita Falls, Tex., for tracts F and D, for which $1000 each was paid. The remaining three tracts were bid in by Childress for other parties at a price less than $1000 each.

Tract D consists of 4500 acres and lies wholly in San Juan county, N. M., including Secs. 21, 22, 23, 26, 27, 28, 33, 34 and 35 in T. 31 N., R. 16 W.

ANOTHER LARGE TRACT

Tract F consists of 4800 acres in Colorado. Beginning at a point fourteen miles east of the corner common to the States of Arizona, Utah, Colorado and New Mexico, which is designated as Corner No. 1, thence north two and one-half miles to Corner N. 2, thence east three miles to Corner No. 3, thence south two and a half miles Corner No. 4, thence west three miles to the point of beginning.

Col. F. E. Walters of Skedee, Okla., conducted the auction. In addition to the cash bonus a flat cash royalty of 12 1-2 per cent will be paid by the lessee on all production and the lease will extend over the period of production.

WHY HE DIDN'T

"Some years ago," said a London man, "I took a trip to the States and in Philadelphia met up with a chap who was running one of the first picture shows. It was a store show seating eighty people, and he told me he was clearing about $10 a day. I made up my mind that upon getting back to London I would go into the business."

"Why on earth didn't you do it?"

"When I got back I found another man had opened in London and I didn't think any town would support two moving-picture shows."—[Louisville Courier-Journal.

REVISING YOUR INCOME TAX

Interpretations of New Law Just Enacted Applicable to Payments This Year on 1923 Income

BY JOHN G. HERNDON, JR.

[Copyright, 1924, Public Ledger.]

The Revenue Act of 1924, which was signed by President Coolidge the 2nd inst., provides for a reduction of 25 per cent of the correct amount of income tax imposed on the income of individuals and trust estates for the calendar year 1923. This provision does not apply to corporations. Individuals and trust estates which filed a tax return for 1923 and correctly computed the tax which was due are now entitled to the reduction above referred to.

It is not necessary to file any claim in order to secure this benefit. All that is necessary is that each such person see that one-half of his true tax on the 1923 income is paid by the 15th inst.

An illustration: Suppose your tax on the return which you prepared for 1923 showed a total tax of $200. Also assume that you paid, to be on the safe side, $60 by March 15, 1924. The question now is, how much tax must you pay by June 15? The answer is simple. If you take three-quarters of the amount of tax shown to be due on the return you filed you will see that your total corrected tax for 1923 will be $150. Half of this amount, or $75, is due by June 15. If you have already paid $60, the amount you must pay by June 15 is $15.

GETTING IT BACK

If when you filed your 1923 return you paid the total tax, then as soon as possible a check-up will be made by the office of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and any refund will be paid you by check; but no interest will be allowed as a result of such overpayment by you. In the case cited, for example, suppose you paid the entire $200 when you filed the return. It is manifest that you are entitled to receive $50 back. A check for this amount will be sent you in due course, provided there are outstanding against you no unpaid assessments. But if you owe some tax for some other year—say $20—the amount of the check you will receive will be $30, and your tax liability for 1923 thus will be settled.

If you are interested now to know how you may pay the balance of the tax on your 1923 income and receive no further bill, it will only be necessary for you to find out what three-quarters of your tax for 1923 was, according to your return as filed, and to take from that amount the payment you have already made, and send a check to the Collector of Internal Revenue for the balance. Going back to the original example, therefore, you will see that the true tax, as adjusted by the reduction provided for in the Revenue Act of 1924, is $150. Since you paid $60 when you filed the return, the balance of $90 will wipe out all liability for tax on your 1923 income.

If you are an individual in business, keeping your books on the basis of a fiscal year other than a calendar year, then the per cent of reduction applies only to that part of the income which is properly attributable to the year 1923. For example, suppose you have filed your return for a fiscal year which ended October 31, 1923, and the amount of the tax which you showed to be due was $800. The portion on which you would be entitled to a reduction would be only that portion applicable to 1923, or $600, three-fourths of which would be $450. In such an event your reduction in tax would be $150, and not $200.

SPECIAL RULES

Special rules will be announced by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue concerning the amount of tax which will be due if upon the audit of your return for 1923 an error is found, as a result of which you paid too little tax, and have, therefore, incorrectly computed what quarterly installments of tax should have been paid.

It must be borne in mind that the 25 per cent reduction above referred to has no bearing whatever upon or relation to the 25 per cent differential in favor of earned income. That provision of law which will tax at a lower rate earned income than unearned income applies wholly to income earned on and after January 1, 1924, and for that reason in no way affects the reduction in taxes authorized by this retroactive section of the 1924 law, which applies wholly to 1923 income.

Care must be exercised also to remember that the reduction in all individual tax rates in the 1924 law in comparison with those in the 1921 law does not apply to a redetermination of the tax on your 1923 income. Those changes will apply for the first time when you file your 1924 return in the early months of 1925.

REPEAL PROVISIONS

The act provides for the repeal of a large number of special taxes, either effective immediately upon the signature of the President or thirty days thereafter.

One of the chief special taxes with which all of us are familiar has been the tax on telegraph and telephone messages. Under the 1921 law the rate of tax has been 5 cents for the transmission of any telephone, telegraph, cable or radio message originating within the United States for the transmission of which the charge was over 14 cents and not over 50 cents. The rate of tax applicable in case the charge was over 50 cents was 10 cents. Certain exceptions were made in the old law with regard to official government messages.

On or after July 2, there will be no tax on such messages.

BEVERAGE TAX GOES

The Revenue Act of 1921 provided for a tax imposed on beverages and constituent parts thereof sold or used by the manufacturer, producer, importer, dealer, compounder or mixer on or after January 1, 1922. The tax was payable by the manufacturer when title passed by sale.

Another section of the same law provided for a tax on beverages derived from cereals or substitutes, containing less than one-half of 1 per cent alcohol, and upon all fermented fruit juices. On this latter group of items the rate of tax was 2 cents a gallon. Carbonated beverages commonly known as soft drinks were also taxed at the rate of 2 cents a gallon when sold by the manufacturer, producer or importer. It was not the patron of the soda-water fountain or the soft-drink parlor who under the Revenue Act of 1921 had to pay the tax, but the producer of the extract, essence or concentrate.

Special ruling was made that pure apple cider was not subject to tax as a still drink and that drinks made by the use of milk instead of water were not subject to tax under the section of law above referred to.

Now all of these special beverage taxes are eliminated, as well as the tax on natural and artificial mineral waters and fountain syrups.

MOVIES FREE—OF TAXES

After July 2 we can go to the movies or any other place of amusement without paying a tax on admission if the charge for getting in to the show is not more than 50 cents. We can ride the merry-go-round, shoot-the-chutes and roller coasters with no more damage to our pocketbooks than the payment of the price of admission, with no extra assessment by way of taxes.

If an entertainment is given for the benefit of the American Legion or any of its posts, or for a firemen's or policemen's organization then there is no tax, however great the price of admission.

NO HARBOR FOR TRUCK VOYAGER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DETROIT, June 11.—Trouble, among other things, may be brewed at home, but it isn't as bad as the particular brand that comes from starting something you can't finish.

Andrew T. Phillips, constable, will swear to this, for he started something yesterday that he couldn't bring to a conclusion—and the tragic part of it was that the something which he started was a truck that ran away with him as he sat in the front seat, helpless and frantically signaling for aid.

Constable Phillips, his official star gleaming upon his chest, started out to execute a judgment. The circumstances were these: Three years ago Jacobsen & Sons, a Detroit firm, secured a judgment for $429.50 in the court of Arthur E. Gordon, justice of the peace, against the American Railway Express Company.

BLOOD IN HIS EYE

The money, however, was not forthcoming and Saturday Constable Phillips, armed with a writ, started out to serve the express company. They asked for time to consult their attorneys and Constable Phillips graciously granted them until yesterday.

Yesterday appeared right on schedule, but the $429.50 did not and Constable Phillips again started out with blood in his eye and the judgment in his pocket. The judgment was unsatisfied and so was Constable Phillips.

The first piece of property belonging to the company that met Constable Phillips's eye was a large truck standing at the curb on Gratiot avenue. Constable Phillips walked over to the truck and climbed into the front seat, despite the fact that it already was occupied by two husky drivers. After a brief struggle—a legal battle—the two express company employees found themselves on the pavement and Constable Phillips seated firmly behind the steering wheel. A few words from the new driver and they left the scene.

LAW BREAKS LAW

A new problem now faced Constable Phillips. The truck, although now his, he discovered was electrically propelled, a method of transportation with which he was totally unfamiliar. However, the ancient tradition of the ability of constables was strong within him and, after he had fiddled gingerly with some mysterious levers and pedals, the vehicle gave a shudder and started.

With Constable Phillips at the helm the truck pointed its nose toward downtown and sailed along merrily—until something happened. The traffic halted suddenly in front of Constable Phillips, but his truck didn't.

After getting started he had forgotten that stopping is also a part that vehicles have to play in the city. He couldn't stop. He pressed everything and pulled handles and turned switches, but the truck went smoothly on after knocking a fender from one car and denting the running board of another driver's auto who was foolish enough to stop in front of Constable Phillips and his runaway steed.

Among the objects, stationary and moving, that Constable Phillips scraped, brushed, bumped, ticked and pushed was the police patrol from Central Station, but even this did not deter him in his mad flight.

AND THEN IT STOPPED

Finally, after going in, out, under and through the intricacies of Detroit's traffic maze, the County Building garage hove into sight two points off the starboard bow. Here was a harbor, but the problem now was how to anchor. He glided up to the garage and, just as he passed the door, shouted for help. No one replied, however, and he went merrily on—around the block.

On the second trip around Constable Phillips shouted louder and someone appeared.

"I'll be back," yelled Constable Phillips. "Wait right there!"

He kept his word and after one more fast trip around the block he signaled to the mystified garage man to climb aboard. The garage man hopped the truck on the fly and after one more trip around the block he quieted the vehicle and steered it safely into port.

There is a good electric truck for sale now—if the judgment isn't paid—but Constable Phillips says that whoever the purchasers are, he won't deliver it to them.

About London Bridge

The first pile of London Bridge, as we know it, was driven 100 years ago last month—March 15, 1824. The first stone was laid on June 15, 1825, by the Lord Mayor, Alderman Garratt, and it was opened by King William IV on August 1, 1831. The bridge was the design of the engineer, John Rennie, the elder, and was carried out by his two sons, Sir John and George. The actual cost of the bridge was about £500,000, but the work necessary for improving the approaches brought the sum up to more than £2,000,000.

DAILY MARKET LETTER OF THE NEW YORK COMMERCIAL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, June 11.—Further weakness developed today in raw sugar. The causes are attributed to importation, slacking off new business following recent heavy purchases of refined, liquidation by nervous longs, generally heavy statistical position and continued unseasonable weather. The futures market closed 8 to 14 points lower from yesterday's close. Cuban interests offered freely. Early in the day the Federal purchased 5000 bags Cubas for first half July shipment at 3⅜ cost and freight, equivalent to 5.02 delivered, duty paid. This represents a decline of 13 points from sales of the previous day. That there was further business done on the 3¼-cent basis was certain, but particulars were withheld. Refiners up to late afternoon had made no change in quotations. All are holding at their recent advances which leave the Arbuckles at 6.50 and all the others except the Federal at 6.65.

Sales of spot raws at 3¼ and the nervousness of long holders were responsible for the decline in futures. March closed at 3.09; May, 3.20; July, 3.28; September, 3.44; December, 3.29.

COFFEE

There was an all-round better inquiry for coffee futures, but trading was light, the aggregate of sales being but 20,500 bags, including exchanges. Conditions have not changed materially for several days in so far as they concern demand. The market has been neglected and apparently there are comparatively few holders of future options for sale. Hence the recent strength on light trading, though the Rio futures in the primary market were up 300 reis for June and September. Santos advanced 75 reis for June and declined 200 reis for July and 275 reis for August. Rio exchange on London was up 1-32 with the dollar rate unchanged at 9 milreis. The close of the market here was 3 points up to 6 points down. March closed at 11.90; May, 11.65; July, 13.25; September, 12.53; October, 12.41; November, 12.28; December, 12.15.

TEA

Ceylon cables announced that the sale of India teas on the 10th inst., passed off in a steady market without change. Shanghai advices intimated a much firmer tone in the Hoochow market. In the local market staple lines are moving steadily. The quality both in cup and leaf in the Hoochow market was reported to be inferior to last year, but prices come 4 to 5 cents higher than the present spot market, Number 3 chops having been settled on that basis.

RICE

The consuming trade does not seem perturbed by the strong statistical position of rice, but is buying with steadiness when needs materialize. There have been no further recent developments. Stocks are light and at the current rate of consumption it is generally expected that the present supply will be visibly exhausted before the new crop can relieve the situation.

The butter market shows very little, if any change. The tone was unsettled at the opening but steadied at the close. There seems to prevail an impression that prices are too high for investment and many speculators are unwilling to take hold, but prefer to wait for later developments.

EGGS

Eggs took a sudden upward spurt much to the surprise of all interests. Trade has been good so far this week and with moderate offerings of really fine quality and a decrease in collections, sellers found it easy to dictate prices.

Call sales for spot delivery were 50 cases S. P. firsts, 29 cents; 100 firsts, 28 cents; 50 at 27½ cents; one car at 27 3-4 cents; 50 extra firsts, 32 cents; 50 cases firsts, 28 cents; 90 case No. 2 dirtie, 25 cent; 50 cases firsts, 28½ cents; 50 cases S. P. firsts, 29 cent; one car Michigan extra firsts S. P. 29½ cents; 50 cases firsts, 28 cents; 50 at 28½ cents; 50 cases extras, 32 cents; 100 cases S. P. firsts, 29 cent. Pacific Coast white extras, 36 and 37; extra firsts, 32 and 33; firsts, 30 and 31.

COPPER

The reversal in the technical position of copper as disclosed in statistics which showed that consumption had dropped below production and that the surplus had begun piling up again, weakened the market materially. Electrolytic today declined an eighth of a cent and was available at 12 5-8 cents a pound delivered with little demand. Another decline featured London trading cables reporting a drop of 10s in standard with spot closing at £61 5s and futures £62 2s 6d, while electrolytic was off 5s with spot at £67 and futures £67 10s.

LEAD

Lead is still quoted at from 7 to 7 1-8 cents New York and from 6.85 to 7 cents St. Louis. London cables a drop of 17s 6d in prices, spot closing £32 2s 6d and futures £29 2s 6d.

Zinc declined another 5 points and closed at from 5.75 to 5.80 cents a pound St. Louis. London cables declines in spot 2s 6d and £31 12s 6d and futures of 5s to £31 10s.

TIN

Tin in this market advanced 1-4c, while lead in the entire list moved up 5-8c. In the domestic market, spot straights closed at 42c; June, 41 7-8c, and the later months 41 3-4c a pound. Practically all positions of Straits shipments closed at 41 3-4c. London cables standard spot and futures closing at £216 10s and Straits £220. Straits in Singapore closed at £220, c.i.f. London.

PETROLEUM

The Standard of Louisiana reduced crude oil 15c a barrel in the Smackover field and this cut was met by the Texas Company. The two are now quoting on the same basis as follows: Under 24 gravity, 85c; 24 to 24.9 gravity, 95c; 25 to 25.9 gravity, $1.05, and 26 and above, $1.20 a barrel. This follows recent reductions in the mid-continent field. New navy gasoline is now available at 13 1-2c New York, in single tank cars. In the mid-continent the market for new navy continues easy at from 9 1-2 to 9 3-4c a gallon. Recent export purchases have failed to clean up distress offerings.

BONDS

Bonds were active and good gains were established throughout the list. The abundance of money was the factor. After the close, when announcement was made that the Federal Reserve rediscount rate had been cut to 3 1-2 per cent, a wave of buying orders struck the over-the-counter market. Most of the houses, however, declined to offer securities, preferring to await the opening tomorrow. This was particularly true of Libertys. All government obligations were strong. Buying concentrated in the Treasury 4 1-3s, which were selling at 103 3-4 and were on a 4 per cent basis, a new high for all time. There was particularly heavy purchasing in the more speculative rails. Bonds like the International & Great Northern adjustment 6's, Katy adjustment 3s, Missouri Pacific general 4s and the Seaboard adjustment 5s were under accumulation. Among the foreign group, the French government and municipal issues were in good demand.

PRUNES

By a voluntary reduction in 50-60 and 60-70 Santa Clara prunes applying on stocks which remain in the hands of distributors and jobbers, the California Prune and Apricot Association created something of a sensation in dried trade today. The reduction places holders of Sunkist and Sunmaid brands on an equal basis with those who are handling independent brands. The reduction recognizes the condition of the present market and the lower prices of independents which have placed customers of the association at a distinct disadvantage. The allowance will be made by credit to apply on future invoices covering lines handled by the association.

Coast stocks are not affected and no allowance is made on either large or small sizes. Trading today was confined to a routine business principally in 30's and larger. The bulk of trading, however, was in Oregon lines. The movement of trains is uninterrupted.

There is a marked preference for Sunmaid lines. There is a fair demand for coast shipment in manufacturing grades of seedless and seeded and packages are moving more freely into consumption.

APRICOT STOCKS

Stocks of apricots are virtually cleaned up in wanted gradings. Peaches have a fairly steady call. Stocks are light. Currants show some weakness.

Canned foods showed evidence of real activity. The movement was hardly of a volume to cause advances but concentration of buying was in certain major vegetables, in certain fruits and in certain fish known to be short. Reports continued to sift into the market of late plantings, continued and damaging wet weather, tardy packs from the south and other discouraging information concerning conditions in packing districts. Peas were notably scarce. Fancy corn was oversubscribed in a way while standard grades had a wider call. Stringless and string beans, succotash, and beets were called for generally. Asparagus had a fair demand.

MARKET IS WATCHED

The situation in California is being watched with an interest that augurs well for futures. Spot standard cling peaches are nearly exhausted. Desirable lines command a premium. Pears are having a call. Cherries appear to be more generally sought; pineapple is firmer. Maine sardines are still on the basis of $3.75 for keyless and firm offers doubtless would carry business as low as $3.40 while $4.20 is the prevailing market for decorated keys. Pink salmon is doing better and prices firm. Chinooks had a little better call at $2.20 coast. Reds at $2.35 represent the market's best offering. Tuna, California and foreign sardines, shrimp, lobster and crabmeat are hand-to-mouth sellers.

THE FOSSIL HUNTER

Presence of Bones is Disclosed by Nature of Ground and Ravines

As a matter of fact many fossils are found partly on the surface. I suppose I am asked no question more frequently than "How do you know where to look?" The prevailing idea is that we go into the field, stick a pick in the ground and say, "Here I will dig for a fossil and I hope to heaven that there'll be one." We'd get plenty of work that way, but not many bones.

In the first place you must have the proper kind of rock. Volcanic or metamorphic rocks, which have been subjected to heat or change cannot contain fossils, because the bones would be destroyed. Sedimentary rock, like sandstone, shale, slate or limestone provides the fossil-bearing strata.

Fossils are being made today just as they were millions of years ago. An animal dies, the flesh decomposes and the bones are covered by drifting sand. Year by year they are buried deeper, and by pressure, water and chemical action the sand is consolidated into rock. Then an exceedingly slow change begins. Cell by cell, mineral matter takes the place of animal matter in the bone and eventually it is turned to stone, or fossilized.

Even when we have the proper kind of rock, the story is not ended. It must be cut or dissected into ravines or gullies so that we may have a cross section of the strata. I can explain it best by using a cake for an example. If the cake is covered with frosting you don't know whether it is a layer cake or a loaf cake, or whether it contains raisins. But if you cut it the whole story is told; if there are raisins there you can see them. That is exactly the method in fossil hunting, considering the rock as the cake, the surface soil as frosting and the bones as raisins.

Whenever we are riding over country which we know is of the right character to contain fossils we look for ravines, dry river beds or bluffs where erosion has given us a cross section. Then it becomes only a matter of examining the sides until bits of bone, discoloration in the rocks or other signs indicate that fossils are present.

A paleontologist almost never digs for a specimen unless he sees it or has a pretty definite clew. Sometimes it will be only a tiny tooth or point of bone sticking out of the ground. It catches his eyes, which are so trained that he will see things where one of us would miss them. When he follows the clew it may lead to nothing, or it may take him to a great deposit of bones most of which is covered by rock or soil and is invisible.—[Roy Chapman Andrews in Saturday Evening Post.

Hevle to Repay Funds; May Not Face Charges

Members of the City Council were informed yesterday that Edgar W. Hevle, defaulting cashier of the city electrician's department, had completed arrangements to raise $3000 on his home at 2929 West Avenue 30 and from this $2693.49 will be paid over to the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland, in which the ex-cashier was bonded for $5000, to cover Hevle's shortage. If this is done, it is probable that there will be no criminal prosecution of Hevle ordered by the City Council or anyone, in consideration of his thirty-year service with the city and in view of the serious illness of his wife.

ASK CANCELLATION OF PACIFIC COLONY LEASE

The Public Welfare Commission of Los Angeles county yesterday adopted a resolution requesting the Board of Supervisors and grand jury to take steps to cancel the lease on the Pacific Colony near Pomona, held by a private institution, and put the institution in charge of its board of trustees, or State officials for the immediate care of the feeble-minded. The resolution states that, despite the fact that the Legislature bought 1000 acres for the colony and has $140,000 appropriated for new buildings, the institution has been closed. It also states that, although there are approximately 12,000 feeble-minded children in the State, the only State institution now functioning at Sonoma can care for only 2000.

California Apoyará la Candidatura de Hoover para Vicepresidente

CLEVELAND, Junio 11.—A menos que se lo prohiba expresamente el Ministro de Comercio Hoover, la delegación de California a la Convención Nacional Republicana presentará mañana a dicha convención el nombre del citado funcionario, como el que el Estado recomienda para Vicepresidente.

Los Californios, que decidieron hoy en una junta desentenderse de la resistencia del señor Hoover a ser candidato, se van a reunir mañana, antes de la sesión de la convención, para elegir a uno de entre ellos, que sea quien presente a la convención el nombre del señor Hoover, y a uno o más delegados de California para que apoyen la designación.

Como el Gobernador Lowden, de Illinois, aseguró de la manera más enfática que no podía aceptar la designación en su favor, la oleada de simpatía se dirigió esta mañana sobre Hoover, y con toda prisa se convocó a los delegados de California a una conferencia para decidir la conducta que debería seguirse.

Nombróse a C. C. Teague, de Santa Paula, presidente de un comité de tres, que integraban W. E. Evans, de Glendale, y Harry B. McClure, de Visalia, para comunicar al señor Hoover los planes de la delegación de California, y averiguar con él cuál sería su actitud caso de que le ofreciera la designación.

Los delegados de California votaron una decisión de comenzar a trabajar activamente en favor de la designación del señor Hoover, a pesar de que Ralph Arnold, de Los Angeles, y Mark L. Requa, de San Francisco, amigos personales del Ministro de Comercio, suplicaron a la delegación que se abstuviera de tomar actitud definida en esta materia.

Tokio Teme el Boycotaje Recíproco

TOKIO, Junio 11.—Ayer visitaron los principales almacenes al menudeo de Tokio, los delegados de "Taikosha" (Sociedad de Acción Concertada), organización antiamericana que se compone principalmente de estudiantes, y que ha distribuído los anuncios que recomiendan el boycotaje de los efectos americanos, y entrevistado a los gerentes de los almacenes. Los delegados manifiestan que la mayoría de éstos está conforme con el principio del boycotaje.

Varios de los gerentes, con todo, hicieron ver a los agitadores el peligro de una medida de represalia por parte de los Estados Unidos, cosa que el Japon no podría soportar.

Se está enviando entre la correspondencia de los Japoneses cristianos una circular en que se invita a éstos a separarse de las sociedades de misioneros, y en que se compara al Presidente Coolidge con Poncio Pilato. Comienza así: "Al estudiar la historia del Éste, topamos con Poncio Pilato, que dejó crucificar a Jesucristo, no obstante que conocía su inocencia; en el Oeste nos encontramos con el Presidente Coolidge, que, a sabiendas puso su firma al injusto y atentatorio proyecto de ley antijaponés.

Los Mejicanos Fijan sus Miradas en Cleveland

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Junio 11. Los periódicos de la ciudad de Méjico casi han hecho a un lado los problemas presidenciales mejicanos, excepto para comentar la batalla del lunes en Querétaro entre los partidarios de Calles y los de Flores, y están dedicando columnas enteras a discutir sobre la Convención Nacional Republicana de Cleveland.

Como en otras ocasiones, Méjico está de los más interesado en la carrera presidencial de los Estados Unidos, particularmente el Méjico de las clases educadas y ricas. La razón básica de esto es que cualquier cambio de opinión en el que ocupa la Casa Blanca afecta vitalmente a la República del sur.

La reanudación de las relaciones diplomáticas entre los Estados Unidos y Méjico, el nombramiento del Embajador Warren para representar a los Estados Unidos en este país, la presencia de dicho diplomático en la convención de Cleveland, y la creencia que existe aquí de que el Embajador Warren es candidato probable a la vicepresidencia, son otras tantas razones para hacer subir de punto el interés de Méjico en la situación política americana.

Los principales periódicos publican servicios especiales que viener directamente del salón de la convención, lo que demuestra claramente la importancia que aquí se concede a todas las incidencias de las campañas republicana y democrática.

D'Olsy Predice que los Aviadores Yanquis Llegarán a la Meta.

TOKIO, Junio 11.—Los americanos tienen el tipo adecuado de aviones para un vuelo de circunnavegación, dijo el Capitán Pelletier D'Oisy, hablando de su propia experiencia durante su vuelo de París a Tokio.

"Los americanos tendrán éxito sin duda alguna. Con sus hidroplanos pueden dar el peligroso salto de Bangkok a Akyab, y no se verán obligados a pasar por sobre los desiertos chinos, donde no hay más que cerros y llanuras. "¡Ah, ese terrible vuelo Shangha a a Shanghai, y de Shanghai a lequino! Me ciento feliz con haberlo dejado atrás."

NOTAS LOCALES

Dos Víctimas de un Envenenamiento con Arsénico.

Ayer, a última hora, se supo que la Fiscalía y la oficina del Sheriff han abierto una información relacionada con un complot para envenenar con arsénico mezclado a la harina, a las personas que habitan una casa de la población playera de Redondo. El resultado de este atentado ha sido que un hombre y una mujer se hallen a las puertas de la muerte.

Las víctimas son hermano y hermana, cuyos nombres no han querido publicar las autoridades. Enfermaron el viernes último, poco después de comer en su casa. El Jefe Investigador Kirkpatrick de la oficina del señor Pomeroy, oficial de sanidad del condado, tomó una muestra de harina de la casa de las víctimas, y la llevó al químico doctor Arthur Maas, quien declaró, previo análisis, que contenía arsénico en la forma comúnmente usada por los agricultores para maltar las chinches del apio.

El resultado de la investigación del oficial de sanidad fue turnado al Primer Teniente Fiscal Fitts, quien comisionó al Teniente Fiscal Dennison para que conociera del caso. El Capitán Bright, jefe de la escuadra del homicidio en la oficina del Sheriff, anunció anoche que iba a encargar hoy de este asunto a dos tenientes sheriffs.

No se ha descubierto ninguna pista para dar con la identidad del supuesto envenenador. Ambas víctimas, según se dice, están en grave estado. La mujer, que se halla separada de su marido, estaba viviendo en una misma casa con su hermano.

Strangers Rob Good Samaritan Who Aids Them

The number of good samaritans in the world was reduced by one last night as a result of an experience to Jerry M. Turner, visitor in Los Angeles.

Two shabbily dressed strangers approached Turner at Second and Main streets with a plea for money to buy food. Turner took them to a restaurant and saw that they were fed.

The strangers invited themselves to go with Turner from the restaurant and at Los Angeles and Second streets one produced a gun and the pair robbed Turner of $8.40, his watch and chain.

Turner fought with them, he told the police, and dared them to shoot. They finally were able to escape down an alley.

Boy Is Dead as Result of Shot Fired in "Play"

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, June 11.—Arthur Williams, 8 years of age, 2607 Strong's Drive, was shot and fatally wounded by Alvin White, 6, his playmate, tonight, when the boys were playing with a rifle, according to police. The bullet passed through the boy's head and he died at St. Catherine's Hospital.

The rifle, according to police, had been found by the boys in the garage of C. J. Caps, 2507 Strong's Drive.

UNIQUE SYSTEM OF CONSTRUCTION

Buildings of California Mausoleum Company Embody Patented Dry Air Circulation System Not Used in Others, And Far Superior

Many people think that Mausoleums are all alike in principles of construction, differing only in the plans, materials and appearance of the buildings. This is far from the truth. There is just one best principle of Mausoleum construction, for which the California Mausoleum Company controls the patent rights for the State of California. No other Mausoleums in the Entire State have this superior type of construction—one of the vital reasons why entombment in these beautiful buildings is followed by such different effects than when ordinary methods of construction are utilized.

In the California Mausoleum Company's structures at Hollywood, Inglewood and Riverside there is dry air circulation for each individual crypt. Each crypt has its separate pure air inlet and outlet, permitting the natural desiccation of its contents, on account of these sixteen square inch openings, and independent air circulation to every crypt. Comparison of this costly but effective method of construction with the cheaper types—and consideration of the effects that must inevitably follow—is sufficiently convincing.

Carefully illustrated booklets giving full details of the Company's buildings and methods may be had by telephoning its Offices, MAin 1534, or by calling at 206 Harris Bldg., 110 West 11th. The Mausoleums are open to visitors from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. That at Hollywood is the most conveniently located in the entire Los Angeles district. —[Advertisement.

MRS. SHERMAN REPORTED NEW FEDERATION HEAD

Club Women Pick Florence Dibert Second Vice-President, It Is Unofficially Indicated

BY MYRA NYE

Mrs. John D. Sherman of Estes Park, Colo., was elected president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs yesterday, it was learned from unofficial sources late last night.

When the nominating committee tallied the votes it was found the States had gone 3 for Mrs. Sherman, the reports stated. The poll was by States and the committee consists of the presidents of the States. In the final election it was reported that [illegible] with forty-one votes had cast all but nine for Mrs. Sherman. California, it was stated, had given 66 per cent for her.

Mrs. D. L. Murray, who has been president chairman of credentials and elections committee, refused to make a statement, but announced from the platform that the official report will be given at 9 o'clock this morning, instead of at 12:30 as scheduled on the program. The work of counting the votes proved to be less arduous than was anticipated and at 10 o'clock last night the task was completed.

Mrs. Sherman, when interviewed at her hotel last night appeared in a [illegible] blue satin boudoir gown and there was a happy gleam in her blue eyes. "I do not know officially that I am elected," she said. "But whether I am my next big task is the one of helping California to conserve the redwoods and, to this end, I go from Los Angeles to Humboldt county to be among the groves near Eureka for a week or so to learn the situation first hand.

CONSERVATION IMPORTANT

"As a subdivision of my department of applied education I regard this phase of conservation as pre-eminent at this time. I shall remain in Los Angeles until after the board meeting Saturday."

When asked who she would appoint as corresponding secretary in the event of her election she replied:

"There are just six women who in Colorado who would make good secretaries. I have not decided which I shall choose."

Miss Florence Dibert of Pennsylvania, was reported unofficially the winner in the race for the office of second vice-president. Information was not so emphatic as that of Mrs. Sherman. Miss Dibert is now chairman of junior membership and a past president of the Pennsylvania delegation.

Opposing Mrs. Sherman was Mrs. Wallace Perham of Montana. Against Miss Dibert were two candidates, Mrs. William Alvord of Michigan, and Mrs. John Ruhl of West Virginia. Mrs. Alvord was a close second in the race, it was stated. She left last night for her home in Michigan and no statement could be obtained from her.

Mrs. Sherman has served longer on the board in consecutive years of service than any member with

TRAFFIC TOLL IN YEAR MOUNTING

Police Report 113 Killed Since January 1

Majority of Victims Hit While Jay-Walking

Children Lose Lives During Play in Streets

Traffic accidents have taken a toll of 113 lives in the city since January 1, last, according to a report made public yesterday by Capt. Heath, head of the police traffic bureau.

The report shows that more than one-half of the victims were pedestrians who failed to take common precautions to avoid death on the street and that jay-walking contributed materially to the death toll.

JAY-WALKERS KILLED

Twenty-two men and women, the report brings out, were hurled to their death while crossing streets in the middle of the block, and eleven jay-walkers were struck down and killed because they failed to look before crossing.

Liquor played but a minor part in the accidents and deaths, only two fatalities being attributed to intoxication on the part of the motorists or pedestrians.

Seven children were killed while playing in the street and fourteen other victims lost their lives when they became panis stricken in the traffic rush. Clinging to steps of street cars or running-boards of automobiles proved fatal to three others and one fell to his death from a moving vehicle.

SPEED TOLL IS DOZEN

The demon speed exacted twelve lives and a desire to get there first by cutting in ahead of other machines cost nine people their lives.

Three persons were killed in driving to the left of street cars, nine motorists and pedestrians died because the motorists were incapable of driving a car, defective equipment on automobiles was responsible for two fatalities, three persons were killed by cars flashing by standing street cars and four others died in accidents on railroad rights of way.

HUGE APARTMENT GOING UP

Local Men to Spend $2,000,000 for Proprietary Home Structure on Los Feliz Boulevard

Announcement was made yesterday of the completion of preliminary plans for a height-limit apartment building to be erected on the northeast corner of Los Feliz Boulevard and Wayne avenue by a group of local capitalists and business men at a cost of more than $2,000,000. Details of the contemplated project were made public by William Bruce, architect, who has been directed to prepare the final drawings, and W. L. Miller, building contractor.

Specifications for the proposed co-operative proprietary residences, as they will be known, have been under preparation for several months. Mr. Bruce, who is representing those in the transaction, says the building will be unique in construction, inasmuch as an eastern style of architecture will be adopted in the design.

START WORK SOON

Property acquired by the building syndicate has a frontage of 140 feet on the boulevard and 324 feet on Wayne avenue.

It is anticipated that construction will start within two months, or as soon as plans can be drafted. The structure will be fireproof and soundproof, with the greatest amount of light possible for all suites. Among other features to be included in the plans is a spacious garage to be located in the basement, where space for more than 150 machines has been provided.

Mr. Bruce also is working on plans for another height-limit building proposed to be erected on Hill avenue, opposite Highland and Kenilworth avenues, in Eagle Rock, for H. C. Griffing at an estimated cost of $1,500,000. Plans for this structure have not been definitely decided, but it is intended that completion of arrangements will be made in the near future.

LARGE SUM FOR LEASE

For a reported consideration of $1,188,000 for ninety-nine years, Frank D. Rice and Jennie Rice have sold a 200-foot frontage on the south side of Sunset Boulevard, east of Seward street, as the site for improvements to be made at a cost of $150,000. William S. Holman of the Christie Realty Corporation, announced that the building will be part of a program to be launched by the corporation.

One of the largest leases closed on Broadway for several weeks, is the rental of a building at 727 South Broadway by the Wetherby-Kayser Shoe Company for a long term at an aggregate rental of $500,000. The structure is four stories high with a large basement. Early in July an extensive alteration of the building will be made under the direction of Charles F. Plummer, architect.

PUGILIST IS SHOT IN LEG BY OFFICER

Policeman Wounds Boxer When He Tries to Avoid Arrest in Theft Case

Rudolph Enriquez, 18-year-old [illegible], who fights under the name of Babe Colima, was shot in the leg last night by Patrolman Phillips in a chase that started when the officer attempted to arrest him on a robbery charge.

Officers Phillips and Martens had gone to Enriquez's home, 1246 East Jefferson street, to arrest him in connection with the snatching of a purse belonging to a [illegible] woman Tuesday night on Central avenue. The police learned of Enriquez's address after the arrest of Russell McCall, his alleged partner.

The officers waited at the Jefferson-street address until Enriquez arrived. When they commanded him to go with them Enriquez took to flight. Officer Phillips fired one shot, that took effect in the suspect's leg. Enriquez continued his flight and was not captured until he had run two blocks farther.

The officers said they identified Enriquez and McCall as two [illegible] who snatched the purse [illegible] escaped Tuesday night in an automobile after a chase and the machine was found abandoned. [illegible] registration card furnished [illegible].

[illegible] held in the [illegible] for investigation of robbery.

Three of the guns are hidden in the smoke. Below are pictured the battleships in fighting formation with the California in the foreground. Other mighty fighters in the line, which are letting broadsides go, are the New Mexico, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Nevada, Tennessee, Mississippi and Idaho. Some of the ships are hidden by the smoke.

MONSTER WARSHIPS SPRAY SEA WITH TONS OF STEEL

Dreadnaughts Repulse Attack of Destroyer Unit in Greatest Naval Practice Battle

BY WALDO DRAKE
"Times" Staff Correspondent

AT SEA ABOARD U.S.S. CALIFORNIA, June 11.—To the winged watchers from the skies a marvelous panorama was spread out on the surface of the blue Pacific today, twenty-six destroyers darting in, synchronously, as though controlled by a single master key, turning to launch a swarm of torpedoes at the perfect column of spreading dreadnaughts, these last breaking forth into a five-mile inferno of rolling banks of smoke, reeling hulls and flashes of blinding flame as the fleeing destroyers executed a beautiful semicircle and disappeared into a smoke screen laid for their protection by seaplanes.

It was the United States battle fleet in force practice, the spectacular climax of a year's training in gunnery and battle maneuvers. Actual battle conditions, Fleet officers said, were simulated 100 per cent.

IN ONLY SIX MINUTES

Six minutes were required to run through the practice that required a year of preparation and training. In these six minutes the nine dreadnaughts engaged fired 435,000 pounds of powder and hurled 1,302,000 pounds of steel into the sea. Twenty-eight hundred individual shots fired in the time it takes a man to traverse two city blocks. The masterly handling of the giant dreadnaughts in order to dodge 100 torpedoes fired at them by the destroyer fleet was the great wonder of a day of thrills.

The spectacle of the nine giant fighting craft traveling in close column at nineteen knots, zigzagging and twisting on their course as though they were birch canoes made one again realize that our Navy is "on its toes." Consider the fact that these same ships while dodging these torpedoes fired their main batteries at targets ten miles distant, their five-inch guns at tiny targets 10,000 yards away and their anti-aircraft batteries at a swarm of enemy aircraft overhead, yet the target practice, every phase of it, was well nigh perfect, according to semi-official figures.

FLAGSHIP UNSCATHED

Not a single torpedo struck the flagship California although she was leading the column and an ideal target, but the other dreadnaughts were not so fortunate. Theoretically, the battleship divisions under Vice-Admiral Henry A. Wiley was the defending fleet. Fifty miles off Los Angeles Harbor it encountered the destroyer forces under Rear-Admiral Frank H. Schofield as the advance force of the enemy fleet. The destroyers swung into the attack on the starboard beam and from battle range fired 100 torpedoes in two minutes. A chemical smoke screen of titanium tetrachloride, the navy's newest agency of offense and defense, in the meantime had been laid for them by seaplanes of the aircraft squadrons under the personal command of Capt. S. F. Moses, battle fleet aircraft commander. They scurried behind this at thirty knots out of sight and range. The battleships immediately opened up with their main batteries on a series of targets 21,000 yards distant representing the enemy dreadnaughts, with their five-inch guns on secondary targets representing the destroyers, while the port anti-aircraft batteries drove off the score of enemy aircraft that swooped down out of the clouds.

BATTLESHIPS WIN

The battleship divisions were victorious in every part of the practice, again proving the powers of offense as well as defense against destroyer and air attacks. Perfect weather conditions attended the practice, while the entire practice was carried out without a single

STUDY AIMS AT ROOT OF CRIME

Police, Educators Organize Practical Academy

Program Includes Views of Radicals, Scientists

Result Will be Published; Causes Chief Topic

Details of what may prove to be one of the most interesting and important experiments in social relations and the study of crime, its causes and ramifications, ever attempted in this country were brought to light here yesterday with the announcement of the final organization program of the Southern California Academy of Criminology.

This announcement came after weeks of preparation and discussions in which eminent scientists and educators of the West and practical policemen no less renowned in their own fields, collaborated with ordinary burglars, bootleggers and less distinguished members of the underworld.

The purpose and scope of the newly formed organization is scientific compilation of community opinion on the causes and conditions of crime and the best methods of crime prevention, according to the men who have taken the leadership in the organization of the academy. The plan had its inception in the mind of Chief of Police Vollmer several months ago when he took the first steps to obtain the opinions on crime and its causes from prisoners at the Lincoln Heights Police Station, and learn, if possible, why they, as individuals and as classes, were behind bars.

SCOPE BROADENED

The original inquiries were broadened into a series of lectures delivered by various criminologists and educators at the University of California, Southern Branch, and first took on a definite shape when Chief Vollmer injected the practical side of the question by having various division commanders of the police department tell the professors and experts about crime suppression as it really is.

The whole program has been carried out to its present stage under the personal direction of Chief Vollmer and Dr. E. C. Moore, president of the University of California, Southern Branch.

The meetings held yesterday morning and Tuesday night at police headquarters resulted in the appointment of committees on membership, by-laws and other necessary organization details. The highest law enforcement officers in

ROAR OF GUNS ROCKS EARTH

Thousands Experience Tremor of Battle and Many Fear Quake; Boom Heard Miles Away

The Pacific Fleet had battle practice yesterday. Thousands of persons from the seacoast to the top of Mt. Wilson, thought it was an earthquake. Houses shook and windows rattled in a way to deceive any but experienced observers. Even downtown office workers, sheltered in concrete and steel buildings, felt the vibrations.

When the nations of Europe locked in death grips on the Western Front, the roar of the guns in Flanders was heard across the channel, in the peaceful fields of Sussex. It was nearly that far yesterday from the maneuver grounds of the fleet to the Mount Lowe observatory and the Mount Wilson tavern.

Between forty and fifty miles offshore, in the general neighborhood of San Clemente Island, nine superdreadnaughts, one of them the Maryland, mounting eight sixteen-inch rifles and the other eight mounting twelve fourteen-inch rifles apiece, cut loose in one gigantic salvo against a score or more of destroyers, representing the enemy, which was supposed to be launching a torpedo attack against the battleships, through a smoke screen laid down by airplanes co-operating with the defense. One hundred and seventy-six heavy caliber guns, firing full service charges let go at the same instant and continued broadside firing for about ten minutes.

The booming of the guns was distinctly heard at a little after a quarter past 11 o'clock on the summits of both Mount Wilson and Mount Lowe, and the shock of the concussion was plainly perceptible. A trifle earlier the same phenomena were observed at the aeronautical bureau of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and at the Los Angeles office of the United States Weather Bureau, both in the Central Building at Sixth and Main streets. Then the telephone bells began to jangle in newspaper offices. Hundreds of persons wanted to know where the earthquake had been.

"I should have been fooled myself," said Col. Hershey, the weather bureau's observer here, "if previous deceptions had not taught me to distinguish between air shocks and earth shocks. Inward flexure of the plate glass windows, under the pressure of repeated concussions, was distinctly visible. The building vibrated and there could be heard the dull rumble of the distant explosions. The time was approximately 11:15 a.m."

CITY CLINIC ADVOCATED BY POWERS

One of Three Buildings Proposed in Department of Health Extension

Plans for the establishment of three new Health Department branch buildings, including a proposed general clinic to house the Receiving Hospital, which the department will attempt to obtain through a bond issue, were outlined yesterday by Dr. L. M. Powers, health commissioner, following conferences and discussions on the question.

It is the intention of the department, Dr. Powers said, to lay the matter before the City Council for permission to call a bond issue election. The several proposed building plans have been laid before the Council at various times in the past but city funds have not been available to establish the branches, Dr. Powers said.

POISON BREAD PLOT; TWO ILL

Arsenic Put in Edible at Redondo Beach; Police Seek Clews to Conspiracy

A poison plot in which arsenic was mixed with flour in the home of the victims and which resulted in the critical illness of a man and a woman in Redondo Beach is under investigation by the Sheriff's and the District Attorney's office, it was learned late yesterday.

The victims are a woman and her brother, whose names are being withheld by the authorities. They became ill last Friday shortly after eating a meal. A sample of flour found in the home was obtained by Chief Investigator Kirkpatrick of the office of County Health Officer Pomeroy. It was analyzed by Dr. Arthur Maas, a chemist, who declared it contained arsenic in a form commonly used by farmers to kill bugs on celery.

The result of the health officer's investigation was turned over to Chief Dep. Dist.-Atty. Fitts, who assigned Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison to the case. Capt. Bright, head of the homicide squad of the Sheriff's office, announced last night that he will detail two deputy sheriffs to the case today.

The investigation was instituted by Oscar McAuley, sanitation inspector of the Redondo district, who was notified by friends of the woman that she had been having difficulty with her husband. When she and her brother became critically ill neighbors communicated their suspicions of a poison plot to Mr. McAuley.

Mr. McAuley informed Dr. John L. Pomeroy, County Health Chief, of the circumstances and the latter ordered the woman's husband placed under surveillance during an investigation of the case. In addition to the sample of flour analyzed by Prof. Maas, a second sample was turned over to County Chemist Walker for examination. His report is expected to be given to Dr. Pomeroy today.

The trouble in the family, according to information received by Dr. Pomeroy, was due to the presence of the brother in the home. The husband objected to his brother-in-law residing with him and his wife, while the wife insisted that he remain.

Two investigators assigned to the case have traced the source

PROPHECY OF DEATHS FULFILLED

"Pick Lilies for Me and Sister," Says Girl, "for We Are Going;" Both Die

Two pure white lilies were blooming Tuesday in the garden of Mrs. Teresa Garcia at 617 Imperial street. Yesterday the stately flowers were gone, fulfilling a strange request and a stranger prophesy.

The lilies were seen and admired Tuesday by Mrs. Garcia's 17-year-old niece, Mary Garcia, 664 Imperial street.

"Pick me one," Mary told her aunt, "and pick one and send it to my sister."

"Why do you wish it?" asked Mrs. Garcia.

"I want it to lay across my breast tonight, for I am going to die," she said. "The other is for my sister."

This brought terror to Mrs. Garcia.

That night at 9:45 o'clock Mary

DINES ASSURES KEYES OF FAITH

Phones Prosecutor Father is Near Death

State to Ask Another Delay in Greer Trial

Defense Protests Against More Postponements

Courtland S. Dines has no intention of "skipping out" of the trial of Horace A. Greer, the ex-chauffeur who made a target out of him last New Year's Day, he informed Dist.-Atty. Keyes via long-distance telephone from Denver yesterday.

The young and wealthy oil broker declared that he means to come back here and to testify just as soon as he possibly can. At the present time, he said, his family will not permit him to leave home because of his father's serious illness. The latter, he explained, has contracted pneumonia and is at the point of death.

As a result of this conversation it was indicated that Dist.-Atty. Keyes may seek another short continuation in the trial of Greer when the case opens before Judge Crail of the Superior Court Monday. At the same time, however, Defense Attorney Hahn declared he will demand that the case go to trial at once without Dines because of the numerous continuances and postponements already granted.

Mr. Keyes stated that Dines told him that he would return here just as soon as his father's condition permitted him to leave. Dines stated further that he did not intend to "break faith" with the local authorities who returned his $5000 bail to him and were kind enough to permit him to leave for Denver. He intimated also, Mr. Keyes said, that if another continuance was granted he would no doubt be able to attend the trial and give his testimony as the principal witness for the prosecution.

In response to a telegram sent yesterday by Dist.-Atty. Keyes to Dist.-Atty. Kancise of Denver inquiring about the condition of Dines's father, the Denver official stated that the elder Dines is in a critical condition and requested that his son be allowed to stay in Denver for thirty days. The elder Dines, according to the telegram, suffered a complete nervous breakdown after he broke his leg in San Francisco. Since then pneumonia set in and three physicians are attending the elderly man in an effort to save his life, Dist.-Atty. Vancise stated.

Dines was shot three times by Greer, at that time employed as a chauffeur for Mabel Normand, during a New Year's party in which the young oil broker, Miss Normand and Edna Purviance were the celebrants. The trial has been repeatedly delayed because of the illness or absence of various witnesses.

casualty, although steel, glass and wood on the dreadnaughts were shattered like crockery by the concussion from the fourteen and sixteen-inch batteries.

The gunners of the U.S.S. Maryland, only ship in the fleet mounting sixteen-inch guns, again came through with one of the highest scores ever made in squadron practice.

Seaplanes remained on the scene of action during the afternoon to locate the spent torpedoes, while a division of destroyers scurried about to retrieve the tin fish. At nightfall every torpedo had been recovered for further use by the mosquito fleet.

Aside from secret experimental practices to be executed by individual ships, today's maneuvers were the last to be carried out before the battle fleet departs for northern waters on the 25th inst.

RUM BLAMED IN DEATH

The body of Steve Mahoney, 56 years of age, was found yesterday at his store at 11201½ Moneta avenue. An investigation by Deputy Sheriffs Modie and Catlin resulted in the belief that death was caused by heart disease brought on by acute alcoholism. Neighbors testified, according to the deputies, that Mahoney had been drinking heavily for the last few days. An inquest will be conducted today.

DINNER TO BE GIVEN ON SHIP

Past Presidents and Directors of Chamber Will Have Annual Session the 20th inst.

A unique dinner meeting will be the scene of the tenth annual gathering of the Past Presidents' and Directors' Association of the Chamber of Commerce on the 20th inst.

The banquet will be served on board the liner City of Los Angeles of the Los Angeles Steamship Company's line, which will re-enter service on the following day between this port and the Hawaiian Islands.

The entire membership of the organization, which is composed of the remaining presidents and directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce since its organization, will attend the dinner as guests of Fred L. Baker, president of the steamship company.

The event will be in the nature of an inaugural affair, owing to the fact that the liner on which the dinner will be held has been out of service for several months for reconditioning. During this time many changes were made in the equipment of the vessel.

The meeting will be entirely informal and will afford the membership a chance to get together and talk over old times. The oldest man who will attend will be F. Q. Storey, while Paul G. Hoffman, a member of the present board of directors, will be the youngest, according to George Rice, Jr., secretary of the organization.

Among the events scheduled for the program which will follow the dinner is a speech by W. J. Washburn, president of the association during the past year, and the annual election of officers. The candidates for next year have not been announced.

STUDY AIMS AT ROOT OF CRIME

the county, judges of the Court of Appeal and the Superior Court, and prominent educators and high police officials participated in the organization meetings.

The next meeting of the academy as a whole will be held Monday, the 30th inst., probably at the University of California, Southern Branch.

One of the unique features planned for the coming meetings of the academy is a series of addresses by the leading I.W.W.s, Communists, parlor-reds, reformers and law-violators in general. Under the present plans a comprehensive symposium of the different views developed by the academy will be published.

MANY PRESENT

Nathaniel P. Conrey, presiding justice of the First District Court of Appeal, Superior Judge Reeve, Sheriff Treager, Undersheriff Biscailuz, Dist.-Atty. Keyes, Buron Fitts, his chief deputy; Chief of Police Vollmer, the division commanders of the department, First Deputy Chief Hilf, Second Deputy Chief Jackson, Ralph S. Boyesen, secretary to Chief Vollmer, and Fred C. Nelles, superintendent of the Whittier State School for Boys, were among the officials present at the Tuesday night meeting. The scientists and educators were represented by Dr. Moore, Dr. Paul Bowers, Dr. B. M. Allen, Dr. Douglas Eaton, Dr. Grace M. Fernald, Dr. Thomas J. Orbison, Dr. H. G. Brainerd, Dr. Harold Williams, Dr. A. J. Rosanoff, Dr. Samuel D. Ingham and Dr. Earnest Bryant Hoag. The meeting was Dr. Hoag's last public appearance for he was stricken suddenly yesterday morning and died in a few minutes.

The membership in the academy will be subject to close scrutiny and only leaders in their respective fields and men and women of recognized ability and opportunities for service and study will be admitted, First Deputy Chief Hilf said yesterday.

The academy is expected to supply a much-felt need of a medium for bringing together the best opinion, scientific knowledge and legal and official machinery of the community to the study of the underlying causes and effects of crime so necessary to intelligent and effective crime suppression, Chief Vollmer and Deputy Chief Hilf explained.

EXAMPLE GIVEN

An example of what may be expected to develop from the sessions of the academy was had yesterday at the regular weekly meeting of the police captains in the chief's office when three speakers presented their views to the police officials. The speakers were Dr. Clinton J. Taft, director of the American Civil Liberties Union; Attorney John H. Ryckman, who styled himself "defender of the I.W.W." and Rev. Edwin P. Ryland, pastor of the Hollywood Methodist Church. While the meeting was not officially a meeting of the academy, the fact that every division commander has taken part in the formation of the organization makes the captains' meetings a part of the academy's proceedings.

The preorganization lectures were delivered at the university on Tuesday nights during the last few months. They originated with the idea that the police, after obtaining the views of the prisoners would be benefited by a series of addresses by biologists, anthropologists, psychiatrists and other experts. Chief Vollmer was especially anxious to have his men attend lectures on human behavior.

The next development in the program brought forth an unexpected result. Some of the men who attended the lectures felt that too much theory and not enough practical information was being put forth. So Chief Vollmer decided to have some of his men tell the gatherings about real police work. First Deputy Chief Hilf, dignified, polished and scholarly; Captain of Detectives Home, the human dynamo and master mind of the detective bureau; Clyde Plummer, the deep-chested, blunt-spoken head of the purity squad; Lieut. "Jimmy" Lyons, the corpulent "boss" of the police reserves, and Capt. Robert Lee Heath, lawyer, diplomat, policeman head of the bureau of records, were among those who delivered the addresses that made up in vigor and variety what they lacked in technical terminology.

"RAW, RED SIN"

"Raw, Red Sin," the vice game from A to Z, was the subject of Capt. Plummer's talk. Plummer is known all over the city for smashing doors and conventional taboos, and his address, according to the educators and scientists who attended, contained no minced words or diluted thoughts. "In dealing with criminals, crime crushing consists in knocking their ears down and making Christians out of them," Lieut. Lyons said from the platform as he fingered his four-inch gun belt.

"This is real literature," Dr. Moore was quoted as saying after the meetings. He then declared that the police addresses were to be preserved in book form. From this grew the idea of a comprehensive symposium on the question of what leads to crime and how crime is to be controlled.

The scientific contribution to the preliminary lectures included addresses on causes of crime from the point of criminologist, by Dr. Bowers; the biologist, by Dr. Allen; the neurologist, by Dr. Eaton; the psychologist, by Dr. Emerald; the pathological behavior, by Dr. Orbison; and the psychiatrist, by Dr. Brainerd. "Diagnosis" was the subject of Dr. Williams, "General Health," of Dr. Hoag and "Psychosis," of Dr. Rosanoff. Drug addiction was discussed by Dr. Ingham, juvenile delinquency by Mr. Nelles and a number of other subjects by other eminent Los Angeles professional men.

FORGER SUSPECT BUYS HIS GIRL WRIST WATCH

Don Hight's girl got a wrist watch worth $150 and he got $5 at the expense of William Stromberg, a jeweler, of 1092 North Western avenue, it was asserted yesterday in a complaint issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Vobayda. Hight, it was charged, represented himself as L. C. Reed, manager of the Westgate Hotel, and signed Reed's name to a check for $155.

DRIVER OF DEATH CAR CONVICTED

Guy Woods Found Guilty on Three Manslaughter Counts; Sentencing Set

The jury hearing the case of Guy M. Woods, charged with manslaughter, last night returned a verdict of guilty on each of three counts. The jury was out four hours. Woods will be sentenced Saturday.

The death of Mrs. Julia Sherman, Cecil George and Miss Gladys Lewis in an automobile crash in Pasadena, February 18, last, was laid to Woods's door in three counts of the charge. Mrs. Sherman was the wife of Rev. Roger Sherman, an Adventist minister, who was driving a party home from a religious meeting.

Woods, driver of the other car and a motion-picture location man, was seriously hurt in the crash. Witnesses testified they believed the Woods car was making at least sixty miles an hour and that it appeared that members of Woods's party had been drinking. This was denied by Woods, who asserted Mr. Sherman's car was on the wrong side of the street.

The trial was heard before Judge Reeve and began last Friday.

department are a clinic building, a quarantine hospital and a public laundry.

The clinic, Dr. Powers said, would be used for the various municipal clinics now in operation in rented rooms about the city.

Necessity for a Quarantine Hospital was explained by the commissioner in citing the present condition where men are quarantined in the East Side Stockade and women are sent to the Los Feliz Hospital. Dr. Powers suggested that the hospital be established in the city but in a location as far removed from public thoroughfares as possible.

A public laundry would offer free use of baths, sterilization rooms and washing and drying apparatus for laundry work, the commissioner said.

Confirmation of this point will be the basis for the issuance of a complaint at once, it was said at the District Attorney's office. Failing in this phase of the investigation, authorities will leave the matter of a complaint to the man and the woman suffering from the poison.

The principals in the asserted poison plot reside on the outskirts of Redondo.

Citizens Urged to Pay Respect to W.G.M'Adoo

Acting Mayor Workman, who is a Republican, yesterday issued a proclamation calling attention to the fact that in William G. McAdoo the city of Los Angeles has for the first time a citizen candidate for the Presidency. The Acting Mayor urged that citizens be present at the Santa Fe Railroad station next Saturday morning at 11:15 o'clock to testify to the esteem in which the people of Los Angeles, regardless of political affiliations, hold Mr. McAdoo. Mr. McAdoo will leave at that time for New York City to attend the Democratic National Convention.

ASSAULT EDICT UPHELD

MANY GO TO FUNERAL OF MRS. DAMON

Floral Offerings Profuse as Wife of "Times" Man is Laid to Final Rest

Funeral services for Mrs. Florence Frances Damon, who died after a lengthy illness at the family home, 1959 Hillcrest Drive, were conducted yesterday afternoon at Bresee Brothers funeral chapel.

Mrs. Damon was the wife of Arthur N. Damon, who has been foreman of the composing room of The Times for a number of years. The funeral services were attended by a large number of friends of the family, among them fellow-employees of Mr. Damon from The Times, including heads of the various departments.

There were a large number of floral offerings. At the chapel the funeral sermon was preached by Rev. O. W. Reinius, pastor of the Arlington Heights Methodist Church. Mrs. Arnold and Miss Williams sang. Burial was at Rosedale Cemetery. The pallbearers were: Winthrop Richards, John McCrillis, H. D. Sallada, Horace Miller, Ernest Whitehead and Tom Condon.

Civil Service Will Abide by Bishop Ruling

President Chappel of the County Civil Service Commission yesterday declared the intention of the commission to abide by the recent ruling of County Counsel Bishop that civil service employees may not make campaigns for elective office. He said further leaves of absence will be refused.

He said the ruling coincided with the opinion of the commission, and that leaves of absence had been granted in the past because of the opinion of the former County Counsel and not because the commission thought them legal.

He pointed out, however, that a man who resigns a civil service office may be reappointed within one year, provided there is a vacancy and the commission approves of the reinstatement. This was taken as a possible way out of the difficulty for Deputy Treasurer Manchester, who wishes to run for Supervisor, for Deputy District Attorneys, who wish to run for the Superior Court bench.

MARVEL OF ALL HARBORS

Los Angeles Achievement to be One of Many Tales Told at Port Authorities' Conclave

When 500 members of the American Association of Port Authorities gather here in convention, October 13, 14 and 15, stories of harbors all over the world will be told, but none to compare with the romance of the modern miracle in Los Angeles, according to Perry Young of New Orleans, editor of World Ports, who is in Los Angeles to help arrange for the convention.

British and Australian cities will send delegates and practically every American and Canadian port will be represented by leading steamship men as well as port officials. Engineers and transportation chiefs also are expected in numbers.

The convention was obtained for Los Angeles following the election at New Orleans last fall of C. J. Colden, president of the Los Angeles Harbor Commission, as a director in the American association. Selection of an official hotel as headquarters for the conventionists will be announced in a few weeks, Mr. Young said. Although the program is far from complete, the following are expected to read papers:

Admiral E. C. Palmer, president of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, on "Operating a Great Fleet;" William F. Sproul, president, Southern Pacific, "Railroads and Ports;" M. P. Flunnell, representing American shippers in Europe, "European Shipping Conditions;" Capt. Robert Dollar, head of the Dollar Steamship Line, "Port Terminals from a Steamship Man's Point of View;" unnamed representative of the Interstate Commerce Commission on "Standardizing Rail Absorption at Port Terminals;" Bureau of Mines representative on "Oil Pollution;" Col. A. W. Townsend, United States Army Engineers, "Water Transportation Compared with Rails;" E. F. Carter, Vancouver, "Grain Elevator Administration;" W. F. PROPHECY OF DEATH TRUE passed away. Fifteen minutes later word came to Mrs. Garcia that Mary's 22-year-old sister, Laura Garcia, had just died at her home at 739 Oak street, Watts.

Side by side in a darkened room of the Alvarez & Moore Undertaking Company last night the two bodies lay. On the breast of each was a lily.

Death was unexpected in both cases, Mrs. Garcia said. Although both girls were not in good health both did not take to their beds until shortly before the end came.

The mother of the girls is dead and their father, said to be a former judge in a New Mexico town, was not here at the time of their death. An effort was being made last night to locate him.

A green and white sweater and matching scarf is worn with a pleated skirt of white cloth.

William Ingram, Espee Official, Dies in Bay City

William Foote Ingram, 58 years of age, assistant treasurer of the Southern Pacific and widely known in railroad circles, died Tuesday night of appendicitis in a San Francisco hospital. He was born in Kentucky, beginning his railroad career in 1881 as a messenger boy for the Louisville and Nashville. After experience with various roads he became auditor in 1902 of the Cananea, Yaqui River and Pacific, a Southern Pacific subsidiary. In 1908 he was made assistant auditor of the Southern Pacific Company.

In 1914 he was promoted to assistant treasurer. In 1923 he was made president of the Railway Treasury Officers' Association. He leaves a widow, two sons and a daughter.

AETNA ARTISTS SCORE AT KHJ

Splendid Program Arranged by Insurance Man

Basso and Player of French Horn in Triumphs

Violinist Renders Numbers in Masterly Fashion

BY CLAIRE FORBES CRANE

Everything is done by radio nowadays. We entertain our guests, we give dansants, we even marry through this medium. The Aetna Life Insurance Company has created still another form of expression—that of celebrating a victory achieved in the business world.

The program last evening presented through the courtesy of [illegible] Vallely of the Aetna Life Insurance Company was a "radio party" for his friends, and in gratitude to the large clientele which made his victory in the insurance campaign possible.

Leslie Brigham, basso-cantante, who arranged the musical program, gathered around him a group of splendid fellow-artists, including Alice Forsythe Mosher, soprano; Alfred Brain, French horn; Leona Neblett, violinist, and Lottie S. Burke, accompanist.

The program was entitled "Old Songs and Melodies." The works presented may have been old in years, but surrounded by the glamour of fine artistry they lived again in the full beauty of their fresh creation.

SINGER IS ARTIST

In Leslie Brigham one sees a basso-cantante who may well bring fame to his native city. Possessed of an expressive, well-modulated voice, free from throatiness, Mr. Brigham is capable of forgetting the technique of his singing and surrendering himself completely to the mood of each song he renders.

Last evening he endowed such songs as "Annie Laurie," "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," and "Love's Old Sweet Song" with a pathos and beauty of phrasing difficult to surpass.

Alice Forsyth Mosher sang "The Last Rose of Summer" and "I Dreamt I Dwelt in Marble Halls" with crystalline purity of diction and an entire absence of the affectation which so often spoils the interpretation of a folk song by a professional artist.

Last night Alfred Brain, solo French horn of the Philharmonic Orchestra, opened up a new vista of understanding of his instrument.

He played transcriptions of numbers which seemed almost impossible to the average listener to interpret on a French horn. And Walther's "Prize Song" from "Die Meistersinger" was given with a breadth of melodic line that created the illusion of the song itself. Mr. Brain's tone was as golden mellow and warm as late afternoon sunshine.

The Dvorak "Humoresque" and Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" are two numbers which are hallowed with the tears and laughter of countless throngs. Leona Neblett, violinist, seemed to sense this as she played them last evening. Her bowing and supple wrist was a lesson for many a violinist who looked on.

Lottie S. Burke, formerly one of the best-known organists of Salt Lake City, was a sympathetic and unobtrusive background for each number. That is the height of fine accompanying.

Mr. Marx Baumgardt stepped into his role of astrologer and began a series of talks on the [illegible]."

The noon hour was given an atmosphere different from the ordinary daily orchestral fare. Four charming young girls, Marion [illegible], pianist; Dorothy Reel, soprano; Dorothy Cameron, violinist and Helen Dosh, members of Phi Mu Epsilon, honorary musical sorority, gave a truly lovely program.

Attired in cool summer dresses, their young faces radiant with the beauty of the day and their music, they sang and played as unconsciously as the birds do. Each girl was genuinely talented. Their selection of numbers was expressive of themselves—happy things like Cowen's "A Birthday," and Schumann-Liszt's "Dedication." Listeners wish to hear them again very soon.

At the afternoon program Claire Forbes Crane in response to numerous requests, gave a short piano recital through the courtesy of Barker Brothers.

The radio gardener, Fred C. McNabb, gave the members of his family much valuable information, which made them go back with renewed energy to their flowers.

Dick Winslow, juvenile reporter, brought joy to the Children's Hour as he related a clever interview with six prominent club women of the biennial convention.

A pupil of Maude S. Brigandi, Irene Ashby, 11 years of age, pianist, proved a credit to her teacher.

Carl Brigandi, 13, cornetist, son of Maude Brigandi, did some astonishing work for so young a student of a brass instrument.

BULKHEAD EXTENSION IS SOUGHT BY UTILITY

Application has been made by the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation to extend the existing wood-piling bulkhead on the easterly side of the entrance to Alamitos Bay to a point approximately 160 feet north of Ocean avenue, Seal Beach. Maps showing location of the proposed work will be on exhibition in the office of the United States Engineer, 725 Central Building, until Tuesday. Interested parties are invited to inspect this map and to submit in writing, in triplicate, on or before that date, any objections based on navigation interests that they may have to the proposed work. Objections based on other than navigation interests cannot be considered, according to Maj. Ardery, district engineer.

PRISONER SENTENCED

Manuel Valencio Convicted For Passing Raised Bills

Federal Judge James yesterday sentenced Manuel Valencio to five years at Leavenworth on a charge of passing counterfeit money after Valencio had been found guilty by a jury. Joe Torres, arrested from Valencio, will be tried next week. Albert Fierro, a third codefendant, pleaded guilty several weeks ago to having made the counterfeit money and was sentenced to six years at Leavenworth.

The three were indicted on a charge of making and passing raised $20 bills. The evidence against Valencio showed the bills he passed were $2 bills raised to represent $20 bills.

WOMAN IN LOVE DEN CASE FREED ON BAIL

Mrs. May Hawkins, awaiting trial in Superior Court on charges of contributing to the delinquency of two minor girls, was released yesterday from the County Jail on $3000 bail. Mrs. Hawkins and her husband, Ben A. Hawkins, are asserted to have conducted a "love den" on Victor street, to which Karl A. Brainard, former city building inspector, is asserted to have lured young girls and to have made love to them. Hawkins also is awaiting trial on charges similar to those preferred against his wife. He is still being held in jail in lieu of $3000 bond. Bail for Mrs. Hawkins was deposited in Judge Archbald's department of Juvenile Court.

JEWELRY IS AUCTIONED AT BARGAIN FOR DUTY

Jewelry appraised at approximately $15,000 was sold at auction yesterday by L. H. Schwaebe, collector of customs, for $3600 to Mrs. Carolyn Chilberg. The jewelry was part of a $25,000 stock of miscellaneous merchandise sold to satisfy the government's claims for duty assessments and was sold in one lot while the remainder went to various purchasers. The total proceeds of the sale amounted to $6198.25. Aside from the jewelry the highest single purchase was an assortment of Japanese novelties that brought $465.

SON OF RICH SENTENCED FOR HOLD-UP

Harold Mayfield Said to be Scion of Prominent Family in South

Harold Mayfield, said to be a scion of a prominent southern family and a relative of Senator Mayfield of Texas, was sentenced yesterday by Superior Judge Crail to the Preston school at Ione until he becomes of age.

Young Mayfield, who is 18 years of age, pleaded guilty to a charge of second degree robbery in connection with the hold-up of J. M. Schwab on February 19, last. Also accused in the robbery were Chester Kelley, 18, and Paul Christensen, 24. Kelly also was sentenced to Ione until he is 21 years of age. Christensen was given a sentence of from one year to life in San Quentin.

It was charged that the youths embarked on a career of crime shortly after arrival in Los Angeles. Mayfield and Kelly were charged only with the robbery of Schwab. Christensen was charged in addition with the robbery of J. R. Bell on February 16, last. Schwab lost $57 and Bell was robbed of $96, according to the officers who investigated the case.

Square Deal for All Countries Is Plea of Editor

"We are on the threshold of a tremendous transition in world thinking," said Paul Harveys, editor of The Interpreter, at the City Club yesterday.

"The war closed the chapter on nationalism and opened a new chapter, which will be called internationalism. This chapter will write the story to prove that cooperation is even more successful than competition, in international relations.

"So far as the United States is concerned, it should be remembered that our isolation policy was established before the era of steam, when European governments were powerful autocracies with which a new democracy, of course, could not have an alliance," said the speaker. "Today we are the world's most powerful nation and autocracies are in oblivion.

"What we must find is a basic principle on which world security can be established. There is only one. It is equality and equal opportunity, the square deal, the rights of a minority, whether nation or individual, to think for itself. This principle is inherent in the American system of government," the speaker concluded.

AGRICULTURAL NOTE

By this time a lot of estimable citizens have found out that running a garden is a good deal harder than running a wheelbarrow.

A PUSH, NOT A PULL

Pasadena has produced a youth, Townsend Brown, 18 years old, who claims to have proved that gravitation results from a push rather than a pull. Perhaps, but it's hard to imagine why the pushing forces of the sun do not push the earth out of its orbit.

QUID PRO QUO

The Chicago University baseball team had been signed up to play at Tokio with a Japanese university squad. But that was before the Exclusion Act had been passed. Now the Japs may retaliate by closing the gates against the American visitors.

HARD AT WORK

It is alleged that Henry Ford has achieved the highest degree of efficiency in production in his plants by getting from his employees all that there is in them. In all his machinery, policy and methods he combines the single idea of keeping the employee at his task. There isn't the ghost of a chance for a man to loaf on his job. Everything is running on high and the man who cannot keep the pace falls out. Henry can afford to pay good wages because he gets every ounce of the worker's energy.

PULLING TOGETHER

The New York Central is now running a fleet of motor trucks to handle package freight on the shorter hauls. Regular lines have been established and they work in conjunction with the railroad instead of in opposition. There is no reason why the existing railway corporations should not be the heaviest users of motor trucks. There is a lot of freight that the truck can handle with greater economy and efficiency than the rails. Instead of fighting the motor trucks the railways should use them.

UNDER COVER

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge has usually been a dominating figure at the national conventions of the Republican party. He has been chairman at different times and he has usually directed the Committee on Resolutions. He has ever been recognized as the head of the Massachusetts delegation. But this year he is in eclipse and there are many Bay State partisans who would even wish to take away his toga. All this is because he has not given support to the administration. He assents to the nomination of Calvin Coolidge, but he has not kept in tune with the administration. This is resented by the rank and file of the party. They have had respect for the scholarship and attainments of the Senator from Massachusetts, but they take exception to his judgment. The Cleveland convention will be held without any commands from Senator Lodge.

GOVERNMENT HOUSEKEEPING

One of the subjects which the General Federation of Women's Clubs has taken up with enthusiasm is government housekeeping. In the report on the work of this committee a great many interesting facts were offered.

And one was that the forty-eight States spend $700,000,000 a year to support their wards in orphanages, asylums, hospitals, prisons, etc. And, as each State has a special committee of interested workers in this department, the women have discovered that the male officials are poor and extravagant housekeepers. Instance after instance of wasteful buying, foolish buying and incompetent apportionment of available funds was given.

This proved a subject that the whole convention could thoroughly understand and participate in—and many derisive laughs greeted the narratives of masculine housekeeping sins. A case was cited in which a trustee bought $500 worth of minute tapioca and left his wards without shoes.

Herbert Hoover was constantly quoted as one of the best factors in the endeavor to improve this government housekeeping. Many of his war methods of co-operative buying and his knowledge of markets were cited. The women showed a marked disposition to see that the responsible authorities in their respective States adopted these improved methods and secured adequate value for the taxpayers' money.

In this department also comes the question of profitable employment for prisoners—upon which point the convention has passed a recommending resolution. This convention of housekeepers appears to be of one mind that prisons should be self-supporting—sick or incompetent prisoners being removed to other institutions. The fact was brought out that a very large percentage of children in State homes and orphanages are the children of prisoners, so that the State supports the whole family. The women even have a scheme by which the feeble-minded can perform simple tasks and contribute to their own support.

All of this is very much in line with President Coolidge's platform of thrift in governmental administration. The United States may become a good economical housekeeper yet. It will be the women's fault if it doesn't.

HANDS ACROSS THE BORDER

There is something of far deeper significance than mere coincidence in the fact that the Presidents of the American and Mexican republics, speaking within a few hours of each other last week, delivered addresses in which they stressed the conflict now taking place in the world between moral and spiritual forces and those of anarchy and sordid materialism. It was deeply significant because it demonstrated that the ideals of the American and Mexican peoples are not contradictory and that, in the words of President Obregon, they are traveling "on parallel roads with gaze fixed on the same objective."

President Obregon spoke at Nogales, an international city, where the national boundary is little more than an imaginary line. Here the two peoples meet in business and social intercourse, and their mutual relations have given birth to mutual affection. To one who was fortunate enough to participate with Nogales citizens in extending enthusiastic welcome to President Obregon and who knew Los Angeles forty years ago, this city, spread like a flowering carpet across the border, possesses a peculiar charm. The Mexicans speak English and the Americans speak Spanish. The children of the old families intermarry and the ties of blood strengthen those of social and commercial intercourse. The spirit is that of Los Angeles of the "eighties," where Spanish chivalry was wedded to Anglo-Saxon thrift and industry.

In his address President Obregon gave evidence of an almost perfect understanding of what may be termed the American psychology. His affection for the American people is not merely a veneer; it dates back to the years of youth and young manhood, when he was a resident of the Mexican city of Nogales and engaged in a business where many of his customers resided on the American side of the border.

President Obregon gave evidence of the breadth of vision indispensable to statesmanship. He pointed out that the same interests which had made use of great wealth to secure special privileges at Washington had been operating in Mexico. He said they had interfered with just administration of government; and, when they could not control the Obregon administration, they sought, through revolution, to destroy it. The stain of oil tar on their hands was clearly visible on both sides of the border.

The Mexican President paid a graceful tribute to President Coolidge. He is grateful for the privilege of purchasing arms in this country, which the American government accorded to the government of Mexico in order that it might stamp out outlawry and revolution that threatened to destroy the measure of liberty and self-government for which the loyal people of Mexico gave their best blood.

He described the recent Mexican revolution as a struggle between moral and material elements, between justice and force. In this connection he said:

> I am under the impression that the world is going through a moral and mental crisis, a breaking down which is due to the preponderance which, to our misfortune, material influences are taking. I believe that we are living in one of the most transcendental epochs in the history of humanity and that these two opposing forces are striving for the rudder of the universe—material forces on the one hand and spiritual and mental forces on the other—and that if the guidance of the peoples of the world should remain under the control of material forces, living would have no explanation to justify itself.

President Obregon grounds his faith in the progressive development of the Mexican people in the community of understanding and of interests of the two nations. He referred to America as Mexico's greatest ally; not the government alone, but the people. And he voiced that faith in saying:

> A strange thing has occurred and to our good fortune, in that our two peoples have at last known each other and have appreciated each other; and Mexico numbers among her greatest allies the noble American people, who are now convinced that our internal strife is morally justified and that the efforts which we have put forth to better the conditions of many millions of pariahs which our country held under past administrations are worthy of praise and worthy of support.

These extracts bear eloquent testimony of the progress that has been made in good government in Mexico since the Carranza regime was overthrown. Carranza sought to rule by fanning the animosities of the people against their neighbors across the border. Obregon seeks to create a community of interest, to promote and maintain peaceful relations, to promote the same feeling of good fellowship between the citizens of the United States and of Mexico that now exists between Americans and Canadians.

It is a noble resolve, one which the people of the United States cannot commend too highly. Mexico is to be congratulated in having for its President a statesman of broad and true vision, one who is an idealist, but not a fanatic. If his policy is carried to its fruition it will mean the progressive, harmonious development of the two countries to the mutual benefit of both peoples.

THE FORGOTTEN MAN

Theodore Burton's plea for "the forgotten man" in his keynote speech at the Cleveland convention Tuesday voices a sentiment that will play a prominent part in this year's Presidential campaign. He said that "the tendency is to impose burdens too heavy to bear upon the ordinary citizen, 'the forgotten man,' who, toiling quietly at home, seeks no favors, but asks only the friendly protection of a government that is just and fair."

There are two kinds of government possible under representative institutions. One is that to which Lincoln referred as a government "for the people;" the other is a government of politicians and for politicians. The claim of the Republican party to be a party of the people is supported by seventy years of glorious history. But it has not always been possible under nominally Republican administrations to give to the people that "friendly protection" to which Mr. Burton referred.

Some rights of the people were encroached upon by the "nominally Republican" Congress which adjourned last week. If every Senator and Representative elected as a Republican had supported the President and his Cabinet "the forgotten man" would have had his tax burdens materially lessened. The relations between the United States and Japan would not be what all the rest of the world terms extremely critical. We should have had an economic and scientific revenue law in place of the present mess of political pottage.

But who is to look after the interests of "the forgotten man"? Who is to protect him from the encroachments of greedy minorities? Who is to defend him when his interests are menaced by frenzied radicals seeking to destroy the government to which he owes his security and from intellectual anarchists who have been aptly termed moral idiots?

In truth, "the forgotten man" is one who forgets his own interests; who neglects to exercise the right of suffrage. He stays at home on election day, if he has not, indeed, forgotten to register. He permits a well-organized and active minority to nominate in direct primaries candidates who are pledged to further the interests of this minority, which are certain to be contrary to the public interest.

President Coolidge has sought in his public addresses to waken in the hearts of the American people a greater personal interest in the selection of public officials. At least 8,000,000 Republicans remained away from the polls in the Congress elections of 1922. More than 10,000,000 of them failed to vote in the Congress primaries. This lack of interest in the elections of that year made possible a Congress that placed personal and private interests before the public welfare.

Mr. Burton very truly said that if "the forgotten man" does not rouse himself to combat the tendency of the politicians and greedy special groups and interests to impose crushing tax burdens upon him "we shall become a people abounding in preferred classes, the burden of whose privileges must rest with crushing weight upon the great body of our citizenship."

The active, well-organized minorities went to the polls in 1922 and voted the Republican ticket; the great unorganized army of the forgotten men stayed at home. The politicians observed the inertia of those 8,000,000 men and women; they felt they had nothing to fear politically from them and they legislated for the organized minority blocs whose personal interest dictated the choice of candidates in at least 100 doubtful districts.

The Republican leaders are beginning early in the campaign to sound the warning that, if more Republicans do not go to the polls on election day, notably on primary day, another "nominally Republican" Congress may be elected; and the unhappy experience of 1922 will be repeated in the Congress that sits in 1925 and 1926. They cannot rescue "the forgotten man" if he will make no effort to aid in his own rescue.

A SICK NEIGHBOR

We hear reports of El Paso's troubles with a peculiarly profound regret. For El Paso is the metropolis of what may be called our back country; a sturdy little city back there in the desert hundreds of miles from anywhere; a city with all the true courage and character of the Southwest; a city so thoroughly Southwestern that it is not considered a Texas city more than a New Mexico or an Arizona city and at the same time a Mexican center because it is the center of a vast domain of mining and cattle lands of North Central Mexico.

For a year or two El Paso men of prominence have been coming here. Los Angeles always has been El Paso's shopping center and summer resort. We have had a former Mayor, a former collector of customs and many others establish themselves in business in Los Angeles and now we learn that El Paso's depression has increased with the failure of one bank and a run on another to increase the difficulty. We learn that El Paso's troubles may not be merely temporary, for the ports of entry to the East have taken much of her Mexican shipping.

This struggle of El Paso's is something that should command the sympathy and the admiration of Los Angeles. El Paso has been known as the biggest little city in the West and the paradox is a good one. A community of less than 100,000 inhabitants, its importance always has been that of a city many times that size. In the desert country size does not always denote importance. A cattle center, a mining center, a center for Mexican trade and a railroad center (El Paso has five railways) and the geographical center of the plateau that encompasses West Texas, Southern New Mexico, Eastern Arizona and the Mexican State of Chihuahua—how impregnable El Paso's position seems. It has taken years of disorder in Mexico and bad times in the mining industry and cattle industry of the Southwest to put El Paso where it is.

We learn that El Paso people are not despondent; that they are devising new means to keep the desert city alive and to regain its one-time importance, and it is very probable that this can be done. They are not quitters in El Paso. Theirs is the stuff that pioneers are made of. Their achievements have not come easily and they will not permit the fruits to be easily taken from them. The El Paso of yesterday was an adobe town of saloons and gambling hells, the toughest place on the border. A few years has seen the growth of a clean, American city of brick and concrete. But the principal building material has been grit.

El Paso developed a personality that has made it an agreeable place to live in socially. Native westerners of the best type blended with easterners of the best type, for El Paso climate attracted many of the highest-class men of the East who sought relief from the white plague and who, when cured, remained and became a part of the community. This made for a good fellowship for which El Paso has been noted and for a character, a determination that is born of difficulties.

Los Angeles, in viewing the troubles of her neighbor (a very close neighbor, for what are distances in our Southwest?) should not fail with a helping hand if help is possible. Los Angeles in her great prosperity also should not be too busy to read a wholesome lesson from El Paso's difficulties and gain some measure of inspiration from the courageous way that El Paso is going about the business.

TIME TO RETIRE

When the time comes for a man to retire it is a fine thing if he can do just that instead of merely giving up.

THE SAGE OF CALABASAS

There are two general types of people in these United States. There are those who, when the word civilization is mentioned, picture the kinetic culture that has come to be called American, of which innovation is the most conspicuous characteristic. To them civilization is synonymous with progress. It is a large class and is well typified by Dr. Hubert Work, Secretary of the Interior.

The other and smaller class defines civilization as a settled and orderly community life, without reference to kinetics. To them progress is not a necessary factor. This class is typified by Dr. Charles Lummis, who is defending the culture of the Pueblo Indians from the attacks of the Indian Bureau.

The Pueblos have a relatively static culture, which was old when Dr. Work's ancestors were savages in the forest. Dr. Work is convinced that in order to live worth-while lives the Indians must imitate or adopt a kinetic culture. Dr. Lummis retorts that if a kinetic culture is best for the Indians they will develop it themselves and that in the meantime it is a good idea to let well enough alone.

Dr. Work does not understand Dr. Lummis's point of view. Dr. Lummis understands Dr. Work's and rejects it. The Indians also reject Dr. Work's point of view—and perhaps understand it better than they are given credit for. They have been civilized—according to the second definition—[illegible].

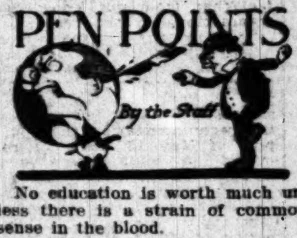
PEN POINTS



No education is worth much unless there is a strain of common sense in the blood.

The old maxim that one must learn to say "no" doesn't make a hit with the girls.

The highways are full of former prodigies who feel that they are lucky if they make the price of a feed.

Complaint is made that the Indian Bureau is stupid. When was any government bureau ever anything else?

Saxophone was invented by a Belgian, it's now said. Is this more German propaganda to justify the 1914 invasion?

More cash registers are now being sold in Los Angeles than in any city in the world. Somebody must be taking in money.

One of the Princeton professors declares that the world is 10,000,000,000 years old. And now it is just getting its hair bobbed.

Trotzky says he can see powerful militaristic aspirations on the part of Uncle Sam. He must have a strong glass of something.

Sometimes we think the scientist is jollying himself when he builds a thirty-seven-foot skeleton after digging up a prehistoric hambone.

No diplomatic husband will enjoy himself while the wife is away visiting her mother. At least the wife will never know it from him.

Angel Firpo, the Argentine battler, is a druggist when at home. If he were here he could tend his store and still be in the big money.

Fashionable shoes are now being made of lizard skin. It might not be a bad idea to skin some of these lounge lizards and put them under foot.

Bobbed-hair girls are at the foot of the class in the University of Arizona. Maybe because they're more popular and have less time for study.

Georges Carpentier says that he did not use his head enough in his American fights. He might also have been a little more lavish with his hands.

One of our fluffy flappers allows no kissing when she is out riding. She says the man cannot drive a car and give the kiss the attention it deserves.

The fashion notes in one of the magazines said that Satan was very attractive in sporty skirts. Satan seems to be always getting mixed up with the skirts.

The Panama Canal is now doing a bigger business than the gash at Suez. It looks as if Uncle Sam would have to build another one like it to take care of the trade.

THIS IS THE DAY

First engagement of the American Revolution took place in the year 1775. The American sloop Amity, with a small crew, attacked and captured the British schooner Margaretta off the coast of Maine. The owners and crew of the Amity received the formal thanks of the Massachusetts Provincial Congress.

FLYING CHIPS

BY ALMA WHITAKER

My son was called upon to explain to his high-school class "How the Constitution of the United States benefits me personally."

It is a pretty good subject for adults to consider, too. Just on instinct, without any profound study of the question, I suspect that most of us take that "freedom of speech" the most ardently, with due regard for the "pursuit of happiness."

Actually, of course, it is one of the finest set of standards of principles ever devised, based on "The Golden Rule."

I was rather proud of my youngster, because, without any hint from me, he had decided that the Constitution was to government what the Ten Commandments are to religion and that we cannot violate either without detriment to our own characters.

There is a good deal of enthusiasm about these junior auxiliaries to the women's clubs. The convention is quite rapturously delighted with the success of the movement.

But it sounds like child labor to me. Isn't it rather overwhelming for the dear girls to have to accept all these ready-made responsibilities and moral burdens? When Sir James Barrie talked to those Scottish students in that famous speech on "Courage" he told them to distrust the wisdom of their elders whose judgment had not always proven righteous and wise. Of course, he was chiefly referring to male elders and their faulty judgment. But perhaps we older women should sometimes concede the ghost of a possibility that we may be wrong.

Gene Stratton Porter told the convention press luncheon that when she joined McCall's Magazine three years ago it mourned a $4000 deficit for that year. Then a reorganization of management brought her on to the staff with the result that it has made steady profit increase ever since, reaching $2,000,000 last year.

Well, when I first came to Los Angeles this was a little city of 200,000—with a financial panic in full swing. But with my advent the panic promptly began to subside and there has been a steady increase of population and prosperity ever since, so that today I can boast that the city numbers over 1,000,000.

Just two little examples of the influence of bright women!

I cannot see anything amusing about the advertisement of a certain flapper film being shown in town this week which is headed "The party is on! Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb cordially invite you to witness a reproduction of the kind of jazz parties ..." etc., through a peculiarly disgusting half page of slush.

This advertisement impresses me as being the quintessence of nasty depravity—the exploitation of a loathsome murder in a loathsome way.

One does rather wonder whether Rupert Hughes approves of that—especially, of all times, during a women's convention week.

SACRIFICE

By The Foothill Philosopher

Never was a more dangerous doctrine taught than that which recently is finding its way into certain schools of intellectuals in America, namely, that the truth reveals itself only in the paradox. Such a doctrine appeals strongly to two classes of persons, viz, those who are merely intellectual and those who would and do apply the teaching for the purpose of subsequently excusing themselves for the gratification of unworthy desires. Admit this doctrine to be true and apply it to our social life and the only logical thing for society to do would be to empty all penal institutions and to leave every individual free to act according to the dictates of his desires, regardless of the consequences to his fellow-beings.

However, the entire country's reaction to the terrible crime recently committed by two "intellectual" young men in Chicago is fairly good proof that the doctrine referred to is the teaching of the Prince of Sophists and that its application makes for misery. Such a doctrine, whenever or wherever applied, dulls the moral sensibilities in its attempt to declare a truce between the forces of good and evil, neither of which the doctrine recognizes as potential or worth while. "The man in the street" who subscribes to this doctrine with the expression "What's the use"? is a mighty good man to avoid.

A man's motive and the wisdom or folly of his method make all the difference in the world in the result of his action. That which is unbeautiful in motive and unwise in method can never bear desirable fruit. For instance, grant that the criminal, like the saint, seeks that which shall bring him happiness, his motives and methods are entirely different and, unlike the saint, he inevitably fails to achieve his purpose.

Voluntary sacrifice of the body and of physical pleasures, in the interest of the welfare of humanity and of the higher selfhood, is one thing; enforced sacrifice of another being to satisfy a morbid curiosity or to gain knowledge to be used in gratifying one's bestial passions is quite another thing. Only the sophist would see no difference between these two forms of sacrifice. That which is unbeautiful or cruel can never, in the larger sense of the word, be true.

NERVOUS WOMEN SHOULD HEED MRS. RAMP'S ADVICE

"There's No Reason For Women to Suffer" Says Muskogee, Okla., Lady

"It has been six years since I have taken Tanlac, but I shall never forget how it helped me," said Mrs. Lillian Ramp, of 507 Callahan St., Muskogee, Okla., recently.

"My experience with the medicine certainly showed me how beneficial it can be to young women who have nervous spells and whose systems are out-of-order for various causes. At times every month, I would become extremely nervous, suffer terribly from headaches and be in such agony that I could hardly endure it.

"The results Tanlac gave me were simply splendid. It relieved those awful headaches, quieted my nerves and regulated my system perfectly so that when I finished my last bottle of the medicine, I was feeling fine and had a world of strength, and energy. I never need Tanlac now for I am enjoying good health but I gladly recommend it to women who suffer as I did."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 Million bottles sold.

ASKS FAIR TRIAL OF PARKING BAN

Survey Committee Stands Pat on Report

Refuses to Make Several Suggested Changes

Insists Proposed Plan be Used Six Months

The Parking Survey Committee appointed by the City Council to investigate and report on comprehensive changes in the use of city streets for the parking of vehicles yesterday made a supplemental report to the Council, "standing pat" on the committee's original recommendations and urging that they be given a trial.

The Council had referred to the committee a number of protests against specific features of the committee's recommendations, but after extended hearings the committee recommended that these protests be denied until after the proposed parking legislation had been given at least a six-months' trial.

THE REPORT

The committee in its supplemental report to the Council said:

"After listening to the arguments and protests of the above representative interests, the committee feels that the protestants are conscientious and sincere, as the contemplated parking modification will, no doubt, affect in some degree their personal interests—some a great deal more than others. Traffic problems are unquestionably serious in thriving American cities, and particularly, Los Angeles, and drastic steps must soon be taken to relieve as much as possible existing conditions in the congested district.

"There can be no doubt that the interests of the overwhelming majority of the public, including the users of street railways, the users of public and private automobiles, the public utilities, and the retail and wholesale merchants are essentionally the same in requiring, first of all, the possibility of an orderly movement of traffic through the congested districts.

"The committee has been criticised for discrimination in singling out certain east-west and north-south arteries through the district.

FEARS FEW INQUIRIES

"This committee feels that from the standpoint of convenience of purchasers and patrons in the business district, these parking recommendations will work a measure of inconvenience, but we feel that from our knowledge of transactions in the business district, that their respective businesses will not be seriously hurt.

"It was the consensus of opinion of the committee that we report to your honorable body our actions of the past few weeks, with the recommendation that our report of May 13, 1924, be resubmitted to your honorable body unchanged, and that you approve in its entirety its recommendations and enact ordinances necessary for carrying out this plan for a trial period of six months, at least."

The members of the special Parking Survey Committee were R. W. Pridham, chairman; G. M. Babcock, Alfred E. Adams, W. R. Kilgore, E. E. East, R. B. Hill, Richard Sachse, and Chief Engineer Lorentz of the Board of Public Utilities, and represented the business and commercial organizations, street railway companies, Traffic Commission and Automobile Club of Southern California.

JUDGE ACTS IN FIRE CASE HIT BY CHIEF

Archbald Orders Youth to Hospital for Mental Test as Incendiary Suspect

Courtney Collins, 16 years of age, who is said to have confessed to setting a score of fires in the southwestern section of the city, yesterday was committed by Juvenile Court Judge Archbald to the psychopathic ward of the General Hospital for mental observation. The boy will be called before the court again the 18th inst., when Judge Archbald is expected to make final disposition of the case.

Young Collins was arrested last week by police officers and later taken into custody by Deputy Murphy of the County Juvenile Probation department.

Although Judge Archbald has made no formal reply to the criticism of him made by Fire Chief Scott in connection with the Collins case, he stated yesterday that the fire chief had been "misinformed" as to the status of young Collins. Chief Scott took the judge to task at a fire-prevention meeting the 9th inst., for what he was said to have termed a "dismissal" of young Collins from custody.

Judge Archbald explained yesterday that both he and the Juvenile Probation office had regarded the Collins case as one of a most serious nature and he said all necessary steps had been taken to see that the boy was not again freed to resume his asserted practice of setting fires.

The boy was taken into court for the first time last week and released in the close custody of his uncle, Thomas Bell, a local business man, who was given specific instructions to have young Collins back in court yesterday for a hearing.

WEST FIRST STREET WIDENING ASSURED

Councilman Wheeler yesterday reported to the City Council that the check of petitions asking for the widening to 100 feet of West First street from Glendale Boulevard to Rampart Boulevard represented 58 per cent of the frontage on the street and that the protests against the improvement were negligible. The Council will now institute proceedings for the improvement. The roadway will be seventy feet and the additional will be for sidewalks and parkways.

Painless Dentistry—an established fact

FEAR of dental work is as old as time. Under old fashioned methods, patients expected to be hurt and usually were. Furthermore, that hurt left a lasting impression. So lasting that as years went by dental needs were often neglected and general health frequently impaired.

Today, the E. R. Parker System, now operating in twenty-six cities of the West, demonstrates to more than 150,000 patients annually that the fear of pain is unnecessary.

Here advanced methods of technique have established painless dentistry as a fact. Here too, is rigidly maintained the highest order of modern dental service.

It is a service performed thoroughly and quickly and one which through the adoption of modern business methods is delivered at the lowest cost consistent with first class workmanship.

BISHOP TO ADDRESS HARVARD GRADUATES

CLASS OF THIRTY-FOUR WILL RECEIVE DIPLOMAS AT SCHOOL TOMORROW

Rt. Rev. W. H. Moreland, bishop of Sacramento, will be the principal speaker tomorrow at the commencement exercises at the Harvard School, the twenty-fourth of the institution. He will give the address to the graduating class. The program will open with Mendelssohn's "War March—Athalie;" Rev. W. F. Hubbard, chaplain, United States Army, retired, will offer prayer, and Maj. Elmer A. Kell will give the salutatory, "Treasurers in Wood." Music will follow Dr. Moreland's talk and then First Sergeant Joseph G. Castellanos will give the valedictory, "The Spirit of Science." Rt. Rev. Joseph H. Johnson, bishop of Los Angeles, then will present the prizes and diplomas, and the audience will go to the grand stand to watch a parade and retreat by the school battalion. There are thirty-four in the class.

TRACK PERIL SHOWN

In Year, 2500 Trespassers on Railroads Killed

It is safe enough to ride on railroads but extremely dangerous to walk on railroad tracks and railroad rights of way, a pamphlet issued by the Union Pacific system shows. During 1923, a total of 6,000,000 revenue passengers were carried over the system. Only one of these was killed and but twenty-one were injured.

In the same year about 2500 trespassers on railroad property were killed and as many injured throughout the country.

IS IT TRUE

that a Diamond has a fixed value more closely to its purchase price than any other article of merchandise?

We Believe It Has

For more than 43 years conscientiously we have been advertising this fact to the Los Angeles public. We believe it—we know it is true.

IF IT BE TRUE

What would you think of Montgomery Bros., if tomorrow in startling headlines they would tell you that the Diamond you bought yesterday for $1000.00 you could buy today for $750.00? What would you think about it? You would feel, "There must be a nigger in the woodpile somewhere." This is not a very polite expression, but it is to the point and perhaps you understand THE AMERICAN LANGUAGE.

Think It Over

These are the days when many people are buying Diamond Rings—we know you would like to be sure that you are obtaining the highest possible value and the very best quality you can obtain anywhere for your money. Compare our prices and see where we stand—one price to all, and that price the lowest.
We know this fixed principle will win out in the end. Today's conditions prove it.

The Woman and Her Job

by Valerie Watrous

[Questions concerning the problems of women will be answered in this column if addressed to Mrs. Watrous at The Times. Requests for personal replies must be accompanied by a stamped envelope.]

BUSINESS AND RESPONSIBILITY

One of the first lessons the soldier learns is to obey orders. It should be the first for the girl who goes into the world of men to earn a living. I sometimes think "The Message to Garcia" ought to be a "required subject" with every employer. To go and do the thing without asking how, when or where is almost impossible for the average beginner.

There's the girl who says she wants work, yet fails to keep her appointments. I suppose I'll never get too old or too sophisticated not to gasp at the girl who does not arrive at the hour set. Then, of course, there's the one who does not arrive at all, and who doesn't think it worth while to call up and tell you she isn't coming.

I've had a lot of experience in trying to guide the steps of the straggler on the commercial highway. Nearly every time I lend a hand I promise myself, "Never again."

Recently I sent a girl to join a group of temporary workers. She had written me such a pathetic letter that I felt something must be done about it. I wrote her to report for work the next morning. Two days later she called me on the phone to ask if I thought it was too late as she had not received my letter until the afternoon of the day I had told her to report. I told her to hop on the street car and go right down; they were holding the place open for her. Three days later she phoned again to say there was no number on the door; that she had asked a man on the street about it, and he had said there wasn't any such place. Yet I was less than half a block away from that address, yet it never occurred to her to come to me and demand an explanation! True, there was no number on the door, but I told her to go up the stairs, which opened into a big room, and there she would find about twenty girls at work. But she waited three days before she told me she had not afrived.

Then there is the other kind of girl who gets the job, and that's the last you hear from her. She doesn't let you know that she was given the work at all.

I know a woman who operates a placement bureau that is something of a welfare enterprise. She tells me her big problem is to make the girls understand the importance of reporting back after the interview with the prospective employer.

If the girl has no responsibility to the agency which supplies the work, how can she have any to the man who hires her? If the agency is forced to call the man on the phone and ask him if the girl arrived, it doesn't reflect favorably on the girl.

This matter of responsibility has nothing to do with gratitude. It is the ordinary courtesy which one human being should show to another. In addition to that the agency should be given a chance to send some one else if the first girl isn't satisfactory.

"I don't know why it is that girls seem so incapable of doing a thing as they are told to do it," a woman complained rather bitterly as she examined some work that had been done that morning. "I have emergency work from time to time and employ ten to twenty strange girls. I lay out the work very carefully; tell them just what I want them to do, and how to do it. As soon as my back's turned, each girl does it as suits her fancy. If these original methods were better, if they were more efficient, I wouldn't care, but they are not. Besides that it creates a varied appearance that spoils the harmony of the result. I can't understand why girls wont do as they are told."

This is a severe arraignment, but until girls regard themselves as a link in the chain they will be subject to just such criticism. The schools and the clubs are doing their best to inspire girls and women with the gang spirit, but it will take time to correct what centuries of training has developed. Women have been working as individuals so long co-operation is a hard lesson.

ANSWER TO QUESTIONS

Dear Mrs. W.: Watch the advertising columns, there are hundreds of homes where motherless children need the care of a refined woman. Doctors as a rule employ only those who have had nursing experience and training, and in addition need an attendant who has some knowledge of typing and bookkeeping.

Dear Mrs. Y.: If you had a knowledge of typewriting your problem would solve itself. In the office of every dancing academy there is usually an attendant who meets the public, answers the phone, handles a little correspondence and makes herself generally useful. You might get part-time work—mornings or afternoons—either for a small salary with which you could pay for the lessons for your little girl, or exchange your services for the training. You wouldn't need to be an expert typist; you could rent a machine and get an instruction book from the public library. Three hours a day for a month would give you sufficient skill to meet such requirements as would be made. Why not run an advertisement on Sunday offering your services in exchange for lessons?

IN STORES AND HOMES

NOVELTIES, IDEAS AND PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS

BY OLIVE GRAY

Up-to-Datest:

Gladys writes from Paris that there is a new printed-on dress. Similar to those in our local stores, I judge, is this new Parisian creation. but for more dressy use, for afternoon and evening wear, the printed effect is in the shape of a huge bow at the back of the chiffon frock, the "bow" printed on in gay contrasting colors. Thus, while having the semblance of a decorative sash, there is no distinction of the form —a matter for congratulation in these days of paper thinness for the feminine form divine.

Fabric Aristocrats

Silk and organdy are aristocrats, still—in the realm of fabrics, notwithstanding the leveling process which has shaken the weavery world. One of the most invincible combinations of the season is a soft silk, often one of those in geometrical pattern, small and inoffensive to the eye, with white organdy by way of set-off, say in vestee, or rather shirt-front, collar and cuffs. Sometimes the organdy also crisps out over the tiny oddly set pockets, lending further daintiness to a dress appropriate for afternoon or for street wear. The colors in the silks of this character may be any of those popular this season—blue on white, blue with a tiny dot, or geometrical figure encircled by a ring; red on blue, black with white or the reverse. Yellow and the lavender tones are liked as well, while the various greens come in for a share of favor.

Button Strings

Buttons anyway, buttons anyhow! The cry of the mode just now. One way of buttons is to be set on in a string, the string visible—a heavy silken cord which serves two purposes, that of keeping the buttons in place and also forming a decorative touch, to the otherwise somewhat plain garment.

A Sunny Shade

We have noticed how wild flowers suddenly bloom all of a color. The first to appear in springtime are yellow flowers, as a rule; as though the first vernal sunshine had crystallized into bloom. Somewhat the same is it with the colors chosen by fashion. Suddenly all the world of garments and millinery goes a certain tint and at present it is that very same yellow of first spring blossoms. Dresses, hats, scarves, accessories—all have turned yellow, but not the sere leaf sort of yellow. Rather a clear, inspiring tone, like the limpid atmosphere when the outdoor's year is young and fresh. Some of the new soft woolen coats and capes even, are in this likable shade.

Felties

Quite lovable they are, say I—the new summer felts, even though they may arouse criticism for appearing too early, ousting the genuine summer hat, quite flapperishly selfish in occupying all the spotlight. Softly rounded crowns, brims nearly invisible, but what there is of them tilted saucily down toward one ear, trimmed restrainedly, almost meagerly; fascinating in the very barreness and boldness of youth—for youth only can dare as youth does.

For Lawning

Lawns—not the fabricated kind, but those made with spades, rakes and hoes as well as hose, are to receive an impetus toward perfection, if we may judge of a new invention for their benefit. This is a many implanted contrivance, a long handle into which may be inserted as desired a rake, a hoe, an edger and whatsoever other cutters or do-ers are required. After the manner of those hollow-handled tool holders, are they—multum in parvo, or should one say terra firma? It is something Latin and appropriate—something which means a whole lot, while saying but little.

Hooked Rugs for Table

When fashion revives something, she almost invariably improves or transforms it. Thus it is with the old-time hooked rugs, which she has brought forth from grandma's trunk. But, in addition to placing them upon the floor, she has laid them on the table! Quaint and charming are these mats, thus used. They help to carry out a color scheme and add a romantic touch, carrying the thought back to ye olden tyme.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

"Dear Doctor:—Last September (1923) I sent for your reducing pamphlet and started to count my calories. At that time, I weighed 260. I am five feet, four inches in height. I now weigh 178, a loss of eighty-two pounds in eight months, and am still losing. I have taken exercises every day and have taken a bath afterward. The bath and the exercises take me about forty-five minutes, and this has kept my flesh firm and I have not had a haggard look in my face. My friends all remark how wonderful I look and some of them hardly recognize me. Our family physician tells me that I have added twenty years to my life. I am now 30 years old.

"Counting calories seems like playing a game in which I am the winner. I thank you again for what you have done for me. —Mrs. M."

Eighty-two pounds in eight months! At 260, you were some fat baby, weren't you. I don't wonder your friends don't recognize you now. You hardly recognize yourself. You have probably added more than twenty years to your life and more than forty years of happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Ahrens left for an extended wedding trip and after July 1 will make their home in Los Angeles. Both Mr. and Mrs. Ahrens were graduated from University of Southern California.

Beach Party

One of the delightful affairs of the week was the beach party at which Miss Grace Dickson and Miss Neely Dickson of Hollywood, entertained at their picturesque beach cottage at Santa Monica. The guests arrived at the seashore late Saturday afternoon just in time for a plunge in the surf. A buffet supper followed and the evening was passed in an informal way by impromptu singing, playing and dancing. Those included were Mrs. G. W. Druer, Miss Katherine Manning, Miss Bridgetta Clark, Miss Gladys Percy, Miss Marian Woodley, Miss Mary Lou Wright, Miss Mildred Voorhees, Miss Elena Binckley, Miss Carmen De Luna, J. Allan Boone, Earl Davis, George Stearns, Ramon Novarro, Ned Manning, Cliff Taylor, Philip Richards, Jacques Lane, William Austin and Joseph Bell.

Engagement Announced

Announcement has been made by Mrs. Clara Jacobson of Hollywood, of the engagement of her daughter Miss Pauline Jacobson, to Edward William Crell, Jr., the news being told at a luncheon given Monday at the Windsor tea rooms by Miss Carolyn Slater in honor of Miss Jacobson. Mr. Crell, formerly of Seattle, is now in business in the Southwest. The wedding will be one of the events of the early fall. Among those enjoying Miss Slater's hospitality were Mrs. E. F. Slater, Mrs. Arthur Stansbury, Mrs. Clara Jacobson, Mrs. C. A. Haskell, Mrs. Calhoun Jacobson, Miss Florence Heacock, Miss Hazel Witten, Miss Ella Keichner and Miss Pauline Jacobson.

New Location Is Proposed for Union Terminal

An intervenor's petition setting forth a suggested location for the proposed union passenger terminal will be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission today by W. H. Daum, real estate man of 756 South Spring street, it was announced yesterday.

The location urged by Mr. Daum is the area west of Boyle avenue, south of Seventh street, north of Ninth street and east of the Los Angeles River. The plan, Mr. Daum said, is suggested without prearrangement with any of the rail lines, the City Council, Board of Public Utilities, State Railroad Commission or the Interstate Commerce Commission. He said it is the result or study by independent individuals.

The location, Mr. Daum said, will permit of the maximum use of most of the present rail facilities and eliminates grade crossings at a minimum expense and offers the fullest co-operation with the viaduct plan authorized by voters here. The plan, he added, with the completion of flood control will permit of the use of the bed of the Los Angeles River for an interurban system from the northwest to the southeast sections of the city.

Le Roy to Pay Alimony Until Ex-Wife Weds

James Parmalee Le Roy, Hollywood real estate man, whose asserted fondness for the first two of the well-known trinity—wine, women and song—was mentioned in Mrs. Violette Mae Le Roy's recen tdivorce complaint, at the alimony hearing yesterday before Judge Guerin agreed to pay his wife $2100 cash and $200 a month until she remarries.

Mrs. Le Roy had asked for $750 a month alimony, asserting that her husband has an income of $2500 a month. In her divorce complaint Mrs. Le Roy asserted he drank to excess and charged him with misconduct with Mrs. Iva Lytell.

The mysterious remarriage of the couple that was disclosed in the complaint was explained yesterday by Mrs. Le Roy at Judge Guerin's request. She said they were married April 26, 1920, under the name of Le Roy and remarried two years later under the name of Lynch. Lynch is her husband's real name, she said, but since coming to California he has gone under the name of Le Roy, which is his step-father's name.

Mrs. Le Roy is a daughter of Dennis Hogan, Hollywood real estate operator. Attorney Chandos E. Bush …

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

An Oven Test

If you are new cook and doubtful as to the correct temperature for baking, try this method of testing. Before placing the cake in the oven put a pinch of flour in the bottom of the oven. If it turns a dirty yellow the oven is too cool; if it turns black the oven is too hot; but if it turns a bright golden brown the oven is at the right heat.

House Notes

Ends of candles make good fire kindlers.

Place your mint and parsley in airtight fruit jars and they will keep fresh for days.

Be sure your new maid does not turn plates and glasses upside down when setting the table.

Keep postage stamps and gummed labels in a tin box and they will retain their stick-to-itiveness.

A String Holder

A 5-cent funnel is handy to hold the kitchen ball of twine. It may be hung in the cellarway where it will be handy but out of the road.

Out of Reach

The garbage pail should be hung on a hook, high enough to be out of reach of wandering cats and dogs. Then a clean yard is assured.

Neater Slices

Dip the knife in boiling water before cutting rich cheese and you will be able to cut even thin slices without the cheese sticking to the knife.

Roast Chicken

When roasting chicken brown it all over and then turn the back upward and let it remain that way until done. In this way the juices run into the breast, making it moist and tender.

Dye the Cotton, Too

When dyeing curtains or draperies a few single threads of white cotton may be added to the dye water so that the cotton for the hem will exactly match the curtain material. Home dyes frequently turn out rather unusual shades.

Triplicate Saucepans

Triplicate saucepans seem an unnecessary expense and very few of us purchase them. But they save space on the gas stove and certainly do save a lot of gas. Think it over.

GO TO DRUID MEETING

Twenty Delegates to Leave Here Tomorrow for Cherokee

Twenty delegates who will represent local members will leave tomorrow for the sixtieth annual convention of the United Ancient Order of Druids of California at Cherokee. Among them will be three grand officers, Antonio Orfilla, local attorney; Charles E. Needham and Charles Clementson, who hope to bring the convention to Southern California in 1925.

For the First Time You Can Do This

No longer need you bother with old-fashioned starches. Ask your grocer for the new starch discovery, Linit, and begin ironing in the ideal, modern way.

You will be delighted with the wonderful lustre your curtains and all household fabrics have after being starched with Linit, the remarkable new starch discovery.

Linit penetrates the fabric, prolongs its life, and gives a soft, pliable finish that makes even ordinary cotton goods look and feel like linen.

Use Linit according to directions and, unlike other starches, you will not find Linit stiff or jelly-like. This is one reason why Linit goes much farther than the old-fashioned kinds of starch and is easier to iron with.

LINIT costs 10c at all Grocers. Get a package and begin the modern way of starching your fabrics. You will never go back to the old-fashioned starching.

MRS. SHERMAN IS CLUB CHIEF?

Colorado Woman Winner, Unofficial Report

Candidate Says Her Task is to Save Redwoods

the exception, perhaps, of Mrs. Robert J. Burdette. She is a woman of education and, as was stated by experts yesterday, belongs to that same class as President Coolidge—she is independent of her environment. She is not a type of the Middle West nor of any part of the United States. She has been uniformly successful in all her contests and committee work in the federation and has made a decided triumph of the department of applied education, her advice being sought by officials in Washington.

FRIENDS CONGRATULATE

Miss Florence Dibert was called by phone at 11:15 p.m. and congratulated on her victory as second vice-president.

"I don't know how you found it out," she said, "but as second vice-president I will carry on the work of the office and try to make the federation more progressive than ever. I realize that the organization belongs to the individual woman and I will do my best to adhere to its principles and to carry on its great work.

Asked whether she had been elected by a large majority, Miss Dibert said she had not yet been informed.

That California held the balance of power in the election of president for the general federation in the contest yesterday was a statement generally current. California had virtually pledged neutrality. Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, retiring State director, had sent out a letter making a strong plea.

NEW VIGOR INJECTED

A little episode at the Illinois federation dinner the night preceding election injected new vigor into the campaign and confirmed the statement of many that California held the balance of power. At the dinner Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles of this city, past president of the federation, declared that Mrs. Sherman was the only logical candidate. Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker of Texas made a similar statement, indicating her preference for Mrs. Sherman.

When it came her turn to speak Mrs. Perham said she could not admire California's brand of neutrality as indicated by some of the leaders.

The story current as voting continued for a time turned the tide in Mrs. Perham's favor. The Montana delegation worked more vigorously than ever until at last Mrs. D. L. Murray, chairman of election, came to the platform of the convention hall and sharply told the voters to refrain from leaving campaign literature in the voting booths. Not only was there Perham literature but also much Sherman literature. The three second vice-presidential candidates were less involved by their supporters.

PAINTED AS THEY ATE

During the art luncheon at the Biltmore, where both Mrs. Perham and Mrs. Sherman were guests of honor, Mrs. Perham was serene in the face of the fact that a prominent artist, Edward Vysekal, painted Mrs. Sherman's portrait during the luncheon as the next president of the federation.

Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, incumbent, also sat for her portrait at still another luncheon at the Biltmore. "Painted while they consumer cold mutton" was the title suggested by some of the lesser artists; for the cold plate luncheons that have been in vogue to minimize the noise of service throughout the convention included this variety of meat yesterday.

The counting of the votes was in eight groups of States. Dinner was served to the election board in the counting rooms and a strict surveillance was observed. They were prepared to remain all night if necessary.

SPANISH AND MEXICAN ENTERTAINERS APPEAR

A number of the best-known entertainers of Spain and Mexico appeared in a program presented last night under the auspices of the Spanish Consul, Senor Orfila, at the Gamut Club. The three Vendrell sisters, Maria, Dolores and Armida, who have appeared throughout Spain in both dramas and comedies, headed the program. They were assisted by Sanchez Molgosa, noted Mexican dramatic writer, poet and actor; Senor Poli Mora, who also has a wide reputation as an actor and dancer in Spain and Latin America, and Esther Zarco, child dancer.

LIFE TIRE FLAT, CLUBS TOLD

Princeton Professor Flays Politics, Wars and Modern Literature in Biennial Address

Visioning the world as traveling on flat tires since 1918, shaken, shocked and disillusioned, an age of deflated idealism, J. Duncan Spaeth of the English department of Princeton University, at the conference of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in the Philharmonic Auditorium last night, flayed artists who paint the ignoble, unreal things of life; the writers who thrust their happy-ever-afterward books upon a helpless world and the moralists who picture the world and its people as headed straight to those depths below made famous by the immortal Dante's poem.

More than 5000 delegates and representatives heard and applauded the words of the professor, despite the fact that he expressed doubt over the success of the world peace plan which is the theme of the convention.

In a burst of oratory that thrilled and electrified the audience the professor from Princeton mercilessly scored politics, crusades, wars, cubist pictures, certain modern poetry and literature and the instinct that makes some people want to go back to the days of simplicity and innocence.

From the Garden of Eden down to the present days the professor carried his audience, touching upon the lives of great men here and there, upon great events, recent and ancient, skipping from one to another in brisk disregard of the hundreds of years that elapsed.

MANNER IS CONVINCING

The professor is a large, powerfully built man with thick gray hair combed straight back, magnetic blue eyes and a forceful, convincing manner. His voice, a pleasing bass, was easily heard throughout the entire auditorium. He wore a frock coat and when bent on driving a point home employed his hands.

"I have grown skeptical of the power of politics to reform the world," he declared. "Today you women are a part of the game and you are in it now. But we can't reform the world with politics, as it is still a struggle for power and those attaining that power don't know what to do with it after they achieve it.

"The foundation of life has been shaken and disillusioned everywhere and many of us are going through life on shock absorbers, balloon tires and upholstered optimism. Things unreal are painted to resemble the real. With the coming of the war patriotism, religion and idealism blew up. This is an era of realism that has its black side and also its bright side for the shock that brought down the painted, unreal things strengthened the things in life that lie back of realism and idealism. The rainstorm of war beat down the unreal and the imitation, leaving the deeply rooted real things to grow and thrive."

Touching upon the younger generation, the professor lauded them as fine and loyal to truth and an unswerving devotion to things as they are. Out of all of this, he said, something fine will come.

YOUTH REJECTS SHAMS

Youth of today, he added, is disinclined to accept the unreal, the shams and the imitations.

"Art separated from life is apt to become narrow, sterilized, brutalized and abnormal," Prof. Spaeth declared. "What we please to term evolution and progress are deteriorating and a Princeton professor has declared that the ancient Greeks were better specimens of men than the Europeans of today."

The speaker declared that he doubts whether genius has any business at college, but added that he tells his students to sit still when informing them of his belief. He said that to want what we need is the beginning of wisdom, but that few know.

"Genius, however," declared the professor, "knows what he needs and the kind of spiritual food he needs. One thing we must guard against is obedience to impulse. Life is a journey up and down the hill and we need both brakes and power.

"Some people want to add to the Ten Commandments in the belief that they can purify and build up life. One profound defect in life is that we cannot trust reason as a substitute for instinct. We cannot go back to the simplicity and innocence of animals—only back to the beast. There are two things on which man builds up his life—sex and hunger."

The professor scored cubists' art as "the nude coming downstairs," declaring such artists communicate nothing. Modern poetry and literature were also rapped, the professor stating that what we need in both is communication as well as expression.

"ROMANTIC INDIGESTION"

Romance, too, was touched upon by the speaker, who urged his audience, when smitten with an attack of "romantic indigestion," to read a certain book by Sinclair Lewis in which the hum-drum life of a small town is more or less accurately portrayed.

The conference was presided over by Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, national president of the federation; Mrs. Rose V. S. Berry and Mrs. Marx Oberndorfer.

The musical program consisted of selections by George Schuletsky, member of the Moscow Imperial Opera Company; Amy Niell, violinist; Ruth May Shaffner, soprano; Homer Grunn, pianist, and the Zoellner family.

The first session today will be a meeting of the board of directors at 9 a.m.

LARGE INHERITANCE TAX

A tax of $2151 will be collected from heirs of William J. Sullivan, who died April 13, 1923, according to a report of the local office of State Controller Riley yesterday.

Mr. Sullivan left property valued at $111,374, of which $57,178 was left to the widow, Mrs. Maud Sullivan. The residue will be divided among numerous relations.

VIOLATION CHARGED

What was admittedly a technical violation of the Corporate Securities Act was charged yesterday against W. J. McLean in a complaint issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Vobayda. McLean, president of the Cal-Acre Company of Riverside, said to be a legitimate proposition, is asserted to have sold stock in the enterprise without a permit.

INSISTS ON NONUNION CIVIC BAND

Santa Monica Council Orders Leader to Show Musician Contracts

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, June 11.—City Commissioners have given Louis Gasdia, manager of the municipal band, twenty-four hours to appear before them and exhibit signed contracts with the members of his organization, it was learned this morning. Some weeks ago Commissioners voted to abrogate the city's agreement with Gasdia and enter into a four-year contract with him with the understanding that the band was to be nonunion and competitive organization. Under the terms of the old contract the union objected to the sending of the band where it might cause other union bands to lose a day's work.

Commissioners refused to abide by the union ruling and the band was reorganized and a new four-year contract signed, at which time all members of the band quit the union. It is understood that the manager has had trouble in signing up individual members of his organization and that he is negotiating with the union for more favorable terms. Commissioners have decided not to countenance such procedure.

The city executive body is desirous of obtaining signed contracts of the individual members of the band and they want them at once, it was pointed out, otherwise another band will be hired.

It is understood that the union is willing to reinstate those members of the local band who went to Monrovia against its orders, providing the city is willing to reinstate and pay the five men who refused to go. Commissioners announced they will not pay anyone for work not done.

City Attorney Coffin asserted that he heard members of the band were being told that Gasdia's contract with the city was not legal. He stated he wished to correct the impression as the contract was legal and would be enforced.

BOY DEAD, TWO HURT BY AUTOS

Raymond Johnson Killed Instantly; George Parker May Die

One boy was killed and two others injured, one perhaps fatally, in traffic accidents yesterday.

Raymond Johnson, 5 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson, 461 North Lake street, was instantly killed when he was run down by an automobile in front of his home. The machine was said to have been driven by Richard Calderon, 523 Rosemont avenue. After an investigation by Detective Lieutenants Wilson and Adams, Calderon was ordered held on suspicion of manslaughter pending the inquest.

George Parker, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Parker, 8612 Wall street, was struck by an automobile said to have been driven by R. A. Robinson, 265 East Eighty-seventh Place, at Wall and Manchester streets. The boy suffered a crushed chest and may die, according to Receiving Hospital physicians. He later was taken to the General Hospital.

The third victim is Eli Klein, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Klein, 114 North Breed street. He was hit by a machine said to have been driven by Charles Spann, 1707 New Jersey street. Spann was backing his machine in front of the boy's home when it struck the boy, it was reported. The boy received a wrenched back and other injuries, Receiving Hospital physicians stated.

Both drivers in the latter two accidents were questioned but were released.

Will Strive to Bring Conclave to Los Angeles

Delegates from Los Angeles to the conference of Western Purchasing Agents from July 17 to 19 in Portland, Or., will submit this city's bid for the 1925 conference and will do their utmost to convince the assembly of the desirability of Los Angeles as a convention place. J. J. Byrnes, president of the Purchasing Agents' Association of Los Angeles, estimates that 600 delegates will attend this year's conference.

Addresses by A. G. Hopcraft, president of the National Association of Purchasing Agents; W. L. Chandler, national secretary, and C. J. Rogers, vice-president of the national organization, will be given at the conference in Portland.

Members of the Purchasing Agents' Association of Los Angeles will gather at the City Club tonight for the regular monthly dinner meeting. The guest of honor at the dinner will be S. Manuel Reachi, commercial attache of the Mexican government. The main address of the evening will be given by George L. Hoxie, research engineer for the Southern California Edison Company, on "An Engineer's Random Thoughts on International Finance." Several musical numbers also will be given.

Retail Grocers Report Growth in Membership

Growth of the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association to an organization with 637 members was reported at the monthly smoker last night at 240 South Hill street. A membership campaign launched at the previous meeting resulted in the bringing in of 100 members a week and will be continued until the goal of 1000 members has been reached.

R. D. Sangster of the Chamber of Commerce, spoke on "Why Los Angeles Grocers Should Help Keep the White Spot White," and stressed the importance of dealing in local produces. Councilman Ralph Criswell showed a three-reel film of the Los Angeles water system. About 200 grocers attended.

SULLY DENIES GIRL'S STORY

Declares in Trial of $200,000 Damage Suit He Did Not Attack Film Extra; Case to Jury Today

Grenville P. Sully, former brother-in-law of Douglas Fairbanks and son of Daniel J. Sully, wealthy retired cotton merchant, yesterday denied on the witness stand in Judge McLucas's court that he had ever indulged in improper relation with Miss Yvonne Darcy, 19-year-old film extra, who is suing him for $200,000 asserted damages.

Young Sully's refutation of the girl's charges came as the high point in his defense to the suit brought against him by the Darcy girl.

The defense rested at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and after a short recess Lorrin Andrews, chief of counsel for the plaintiff, began his opening argument to the jury. Andrews was to be followed by Attorney Fred L. Hunt of the defense counsel and it was stated the case would be given the jury some time this morning. There are nine women and three men on the jury.

STORY REFUTED

One of the features of yesterday's sessions was an attempt on the part of the prosecution to bring out the elder Sully's operations in the cotton market a score of years ago and which were said to have netted him a large fortune. Although Sully appeared to be ready to tell the story of his success, the expected revelation was blocked by the defense on the ground that such testimony would be immaterial to the case on trial.

Sully further testified the girl informed him the asserted attack took place on Halloween evening of last year. Miss Darcy previously had stated the asserted incident occurred the evening of November 14, 1923. Sully also refuted Miss Darcy's testimony that there was a maid in the house on the evening of November 14, 1923, he stating there were no domestics on his pay roll during the entire month of November.

GIRL'S TESTIMONY

Miss Darcy's story was that she had accompanied the defendant to his father's home on the evening of November 14, to meet his parents. When she entered the house, she told the jury, she caught a fleeting glimpse of the maid but she said Sully informed her his father and mother were out for the evening but would soon return. The alleged attack, according to her testimony, took place during the absence of the defendant's parents.

The defense sought to impeach Miss Darcy's testimony through the stories of the elder Sully, his wife, Mrs. Emma Sully, and Arthur P. Huntington, said to be the father of young Sully's fiancee.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Sully testified their son had dinner at home on the evening the alleged attack was asserted to have occurred. Young Sully, they said, left the house between 7:30 and 8 p.m. Huntington told the jury Sully called at his house to see his daughter later that evening.

Harold Proctor Is Soloist for Scandinavians

The United Scandinavian Male Chorus of 100 voices, who Saturday night at the Philharmonic Auditorium will give a concert of American and Scandinavian composers, has been fortunate in securing the services of Harold Proctor as soloist.

Harold Procter

Proctor's principal studying was at Manchester, Eng., under the tutelage of Leonard Dyson, then of the Manchester Royal College of Music.

While he obtained excellent ground work in his studies abroad, he has continued his studies with some of the foremost instructors in America. He has acquired one of the most diversified repertoires possessed by any concert singer now before the American public, it is said.

Garland Moves Realty Offices Into New Home

The W. M. Garland Company yesterday announced the opening of its new offices to the company's own building at Spring and Ninth streets.

Removal of the firm's headquarters to the new building comes with the celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of its founding. The announcement stated that the company will continue to specialize in business, and industrial real estate and general insurance.

LISTS MADE FOR REFUND IN 1923 TAX

Will be Forwarded to Washington; No Claims Need be Filed

Lists of income taxpayers who have paid the full amount of tax due on their 1923 income are being prepared in the revenue collector's office for submission to the revenue bureau at Washington. When these lists are approved and returned to Los Angeles checks will be issued in payment of the 25 per cent refund provided for in the new Revenue Act, the collector announced yesterday.

Taxpayers will not be required to file claims in order to obtain the refund, the collector said. The only delay probable in paying the refund will be due to failure of Congress to appropriate money that could be made available immediately for that purpose.

The collector called attention to the fact that there is a misunderstanding as to the amount of income tax imposed on corporations by the 1924 Revenue Act. The new law fixes the income tax on corporations at 12½ per cent, which is the same rate of tax applicable for the year 1923. Consequently, the collector explained, corporations are not permitted to take as a credit any reduction in tax for any payment due this year. The flat reduction of 25 per cent on 1923 income is limited to individuals and fiduciaries who filed returns on forms 1040 and 1040A.

Council Body Votes Plan to Save Daylight

Adoption of the daylight-saving plan was voted yesterday by the Public Welfare Committee of the Council. Two members of the board, Councilmen Allan and Gregory, voted for the plan, but Councilman Mallard, the third member, opposed it.

The committee set the time for consideration of the project by the entire Council for tomorrow morning. At this time all in favor of the proposal and those opposed to it will have an opportunity to express their views before the committee.

Daylight saving is favored by the Commercial Board of Los Angeles and allied organizations. The motion picture industry, however, is understood to be almost solidly opposed to the proposal. Indications yesterday were that the plan might be killed because, even if the council voted for it, the resolution making it effective here would need thirty days for final passage. By that time the summer would be partly over and the benefit from such a plan partly gone.

Managing Director E. G. Judah of the Commercial Board appeared before the City Council yesterday and urged on behalf of the organization that the Council adopt an ordinance placing daylight saving in effect in this city on the 15th inst., to continue until September 30.

He said that all large eastern cities and seven Eastern States now have daylight saving in effect, and that the Commercial Board's canvass showed that employers and employees of this city, in all lines of business and industry, were in favor of adoption of the plan here.

"JUST MARRIED" TO STAY THIRD WEEK

Vivian Martin and Donald Brian will begin the third week of their successful summer run at the Mason Operahouse Sunday evening. "Just Married" has proven one of the funniest farces seen here since the days of "Twin Beds." The locale of the play is on board ship with several oddly assorted couples booked. During the first night out, these couples become so scrambled that there is apparently no unscrambling them; and the situations that arise from these complications are a source of unceasing laughter.

Sister in East Hears Wedding Here by Phone

The fact that she was 3000 miles away did not prevent Mrs. M. D. Rosenberg of Washington, D. C., from hearing the recital of the magic words which changed the name of her sister from Miss Ray L. Cohen to Mrs. Samuel J. McConnell in Los Angeles yesterday.

The ceremony, which was performed by Judge Burnell, took place at the Biltmore a little before noon, but the hour was 4:30 in the afternoon at Mrs. Rosenberg's home in Washington, allowance being made for the daylight saving system of chronology now in vogue in that city.

The bridal couple, officiating magistrate and guests gathered in one of the conference rooms of the hotel, where a telephone instrument with an enlarged transmitter was connected with an open wire to the Rosenberg home in Washington. The instrument at the Washington end was equipped with a sound-amplifying device, which enabled the sister and a number of friends of the bride to hear every word of the ritual spoken in Los Angeles.

The bride is a sister of Sidney Cohen, prominent in the motion-picture industry here, while the groom is a young Los Angeles business man.

DIRECTOR SIGNS

SAM WOOD CASTS HIS LOT WITH PRINCIPAL

By Grace Kingsley

Arrangements were concluded yesterday betwene Sol Lesser of Principal Pictures Corporation and Sam Wood, the producer-director, whereby Wood will direct Harold Bell Wright's story, "The Mine With the Iron Door."

Sam Wood, who is at present directing Betty Compson in "The Female" for Famous Players-Lasky, will complete that production within two weeks and will then immediately begin work on "The Mine."

A few days ago the producer announced he was going to make pictures on a free-lance basis. After considering several big stories in the effort to select his first vehicle, Wood decided to sign with Principal for the Wright story. This cnotract brings together Lesser and Wood after a three-year period. Wood directed Jackie Coogan in "Peck's Bad Boy" for Lesser some time ago.

The Wood company will depart shortly for Arizona, the locale of the story. As in the case of "When a Man's a Man," the first Wright story to be made by Principal, this story will be filmed on the exact location pictured by the author

Casting for "The Mine" will start at once, according to announcement of Mr. Lesser, and the cast will be an all-star one.

VIRGINIA L. CORBIN GIVEN LASKY ROLE

The original "baby star" of the screen has grown up into promise of mature stardom.

Virginia Lee Corbin, remembered by millions of screen admirers for her motion-picture performances while still a child, signed yesterday with the Paramount organization for a featured role in James Cruze's productoin, "The Cafe of the Fallen Angels."

Cruze is enthusiastic over his find. Miss Corbin's friends, by the same token, are enthusiastic over her good fortune in being placed under Cruze's direction. His wide and sympathetic knowledge of human nature, coupled with his ability to fathom the depths of human hearts, is expected to give the screen a new and glorious personality in Virginia Lee Corbin grown up.

Her most exacting film work was in the kiddie special, "Babes in the Wood," "Jack and the Beanstalk," "Treasure Island" and others.

For three years the young lady left the screen and became a headline attraction in vaudeville in an act of her own. "The Cafe of Fallen Angels" marks her first Paramount appearance.

Mack Sennett Signs New Beauty

Mack Sennett seems to have been abroad with his long-distance spyglass once more. And his search has been rewarded. He has discovered another beauty who is willing to lend her charms to his comedies. The new beauty's name is Natalie Kingston, and she yesterday signed a three-year contract to play leads.

Three months ago Miss Kingston was dancing with Fanchon and Marco in a prologue at one of the Los Angeles theaters. Sennett saw her and invited her to join the bathing-girl chorus at his studio. After three weeks in a bathing suit, in all kinds of weather, Natalie was rewarded with the lead in Ben Turpin's "Yukon Jake." Her work was so good that Sennett offered her a contract.

Miss Kingston's professional experience includes, besides the above, a year in the Winter Garden show in New York.

Virginia Valli is Hurt

Virginia Valli is limping about her home with a cane as a result of an accident in which she received a badly wrenched ankle. Work on the production of "Clinging Fingers," in which she is starred, has been postponed a few days to give the actress a chance to recuperate.

The accident occurred while the star was paying a visit to the home of Zasu Pitts. She parked her car on a sharp incline and started up the steps to the house. When about halfway up she noticed her machine rolling down the street. Virginia made a dash to recover the runaway auto and fell, receiving a badly sprained ankle and bruises about the arms and shoulders.

Freeman Wood in It

Another Belasco graduate was today added to the cast of "The Female," Betty Compson's new starring picture for Paramount.

He is Freeman Wood, blonde young athlete, who has recently become popular in motion pictures. Wood had his theatrical training during eight years on the stage, appearing in several of the Belasco productions. "The Female," which Sam Wood is producing, is his first Paramount picture.

Wood was born in Denver, Colo., and was educated at Laurenceville and Columbia universities. During his years on the stage he appeared in Belasco's "Seven Chances," Grace George's "Ruined Lady," "Just Around the Corner," "The Man Who Came Back" and many others.

His motion-picture career includes splendid performances in "Fashion Row," "Innocence," "The Inheritors," "Gossip" and others. Cofeatured with Wood in Miss Compson's support are Warner Baxter, Noah Beery and Dorothy Cumming.

Madge Bellamy Makes Hit

While Thomas H. Ince, to whom Madge Bellamy is under contract, is waiting to find just the right vehicle for that young lady's talents, Universal seems to be making hay while the sun shines so far as Miss Bellamy is concerned.

They are right enthusiastic over Miss Bellamy out at Universal City and admiration such as is seldom accorded to an individual player's credit is being bestowed on the young star for her performance of the featured role of "Love and Glory "the Universal-Jewel, all-star production recently completed by Rupert Julian.

Universal City executives were so pleased with this portrayal that they went right over to see Mr. Ince and asked him if Madge couldn't stay at their house and play some more. The result is that Miss Bellamy is being costarred with Herbert Rawlinson in "The Flower of Napoli," a Gerald Beaumont story, directed by Edward Laemmle.

Following the completion of the Rawlinson-Bellamy costarring effort, it was decided that one good role deserves another, and Miss Bellamy was called in to read the story of Max Marcin's "The Nightcap," a New York mystery play of some note. This will be filmed under the direction of Herbert Blache, with Miss Bellamy costarred with James Kirkwood. Other players to support them will be Rosemary Theby and Zasu Pitts.

Bill and Jill Both in

Bill and Jill Seiter are both in pictures now, which is by way of being a family quorum. William is the well-known director and Jill is his wife. Mrs. Seiter is playing the role of the Princess Sonia Zaiskine in "His Hour," the production which King Vidor is directing, and Elinor Glyn is supervising for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Mrs. Seiter is using the name Jill Reties, which is Seiter spelled backward, and indeed one name sounds just as reasonable as the other.

Before marrying William Seiter Mrs. Seiter was known to picturedom as Jill Woodward, leading woman. She retired from professional life when she married, more than seven years ago, and is only just now returning to the screen.

Warrior Shot by Camera

After being captured by Mexican rebels, lined up to be shot and then rescued; after being wrecked in a native boat in the Celebes Sea and stranded on the Caroline Islands; after being cut off from supplies in a Philippine outpost, living on roots and wild monkeys, one would think nothing much could excite Carey Harrison, former United States Army captain and Philippine constabulary officer, and now a principal player in Jack Dempsey's pictures.

But Harrison says he got the greatest thrill of his life the first time he faced a motion-picture camera at Universal City, where he played a reporter in Jack Dempsey's new picture, "French Pastry."

Harrison's career reads like a serial thriller. Born in Texas and raised on a ranch, he became an expert rider in his youth, before he attended college at Dallas. His enthusiasm over horsemanship led him to study military affairs, and he joined the cavalry, first as an enlisted man, and gained the privilege of attending West Point as one of the ten enlisted men chosen each year on merit.

He was commissioned and assigned to the cavalry as equitation instructor, and sent to the border. It was at this time that his capture by rebels occurred, and he was lined up to be shot. In the meantime the United States government exchanged notes, and for a time war was threatened over the incident, the affair achieving widespread publicity.

The young warrior was next assigned as a captain in the Philippine constabulary. Here he was sent to every part of the islands, in one case being shut off from supplies in the wilderness, where he and his men dug roots and shot wild monkeys until located. In a native boat in the Celebes Sea, pursuing smugglers, he was wrecked and stranded on a coral reef, one of the Caroline Islands.

During the World War Harrison served overseas, and on returning finally decided that he had had enough of army life.

Incidentally he was known as one of the Army's crack polo players.

Coming to Hollywood, Harrison decided to try his fling at the screen. He was assigned to the Dempsey set for some scenes, and he did so well that Erle Kenton, director, at once cast him for parts throughout the pictures.

F. B. O. Busy

Production activities at the F.B.O. studios have been given impetus following the arrival of H. C. S. Thomson, managing director, and J. I. Schnitzer, vice-president of Film Booking Offices, who recently arrived from New York.

F.B.O. will be among the most active plants on the West Coast stated. Yesterday marked the beginning of work on "Purchased Youth," with an all-star cast embracing Anna Q. Nilsson, Stuart Holmes, Wydham Standing, Lucille Rickson, Arthur Rankin, Cissy Fitzgerald, Dot Farley, Robert Bolder and others. The story, based on a great actress's craving for the return of her fading youth, is an original by Paul Bern. R. William Neil is directing.

Other producers will shortly start pictures. Emory Johnson will film a new story from the facile pen of his mother, Emile Johnson, in which Mary Carr and Johnnie Walker will be co-starred. They were recently featured in Johnson's sixth production for F.B.O., "The Spirit of the U.S.A.," and are under contract to appear in at least two more Johnson productions.

A new series of two-real featurettes called, "The Go-Getters," will star George O'Hara and Alberta Vaughn. Del Andrews will direct, and the stories will be written by George Marion, Jr.

"Empty Hearts" will be produced by Al Santell for Banner Productions, from a novel by Evelyn Campbell, and will feature John Bowers, Clara Bow, Charles Murray and others.

Will Mend Your Clothes

If you picture actresses are just worried to death about how you are going to get that party dress mended or your lingerie fixed up to look as good as new, your troubles will shortly be at an end. And if you get a card bearing the name of Mrs. Jennie Hellman, just know there is quite a little story behind it.

A kindly-faced matron, who once took a timid plunge into dramatics, afterward became a wardrobe woman, and who later ran a café for movie people, has gone into a newer field. Her name is Mrs. Jennie Hellman; she is going to start a specialty shop selling dresses, and she will also go into the practical mending business. Her address is 1146A South Western avenue.

Hedda Hopper Health Bulletin

Hedda Hopper, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Angelus Hospital on Monday night, is reported as getting along nicely. Her room resembles that of a theater dressing-room on an opening night. It is filled with flowers and messages of well wishes from her many friends in the film colony.

According to her physician, Miss Hopper will have to remain in bed several weeks.

FORUM THEATER HAS DOUBLE ATTRACTION

With a varied program of excellence and a playhouse that is in itself an attraction to Angelenos and tourists, the Forum is attracting large crowds as it enters another week of its showing of the initial attraction, D. W. Griffith's "America." Carol Dempster, Neil Hamilton, Lionel Barrymore, Louis Wolheim and other favorites handle the principal roles in what has been acclaimed Griffith's greatest romantic photoplay.

The musical program, offering an infinite variety of entertaining features, and the atmospheric prologue, are proving of tremendous interest. The theater itself, unique in its Roman architecture, and for the beauty of the many tapestries, mural paintings and Roman furnishings and appointments, brings expressions of wonderment and admiration from visitors.

Production Staff Picked for Picture

Edwin Carewe has selected his staff for his fifth picture for First National which will be "Madonna of the Streets," from the novel 'The Ragged Messenger," by W. B. Maxwell, an English author.

The members of the staff are Wallace Fox, assistant director; Robert Kurrie, cinematographer; Jack Schulze, technical director; Frank C. Griffin, scenarist; Louis M. Jerome, business manager; Robert Delacey, film editor; J. C. Courcier, laboratory technician; Al Greene, second camerman and Nick Easton, master of properities.

Featured in "Madonna of the Streets," are Nazimova and Milton Sills, supported by an all star cast. Director Carewe expects to spend nearly three months filming this story which has a background of the London Limehouse district.

NEW MAJESTIC PLAY

"Polly Preferred" Will Open Here Monday Night

The first of the two much-talked-about stage comedies of the movies will make its appearance here Monday night when Genevieve Tobin will begin a two weeks' engagement at the Majestic Theater in Guy Bolton's New York success, "Polly Preferred." As to the other, "Merton of the Movies," no announcement has as yet been made as to when it will be seen here.

It has taken three years for the sprightly Miss Tobin and the play to reach the Pacific Coast as capacity audiences at the Little Theater in New York kept the play there for two seasons, while the balance of the time was consumed in a tour of the large eastern cities. Incidentally it is Miss Tobin's first appearance in this city.

Although still in her 'teens, this is the second of the actress' starring adventures, her first being in "Little Old New York," in which she created the role of Patricia O'Day.

"Polly Preferred" tells a humorous story of two very human young people, who lose prosaic jobs, and turn, as though by instinct, to the movies. They meet each other in a New York automat and find success and happiness in Hollywood after many mirthmaking episodes.

BEAUDINE MADE HIS START AS PROP BOY

Filmdom's "Who's Who," listed the star in "Wandering Husbands," current attraction at the Mission Theater, as a featured Biograph player when the director who made the present picture was assistant to the late Bobby Harron, then property boy for the old Biograph.

William Beaudine, who made "Wandering Husbands" for Regal, with James Kirkwood in the leading role, supported by Lila Lee, has directed several players, who had gained cinema acclaim before he began a lowly association with the film industry from which, by hard work and an urge to climb the ladder of success, he has assumed high rank in the roster of screendom's younger directors.

His first effort at directing came when he produced one of the old "Ham and Bud" comedy series a decade ago. Since then he has directed many of the celebrities of the shadow drama, dividing his productions about fifty-fifty between adult and juvenile stars.

LAUGH BILL WILL BE CALIFORNIA FEATURE

"Hilarity Week" starts Saturday at the California. The program will consist of Will Rogers in "Don't Park There," and a feature length farce called, "Second Youth."

The story of "Second Youth" concerns a young woman who is much put out over the fact that men can flirt with manicures, chorus girls, stenographers, salesladies and the like and get away with it while if a girl as much as smiles at a young man she doesn't know everybody talks about it. The young lady, accustomed to having her own way, decides to do some flirting herself so she picks out a harmless-looking silk salesman to experiment on.

Walter Catlett and a New York cast of favorites interpret the various roles.

The current attractions, "How to Educate a Wife", and "The Mysteries of Mah Jongg," continue to attract enthusiastic audiences.

CONSTANCE DAZZLES IN NEW PRODUCTION

"They've got me all dolled up like a Christmas tree," complained Constance Talmadge, during the filming of her latest comedy, "The Goldfish," coming to Loew's State Theater Saturday.

Constance appeared in all the available jewels, rings, bracelets, necklaces, diamond buckles and anklets that Clare West, noted costume designer, could find for her. In the second sequence of "The Goldfish," Director Jerome Storm filmed the star as a nouveau riche and she was bedizened with a wealth of jewelry.

Heading the supporting cast is Jack Mulhall. Others having prominent roles are Jean Hersholt, Zasu Pitts, Edward Connelly and William Conklin.

FLAPPER PICTURE TO CONTINUE RUN

"Daughters of Today" will be held over a second week at the Clune Broadway Theater. At every performance the picture has played to capacity houses.

A fine group of players comprise the cast. It includes Patsy Ruth Miller, Ralph Graves, Edna Murphy, Edward Hearn, Philo McCullough, Gertrude Claire, George Nichols, Zasu Pitts, Phillips Smalley and many other notables.

"Daughters of Today" was directed by Rollin S. Sturgeon.

PLAYCRAFTERS MEET

The regular weekly meeting of the Playcrafters will be held Friday evening in Rowland Hall, 313 West Third street. At this session officers will be elected for the ensuing year, and plans will be discussed for a more active participation in the field of original play

DR. ERNEST HOAG IS DEAD

End Comes to Noted Psychiatrist at Club; Work as Criminologist Won Fame; Aided Children

Dr. Ernest Bryant Hoag, noted psychiatrist, died suddenly yesterday morning at the University Club. Although most of his work was conducted on the Pacific Coast, he was known nationally. He was a university lecturer and author of many books on child culture and criminology, and had been retained as an alienist at many important murder trials in the last few years here, and on several occasions was summoned as an alienist to trials in the East.

Dr. Ernest B. Hoag

Dr. Hoag, who was 56 years of age, apparently was in perfect health. He attended a meeting of scientific men interested in criminal work, judges and police officers last night at the University Club to form a permanent organization for the betterment of crime prevention methods and he spoke at this meeting. He was to have had breakfast at the club with Chief of Police Vollmer, with whom he formerly was associated at Berkeley, but he complained of an indisposition and asked that some coffee be sent to his room. The waiter found him dead. A sudden disorder of the heart, diagnosed as angina pectoris, was the cause of death.

LEAVES WIDOW, SON

Dr. Hoag's home was in South Pasadena, but he had been spending the winters at Balboa and because of the late hour he had remained for the night at the club. His wife was on her way to open their home in South Pasadena for the summer. Mrs. Hoag has just recovered from serious injuries suffered in an automobile accident at Pasadena. Dr. Hoag also leaves a son, Junius, 14.

Dr. Hoag was one of the leaders in making criminology a regular study at universities. For several years he has taught that subject at the University of California at Berkeley and at the Southern Branch here. More recently he began a course in criminology at the University of Southern California.

At Berkeley Dr. Hoag and Chief Vollmer became associates, and since the Police Chief's administration here the criminologist has taken an active interest in practical police matters. He has been giving two courses in criminology for policemen, and the work has grown until some 150 members of the local police force were enrolled. A bundle of examination papers and a class were waiting for Dr. Hoag today when the word passed among the police officers that he had died.

ACTED AS ALIENIST

As an alienist, Dr. Hoag was retained by the defense attorneys at the Clara Phillips, Arthur Burch, Harry New and "Bluebeard" Watson trials, and as a member of the local psychopathic commission for some time he was called in by the prosecution in criminal cases.

The capacity of the man seemed inexhaustible. He kept up a practice of medicine here and at the same time continued to lecture and to write on criminological subjects and was equally active in child welfare work. Recently he was at the head of the movement to establish a child welfare clinic here, and for seven years, until two years ago, he was the psychiatrist of the Los Angeles juvenile courts.

Several years ago he went to Hawaii to conduct research work for the government. One of these had to do with the conditions of the Territorial insane asylums. His report was so drastic in its recommendations that it was not made public because the Territorial government lacked the funds to put the reforms into practice, and it was not until another Governor was installed that the matter was made public. This Governor made Dr. Hoag's report the basis of an appeal for additional funds, which were allotted for the reform of the institution. In Hawaii, Dr. Hoag also did much research work among children, with special emphasis on the peculiar racial types being developed on the island, and at the time of his death he had completed the manuscript for a book on this subject, which later may be published.

WANTED LAW CHANGES

Dr. Hoag was foremost in the fight for changes in the law affecting criminals to meet modern condition; he held that the present laws were based on the conditions of the Middle Ages. He also was a leader in the movement to place the distribution of narcotics in the hands of physicians instead of under complete control of a government bureau.

Dr. Hoag was author of a half-dozen books on child problems and many pamphlets for use in schools. In several of these he collaborated with Dr. Edward Huntington Williams, with whom he was associated in the practice of medicine here. Besides the manuscript on Hawaii, Dr. Hoag left completed two others on popular-science subjects.

Dr. Hoag was born in Evanston, Ill. He obtained degrees from Northwestern, Leland Stanford and Wisconsin universities. He removed to Pasadena in 1902 and practiced medicine there for several years. At Pasadena he became city bacteriologist and medical director of schools. In various periods he was medical director and professor of biology of Throop Polytechnic Institute and medical director of Berkeley city schools.

Dr. Hoag was a Republican and was a member of the Episcopal Church. He was a member of the American Medical Association and of several Greek-letter fraternities.

Dr. Truman to Head Glendale Sanatorium Staff

The Glendale Sanatorium board, together with officials of other sanatoriums and organizations of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination in Southern California, numbering twenty in all, after a two-days' study of medical and financial problems pertaining to the recently opened institution in Glendale, has made the following changes in the sanatorium staff: Dr. A. W. Truman, Washington, D. C., medical superintendent, and J. A. Burden, San Diego, business manager.

Mr. Burden will have the assistance of F. E. Corson, who is general manager of the Loma Linda Sanatorium, the White Memorial Hospital in Los Angeles and the Loma Linda College of Medical Evangelists.

Dr. H. C. Westphal, former medical superintendent, will remain and devote his time to surgery and other medical work. C. E. Kimlin, former business manager, will remain as treasurer.

"SIX CYLINDER LOVE" TO CLOSE THIS WEEK

Saturday night will be the farewell performance of "Six Cylinder Love" and Sunday will usher in a new play, "The Cat and the Canary," by Harry Willard.

This mystery-comedy is a thrilling mystery story. The cast includes Charlotte Treadway, Harland Tucker, Gayne Whitman, Albert Van Antwerp, Mary Fisher, Grace Travers, Jane Morgan, Joseph Eggenton, James Donlan, L. Morris Foster, and many other Morosco favorites.

"Six Cylinder Love" is still hitting on all six for the rest of the week and then it will slide gracefully into the background from the pressure of four-wheel brakes to make ready for the new presentation "The Cat and the Canary."

CLUB INSURANCE SESSION

Will H. Farrell, A. H. Roberts and G. A. McCullough, local insurance experts, will speak at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Pacific Mutual Auditorium, Sixth and Olive streets, to a special insurance division of the General Federation of Women's Clubs convention. Miss Alice Lakey, delegate from New Jersey, will talk on insurauce as it applies to the home and children, and will preside.

FARE CUTS TO BEACHES ANNOUNCED

Rates Apply to Forty-one Interior Cities on Lines of Pacific Electric

Announcement of reductions in week-end excursion fares to beach resorts from the forty-one principal interior points on its lines where agencies are maintained, exclusive of Los Angeles, was made yesterday by the Pacific Electric management. The reductions average slightly more than 33 per cent and are effective to all beach resorts.

The management announces that these excursion-fare tickets may be obtained only from its regular agents and will not be sold by conductors on trains. The rates will be effective on Saturday and Sunday of each week, with return limit on Monday following date of sale. Commencing Saturday, the 14th inst., the special round-trip rates will continue in effect until September 14.

The early arrival of fifty new interurban steel cars, fifteen of which are now en route and expected daily, will augment the equipment facilities of the Pacific Electric sufficiently to care for any travel demands made on account of the reduced fares.

Reduced rates to various points affected by the reduction are given below:

Point—	West Beaches Excursion Fare	South Beaches Excursion Fare	Balboa, Newport and Huntington Beach Excursion Fare
Alhambra	$ .85	$ .85	$1.25
Glendale	.85	.85	1.25
Whittier	1.00	.85	1.00
Burbank	1.00	1.00	1.25

FUN FILM ENDEAVOR SPREADING

Dates Planned for Twenty Theaters Additional; Send in Your Jokes

Audiences at Loew's State Theater are keenly enjoying "Local Laughs," the popular wit and humor film produced by The Times in co-operation with its readers, and the fun is spreading to additional theaters which are being listed as speedily as booking arrangements permit. In addition to Loew's State, where "Local Laughs" has its first showing each week, the following theaters now include the joy-film in their programs: Palace, Long Beach; Yost, Santa Ana; Seville, Inglewood; Olympus, 2014 East First street, Los Angeles; Cabrillo, San Pedro; Mission, Santa Paula, and Bishop, Bishop.

Dates now are being arranged for twenty other theaters throughout Southern California and these will be announced in The Times within a few days.

Fifteen jokes are selected each week for "Local Laughs," and for the best one $5 is awarded. The second best receives $3; third best, $2, and twelve others get $1 each. Following each joke on the screen appears the name and address of its contributor.

Times readers may send in any number of jokes, funny sayings and epigrams and as often as they like, bearing in mind only that each one must be told in thirty words or less. See the coupon elsewhere.

Newsboys to be Guests at Film Theater

Fred A. Miller, managing director of Miller's Theater, has extended an invitation to all The Times newsboys to view Hal Roach's film play, "The King of Wild Horses," Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

The entire program will be creened including Will Rogers and the Hal Roach "Our Gang" kiddies in "Jubilo, Jr.," and "Birds of Passage," a two-reel novelty film which shows the migration of European birds.

Rex, a magnificent black stallion, is the star of "The King of Wild Horses." He is said to perform daring stunts in the picture.

A delightful love story is woven through the play and Leon Bary, Edna Murphy, Pat Hartifan and Sidney Grey are some of the players who take part in it.

Tickets may be obtained on the second floor of The Times at the circulation department.

Chamber Will Hear Players of Pilgrimage

The Hollywood Chamber of Commerce will hold an open forum meeting at the First Methodist Church in Hollywood this evening.

Among speakers will be Henry Herbert, who has just arrived in Hollywood to begin rehearsals for this season's presentation of the Pilgrimage Play and who will again enact the role of the Christus. Florence Stone, who created the Mary Magdalene role the first season of the Pilgrimage Play, will assume the role again this year and she will be one of the speakers of the evening, as will H. Ellis Reed, who portrays the role of John the Baptist.

Other speakers of the evening will include Mrs. J. J. Carter of the Hollywood Bowl, representative club women here to attend the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and speakers from the Chamber of Commerce.

The Pilgrimage Play will open its fifth annual season in the Pilgrimage Theater in the canyon at the junction of Cahuenga and Highland avenues, Monday evening, July 7.

Advanced Millinery Enters Unusual Event at $12.50

THEY could hardly be more attractive, more wholly desirable if they had prices many times higher—these new hats for late summer and early fall which Robinson's have priced so compellingly low.

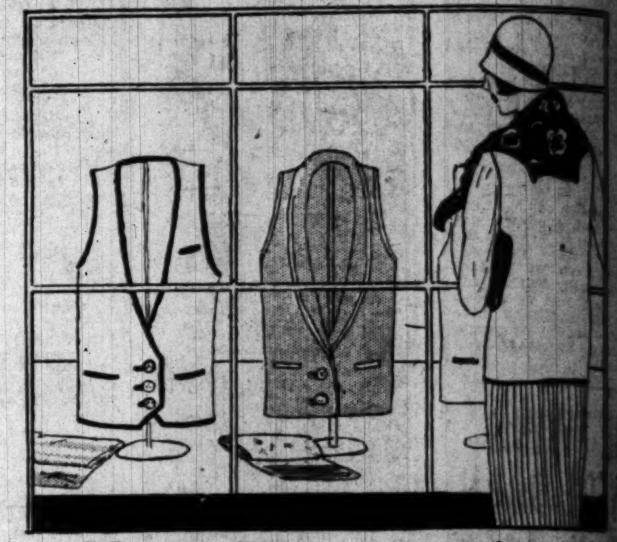
Taffeta in tremendous favor for fall combines black velvet or pleated lace. Black satin proves the inspiration for large dress hats combined with black lace.

For late summer one may select the becoming leghorn of medium size combined with taffeta or with motifs worked out in vari-colored pasted feathers.

Hats for all occasions—in light and dark shades for street or afternoon.

All priced at just $12.50.

THIRD FLOOR



New Flannel Vests for Sports Wear Only $7.50

IN her search for something tailored, bright colored and smart for sports wear, the discerning woman will turn to these Flannel Vests which Robinson's are offering for the first time Thursday at such a low price.

With soft-rolling shawl collars, notched tailored collars or no collars at all, they offer a becoming style for every type.

Some have three slit pockets; some have link button fastenings and others have clusters of buttons. And all are narrowly bound with braid.

They include the new shades for summer: brick, powder blue, green, tan, gray, white and yellow.

In sizes 16 to 38.

THIRD FLOOR

500 White Silk Pleated Skirts Notable at $10.75 and $13.75

Every Skirt is as carefully and amply cut—as finely tailored and finished—as though it were much higher priced. Under all ordinary circumstances they would be much higher priced.

The wise shopper will be at Robinson's early Thursday morning—to avail herself of an economy-privilege which can obviously occur but once in a great while.

500 White Silk Pleated Skirts enter an event at Robinson's which will attract crowds of enthusiastic shoppers.

The very exceptional prices are the result of a fortunate—and unusual—purchase. They are decidedly lower than could possibly be expected from the quality of the skirts.

Fashioned from Canton and flat crepes—silks which are serviceable, lustrous—and easily cleaned. In knife or combination pleats, and in sizes from 25 to 36.

In all-white—unrivalled for summer wear.
350 Skirts priced at $10.75.
150 Skirts priced at $13.75.

RAILROAD WOMAN IS DELEGATE

Mrs. Laughlin is Boss of Important Transfer Point at Ames, Iowa

Bossing an important railway transfer point isn't much more difficult than running a household, says Mrs. Julia A. Laughlin of Ames, Iowa, the only woman station master in the United States. Mrs. Laughlin, now at the Lee Hotel, is the delegate of the club women of Ames to the biennial here.

"I have been in charge of the Northwestern railway station at Ames for about seven years," Mrs. Laughlin said. "My husband, who died several years ago, had been a conductor on the Northwestern many years and during the shortage of men at the time of the war the superintendent in Chicago asked how I would like to go to Ames. I took the job and have been there ever since."

The traffic at Ames is very heavy, the town being situated on a double-track line from Chicago to Omaha. In addition to the east and west traffic there are a number of north and south-bound trains running from Des Moines to St. Paul.

"You've got to be on the lookout all the time," Mrs. Laughlin said, "but I enjoy the work. One of the things that help the situation is the unfailing courtesy of the train men."

Mrs. Laughlin refused to don male attire when she took over management of the Ames station.

"It was suggested that I wear bloomers when I first went to work," she said, "but I don't believe in men's clothing for women. A compromise was finally effected by my wearing the regulation uniform cap and coat, but I have never discarded the skirt."

That Mrs. Laughlin has been more than ordinarily successful in her work is evidenced by the fact that when the Northwestern a time ago concluded it would eliminate the position of station master at Ames and would end her to some other place, hundreds of telegrams and letters of protest poured in to the management from club women, city officials, and members of the faculty of Iowa State College, located at Ames, who informed the railway officials that conditions at the station had improved so much during Mrs. Laughlin's administration that they insisted on her remaining at her post. The railroad powers then concluded they had been too hasty and orders accordingly went out from headquarters that the train master was to stay on the job indefinitely.

HIGH JINX CELEBRATION

Fifty members of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' Association forgot work yesterday and drove to Forest Home, where they celebrated their third annual high jinx. On arriving at Forest Home the party was met by Frank Culver, proprietor. The members will remain for two days.

WAY SHOWN IN TRAINING TO PARENTS

Court Stresses Need of Developing Social Side of Their Daughters

Development of a girl's social tendencies in the right direction is more necessary than musical training, Police Judge Pope informed Mr. and Mrs. Natale Ricca, 1159 East Fifty-third street, yesterday.

The couple were brought into court on a charge of disturbing the peace in connection with a neighborhood squabble that grew out of friendship of their 14-year-old daughter with Roy Matthews, 19 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. George K. Matthews, 1153 East Fifty-third street, next-door neighbors.

According to testimony, Josephine Ricca, the daughter, was being trained for a musical career. Hampered by parental restraint, it is said Josephine and Roy would meet on the sly to which the girl's parents are said to have objected violently.

After delivering the lecture on the evil effects of too much restraint on adolescent girls, Judge Pope fined Ricca $25.

PICKS PERFECTLY MATCHED FEET

Ex-Follies Girl to Conduct Shoe Revue

Kathleen Mullane

TO SELECT twenty-four pairs of perfectly matched feminine feet from a collection of more than 3000 pairs of pedal extremities of various shapes and sizes is some job, take it from Miss Kathleen Mullane, former Follies girl, who recently performed that delicate stunt.

The selection of the winning tootsies was accomplished through a series of elimination tests conducted in twenty-four States. Every pair of feet had to be perfect in shape and all of the same size—4B. The purpose of the selection was to obtain two dozen models for demonstrating footwear at the convention of the California Shoe Retailers' Association, which will open at the Biltmore on the 23rd inst.

One of the features on the program of the convention will be a style review conducted by Miss Mullane in the Biltmore ballroom at 8 o'clock on the evening of the 24th inst., when the twenty-four young women possessing the model feet will exhibit different styles of shoes, showing what they look like when encasing flawless feet. More than 100 styles will be shown during the evening, the output of thirty-six different shoe manufacturers.

F. V. Kayser of the Wetherby-Kayser Company of Los Angeles, who is in charge of arrangements for the convention, stated that an attendance of 800 is expected. It will include shoe dealers from all parts of California and also from a number of other States.

In this connection, Mr. Kayser stated that Los Angeles is rapidly becoming a center of styles in footwear.

"Not infrequently styles attain a vogue here before they appear in New York and other eastern cities," he said. "The reason is that Los Angeles is a city in which a large part of the population pays particular attention to dress. This is especially true of the people engaged in the motion-picture business, but the tendency is spreading to such an extent that we may eventually see this city the arbiter of fashion not only in shoes but other articles of apparel as well."

Sues Husband She Says Was Wed Already

Because, according to her story, deceit lured her into marrying a man who had another wife from whom he was not divorced, Aletta V. C. Wilson yesterday sued for annulment of her marriage to Horace G. Wilson of Long Beach, and for $50,000 damages.

Her claim for damages was based principally on an allegation that she had given up excellent prospects of marrying a wealthy New York man in order to wed Wilson.

Wilson frequently was absent from their home on the plea of business necessity, she declared. During these periods, she charged, she found out later he had been spending his time with his other wife and their child. Prior to their marriage, she says, Wilson showed her divorce papers which she declares were fraudulent.

CONTESTS WILL FILED BY DIVORCED WIFE

John Bernhard, after obtaining a divorce from his wife, failed to change his will, which was in her favor. After his death, a few months later, Mrs. Adell Hildegard Bernhard offered the will for probate. A contest was filed yesterday by the father, John Swenson Bernhard, in which it was contended that the will was revoked automatically by the divorce proceedings.

SPECIAL CONCERT SUNDAY

A special program has been arranged, it was announced yesterday, for the Sunday afternoon concert at Lincoln Park by R. Le Monte Parker's band. The concert is at 2 p.m. The concerts are being financed by the Lincoln Heights Commercial Association, the Los Angeles Railway and the city. The band is of thirty-five pieces. It has been attracting large crowds weekly.

HIS DANCING PARTNER IS HIS NEMESIS

Man Confides He Held Up Station Agent and She Tells Police Here

Soft lights, music and a delightful dancing partner caused Guadalupe Berumen to open up his heart in a dance hall at 223½ South Main street, a few days ago and to allow his tongue to wag. The dancing partner, though very beautiful, was not dumb. She communicated with Police Reserve Officers Kopytek and Pruett. As a result Berumen and his asserted pal, Louis Nava, left for Fresno last night in the custody of officers from that city to face charges of robbery.

The girl told police that Berumen informed her he had held up and robbed William A. Piper, a station agent for the Santa Fe at Fresno, on the night of April 6, last. Information obtained from Berumen after his arrest led the officers to another dance hall on North Main street, where they took Nava into custody.

Photographs of the two youths were sent to Fresno. They are said to have been positively identified by Piper.

Industrial Area Is Threatened by Oil Tank Blaze

One tool shed and a large tank of oil were destroyed yesterday in a fire which for a time threatened to sweep the manufacturing district in the section near Mission Road and Daly street.

The blaze occurred on the right of way of the Southern Pacific railroad. It was fought by railroad fire departments and was placed under control within half an hour of its start. Great clouds of smoke from the burning oil attracted scores of spectators.

BIMINI SLOUGH PLAN LOSES FOUR TO ONE

REQUESTS FOR REZONING TO BE RENEWED AFTER VOTE CANVASS

The official returns of the special election Tuesday in the Wilshire district to vote on the question of issuing $475,000 in forty-year bonds for the purchase for park purposes of the forty-five-acre property at Third street and Vermont avenue known as Bimini Slough were canvassed by the City Council yesterday and showed that the bonds had been defeated by more than four to one. The official vote was: For the bonds, 711; against, 3146.

This leaves the property zoned for residence and flats and apartments, and it is expected that F. A. Maginnis and others who had been trying to locate industries on the property now will renew their request for rezoning, as they had been waiting for the outcome of the park bond election. Proponents of the park plan had opposed the location of industries on the property and had worked hard to carry the bond election so that the "Slough" could be developed as a district park.

"SEVEN" TO BE THIS BABE'S LUCK NUMBER

A peculiar combination of the figure 7 happened in the Brewster family yesterday morning. Exactly at 7 o'clock there arrived to make happy the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Mrs. Brewster and baby are resting comfortably.

DORMVILLE CARNIVAL

Winding up their social activities for the summer, dormitory residents of Central Y.M.C.A., 715 South Hope street, will stage a Dormville carnival this evening with local talent. Plans as announced by Bill Ware, chairman of the committee on arrangements, include six vaudeville acts and sideshow attractions.

CITIZENS TO VIEW TRADE TOUR START

Harbor Inspection Trip as 300 Merchants Leave for Hawaiian Islands

When 300 merchants sail from Los Angeles Harbor on the 21st inst. bound for Hawaii on the City of Los Angeles on what is declared to be the biggest trade extension excursion ever attempted by the Chamber of Commerce, their departure will be witnessed by more than 3000 citizens who will be making an inspection tour of the harbor district, according to plans announced yesterday by Chamber of Commerce officials.

The day of the departure of the trade excursion was chosen for the tour because of the significance of the tour to development plans for the harbor and because the sailing of the City of Los Angeles will mark the inauguration of a new passenger service to Hawaii.

Plans for the inspection trip are being made by the chamber's committee on harbor development, headed by F. R. Feitshans, and by a committee of the junior division of the chamber, headed by F. R. Carver, Jr. Members of the junior division will act as guides on the inspection trip.

Special trains will be run to the harbor by the Pacific Electric all morning, according to present plans. Visitors will be sold special tickets entitling the holders to the round trip, a box lunch to be eaten on the docks of the Los Angeles Steamship Company, a launch ride which will include every part of the harbor and a visit to the battleships at anchor outside the harbor in the shelter of the breakwater. The high point of the tour will be the watching of the departure of the City of Los Angeles and the program of speeches on the steamship docks. The speakers will include Mayor Cryer, President Colden of the Board of Harbor Commissioners; President William Lacy of the Chamber of Commerce, and President Fred L. Baker of the Los Angeles Steamship Company.

Left Too Much to Providence, Wife Declares

John B. Land was willing to leave his affairs principally to the disposition of Providence, according to his wife, Caroline B. Land, school teacher, whose suit for divorce was heard yesterday by Judge Summerfield and taken under advisement. They were living in one room, but after their baby was born Mrs. Land insisted on more commodious quarters for the child's sake, she said.

"The baby will have to take a chance," was Land's reply, she testified. "It took a chance on entering the world and it will have to take a chance on getting along in it." So they separated.

Later when she broached the subject of a reconciliation she found him willing, but financially incompetent to provide a suitable home, she said. He was not at all dismayed by the situation, Mrs. Land testified. He hospitably urged her to come back to him, assuring her that "the Lord would provide," she declared.

He even wanted to take the money she had saved up to finance the advent of the baby, to make a first payment on an automobile, Mrs. Land testified.

Court Deputy Position Goes to Van Allen

Appointment of M. C. Van Allen to the deputy clerkship in the office of the Second District Court of Appeal was announced yesterday following the authorization of his transfer from his former position as chief deputy clerk, in charge of the local State Supreme Court office by the State Civil Service Commission.

Mr. Van Allen will assume the position made vacant several months ago by the promotion of H. C. Lillie from deputy clerk to clerk, following the death of Clerk Frank Shearer.

The oath of office was administered to Mr. Van Allen yesterday afternoon and he will take charge of his new duties immediately. Mr. Van Allen was appointed in 1909 to the then elective office of deputy Supreme Court clerk and in 1911 was made chief deputy in charge of the Los Angeles office.

Hugh P. Coultis, for three years a deputy clerk in the local high court, automatically will assume the chief deputy clerkship. The vacancy in the Supreme Court office will be filled from the civil service lists.

VICTOR RECORDS BEING MADE IN LOS ANGELES

ART HICKMAN, VINCE ROSE ORCHESTRAS ARE ON LIST OF ARTISTS

The Victor Talking Machine Company has installed recording apparatus in Los Angeles and is making records of selections by noted musicians of this city. Among those making records this week are Art Hickman's Biltmore Orchestra, under direction of Earl Burnett, and Vince Rose's Montmartre Orchestra.

Both Mexican and Hawaiian talent has been obtained here, and Victor records soon will be available, it is announced.

E. J. Dingley, assistant sales manager of the Victor Talking Machine Company, Camden, N. J., on a recent visit here conferred with G. P. Ellis, manager of Sherman, Clay & Co., relative to the selection of local talent for recording purposes.

HOME AFTER SAD MISSION

Miss Marjorie Berger, income tax expert, with offices in the Bank of Italy Building, returned home yesterday following a brief trip to Chicago, where she accompanied the body of her mother, Mrs. Rose Berger, whose death occurred here May 31, last. Mrs. Berger's death was preceded by an illness of several months.

MRS. ENNIS IS RELEASED

Coroner's Jury Finds Grooms Slain by Holdup Men; Companion in Ride Sobs Over Bier

Mrs. Anna Ennis, held as a material witness in the murder of Maurinus Van Acker Grooms, wealthy elevator operator, was released from custody yesterday by order of the District Attorney, following a Coroner's jury verdict which expressed the opinion that Grooms was killed by bandits. Mrs. Ennis was in Grooms's car with him near Culver City when he was shot late Sunday night. She did not testify at the inquest.

There was a dramatic scene at the morgue of McIntosh & Maters, where Grooms's body lay, when, the inquiry over, Mrs. Ennis asked permission to see it. She stroked his brow and clasped his hand, and then burst into hysterical weeping and threw herself on the body. She fought off two women who sought to lead her from the room and was gotten out only with difficulty through the persuasion of her attorney. Mrs. Ennis has told the authorities repeatedly that her were the witnesses. Mrs. Ennis feeling for Grooms was merely casual friendship.

EIGHT TESTIFY

Edward O. Keller, Grooms's roommate and fellow-elevator operator; W. O. Prather, first man to reach the scene after the murder; his son, William E. Prather; Miss Helen Olsen, roommate of Mrs. Ennis; William P. Ennis, Mrs. Ennis's husband; Motorcycle Officer Servos of Culver City and Deputy Sheriffs Stensland and DeWar was called, but did not testify when her counsel objected.

Keller declared Grooms was engaged to a girl in New Jersey. He knew of no enemies Grooms had, he said, though he had had trouble with Ennis over a business deal. He said Grooms frequently went out with Mrs. Ennis. The Prathers testified to Mrs. Ennis's cries and sobs over Grooms's unconscious form, and the younger man quoted her as saying, "They made me walk across the fields. They took my rings, but if he can be saved I don't care."

Miss Olsen said Mrs. Ennis told her bandits killed Grooms. She said Ennis had told his wife not to go out with Grooms, for the sake of their child. Ennis, in his testimony, declared he had not seen his wife for ten days nor Grooms for two and a half months before the killing.

"I did not like Grooms," he admitted freely, "and I told my wife she ought not to go out with him."

Deputy Sheriffs Stensland and Dewar told of their investigation of the murder and said that in their opinion hold-up men killed Grooms. They based this opinion, they said, on their experience with previous similar cases.

The inquest was conducted by Coroner Nance. After Mrs. Ennis had left the morgue she was taken to the office of Dist.-Atty. Keyes, who again quizzed her at length and then told her she was free to go.

Grooms was the son of wealthy parents at Princeton, N. J. and was once a student at Princeton. After breaking up in the restaurant business with Ennis he got a job running an elevator at the Biltmore.

PROPERTY TIED BY ORDER IN DIVORCE

HUSBAND IS RESTRAINED PENDING DIVISION OF ESTATE

Mrs. Beatrice Doak was granted a divorce yesterday from Charles Doak. Accusations that Doak had associated with a woman referred to as "Betty" were the grounds of Mrs. Doak's suit, which was heard by Judge Clock. She said he had squandered more than half of their property, which she valued at $50,000, and the court issued an order restraining him from disposing of any more community funds pending a division.

Mrs. Doak said her husband had been confined in the State Hospital at Patton recently for intemperance. She was awarded custody of the two children.

HUNT BOY IN SEA; DEATH NOTE FOUND

Police at Long Beach in Search; Letter Declares Place in Navy Refused

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, June 11.—Search for the body of a youth who is believed to have ended his life by plunging into the sea from one of the municipal docks because he could not join the Navy was started by police and life guards today.

A lengthy death note, in which the unidentified youth set forth his reasons for taking his life, started the hunt for the body. The note was found by J. A. Haughtelin, assistant municipal dock master. It was dated today and read as follows:

"I can't get work and I am broken-hearted. I wanted to enlist in the Navy. Went to ship aboard the Nevada. I have such dear friends aboard and the doctor refused to have me. This will be a lesson to other boys. The doctor at the recruiting station in Los Angeles will refuse them. I pray God will not let a friend of Mr. Lorence Watko aboard the Nevada ship. He is broken-hearted, too, but won't let on. He was refused, too, and every day he watches the fleet and some day he will do like me—go to a long sleep in the ocean. This poor boy is braver than I am but I pray to God that Long Beach people will help him get in the Navy as I seen him crying today.

"Please all forgive me but I am better off. I will tie large stones about my waist. Good-by wicked recruiting office and doctor of Los Angeles."

The note was unsigned but from its wording and the manner in which it was written police believe that the writer was either a Filipino or a Japanese.

TAILOR SHOP ROBBED

M. Levy, head of the Professional Tailors Company at 2001 Wilshire Boulevard, reported to police yesterday that burglars had entered the shop and stolen forty-four pieces of cloth valued at $834.

Public Clinics on Program of Optometrists

Public eye clinics under direction of nationally known figures in the optometric field will feature the annual convention of the California State Association of Optometrists which meets in Pasadena, July 7, 8 and 9. Clinical demonstrations by experts for the benefit of optometrists also will be conducted, according to President Russell Simpson.

These clinical demonstrations, made for the first time at the convention of the American Optometric Association this month in Kansas City, have proved a great success and California will be the first State to see them. Dr. Frederic A. Woll, professor of physics at Columbia University and recognized as the foremost authority in the nation on dissection of the eye, will be the chief clinician. Dr. Arthur E. Hoare of Glendale, field secretary for the Conservaion of Vision League, who conducted clinics at Kansas City, also is expected to demonstrate the work at Pasadena.

Two other noted educators at the convention will be Dr. William B. Needles, president of the Northern Illinois College of Optometry at Chicago, and Prof. H. A. Fuog of Los Angeles, clinical professor at the Los Angeles School of Optometry and president of the League for the Conservation of Vision.

Business sessions of the convention are expected to deal with the problem of a visual examination for motor car drivers. It is expected a State-wide campaign to educate the public to the danger from defective vision of motorists will be inaugurated.

BOULEVARD ROBBERY SUSPECTS ARRESTED

J. A. Shannon and E. L. Knight were arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Bell, Monteleone and Neighbours and lodged in the County Jail for investigation. According to the officers they are suspected of robberies that have taken place recently on the National Boulevard.

Upsets Plans of Prosecution in Madera Court

Judge Instructs Attorney to Rush Perjury Quiz

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MADERA, June 11.—Hired as a detective to observe the movements of the woman who is now his sweetheart John Copas today became the center of a court battle in which the three children of Mrs. Emmert were taken from her by order of Superior Judge Stanley Murray and placed under control of Probation Officer J. F. Rea.

During Sopas's testimony Judge Murray interrupted proceedings long enough to announce that "Somebody was committing perjury," and instructed Dist.-Atty. Mason A. Bailey, who was appearing as prosecuting attorney in the action, to start an investigation.

Copas was expected by the prosecution to become its witness, but instead appeared as star witness for the defense. He had been employed, he admitted, to shadow Mrs. Emmert and was to have been given $100 for his services. Sixty dollars of the amount was paid, he declared. Under direct examination of defense counsel he admitted having kissed and embraced Mrs. Emmert at her home. He denied any impropriety.

Ensign Roberts, Mary Chase, to Wed Saturday

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, June 11.—Mary Taylor Chase, daughter of Rear-Admiral and Mrs. Jehu V. Chase of 3020 East Second street, will become the bride at high noon Saturday of Ensign James Auburn Roberts, Jr., at St. Luke's Episcopal Church. The bridal party will walk to the altar under a canopy of drawn swords carried by the brother officers of the groom. The service will be read by Rev. Perry Austin, rector of the church, and a reception will follow the ceremony at the Chase home.

Lieut. G. P. Kiraker will act as best man and the bride will be attended by her sister, Miss Betty Chase. The bride-to-be has chosen a bridal gown of white and her sister will wear a frock of peach taffeta. Mrs. Chase is in personal charge of the decorations in the church. Ensign Roberts is attached to the battleship Tennessee. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Roberts of Louisiana, Mo. Rear-Admiral Chase until recently was commander of the base force at Los Angeles Harbor.

JUST NATURALLY BREAKS INTO JAIL

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, June 11.—Morris Osborne, colored, appeared before Police Judge Willard yesterday on a vagrancy charge and was banished from the city for a period of one year after he had admitted serving six months in the County Jail and stated that he objected to work. He promised to take the next car for Long Beach, where he said he formerly lived.

But Osborne didn't go.

Early this morning he was rearrested by Officers Cullen and Davis on a similar charge and is now being held in the City Jail pending date of trial.

Now Osborne will be required to spend another forced vacation in the County Jail, the provisions of his first sentence being that if he was found in the city limits of Venice within the next year he would receive a jail sentence.

CHILD BADLY INJURED

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HOME GARDENS, June 11.—Nicholas Griff, 2 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Griff, went to to the grocery store just across the street from their home about 9 o'clock in the evening. The child left the store, starting to run across the street, when a machine driven by Arthur Eichert struck the child, dragging it several feet. The boy was rushed to a hospital, his face and hands being badly cut.

PROFITABLE CROP

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

EL CENTRO, June 11.—Grape buyers representing Los Angeles and San Francisco concerns are asserted to have offered as high as $120 a ton for Imperial Valley early grapes, which are to be harvested within the next few weeks. It is believed this price will be exceeded before the season opens. The crop is said to be heavy in all the valley vineyards.

TO BUILD VIADUCT

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

INGLEWOOD, June 11.—Preliminary plans for the construction of the Market-street viaduct were presented to the City Trustees today by H. V. Leeson, Los Angeles consulting engineer. The estimated cost will be $80,000. Sketches show a concrete structure with a thirty-foot roadway, six-foot walks on both sides, ornamental lights, easy grades, and wide fan-like approaches from Redondo Boulevard and Hawthorne Boulevard.

NEW ELKS' CLUB

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA BARBARA, June 11.—Elks of Santa Barbara have started a fund and will start construction on a new clubhouse to cost $256,000 in the downtown section about October 1, it was announced today. The building will be a two-story structure and will be built upon a site with a frontage of 160 feet. Carl Werner of San Francisco is architect.

REBUILT CAR SUITS PATRON

Steps on Gas, Speeds Away, Without Stopping the Price to Pay

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VISALIA, June 11.—Arnold J. Smith, arrested in Bakersfield yesterday and returned to Visalia on a charge of theft of an automobile from the Plaza Garage, west of Visalia, is still confined in the County Jail in lieu of $1000 bail. Smith is said to have stoped at the garage and to have asked Melville Robinson, the mechanic, if any second-hand cars were for sale. When shown one, he is reported to have stepped into it and started the engine. Robinson believed he was testing it but suddenly Smith raced down the highway and Robinson reported the affair to the police.

Smith refuses to talk, except to say he has a brother in Yuba City. Nothing is known of him here.

New Street to Do Away With Bad Crossing

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

POMONA, June 11.—First work on the extension of West Second street, following years of planning and public agitation in favor of the project began today when a force of workmen started the rough grading.

Curbing will be put in next week and the new strip of concrete paving, designed some day to form a link in a new stretch of county highway, will be completed in about one-month, according to the contractors. On a low bid of $12,500, the successful bidder was awarded the contract several weeks ago. The extension paving project involved the curbing and paving with six-inch concrete forty-six feet wide of the true extension of West Second street from Oak street, where it now stands, to the western city limits, one-fourth mile in length.

It is intended that a new county highway, beginning at the Valley Boulevard below the Phillips crossing of the Southern Pacific Railroad shall be built with an overhead crossing over the tracks to connect wiht this extension, thus eliminating the two dangerous grade crossings at the western city limits, which have taken an appalling toll of lives in years past.

NEIGHBORS SAVE EXPLOSION VICTIM

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

LANKERSHIM, June 11.—Mrs. L. Morrison is suffering from painful burns sustained when there was an explosion of gas in the cottage occupied by the family. The cause of the explosion is undetermined, but is believed to have resulted from an undiscovered leak.

Gas had evidently been escaping and when a match was lighted there was a roar and a rush of flame. Passersby heard the explosion and, rushing in, extinguished the blaze and put out the fires that had communicated to the woman's clothing. While painful, it is not believed her injuries are of a serious nature.

The Morrisons had only recently moved here from Hollywood and were occupying the Krilanovich residence.

SMALL FRUIT CROP

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

LANKERSHIM, June 11.—The canning plant of the Bonner Fruit Company here will remain idle throughout the season. The demands of the Los Angeles and Southern California markets for valley apricots is such that requirements for fresh fruit will consume the entire crop. Had the season been a normal one doubtless the plant would have operated on peaches, but even today a number of the orchards have not yet put forth their leaves. The harvest of peaches of all varieties will be only a small percentage of the quantity consumed in Los Angeles. The cannery is not equipped to handle vegetables.

FINGER PRINT CLEW

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, June 11.—Indistinct finger prints in the dust on the casement at the rear of the Army and Navy Store are the only clew the police have as to the identity of the burglars who jimmied the window and carried away a miscellaneous assortment of wearing apparel and general goods. The loss is estimated at $1200. It is believed the robbery was committed shortly before daylight, as night patrolmen discovered nothing unusual at the store during the the midnight hours.

SCHOOL WAR ON

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ROSCOE, June 11.—A tempest is brewing in the Hensen Heights school teapot, the fuel being provided by the signers of a petition addressed to the Los Angeles Board of Education praying that Mrs. A. Jordan, the principal, be not returned for another year. Lax discipline is the complaint, although the friends of the accused in rallying to her rescue insist that she is a competent teacher and disciplinarian.

OVERWORKED ELKS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

REDLANDS, June 11.—This is a busy week with the Elks of Redlands. At the meeting tonight plans were made for the summer months for special meetings and picnics. Tomorrow night the last dance and card party of the season is to be given, and on Saturday night the Elks will invite the general public to Flag Day exercises at the amphitheater. E. B. Drake of Los Angeles is to be the speaker.

RUSH WORK ON WATER WELLS

Shortage Works Hardship in South Pasadena

Citizens May Act to Stop Irrigating

Concern Caused by Increase of Fire Hazard

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SOUTH PASADENA, June 11.—While city officials are rushing the completion of a 2,000,000-gallon-a-day water well on the Wilson ranch at San Gabriel and expecting the delivery by Saturday of water from a 1,000,000-gallon-a-day well on the ranch to the Raymond Reservoir, residents here are under restrictions limiting the use of water for lawn sprinkling and irrigation authorized by City Manager R. V. Orbison. The sprinkling ban may be modified to some extent after the 2,000,000-gallon-a-day well is put on the pump, Water Engineer L. S. Widden said today.

In the southwestern section of the city many residents are seriously affected by the inability to get water during the hours when sprinkling is permitted. Action may be taken, it was said today, to attempt to force the city officials to prohibit sprinkling altogether until provision is made to supply homes with at least some water at all times of day. The water pressure is so low at times, it is said, that no water can be obtained from faucets on the second floor of two-story houses. Many residents in the section of the city west of Fremont avenue have expressed serious concern over the situation, particularly in regard to the fire hazard resulting from the shortage.

Pasadena supplies water to the western portion of South Pasadena, Water Engineer Whidden said, and while the supply is adequate, the mains are not large enough to provide water to all homes while a heavy drain is placed upon the system by sprinkling and irrigating at stated hours. Pasadena supplies the west section of South Pasadena with approximately 1,000,000 gallons a day, according to the water engineer.

MURDER CHARGED IN AUTOMOBILE DEATH

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, June 11.—Kermit Roosevelt Shoemaker, 19 years of age, died here early this morning as the result of an automobile crash at the Jamieson Ranch near Corona Monday afternoon. At the inquest this afternoon a Coroner's jury found that an automobile driven by Jose Valdepena and occupied by three other Mexicans, struck the machine occupied by Shoemaker and his brother Floyd. As a result Valdepena was charged with unjustifiable homicide. The driver of the death car was brought to the jail at this place where he is confined in a cell charged with murder. The charge was sworn to by Constable W. D. Lyman of Corona. Floyd Shoemaker suffered slight injury, but none of the Mexicans was hurt.

DARK PRISON CELL STOPS WEDDING BELL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, June 11.—Two girls, giving the names of Adele Salcido and Isabel Jaramillo, and two men, Conrado Labra and Domingo Davalos, who said they were from Los Angeles, are held by the police here pending an investigation of what is presumed to have been a double elopement that failed to materialize.

Upon arrival here yesterday the four went to the Courthouse to obtain marriage licenses. The men found they did not have enough money and returned to Los Angeles to refinance themselves. They returned last night with money, also some clothes for the girls. In the meantime the police had picked up the girls as suspected runaways. Their escorts were arrested when they went to the rescue.

VISIT MEXICAN RANCH

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, June 11.—A half-dozen local capitalists are today on their way to Mexico, traveling by automobile. They go to inspect a 300,000-acre tract of farm land in which they are interested. The land lies on the gulf in the State of Sinaloa, about 100 miles south of the border and is planted to cotton, beans and vegetables. Members of the party are A. E. Streeter, C. T. Wardlaw, H. J. Clever, M. C. Sutton and C. H. Richards of Van Nuys and H. C. Newlin of Pasadena. The travelers expect to remain for ten days in the southern republic.

VIOLATE BORDER ORDER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CALEXICO, June 11. — Gus Schwartz and Sam Arkalian have been held to answer to the Federal District Court by United States Commissioner Whitelaw at El Centro on a charge of violating the Treasury Department's order prohibiting crossing the international line from Mexicali into Calexico after 9 o'clock p.m. Both men are asserted to have jumped the fence about midnight, after hesitating over their decision to do so for two or three hours after the gate was closed. Both men were arrested by George Buncasel, customs inspector on duty at the time, and lodged in jail until their arraignment next morning

DRUGGISTS ORGANIZE

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

BURBANK, June 11. — For the purpose of stabilizing the local drug business, Burbank pharmacists have effected the organization of the Druggists' Retail Association of Burbank. Officers have been named as follows: A. W. Wilson, president; V. L. Hansen, secretary; Paul Martin, treasurer. The organization will meet monthly around the banquet table for the purpose of discussing local trade conditions.

FAIL TO KEEP STILL QUIET

Officers Hear Reports, Follow Hunches and Put Distillery Out of Business

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ONTARIO, June 11.—In a raid on a ranch house at Oaks and Francis streets this afternoon, Ontario and county officers cinfiscated the second still to be seized here within twenty-four hours and took a woman attendant into custody.

Seized with the still, which was seventy gallons capacity and valued at $3000, were twenty-five gallons of corn whisky and several barrels of mash. The arrested woman gave her name as Mrs. M. Perez, but the officers do not believe it to be her true name. She stated that the proprietor of the place was away. The woman was taken to the County Jail, where she was booked for violation of the Wright Act.

Participating in this raid were Constable W. O. Hardy and Deputy Albert Moyer of Ontario and Deputy Seriffs Jack Brown and Emmett Shay of San Bernardino.

PANTS A NECESSITY

Lack of Garment All But Ruins School Play

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

REDLANDS, June 11.—One of the big events of the closing of the school year at the University of Redlands came near being ruined all because of a pair of pants. It was a lack of pants that caused the difficulty and but for the sartorial perfection of Orland Fowler the play following the Senior-Junior banquet would not have been.

Miss Faye Ferguson was to have taken a leading part in the play and her costume was soup and fish, swallow tail, boiled front and everything. But when she came to don the "dress suit" that had been loaned for the occasion there were no pants. Despair reigned because the show couldn't go on without the pants, one just couldn't take a leading part without them, it isn't being done.

And then, just at the right time, Fowler appeared on the stage. He had on a pair of pants, dark pants, just about the right size. Rude hands seized him, he was stripped of the trousers and put in a closet to stay in retirement until the evening was over. But Fowler is resourceful, in the closet he dug up a pair of the janitors overalls and appeared in the audience in his usual sartorial splendor.

PLEA OF GUILTY COSTS BIG FINE

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, June 11.—Pleading guilty to a charge of manufacturing illicit spirits at his home, 2615 Trolleyway, J. C. Bozard, arrested recently in a spectacular raid by local detectives, was fined $200 before Police Judge Willard this morning.

One of the most complete outfits for the manufacture of liquor ever unearthed in the Canal City was discovered when detectives entered the Bozard home. The entire distillery was situated in the basement of the house. The only means of access was a secret passage well hidden in an abandoned closet.

In addition to the large still, the agents confiscated a barrel of 108 proof whisky, four barrels of mash, a filtering plant, testers and ingredients used in the manufacture of the forbidden beverage.

CITY'S FINANCES IN GOOD SHAPE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA BARBARA, June 11.—The city's financial condition is sounder than it ever has been, the water department closed its books on one of the most lucrative months in its history at the end of May and the community is twelve times as large today as it was in 1902, according to a report issued today by the City Manager, Herbert Nunn. The city also has an unusually large number of revenue-producing bonds.

"The city's outstanding bonds," Mr. Nunn said, "total $1,436,225. Bonds aggregating $1,048,500 of the total, however, produce practically enough revenue to pay their own way; only $387,000 is invested in nonrevenue-producing bonds."

VANISHING ARMY MEETS IN REUNION

More Than Five Hundred Boys Who Wore the Blue Say "Here" at Roll Call

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, June 11.—More than 500 veterans of the Civil War answered the roll call when the opening session of the fifty-seventh annual encampment of the G.A.R., Department of California and Nevada, was called to order this morning. This was declared to be the largest attendance to any encampment in recent years.

Auxiliary patriotic organizations meeting in conjunction with the Grand Army men continued their business sessions today. Reports, outlines for work for the ensuing year and elections of officers are programmed for the closing days of the meetings.

Mrs. Martha Packard of Los Angeles today was elected President of the Women's Relief Corps for the district including California and Nevada, winning over Mrs. Jessie Richmond Reed and Mrs. Lillian Curran of Santa Barbara. Mrs. Blanche Hawk Pinkham of Sacramento, was elected Senior Vice-President. Mrs. Packard succeeds Mrs. Alpha Daul of Oakland as President. She is the daughter of E. H. Hawk, one of the most prominent G.A.R. men in the West, and who is slated for the post of Commander of the California-Nevada G.A.R.

The G.A.R. and affiliated bodies decided unanimously in favor of Sacramento for the 1925 encampment.

Tonight the annual camp fire, the pre-eminent social function of all encampments, brought vetedans together in the war memorial building in Balboa Park. This was followed by an old-fashioned dance. At the same hour the auxiliary bodies held their annual ball at the U. S. Grant Hotel.

The nation's oldest fighting men and the veterans of more recent wars will march side by side tomorrow in the grand parade, which will traverse Broadway to the stadium. Mayor John L. Bacon will act as grand marshal.

PROMOTE HOTEL PROJECT

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

LANKERSHIM, June 11. — Roy L. Forsyth has been selected to head the committee of citizens undertaking the campaign to finance the proposed Lankershim Commercial Hotel. The committee number 100 citizens, with C. W. Crashaw acting as associate chairman. An intensive drive will be conducted for the sale of stock in the proposed enterprise. The community as a whole realizes the importance of a hotel and recognizes the great benefits to come to the community through its establishment. A site has been selected and all civic organizations are supporting the campaign.

KIWANIS CELEBRATION

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, June 11.—Under the leadership of Otis Houghton, a Kiwanian committee is making elaborate plans for a celebration to be held next Monday evening. This gathering will take the place of the regular weekly luncheon. A special program of music and speaking is being prepared. B. R. Holloway is the choice of the club as its delegate to the international convention, to be held at Denver next week. He will leave Friday.

SPEED, BOOZE BOYS' DOWNFALL

Santa Monica Youths Stage Wild Night Party

Poison Liquor Endangers Life of One

Other Two Assessed Fines and Sent to Jail

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, June 11.—Three young Santa Monica boys were haled into Police Court this morning as a result of a wild night party in which bootleg liquor and fast automobile riding took a predominate part. Charges of intoxication, illegal possession of liquor, wreckless driving and giving liquor to a minor, were lodged against two of the trio, the other was released.

Charles Blease, 17 years of age, 145 Raymond avenue, Ocean Park, was near death as a result of drinking bootleg when the three boys were arrested in Pasadena this morning following a wild chase through the business streets of Pasadena. He was in such a serious condition that Judge Dunham sent him to his home for further care.

George Blease, 20-year-old brother of the younger boy, and Carl Leavy, 23 years of age, 1439 Second street, Santa Monica, are being held by the police. They are charged with giving the poisonous liquor to the minor.

On the charge of intoxication each boy was fined $100, and an additional fine of $200 each was imposed for giving liquor to the younger lad. Young Leavy, driver of the car, was then fined another $200 for wreckless driving, and given a sixty-day sentence in the City Jail. Blease was also given a thirty-day sentence.

During the chase through Pasadena streets Motorcycle Officers Harrison and Mansell timed the boys' car at fifty miles an hour, they testified. Bootleg liquor found in their car, when tested, was found to be the rankest variety of illicit liquor.

VENICE OFFICERS STOP AUTO THEFTS

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, June 11.—Charged with petty larceny following their arrest last week by Detectives Burnett and Fuller in connection with a number of automobile and accessory thefts, Albert Fowler and Edward Hunt entered a plea of guilty in Police Judge Willard's court and were sentenced to serve 180 days in the County Jail. Recommendation was made that they be put to work on the county road gang.

The two men are said to have been members of one of the most efficiently organized automobile theft rings ever discovered in this district.

On information furnished by the two men, three other asserted members of the ring have been arrested and are being held in the City Jail pending date of trial. They gave their names as Robert Ludolph, Harry Smith and A. J. Traino. The five men are said to have stolen three automobiles per day for the past month. They were arrested in Los Angeles by local detectives, who succeeded in recovering eight of the stolen cars.

GROWERS SET PRICE FOR APRICOT CROP

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

POMONA, June 11.—Prices of $40 per ton for apricots running fourteen to the pound and $35 for those running sixteen to the pound were set at a meeting of the board of directors for Southern California Apricot and Peach Growers' Association, held in their local offices today. The meeting was attended by both growers and canners and the decision as to the price was reached only after considerable discussion. The canners felt that because of the lack of demand for their product that they would be unable to pay the price which was asked by the growers, while the latter felt that they had cut their prices to the very lowest. Rather than cut the price further the growers announced that they would dry the fruit for European markets. The price finally agreed upon was reached after the canners had withdrawn from the meeting and was quoted f.o.b. loading station or shipping point.

NICKELS AND DIMES REWARD OF BURGLARS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OXNARD, June 11.—Constable Helmold, after an all-day search, located three slot machines stolen from the Baker Pool Hall at El-rio last night. Bandits broke into the establishment between 9 and 11 o'clock, entering by way of the front door.

They took the three machines and a quantity of tobacco and cigarettes. Helmold found the machines this afternoon in a field about a half mile away from the pool hall, smashed with an axe or some other heavy tool. A small amount in nickels and dimes was obtained by the men as the machines had been emptied but two days before.

SPLENDID OLIVE MARKET

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

EXETER, June 11.—Olive growers of Exeter district who are members of the California Olive Growers' Association have been called to a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Thursday evening at 7:30. W. P. Ballard, on the board of directors from this district, will report on business of the last year.

It is understood that the pack has been finished and that a ready sale has been found for the canned product, though all on hand has not yet been sold.

Cronkite, the teacher will retire and receive a pension, having taught in this State for thirty years.

Sailors Free After Arrest at Fullerton

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

FULLERTON, June 11.—When Dist.-Atty. A. P. Nelson found that the Fullerton police had arrested Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Dahlgren of Los Angeles, Miss Grace Brockman, 24, Ted Vilines and Ernest V. Pemland, 23, the latter, sailors from the battle fleet at Los Angeles Harbor, on a charge of transporting liquor, he ordered their immediate relase.

It was proven to the satisfaction of the District Attorney that the car was a rented one, and the occupants did not know the liquor was in the pocket, where it was found when the officers searched the car which had previously figured in an accident.

Dahlgren is also a sailor and had just been married. The other couples were assisting them in celebrating the happy event when they came to grief in this city, the car crashing into another at a street intersection. No one was injured in the crash.

PLUNGING AUTO KILLS DRIVER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, June 11. — Ross N. Hollingberry, former garage owner of Fresno, was killed yesterday when the automobile which he was driving plunged over the Parkfield grade, near King City, west of Coalinga, according to word received here from Salinas.

It is believed his car ran off one of the steep grades in the Coast Range and overturned pinning him beneath, although no details of the accident were given by the Coroner at Salinas.

Hollingberry left Fresno early yesterday morning for King City where he is now engaged in business, it is understood. He was accompanied by a Mr. Carben, according to Mrs. Hollingberry.

AGAIN HEADS CHAMBER

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SOUTH PASADENA, June 11.—Benjamin H. Gibson, president of the Chamber of Commerce here, was re-elected for a term of three years at the annual meeting of the organization held last night. Other officers elected for the coming year are Dr. Fred Northrup, first vice-president; Ralph Ong, second vice-president; Joseph W. Helbling, treasurer, and J. M. Bechtold, secretary. The officers, with L. L. Layton, E. C. Pryor, Harry H. Tunstall, E. E. Washburn and Alfred Murray, Jr., were elected as directors.

SALESMEN
—I WANT YOU
FOR MY NEW CABIN SITE TRACT WHICH ACTUALLY OVERLOOKS
LAKE ARROWHEAD.

Here is your opportunity! You old timers all know that Cabin Sites near Lake Arrowhead are the best sellers and I have just what you want. My beautiful property is only a half mile from the lake and over fifty per cent of the lots actually overlook the lake. These are extra big lots and the surveyors are now working every day. Am building $50,000 club house. Big trees, good roads, spring water. A gushing stream flows right through the property. It is a snap for you. I tell you candidly that these lots will sell like hot cakes at $200. I promise to provide you with direct leads and plenty of them, also a dandy "kit." I will help you close your sales without any cost to you, in fact give you the fullest co-operation both here and at the tract where my salaried men will show the property to your customers. I will pay you a bigger commission than you can get elsewhere. Have two "movie reels" which are at your disposal. Will conduct auto excursions to the tract from Los Angeles every Sunday including hot chicken dinner with noodles. Come up and see me.

CONNECTION

For a refined woman who desires to accept a position with thoroughly high-class organization.

Our proposition will appeal to the friends and acquaintances of the type of woman we want, and she would work in an environment that would measure up to expectations of educated, cultured woman who dislikes coming in contact with people other than those of her own social group.

Naturally we would expect when making our selection of such a woman, that she have ample means and splendid equipment in the way of an automobile.

The proposition we have to offer will recompense you sufficiently financially to make it of great interest to you to become the saleswoman we require.

The connection you would be making would identify you with an old, reliable, dignified substantial firm of unquestioned financial integrity and standing in the community.

NAME YOUR OWN PRICE.

If there happened to be a vacant lot on Gramercy near corner of 3rd, size 50x150, would it not be a good buy at $11,000? All right! Now, on this marvelous location is a real strictly up to the minute 7-room home. Could you duplicate it for a cent less than $6000? Absolutely NOT! So $17,000 is a fair honest value. But I can deliver this place for $5000 LESS—possibly less than that—cause, owner is leaving for Frisco, and no telling how LOW he will go for a quick sale. Let me show you this place and YOU NAME YOUR OWN PRICE. MR. ATKINS, 567-286 or 567-223.

A WILSHIRE 2-STORY KNOCKOUT

Business is GOOD and getting BETTER. Houses are CHEAP but getting HIGHER. People are coming to Los Angeles and coming faster. Good buys are scarce and getting scarcer. Don't let anybody KID you into believing that bargains are getting plentiful. Several of my clients have informed me that their bank has advised waiting for lower prices. Such advice has been handed out for several years. OH BOY! if you and I had used our own gray matter instead of relying upon the advice of a pessimist with his own axe to grind, what a nice piece of change we would have in our pocket today. Quit kidding yourselves and don't let the other fellow kid you out of a good buy. HERE'S A DANDY. Drive to 862 Victoria and give this the once over. You will find a very pleasing exterior; the interior is a knockout. 4 bedrooms and 2 baths. If the surroundings here are not pleasing to you I will say you are "hard boiled." Do not disturb the occupants. If interested call MR. O'CONNELL, with WANTED $6000.

DOUBLY SECURED.

We own one of the largest and finest building material products in California. We require $6000 at once, in advance of our ultimate financing program, to complete equipment plans already formulated.

In order to obtain this quickly, to avoid delaying work in progress, will give as a bonus a deed to 11 acres in Owensmouth, in addition to the securities.

This is a wonderful opportunity for the shrewd investor, the securities alone should double your money in two years and you have the land in addition. Give us an opportunity to explain the merits of this exceptional proposition. Address P. O. BOX 175, Hollywood, Cal.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—New rates were adopted and a rule covering glass package freight established at the fortnightly meeting of the Eastbound Intercoastal Conference today.

PORTLAND, June 11.—The coastwise steam schooner Griffdu of the McCormick fleet and the Mazatlan of the Nelson Line departed today for Marshfield, Eureka and San Francisco. Both vessels are carrying out heavy general cargoes.

The Norwegian steamer Hallgrim arrived today to load lumber here and at Westport for Japan. The vessel will take about 2,000,000 feet on the river, completing on Puget Sound.

The steamer West Jappa of the Swayne & Hoyt South American east coast fleet is discharging. She brought in nearly 2000 bags of coffee and 125 tons of Brazil nuts among its cargo. It is taking 100,000 feet of lumber from here. The carrier will drop down stream Wednesday night to Astoria to load 50,000 feet of lumber before leaving Thursday for Seattle.

Gus Thiering, formerly a steamship operator here and now head of a Coos Bay stevedoring firm, is in Portland. His daughter, June Rita Thiering, is to become the bride of John Knoff of Seattle Thursday night.

The Japanese steamer Boston Maru, originally listed to come to the North Pacific to load lumber for J. J. Moore & Co., has been placed on the board at the Merchants' Exchange as under charter to Kerr, Gifford & Co. for Europe grain loading. The vessel is due here the 14th inst.

TACOMA (Wash.) June 11.—The Lancaster of the Argonaut Line arrived late Tuesday night to load about 1,000,000 feet of lumber.

The Patrician arrived Tuesday night to load copper for Europe.

The Glymont arrived Wednesday from San Francisco to load lumber and other cargo. The Dorothy Wintermote is expected Thursday to load lumber for Los Angeles.

After discharging and loading, the Floridian sailed Wednesday noon for New York via sound ports and the Columbia River. Schedules have been altered with several of the vessels of the O.S.K. Line, which will bring four ships in June. The Alameda Maru is due at Tacoma Friday and will be followed the 23rd inst. by the Manila Maru. The Africa Maru, due under the old schedule July 9, will be here the 26th inst., and the Hawaii Maru will come in as an extra ship the 30th inst.

The Sudbury is due here Thursday to load freight for the Atlantic Coast.

Friday will be the big shipping day of the week. The Remus is due to return to load for South America; the Alabama to load for the Orient; the Robin Goodfellow for the East Coast; the Oridono Maru for the Orient; the Loch Katrine for Europe, and the Emma Alexander for California.

SEATTLE, June 11.—Heavy demand for Pacific Northwest lumber at New York and North Atlantic points has resulted in the local office of the Luckenbach Steamship Company being commissioned to load the steamship Lewis Luckenbach with a full cargo. According to advance figures the ship will load a total of 7,500,000 feet of lumber, exceeding by nearly 1,600,000 feet any lumber cargo ever loaded in the world on a single vessel.

Two steamships, the Northwestern and the Queen, sailed today with a heavy list of excursionists for Alaskan ports.

In addition to a large cargo of silk, the N.Y.K. liner Shidzuoka Maru brought in thirty cabin passengers and forty-five in the steerage on her arrival today.

The steamship Charles R. McCormick, operating in the intercoastal service of the Munson-McCormick Line, arrived today with 600 tons of general cargo from Atlantic Coast ports. She shifted late today for Everett.

The balance of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company of London, England, on 1923 operations totaled £819,441 11s. 2d. according to the annual report of the corporation's court of directors, received yesterday by J. J. McGowan, Pacific Coast general agent.

As the latest addition to the power fleet of Puget Sound, the freighter Capitol will be placed in commission within a fortnight by the Puget Sound freight lines, it was announced today. She will operate in the company's Seattle, Tacoma and Olympia route.

RADIO REPORT

The Radio Corporation of America, in co-operation with the United States Public Health Service and the Seamen's Institute, will receive requests for medical and surgical service from ships at sea through the KSE station at Los Angeles Harbor and its KPH station at San Francisco, without cost.

PORT NOTES

Representatives of every branch of America's fighting forces were aboard the Navy transport Chaumont, which departed for New York yesterday after a three days' visit in port. The transport has just returned from the Philippines, by way of San Francisco, bringing several hundred Navy, Army and Marine Corps officers, men and their families who have been stationed in the Far East. Thirty-five officers, men and their families embarked here for eastern stations. A large number of officers and men are scheduled to sail for the Orient next week on a similar transport to relieve men in the Asiatic Fleet.

The Wilmington Boat Works yesterday was awarded the contract for construction of an inspection service launch for use by the Harbor Commission. The craft will be thirty-five feet long, will have a sixty-horse-power engine and will carry twelve passengers. E. W. Smith, manager of the boat works, promised the boat would be ready for use within ninety days. She will cost $7692.

President Alvaro Obregon of Mexico was a passenger from Manzanillo to Sonora on the Mexican steamer Mexico, Capt. Angel de Corza, which arrived from the west coast of Mexico yesterday. Eight passengers disembarked and 260 tons of pinoche were unloaded here. In addition to President Obregon, the vessel carried several score members of his staff and official party, who are now in Sonora with the President visiting his old home. The liner sailed last night with twenty-nine passengers and several hundred tons of freight for San Francisco.

Figures showing the valuation, depreciation and cost at date of construction of municipal harbor improvements were submitted to the Harbor Commission by the harbor engineer yesterday as a basis for future insurance. The original cost of all improvements was set at $8,733,274; insurable value $6,667,170; insurance carried in 1923 was $3,064,700; insurance to be carried in 1924 is $5,783,830 on buildings and wharves, $146,600 on machinery. The information was referred to the insurance committee recently appointed by the board.

The "world's championship battle" will be staged aboard the Admiral liner Ruth Alexander shortly after she pulls away from dock here at 11 o'clock this morning, bearing Jack Dempsey and sixty Universal film actors to San Diego. This will be the first work on the Dempsey production at sea, and a large number of sportsmen have booked passage to watch the battle king in action. The liner will play the part of a trans-Atlantic liner en route. Dempsey and company will work in San Diego Saturday, returning on the Ruth Alexander Sunday and continuing the same day to San Francisco. The troupe will film scenes in the Bay City until Wedensday, when they return south on the Emma Alexander, arriving here on the 19th inst.

J. A. Lunny, terminal agent for the Munson-McCormick Steamship Company, announced yesterday the inauguration of service to Boston in the intercoastal freight service. Heretofore Baltimore and New York have been the only eastern ports of call. Charles E. Ware, former president of the Nawsco Line, will be Boston agent for the new service, the calls being in the order, Baltimore, Boston and New York. The steamer Felix Taussig will be the finest of seven vessels of the line to operate on the new schooner, leaving Baltimore on the 28th inst., Boston, July 1 and New York, July 5.

Handling of three ships Friday, the 13th, is the superstitious combination facing H. E. Pickering, port superintendent for Swayne & Hoyt. The vessels are the Lake Gunaing from New Orleans, the Point Lobos eastbound, and the Hollywood from San Francisco to load 10,500 cases of oil and 250 tons of merchandise for Australia. The Hollywood is an 8800-ton Shipping Board freighter built at the local Bethlehem shipyards during the war, and named for the late Ernest Hollywood, manager of the yards until killed by a street car while motoring home.

Garbutt & Walsh are completing additions to their boat-building works in East Los Angeles Harbor, which will give them twenty-three ways, five of which each will be capable of handling subchasers, Mat Walsh of the firm announced yesterday. The plant is now reconverting a subchaser around which had been built a sailing craft of Sir Francis Drake's time for a motion-picture company.

A series of excursions to Los Angeles Harbor have been planned under the auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Maj. C. A. James, head of the Marine Exchange, announced to the Harbor Commission yesterday.

TESTIMONY IN FIRE QUIZ COMPLETED

Jury Will Compile Report Today on Del Ray Case; No One Blamed

After two weeks of investigation, the county grand jury yesterday completed the taking of testimony relative to the loss of more than a score of lives in the recent destruction of the Hope Development School at Playa del Rey. The jury will reconvene at 10 a.m., today for the purpose of compiling a report of its findings.

Several witnesses were heard yesterday, but despite the voluminous amount of testimony the grand jury members declined to place any responsibility for the holocaust, according to a current report.

Telegrams had been forwarded to Gov. Richardson and the members of the State Board of Control. Although Gov. Richardson is absent from the State Capitol, one member of the Board of Control replied that on the Executive's return a date would be set for a conference with the Los Angeles county grand jury and the Board of Supervisors. Any decision to be meted out by the county grand jury will await the conclusion of this conference, according to a statement yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Richardson, who is conducting the grand jury investigation.

Wood pulp constitutes one of Sweden's largest industries and her largest article of export to Great Britain.
